PRELIMINARY AND SUBJECT TO CHANGE, DATED January 18, 2017

Offer by MONTANA MERGER SUB I, INC., a direct wholly owned subsidiary of MACOM TECHNOLOGY SOLUTIONS HOLDINGS, INC., to exchange each outstanding share of common stock of APPLIED MICRO CIRCUITS CORPORATION
for $3.25 in cash
and
0.1089 shares of common stock of MACOM Technology Solutions Holdings, Inc.

THE OFFER AND THE WITHDRAWAL RIGHTS WILL EXPIRE AT 12:00 A.M. MIDNIGHT, EASTERN TIME, AT THE END OF JANUARY 25, 2017, UNLESS EXTENDED OR TERMINATED.

MACOM Technology Solutions Holdings, Inc. (“MACOM”), through its direct wholly owned subsidiary Montana Merger Sub I, Inc. (the “Purchaser”), is offering, upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this prospectus/offer and in the accompanying letter of transmittal, to exchange for each outstanding share of common stock of Applied Micro Circuits Corporation (“AppliedMicro”), par value $0.01 per share, that is validly tendered in the offer and not properly withdrawn:

- $3.25 in cash, without interest and less any applicable withholding taxes (the “cash consideration”); and
- 0.1089 shares of MACOM common stock, par value $0.001 per share, together with cash in lieu of any fractional shares of MACOM common stock, without interest and less any applicable withholding taxes (the “stock consideration”, which, together with the cash consideration, forms the “transaction consideration”).

The Purchaser’s obligation to accept for exchange, and to exchange, shares of AppliedMicro common stock for cash and shares of MACOM common stock in the offer is subject to a number of conditions, including there having been validly tendered and not properly withdrawn a number of shares of AppliedMicro common stock that, together with any shares of AppliedMicro common stock directly or indirectly owned by MACOM and the Purchaser, represents at least a majority of the outstanding shares of AppliedMicro common stock. See “The Merger Agreement – Conditions to the Transaction – Conditions to the Offer” for a description of all such conditions.

The offer is being made pursuant to an Agreement and Plan of Merger and Reorganization, dated November 21, 2016 (as such agreement may be amended, supplemented or otherwise modified from time to time in accordance therewith, the “merger agreement”), among MACOM, the Purchaser, MACOM Connectivity Solutions, LLC (f/k/a Montana Merger Sub II, LLC), a direct wholly owned subsidiary of MACOM (“Merger Sub”), and AppliedMicro. A copy of the merger agreement is attached to this document as Annex A.

The offer is the first step in MACOM’s plan to acquire control of, and ultimately all of the outstanding equity in, AppliedMicro. Pursuant to the terms and subject to the conditions of the merger agreement, as soon as practicable following the consummation of the offer, MACOM intends to consummate a merger of the Purchaser with and into AppliedMicro, with AppliedMicro surviving the merger (the “first merger”). The purpose of the first merger is for MACOM to acquire all shares of AppliedMicro common stock that it did not acquire in the offer. In the first merger, each outstanding share of AppliedMicro common stock that was not acquired by the Purchaser in the offer (other than certain dissenting, converted and cancelled shares, as described further in this document) will be converted into the right to receive the transaction consideration. After the first merger, the AppliedMicro business will be a direct wholly owned subsidiary of MACOM, and the former stockholders of AppliedMicro will no longer have any direct ownership interest in the surviving entity (the “first surviving company”). The first merger will be governed by Section 251(h) of the General Corporation Law of the state of Delaware (the “DGCL”), and accordingly no stockholder vote will be required to complete the first merger.

Immediately following the first merger, the first surviving company will merge with and into Merger Sub (which we refer to as the “second merger” and together with the first merger, the “mergers”), with Merger Sub surviving the second merger. As a result of the second merger, the surviving entity (the “surviving company”) will be converted from a corporation into a limited liability company. The second merger is intended to cause the offer and the mergers, taken together, to qualify as a “reorganization” within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”). Please read the discussion under the caption “Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences” in this prospectus/offer. Immediately before the second merger, MACOM will be the sole owner of AppliedMicro, and none of the former AppliedMicro Stockholders will have any direct economic interest in, or approval or other rights with respect to, the second merger.

The AppliedMicro board of directors unanimously determined that the terms of the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement (the “transactions”), including the offer and the first merger, are fair to, and in the best interests of, AppliedMicro and its stockholders. The AppliedMicro board of directors has also resolved to recommend that the stockholders of AppliedMicro accept the offer and tender their shares of AppliedMicro common stock to the Purchaser pursuant to the offer.

The MACOM board of directors also unanimously determined that the terms of the merger agreement and the transactions, including the offer and the first merger, are fair to, and in the best interests of, MACOM and its stockholders.

MACOM common stock is listed on the NASDAQ Global Select Market (“Nasdaq”) under the symbol “MTSI,” and AppliedMicro common stock is listed on Nasdaq under the symbol “AMCC.” You are encouraged to obtain current market quotations for MACOM common stock and AppliedMicro common stock in connection with your decision whether to tender your shares.

The first merger will entitle AppliedMicro stockholders to appraisal rights under the DGCL. To exercise appraisal rights, an AppliedMicro stockholder must strictly comply with all of the procedures under the DGCL. These procedures are described more fully in the section entitled “The Transactions – Dissenters’ Rights.”

For a discussion of certain factors that AppliedMicro stockholders should consider in connection with the offer, please read the section of this document entitled “Risk Factors” beginning on page 23.

You are encouraged to read this entire document and the related letter of transmittal carefully, including the annexes and information referred to or incorporated by reference in this document.

Neither MACOM nor the Purchaser has authorized any person to provide any information or to make any representation in connection with the offer other than the information contained or incorporated by reference in this document, and if any person provides any information or makes any representation of this kind, that information or representation must not be relied upon as having been authorized by MACOM or the Purchaser.

Neither the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (the “SEC”) nor any state securities commission has approved or disapproved of these securities or passed upon the adequacy or accuracy of this document. Any representation to the contrary is a criminal offense.

The date of this prospectus/offer is January 18, 2017.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ABOUT THE OFFER

Below are some of the questions that you as a holder of shares of AppliedMicro common stock may have regarding the offer and answers to those questions. You are urged to carefully read the remainder of this document, the related letter of transmittal, the annexes to this document and the other information referred to or incorporated by reference in this document because the information contained in this section and in the “Summary” section is not complete. See “Where To Obtain Additional Information.”

As used in this document, unless otherwise indicated or the context requires: “MACOM” (or “we,” “us” and “our”) refers to MACOM Technology Holdings Solutions, Inc., a Delaware corporation, and its consolidated subsidiaries; the “Purchaser” refers to Montana Merger Sub I, Inc., a Delaware corporation and a direct wholly owned subsidiary of MACOM; “Merger Sub” refers to MACOM Connectivity Solutions, LLC (f/k/a Montana Merger Sub II, LLC), a Delaware limited liability company and a direct wholly owned subsidiary of MACOM; and “AppliedMicro” refers to Applied Micro Circuits Corporation, a Delaware corporation, and its consolidated subsidiaries.

Who is offering to buy my AppliedMicro shares?

MACOM, through its direct wholly owned subsidiary the Purchaser, is making this offer to exchange $3.25 in cash and 0.1089 shares of common stock of MACOM for each share of common stock of AppliedMicro that is validly tendered in the offer and not properly withdrawn.

MACOM is a leading provider of high-performance analog semiconductor solutions that enable next-generation Internet applications, the cloud connected apps economy and the modern, networked battlefield across the radio frequency, microwave, millimeter-wave and photonic spectrum. Our technology enables next generation radars for air traffic control and weather forecasting, as well as mission success on the modern networked battlefield. We help our customers, including some of the world’s leading communications infrastructure, aerospace and defense companies, solve complex challenges in areas including network capacity, signal coverage, energy efficiency and field reliability, utilizing our best-in-class team and broad portfolio of analog radio frequency, microwave, millimeter-wave and photonic semiconductor solutions.

What is MACOM proposing?

Pursuant to the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in the Agreement and Plan of Merger and Reorganization, entered into by MACOM, the Purchaser, Merger Sub and AppliedMicro on November 21, 2016 (as such agreement may be amended, supplemented or otherwise modified from time to time in accordance therewith, the “merger agreement”), MACOM proposes to acquire control of, and ultimately all of the outstanding equity in, AppliedMicro.

The offer is the first step in MACOM’s plan to acquire all of the outstanding shares of AppliedMicro, and the first merger is the second step in such plan.

If a sufficient number of shares of AppliedMicro common stock are tendered into the offer such that MACOM will own at least a majority of the outstanding shares of AppliedMicro common stock, subject to the satisfaction or waiver of the other conditions to the offer, MACOM will accept for exchange, the shares tendered in the offer. Then, as soon as practicable thereafter, MACOM will consummate a merger of the Purchaser with and into AppliedMicro, with AppliedMicro surviving the merger (the “first merger”). The purpose of the first merger is for MACOM to acquire all remaining shares of AppliedMicro common stock that it did not acquire in the offer. After the first merger, the AppliedMicro business will be a direct wholly owned subsidiary of MACOM, and the former stockholders of AppliedMicro will no longer have any direct ownership interest in the first surviving company. The first merger will be governed by Section 251(h) of the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware (the “DGCL”), and accordingly no stockholder vote will be required to consummate the first merger.

Immediately following the first merger, the first surviving company will merge with and into Merger Sub (which we refer to as the “second merger” and together with the first merger, the “mergers”), with Merger Sub surviving the second merger. As a result of the second merger, the surviving company will be converted from a corporation into a limited liability company.

Why is MACOM proposing the offer and the mergers?

The board of directors of MACOM unanimously determined that the terms of the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement (the “transactions”), including the offer and the first merger, are fair to, and in the best interests of, MACOM and its stockholders. See “The Transactions – MACOM’s Reasons for the Transactions” for more information.

Does the AppliedMicro board of directors support the transactions?

Yes. The AppliedMicro board of directors unanimously resolved to recommend that AppliedMicro stockholders accept the offer and tender their AppliedMicro shares to the Purchaser pursuant to the offer. The AppliedMicro board of directors also unanimously determined that the terms of the merger agreement and the transactions, including the offer and the first merger, are fair to, and in the best interests of AppliedMicro’s stockholders.

See “The Transactions – AppliedMicro’s Reasons for the Transactions; Recommendation of AppliedMicro’s Board of Directors” for more information. A description of the reasons for this recommendation is also set forth in AppliedMicro’s Solicitation/Recommendation Statement on Schedule 14D-9, which has been filed by AppliedMicro with the SEC (as amended and supplemented, the “Schedule 14D-9”). The initial Schedule 14D-9 was mailed to AppliedMicro stockholders together with the preliminary prospectus/offer on or about December 23, 2016.

Do any of AppliedMicro’s significant stockholders support the transactions?

Yes. Concurrently with the execution of the merger agreement on November 21, 2016, MACOM and the Purchaser entered into separate support agreements (each, a “support agreement” and collectively, the “support agreements”) with each of L. William Caraccio, Cesar Cesaratto, Paramesh Gopi, Paul Gray, Michael Major, Martin S. McDermut, Theodore A. Shlapak, Robert Sproull, Duston Williams, Christopher Zepf, and Kingdom Ridge Capital LLC (collectively, the “supporting stockholders”), who beneficially own, in the aggregate, approximately eleven percent (11%) of AppliedMicro common stock, as of December 15, 2016, to commit to tender their shares of AppliedMicro common stock in the offer. See “Support Agreements.”

What are the classes and amounts of AppliedMicro securities that the Purchaser is offering to acquire?

MACOM, through the Purchaser, is seeking to acquire all issued and outstanding shares of AppliedMicro common stock, par value $0.01 per share.

What will I receive for my shares of AppliedMicro common stock?

MACOM, through the Purchaser, is offering, upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this document and in the accompanying letter of transmittal, to exchange for each outstanding share of AppliedMicro common stock that is validly tendered in the offer and not properly withdrawn:

- $3.25 in cash, without interest and less any applicable withholding taxes (the “cash consideration”); and
- 0.1089 shares of MACOM common stock, par value $0.001 per share, together with cash in lieu of any fractional shares of MACOM common stock, without interest and less any applicable withholding taxes (the “stock consideration,” which, together with the cash consideration, forms the “transaction consideration”).

If you do not tender your shares into the offer, but the first merger is completed, you will also receive the transaction consideration in exchange for your shares of AppliedMicro common stock (other than for certain dissenting, converted and cancelled shares, as described further in this document).

Will I have to pay any fee or commission to exchange my shares of AppliedMicro common stock?

If you are the record owner of your shares of AppliedMicro common stock and you tender those shares in the offer, you will not have to pay any brokerage fees, commissions or similar expenses. If you own your shares of AppliedMicro common stock through a broker, dealer, commercial bank, trust company or other nominee and your broker, dealer, commercial bank, trust company or other nominee tenders your shares on your behalf, your broker or such other nominee may charge a fee for doing so. You should consult your broker, dealer, commercial bank, trust company or other nominee to determine whether any charges will apply.

What are the conditions of the offer?

The offer is conditioned upon, among other things, the following:

- Regulatory Approval – any waiting period (and extensions thereof) applicable to the offer and the mergers under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act of 1976, as amended (the “HSR Act”), having expired or been terminated, which required waiting period with respect to the offer and the mergers was terminated by the FTC and the Antitrust Division on December 12, 2016;
- Minimum Condition – The Purchaser receiving at least a majority of the outstanding shares of AppliedMicro common stock, when added to shares of AppliedMicro common stock already owned by the Purchaser, having been validly tendered into (and not withdrawn from) the offer prior to the expiration date of the offer (the “minimum condition”);
- Effectiveness of Form S-4 – the registration statement on Form S-4 of which this document is a part having been declared effective by the SEC under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the “Securities Act”), and no stop order having been issued or proceeding seeking a stop order having been initiated or threatened by the SEC;
- Listing of MACOM Common Stock – the shares of MACOM common stock to be issued in the offer and the mergers having been approved for listing on Nasdaq, subject to official notice of issuance;
- Accuracy of AppliedMicro’s Representations – the representations and warranties of AppliedMicro contained in the merger agreement being true and correct as of November 21, 2016 and the expiration date of the offer, subject to specified de minimis and materiality standards, as applicable;
- AppliedMicro’s Compliance with Covenants – AppliedMicro having complied in all material respects with its covenants under the merger agreement to be performed by AppliedMicro at or prior to the expiration date;
- No Legal Prohibition – there being no injunction by any court or other tribunal of competent jurisdiction or law that has been adopted and is effective that, in each case, prohibits or makes illegal the consummation of the offer or the mergers; and
- Tax Opinions – the receipt of written opinions by MACOM and AppliedMicro from their respective legal counsel, dated as of the expiration date of the offer, to the effect that the offer and the mergers, taken together, will qualify as a “reorganization” within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”).

The offer is subject to certain other conditions set forth in the section entitled “The Merger Agreement – Conditions to the Transactions – Conditions to the Offer.” MACOM’s obligation to consummate the offer is not conditioned upon any financing arrangements or contingencies.

How long will it take to complete the proposed transactions?

The transactions are currently expected to be completed during the first calendar quarter of 2017, subject to the satisfaction or waiver of the conditions described in “The Merger Agreement – Conditions to the Transactions.”

Until what time can I tender my shares of AppliedMicro common stock in the offer?

The offer is scheduled to expire at 12:00 midnight, Eastern time, at the end of January 25, 2017, unless extended or terminated. Any extension, delay, termination, waiver or amendment of the offer will be followed as promptly as practicable by public announcement thereof to be made no later than 9:00 a.m., Eastern time, on the next business day after the previously scheduled expiration date. During any such extension, all shares previously tendered and not properly withdrawn will remain subject to the offer, subject to the rights of a tendering stockholder to withdraw such stockholder’s shares. “Expiration date” means January 25, 2017, unless and until the Purchaser has extended the period during which the offer is open, subject to the terms and conditions of the merger agreement, in which event the term “expiration date” means the latest time and date at which the offer, as so extended by the Purchaser, will expire.

Subject to the provisions of the merger agreement, and unless AppliedMicro consents otherwise or the offer or the merger agreement is terminated, (1) the Purchaser must extend the offer for any period required by the U.S. federal securities laws and rules and regulations of the SEC and its staff or of Nasdaq, and, except for in certain circumstances specified by the merger agreement, the Purchaser will not be required to extend past 11:59 PM Eastern time on May 31, 2017 (the “end date”), and (2) if the offer conditions are not satisfied or earlier waived at any scheduled expiration date, the Purchaser may (and must, if requested by AppliedMicro) extend the offer for not more than ten (10) business days from the previously scheduled expiration date. However, in no event will the Purchaser be required to extend the offer on more than two (2) ten (10) business day occasions if all conditions to the offer other than the minimum condition are satisfied on the date on which the offer is scheduled to expire, but the Purchaser may, in its sole and absolute discretion, elect to do so. Notwithstanding the foregoing, (1) in no event shall the Purchaser be required to extend the offer beyond the end date, if Purchaser is then entitled to terminate the merger agreement pursuant to Section 8.1(b) of the merger agreement and (2) in no event shall Purchaser be permitted to extend the offer beyond the end date without the consent of AppliedMicro.

If the merger agreement is terminated, the Purchaser must promptly terminate the offer.

Other than as described above, the Purchaser may not extend, terminate or withdraw the offer without the prior written consent of AppliedMicro.

Any decision to extend, terminate or withdraw the offer will be made public by an announcement.

See “Exchange Offer Procedures – Extension, Termination and Amendment of Offer.”

How do I tender my shares of AppliedMicro common stock?

To validly tender shares of AppliedMicro common stock held of record, AppliedMicro stockholders must:

- if such shares are in certificated form or Direct Registration Form, deliver a properly completed and duly executed letter of transmittal, along with any required signature guarantees and any other required documents, and certificates, if applicable, for tendered AppliedMicro shares to American Stock Transfer & Trust Company, LLC, the depositary and exchange agent (the “exchange agent”) for the offer, at its address set forth elsewhere in this document, all of which must be received by the exchange agent prior to the expiration date; or
- if such shares are in electronic book-entry form, deliver an agent’s message in connection with a book-entry transfer, and any other required documents, to the exchange agent at its address set forth

elsewhere in this document and follow the other procedures for book-entry tender set forth herein, all of which must be received by the exchange agent prior to the expiration date.

If your shares of AppliedMicro common stock are held in “street name” (i.e., through a broker, dealer, commercial bank, trust company or other nominee), those shares may be tendered by your nominee by book-entry transfer through The Depository Trust Company (“DTC”). To validly tender such shares held in street name, you should instruct such nominee to do so prior to the expiration date.

We are not providing for guaranteed delivery procedures. Accordingly you must allow sufficient time for the necessary tender procedures to be completed during normal business hours prior to the expiration date. Tenders received by the exchange agent after the expiration date will be disregarded and of no effect. In all cases, you will receive your consideration for your tendered shares only after timely receipt by the exchange agent of certificates for such shares, if any, or of a confirmation of a book-entry transfer of such shares, and a properly completed and duly executed letter of transmittal and any other required documents.

For a more complete discussion of the procedures for tendering your shares of AppliedMicro common stock, see “Exchange Offer Procedures – Procedures for Tendering.”

Until what time can I withdraw tendered shares of AppliedMicro common stock?

You may withdraw your previously tendered shares of AppliedMicro common stock at any time until the offer has expired and, if the Purchaser has not accepted your AppliedMicro shares for exchange prior to expiration of the offer, you may withdraw them at any time on or after that date until the Purchaser accepts shares for exchange. Once the Purchaser accepts your tendered shares for exchange, however, you will no longer be able to withdraw them. For a more complete discussion of the procedures for withdrawing your AppliedMicro shares, see “Exchange Offer Procedures – Withdrawal Rights.”

How do I withdraw previously tendered shares of AppliedMicro common stock?

To withdraw previously tendered shares of AppliedMicro common stock that are held of record, you must deliver a written notice of withdrawal with the required information to the exchange agent at any time at which you have the right to withdraw shares.

To withdraw previously tendered shares of AppliedMicro common stock that are held in “street name,” you must instruct your broker, dealer, commercial bank, trust company or other nominee to arrange for the withdrawal of your shares and such broker, dealer, commercial bank, trust company or other nominee must effectively withdraw such shares at any time at which you have the right to withdraw shares.

For a more complete discussion of the procedures for withdrawing your AppliedMicro shares, including the applicable deadlines for effecting withdrawals, see “Exchange Offer Procedures – Withdrawal Rights.”

When and how will I receive the transaction consideration in exchange for my tendered shares of AppliedMicro common stock?

Upon the terms and subject to the satisfaction or waiver of the conditions of the offer (including, if the offer is extended or amended, the terms and conditions of any extension or amendment), promptly following the expiration date, the Purchaser will accept for exchange, and will thereafter promptly exchange, all shares of AppliedMicro common stock validly tendered and not properly withdrawn prior to the expiration date.

The Purchaser will deliver the transaction consideration for your validly tendered and not properly withdrawn shares through the exchange agent, which will act as your agent for the purpose of receiving the transaction consideration from the Purchaser and transmitting such transaction consideration to you. In all cases, you will receive your consideration for your tendered shares only after timely receipt by the exchange agent of certificates for such AppliedMicro shares, if any, or a confirmation of a book-entry transfer of such shares, and a properly completed and duly executed letter of transmittal and any other required documents for such shares.

What happens if I do not tender my shares of AppliedMicro common stock?

If MACOM completes the offer, it intends to complete the first merger as soon as practicable following such completion of the offer. Upon consummation of the first merger, each share of AppliedMicro common stock that has not been tendered and accepted for exchange in the offer, unless appraisal rights under Delaware law for such shares are properly exercised and other than shares held in treasury by AppliedMicro or shares held by MACOM, any subsidiary of MACOM or any subsidiary of AppliedMicro, will be converted in the first merger into the right to receive the transaction consideration.

If the offer is completed, will AppliedMicro continue as a public company?

No. MACOM is required, on the terms and subject to the satisfaction or waiver of the conditions set forth in the merger agreement, to consummate the mergers as soon as practicable following its acceptance for purchase of shares of AppliedMicro common stock in the offer. If the offer is consummated, the first merger will be consummated pursuant to DGCL Section 251(h) without a stockholder vote and shares that were not tendered into the offer will be converted into the right to receive the transaction consideration (other than dissenting, converted and cancelled shares), and the common stock of AppliedMicro will be delisted from trading. As such, MACOM does not expect there to be a significant period of time between the consummation of the offer and the consummation of the mergers, and MACOM and Merger Sub will take the actions, including filing required forms with the SEC to deregister AppliedMicro as a public company.

If the first merger takes place, AppliedMicro will no longer be publicly traded, and the AppliedMicro business will be a wholly owned subsidiary of MACOM.

Will I have the right to have my shares of AppliedMicro common stock appraised?

Appraisal rights are not available in connection with the offer, and AppliedMicro stockholders who tender their shares in the offer will not have appraisal rights in connection with the first merger. However, if the Purchaser accepts shares in the offer and the first merger is completed, holders of shares of AppliedMicro common stock will be entitled to exercise appraisal rights in connection with the first merger if they did not tender their shares in the offer and satisfy the other requirements prescribed by Delaware law.

AppliedMicro stockholders who comply with the applicable statutory procedures under the DGCL will be entitled to receive a judicial determination of the fair value of their shares of AppliedMicro common stock (exclusive of any element of value arising from the accomplishment or expectation of the first merger) and to receive payment of such fair value in cash. Any such judicial determination of the fair value of shares of AppliedMicro common stock could be based upon considerations other than, or in addition to, the price paid in the offer and the first merger and the market value of shares of AppliedMicro common stock. The value so determined could be higher or lower than the price per AppliedMicro share paid by MACOM or the Purchaser pursuant to the offer and the first merger. You should be aware that opinions of investment banking firms as to the fairness from a financial point of view of the consideration payable in a sale transaction, such as the offer and the first merger, are not opinions as to fair value under applicable Delaware law.

Under Section 262 of the DGCL, where a merger is approved under Section 251(h), either a constituent corporation before the effective date of the merger, or the first surviving company within ten (10) days thereafter, will notify each of the holders of any class or series of stock of such constituent corporation who are entitled to appraisal rights of the approval of the merger or consolidation and that appraisal rights are available for any or all shares of such class or series of stock of such constituent corporation, and shall include in such notice a copy of Section 262 of the DGCL. The Schedule 14D-9 will constitute the formal notice of appraisal rights under Section 262 of the DGCL.

The foregoing summary of the rights of dissenting stockholders under the DGCL does not purport to be a complete statement of the procedures to be followed by AppliedMicro stockholders desiring to exercise any available appraisal rights under Section 262 of the DGCL, and is qualified in its entirety by the full text of Section 262 of the DGCL. See “The Transactions – Dissenters’ Rights.”

Who should I contact if I have questions about the offer?

You may contact D.F. King & Co., Inc., the information agent, by phone toll-free at (866) 530-8635 or by email at infoagent@dfking.com.

SUMMARY

This section summarizes material information presented in greater detail elsewhere in this document. However, this summary does not contain all of the information that may be important to AppliedMicro stockholders. You are urged to read carefully the remainder of this document, the related letter of transmittal, the annexes to this document and the other information referred to or incorporated by reference in this document because the information contained in this section and in the “Questions and Answers About the Offer” section is not complete. See “Where To Obtain Additional Information.”

The purpose of the transactions that have been agreed to between MACOM and AppliedMicro is for MACOM to acquire control of, and ultimately the entire equity interest in, AppliedMicro. The offer is the first step in MACOM’s plan to acquire all of the outstanding shares of AppliedMicro common stock, and the first merger is the second step in such plan. If the offer is completed, tendered shares of AppliedMicro common stock will be exchanged for the transaction consideration, and upon completion of the first merger, any remaining shares of AppliedMicro common stock that were not tendered into the offer (other than certain dissenting, converted or cancelled shares, as described further in this document) will be converted into the right to receive the transaction consideration.

Immediately following the first merger, and as the final step in MACOM’s plan to acquire all of the outstanding shares of AppliedMicro common stock, the first surviving company will merge with and into Merger Sub in the second merger.

The transaction consideration consists of:

- $3.25 in cash, without interest and less any applicable withholding taxes; and
- 0.1089 shares of MACOM common stock, par value $0.001, together with cash in lieu of any fractional shares of MACOM common stock, without interest and less any applicable withholding taxes.

AppliedMicro stockholders will not receive any fractional shares of MACOM common stock in the offer or the first merger, and each AppliedMicro stockholder who otherwise would be entitled to receive a fraction of a share of MACOM common stock pursuant to the offer or the first merger will be paid an amount in cash (without interest) in lieu thereof, based on the volume weighted average closing sale price per share (calculated to the nearest one-hundredth of one cent) of MACOM common stock as reported on Nasdaq for the period of ten (10) consecutive trading days beginning on the thirteenth (13th) trading day immediately preceding the date on which the mergers (as defined below) are consummated (the “closing date”) and concluding at the close of trading on the third (3rd) trading day immediately preceding the closing date, as calculated by Bloomberg Financial LP under the function “VWAP” (the “MACOM trading price”).

The Offer (Page 102)

MACOM, through the Purchaser, is offering, upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this document and in the accompanying letter of transmittal, to exchange the transaction consideration for each outstanding share of AppliedMicro common stock that is validly tendered in the offer and not properly withdrawn.

The Mergers (Page 103)

The first merger and the second merger will be completed as soon as practicable following the Purchaser's acceptance of tendered shares, assuming the satisfaction or waiver of the other conditions of the offer at such time. The first merger will be subject to Section 251(h) of the DGCL, which means that no vote of AppliedMicro stockholders will be required to complete the first merger. Accordingly, MACOM anticipates that the first merger will be completed on or about the same day as the completion of the offer.

In the first merger, the Purchaser will merge with and into AppliedMicro, with AppliedMicro surviving the merger (the "effective time"). At the effective time, each outstanding share of AppliedMicro common stock that was not acquired by the Purchaser in the offer (other than shares held by stockholders validly exercising appraisal rights under Delaware law, shares held in treasury by AppliedMicro or shares held by MACOM, any subsidiary of MACOM or any subsidiary of AppliedMicro) will be converted into the right to receive the transaction consideration. After the first merger, AppliedMicro will be a direct wholly owned subsidiary of MACOM, and the former stockholders of AppliedMicro will no longer have any direct ownership interest in the first surviving company.

Immediately following the first merger, the first surviving company will merge with and into Merger Sub, with Merger Sub surviving the second merger (the "second effective time"). From and after the second effective time, the surviving company holding the AppliedMicro business will be a limited liability company rather than a corporation.

Pursuant to the support agreements, each of the supporting stockholders agreed during the term of his, her or its respective support agreement, among other things, (i) to promptly (and, in any event, not later than ten (10) business days following commencement of the offer) validly tender or cause to be tendered all outstanding shares of AppliedMicro common stock owned by the supporting stockholder, (ii) with respect to any additional shares of AppliedMicro common stock acquired after commencement of the offer, but before the acceptance time, to promptly (and, in any event, not later than two (2) business days following the acquisition of such additional shares) validly tender or cause to be tendered such additional shares, (iii) not to withdraw shares of AppliedMicro common stock from the offer unless the offer is terminated and (iv) to certain restrictions on transferring or encumbering any such shares of AppliedMicro common stock prior to termination of the support agreement.

Completion of the transactions is subject to certain conditions, including, among others:

Treatment of AppliedMicro Equity Awards (Page 106)

Under the terms of the merger agreement,

- Vested in-the-Money AppliedMicro Stock Options. Each outstanding vested in-the-money option to acquire shares of AppliedMicro common stock will be cancelled as of the effective time and thereafter will only entitle the holder of such option to receive (without interest) an amount in cash and a number of shares of MACOM common stock equal to the product of the (i) transaction consideration (with the stock consideration value based on the closing price of the MACOM common stock on Nasdaq on the last trading day immediately before the effective time), multiplied by (ii) that number of whole and partial (computed to the nearest four decimal places) shares of AppliedMicro common stock equal to the excess of (A) the total number of shares of AppliedMicro common stock then subject to such vested in-the-money AppliedMicro option over (B) the number of whole and partial (computed to the nearest four decimal places) shares of AppliedMicro common stock that, when multiplied by the closing price of the AppliedMicro common stock on Nasdaq on the last trading day immediately prior to the effective time, is equal to the aggregate exercise price of such vested in-the-money AppliedMicro option.
- Other AppliedMicro Stock Options. Each outstanding option to acquire shares of AppliedMicro common stock other than a vested in-the-money AppliedMicro option will be cancelled and converted into, as of the effective time, and thereafter evidence an award of stock options exercisable for shares of MACOM common stock having the same terms and conditions, subject to certain modifications.
- Vested AppliedMicro Restricted Stock Units. Each outstanding vested AppliedMicro restricted stock unit will be settled in that number of shares of AppliedMicro common stock underlying the vested AppliedMicro restricted stock unit and thereafter will entitle the holder thereof to receive (without interest) an amount in cash and a number of shares of MACOM common stock equal to the transaction consideration (with the stock consideration valued based on the closing price of MACOM common stock on Nasdaq on the last trading day immediately before the effective time), in respect of each share of AppliedMicro common stock that was subject to such holder's vested AppliedMicro restricted stock unit.
- Unvested AppliedMicro Restricted Stock Units. Each outstanding unvested AppliedMicro restricted stock unit will be cancelled and converted into, as of the effective time, and thereafter evidence an award of restricted stock units with respect to shares of MACOM common stock having the same terms and conditions, subject to certain modifications.

AppliedMicro will cause any outstanding offering period under the 2012 Employee Stock Purchase Plan, as amended ("ESPP") to terminate as of the effective time, with the ESPP and all outstanding rights under such plan being terminated as of such time. Any shares of AppliedMicro common stock purchased under the ESPP will be canceled and converted into the right to receive the transaction consideration. Any funds that remain in the account of an ESPP participant will be promptly returned to the participant.

Completion of the transactions is subject to the expiration or termination of the waiting period applicable to the transactions under the HSR Act. On December 12, 2016, early termination of the waiting period under the HSR Act was granted, and accordingly this condition has been satisfied. The parties to the merger agreement are required to use their respective reasonable best efforts to consummate the transactions, including by taking all reasonable actions necessary to obtain any antitrust or other regulatory approvals, as described in the merger agreement.

MACOM estimates that the aggregate amount of cash consideration required to purchase the maximum amount of shares of AppliedMicro common stock sought in the offer is approximately $288 million, which is equal to $3.25 multiplied by 88,581,000 shares of AppliedMicro common stock (see Note 2 to the “Unaudited Pro Forma Condensed Combined Financial Statements” for the calculation of the estimated shares of AppliedMicro common stock entitled to the cash consideration), plus related costs and expenses. MACOM intends to use cash on hand to finance the cash portion of the transactions and the related costs and expenses.

Listing of MACOM Common Stock (Page 123)

MACOM will submit the necessary notification to Nasdaq with respect to the listing of the shares of MACOM common stock to be issued in connection with the transactions. Approval of this listing is a condition to completion of the offer and the first merger.

Dissenters’ Rights (Page 81)

Appraisal rights are not available in connection with the offer, and AppliedMicro stockholders who tender their shares in the offer will not have appraisal rights in connection with the first merger. However, if the Purchaser accepts shares in the offer and the first merger is completed, holders of shares of AppliedMicro common stock will be entitled to exercise appraisal rights in connection with the first merger if they did not tender their shares in the offer and satisfy the other requirements prescribed by Section 262 of the DGCL. The “fair value” of AppliedMicro common stock may be greater than, less than or the same as the transaction consideration. For more information, see “The Transactions – Dissenters’ Rights.”

You will find a detailed discussion of appraisal rights in the Schedule 14D-9, which has been filed with the SEC and was mailed to AppliedMicro stockholders together with the preliminary prospectus/offer on or about December 23, 2016. The Schedule 14D-9 will constitute the formal notice of appraisal rights under Section 262 of the DGCL.

Comparative Market Price and Dividend Matters (Page 129)

MACOM common stock is listed on Nasdaq under the symbol “MTSI,” and AppliedMicro common stock is listed on Nasdaq under the symbol “AMCC.” The following table sets forth the closing prices of MACOM common stock and AppliedMicro common stock on Nasdaq as reported on November 18, 2016, the trading day prior to public announcement of execution of the merger agreement, and on January 12, 2017, the most recent practicable trading date prior to the filing of this document. The table also shows the implied value of one share of AppliedMicro common stock on such dates, which was calculated by adding (1) the per-share cash consideration of $3.25 and (2) the product of the exchange ratio of 0.1089 multiplied by the closing price of MACOM common stock on such date.

	Per-Share AppliedMicro Closing Price	Per-Share MACOM Closing Price	Implied Transaction Value of AppliedMicro Share
November 18, 2016	$ 7.25	$ 46.95	$ 8.36
January 12, 2017	$ 8.30	$ 46.48	$ 8.31

The market value of the stock portion of the transaction consideration will change as the market value of MACOM common stock fluctuates during the offer period and thereafter. AppliedMicro stockholders should obtain current market quotations for shares of AppliedMicro common stock and MACOM common stock before deciding whether to tender their AppliedMicro shares in the offer.

Ownership of MACOM After the Transactions (Page 81)

MACOM estimates that former stockholders of AppliedMicro will own, in the aggregate, approximately 16.1% of the shares of MACOM common stock outstanding immediately following completion of the transactions.

Comparison of Stockholders' Rights (Page 150)

The rights of MACOM stockholders are different in some respects from the rights of AppliedMicro stockholders. Therefore, AppliedMicro stockholders will have different rights as stockholders once they become MACOM stockholders.

Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences (Page 142)

It is intended that the offer and the mergers, taken together, qualify as a "reorganization" within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code. It is a condition to MACOM's obligation to complete the offer that MACOM and AppliedMicro each receive a written opinion from their respective legal counsel, Ropes & Gray LLP and Pillsbury Winthrop Shaw Pittman LLP, respectively, to the effect that the offer and the mergers, taken together, will qualify as a "reorganization" within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code. Accordingly, assuming the receipt and accuracy of such opinions, U.S. holders (as defined under "Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences") of shares of AppliedMicro common stock that receive a combination of shares of MACOM common stock and cash (other than cash received in lieu of fractional shares of MACOM common stock) in exchange for shares of AppliedMicro common stock pursuant to the offer and/or the first merger generally will recognize gain (but not loss) in an amount equal to the lesser of (i) the amount by which the sum of the fair market value of MACOM common stock and cash received by the U.S. holder exceeds such U.S. holder's adjusted tax basis in its shares of AppliedMicro common stock surrendered and (ii) the amount of cash received by such U.S. holder. Non-U.S. holders (as defined under "Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences") of shares of AppliedMicro common stock that receive the transaction consideration pursuant to the offer or the first merger may be subject to U.S. withholding tax with respect to cash received.

Holders of AppliedMicro common stock should read the section entitled "Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences" for a more complete discussion of the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the transactions. Tax matters can be complicated, and the tax consequences of the transactions to a particular holder will depend on such holder's particular facts and circumstances. AppliedMicro stockholders should consult their own tax advisors to determine the specific consequences to them of exchanging their shares of AppliedMicro common stock for the transaction consideration pursuant to the offer or the first merger.

Accounting Treatment (Page 94)

In accordance with United States generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP"), MACOM will account for the acquisition of shares in the transactions under the acquisition method of accounting for business combinations.

SELECTED UNAUDITED PRO FORMA CONDENSED COMBINED FINANCIAL DATA

The following selected unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial data as of and for the year ended September 30, 2016 give effect to the transactions, which will be accounted for as a business combination under the acquisition method of accounting, with MACOM as the acquirer. The selected unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial data presented below is based on, and should be read in conjunction with, the unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial statements that appear elsewhere in this document, including the footnotes thereto, and the historical financial statements of MACOM and AppliedMicro that appear elsewhere in this document. See the sections entitled, “Where To Obtain Additional Information” and “Unaudited Pro Forma Condensed Combined Financial Statements,” for additional information.

MACOM operates on a 52-or 53-week fiscal year ending on the Friday closest to September 30. All date references contained herein relate to MACOM’s fiscal year unless otherwise stated. AppliedMicro’s fiscal year ends on March 31. As a result of the different fiscal years of MACOM and AppliedMicro:

- The unaudited pro forma condensed combined balance sheet as of September 30, 2016 combines MACOM’s historical consolidated balance sheet as of September 30, 2016, which was the end of MACOM’s 2016 fiscal year, and AppliedMicro’s historical unaudited condensed consolidated balance sheet as of September 30, 2016, which was the end of its second fiscal quarter, giving pro forma effect to the transactions as if they had been completed on September 30, 2016; and
- The unaudited pro forma condensed combined statement of operations for the year ended September 30, 2016 combines MACOM’s historical results of operations for the year ended September 30, 2016, which was the end of MACOM’s 2016 fiscal year, and AppliedMicro’s historical unaudited results of operations for the 12 months ended September 30, 2016, which have been derived from AppliedMicro’s consolidated statement of operations for the year ended March 31, 2016, and from AppliedMicro’s condensed consolidated statement of operations for the six months ended September 30, 2016 and September 30, 2015, giving pro forma effect to the transactions as if they had been completed on October 3, 2015.

The transactions will be accounted for using the acquisition method of accounting. The pro forma adjustments reflect adjustments required under GAAP for business combinations and are based upon, among other things, preliminary estimates of fair market values of assets acquired and liabilities assumed and certain assumptions that we believe are reasonable. Revisions to the preliminary estimates of fair market value may have a significant impact on the pro forma amounts of total assets, total liabilities and stockholders’ equity, amortization expense, interest expense and income tax expense. The actual adjustments to MACOM’s consolidated financial statements upon the closing of the transactions will depend on a number of factors, including additional information available and AppliedMicro’s net assets on the closing date of the merger. Therefore, the actual adjustments will differ from the pro forma adjustments, and the differences may be material. The selected unaudited pro forma condensed combined statement of operations does not reflect any non-recurring charges or gains that MACOM may record in connection with the merger. However, these estimated non-recurring items will be reflected in MACOM’s statement of operations for the period during which the merger will take place.

The selected unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial data is presented for illustrative purposes only and is not necessarily indicative of the actual or future financial position or results of operations that would have been realized if the transactions had been completed as of the dates indicated in the unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial statements or that will be realized upon the consummation of the transactions. The following information has been derived from, and should be read in conjunction with, the unaudited pro forma combined financial statements and the related notes included in this document. See “Unaudited Pro Forma Condensed Combined Financial Statements.”

RISK FACTORS

AppliedMicro stockholders should carefully read this document and the other documents referred to or incorporated by reference into this document, including in particular the following risk factors, in deciding whether to tender AppliedMicro shares pursuant to the offer.

Risks Relating to the Offer and Mergers and Combined Company

The stock portion of the transaction consideration is fixed and will not be adjusted. Because the market price of MACOM common stock may fluctuate, AppliedMicro stockholders cannot be sure of the market value of the transaction consideration they will receive in exchange for their AppliedMicro shares in connection with the transactions.

In connection with the offer and the first merger, AppliedMicro stockholders will receive cash and a fixed number of MACOM shares of common stock for each of their shares of AppliedMicro common stock (i.e., 0.1089 MACOM shares for each AppliedMicro share). Because the number of shares of MACOM common stock being offered as part of the transaction consideration will not vary based on the market value of MACOM common stock, the portion of the market value of the transaction consideration that AppliedMicro stockholders will receive in the offer or first merger that is based on the value of MACOM common stock will vary based on the price of such stock at the time the transaction consideration is received. The market price of MACOM common stock may decline after the date of this document, after you tender your shares and/or after the offer and the first merger are completed.

A decline in the market price of MACOM common stock could result from a variety of factors beyond MACOM's control, including, among other things, the possibility that: MACOM may not achieve the expected benefits of the acquisition of AppliedMicro as rapidly or to the extent anticipated, including expectations relating to the sale by MACOM of a portion of AppliedMicro's compute business; AppliedMicro's business may not perform as anticipated following the transactions, including if key AppliedMicro customers discontinue purchasing from the combined firm; AppliedMicro's connectivity products or MACOM's products do not continue to gain market share; (see "Risk Factors—Risks Related to AppliedMicro's Business"); the effect of MACOM's acquisition of AppliedMicro on MACOM's financial results may not meet the expectations of MACOM, financial analysts or investors; the addition and integration of AppliedMicro's business may be unsuccessful, take longer or be more disruptive than anticipated; or MACOM's creditworthiness may be adversely affected as a result of MACOM's reduced cash reserves incurred to finance the offer and the mergers.

Because the offer will not be completed until certain conditions have been satisfied or waived, a significant period of time may pass between the commencement of the offer, the time you tender your shares and the time that the Purchaser accepts your shares for payment. Therefore, at the time you tender your shares of AppliedMicro common stock pursuant to the offer, you will not know the exact market value of the stock portion of the transaction consideration that will be issued if the Purchaser accepts such shares for payment.

See "Comparative Market Price and Dividend Matters." You are urged to obtain current market quotations for shares of AppliedMicro common stock and for shares of MACOM common stock.

The offer remains subject to conditions that MACOM cannot control.

The offer is subject to a number of conditions, including the minimum condition, lack of legal prohibitions, the listing on Nasdaq of the shares of MACOM common stock to be issued in the transactions, the receipt of opinions of AppliedMicro's and MACOM's respective legal counsel regarding the tax treatment of the transactions, the effectiveness of the registration statement on Form S-4 of which this document is a part, the truth and accuracy of AppliedMicro's representations and warranties made in the merger agreement, subject to specified materiality standards, and AppliedMicro's material compliance with its covenants under the merger agreement. There are no assurances that all of the conditions to the offer will be satisfied or that the conditions will be satisfied in the time frame expected. If the conditions to the offer are not met, then MACOM may, subject to the terms and conditions of the merger agreement, allow the offer to expire, or amend or extend the offer. See “Merger Agreement – Conditions to the Transaction.”

If the transactions are completed, AppliedMicro stockholders will receive MACOM common stock as part of the transaction consideration and will accordingly become MACOM stockholders. MACOM common stock may be affected by different factors than AppliedMicro common stock, and MACOM stockholders will have different rights than they had as AppliedMicro stockholders.

Upon consummation of the transactions, AppliedMicro stockholders will receive shares of MACOM common stock as part of the transaction consideration and will accordingly become MACOM stockholders. MACOM’s business differs from that of AppliedMicro, and MACOM’s results of operations and the trading price of MACOM common stock may be adversely affected by factors different than those that would affect AppliedMicro’s results of operations and stock price.

In addition, holders of shares of MACOM common stock will have rights as MACOM stockholders that differ from the rights they had as AppliedMicro stockholders before the transactions. For a comparison of the rights of MACOM stockholders to the rights of AppliedMicro stockholders, see “Comparison of Stockholders’ Rights.”

AppliedMicro stockholders will have a reduced ownership and voting interest in the combined company.

Immediately following consummation of the offer and the first merger, AppliedMicro stockholders will collectively own approximately 16.1% of the outstanding shares of MACOM common stock. Consequently, AppliedMicro stockholders will not be able to exercise as much influence over the management and policies of the combined company as they currently exercise over AppliedMicro.

MACOM may fail to realize all of the anticipated benefits of the transactions or those benefits may take longer to realize than expected.

The full benefits of the transactions may not be realized as expected or may not be achieved within the anticipated time frame, or at all. Failure to achieve the anticipated benefits of the transactions could adversely affect MACOM’s results of operations or cash flows, cause dilution to the earnings per share of MACOM, decrease or delay the expected benefits of the transactions and negatively affect the price of MACOM common stock.

In addition, MACOM and AppliedMicro will be required to devote significant attention and resources prior to closing to prepare for the post-closing operation of the combined company, and MACOM will be required post-closing to devote significant attention and resources to successfully align the business practices and integrate the operations of MACOM and AppliedMicro. This process may disrupt the businesses and, if ineffective, would limit the anticipated benefits of the transactions.

MACOM and AppliedMicro will incur direct and indirect costs as a result of the transactions.

MACOM and AppliedMicro will incur substantial expenses in connection with and as a result of completing the transactions. Following the completion of the mergers, MACOM expects to incur additional expenses in connection with combining the businesses, operations, policies and procedures of MACOM and AppliedMicro. Factors beyond MACOM’s control could affect the total amount or timing of those expenses, many of which, by their nature, are difficult to estimate accurately. Moreover, diversion of management focus and resources from the day-to-day operation of the business to matters relating to the transactions could adversely affect each company’s business, regardless of whether the offer and the mergers are completed.

The receipt of shares of MACOM common stock in the offer and/or the first merger may be taxable to AppliedMicro stockholders.

The offer is contingent upon the receipt of an opinion by each of MACOM and AppliedMicro from their respective legal counsel to the effect that the offer and the mergers, taken together, will qualify as a “reorganization” within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code. However, if the offer and the mergers are not treated as component parts of an integrated transaction for U.S. federal income tax purposes, if the mergers are not completed in the manner described herein and in the merger agreement or if the transactions otherwise fail to qualify as a “reorganization” within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code, the exchange of shares of AppliedMicro common stock for cash and shares of MACOM common stock in the offer and/or the first merger will be taxable to AppliedMicro stockholders for U.S. federal income tax purposes. See “Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences.”

MACOM’s and AppliedMicro’s actual financial positions and results of operations may differ materially from the unaudited pro forma combined financial data included in this document.

The unaudited pro forma combined financial information contained in this document is presented for illustrative purposes only and may differ materially from what MACOM’s actual financial position or results of operations would have been had the transactions been completed on the dates indicated. The unaudited pro forma combined financial information has been derived from the audited and unaudited historical financial statements of MACOM and certain adjustments and assumptions have been made regarding the combined company after giving effect to the offer and mergers. The assets and liabilities of AppliedMicro have been measured at fair value based on various preliminary estimates using assumptions that MACOM’s management believes are reasonable utilizing information currently available. The process for estimating the fair value of acquired assets and assumed liabilities requires the use of judgment in determining the appropriate assumptions and estimates. These estimates may vary significantly as additional information becomes available and as additional analyses are performed. Differences between preliminary estimates in the unaudited pro forma combined financial information and the final acquisition accounting may occur and are not necessarily indicative of MACOM’s financial position or results of operations in future periods or that would have been realized in historical periods presented.

In addition, the assumptions used in preparing the unaudited pro forma combined financial information may not prove to be accurate, and other factors may affect MACOM’s financial condition or results of operations following the closing. Any potential decline in MACOM’s financial condition or results of operations may cause significant variations in MACOM’s share price. See “Unaudited Pro Forma Condensed Combined Financial Statements.”

The merger agreement limits AppliedMicro’s ability to pursue alternative transactions, and in certain instances requires payment of a termination fee, which could deter a third party from proposing an alternative transaction.

The merger agreement contains provisions that, subject to certain exceptions, limit AppliedMicro’s ability to solicit, initiate or knowingly encourage or knowingly facilitate any inquiries regarding or the making or submission of any proposal or offer that constitutes or could reasonably be expected to lead to an AppliedMicro takeover proposal (as defined below). See “Merger Agreement – No Solicitation of Other Offers by AppliedMicro.” In addition, under specified circumstances, AppliedMicro is required to pay a termination fee of $30 million if the merger agreement is terminated. See “Merger Agreement – Effect of Termination.” It is possible that these or other provisions might discourage a potential competing acquiror that might have an interest in acquiring all or a significant part of AppliedMicro from considering or proposing an acquisition, or might result in a potential competing acquiror proposing to pay a lower per share price to acquire AppliedMicro than it might otherwise have proposed to pay.

If the value of MACOM's business, together with any synergies to be achieved from MACOM's acquisition of AppliedMicro, is less than the value of the transaction consideration, the trading price of shares of MACOM common stock could decrease.

If investors believe that the value of the cash consideration and stock consideration to be exchanged for AppliedMicro shares in connection with the offer and the first merger, together with transaction costs, is greater than the value of AppliedMicro's business, together with any synergies expected to be achieved from MACOM's acquisition of AppliedMicro, the trading price of MACOM common stock could decrease and the transactions could have a dilutive effect on the value of common shares held by MACOM stockholders (including former AppliedMicro stockholders).

Uncertainty during pendency of the transactions may cause suppliers, customers or other business partners to delay or defer decisions concerning MACOM and/or AppliedMicro or re-negotiate agreements with MACOM and/or AppliedMicro, and completion of the transactions could cause suppliers, customers and other business partners to terminate or re-negotiate their relationships with the combined company.

The offer and mergers will be completed only if specified conditions are met, many of which are outside the control of MACOM and AppliedMicro. In addition, both parties have rights to terminate the merger agreement under specified circumstances. Accordingly, there may be uncertainty regarding the consummation of the offer and mergers, both as to whether they will be consummated and when. This uncertainty may cause suppliers, customers or other business partners of MACOM and/or AppliedMicro to delay or defer decisions concerning such company's products or businesses, or to seek to change existing agreements with MACOM and/or AppliedMicro, which could negatively affect their respective businesses, results of operations and financial conditions.

Additionally, if the offer and mergers are completed, certain suppliers, customers or other business partners may attempt to terminate or change their relationships with the combined company, for example if such counterparties had prior experiences with either MACOM or AppliedMicro that caused them to be dissatisfied with MACOM or AppliedMicro. These decisions could have an adverse effect on the business of the combined company.

MACOM's acquisition of AppliedMicro could trigger certain change-of-control or similar provisions contained in AppliedMicro's agreements with third parties that could permit such parties to terminate or re-negotiate those agreements.

AppliedMicro and its subsidiaries may be a party to agreements that permit a counterparty to terminate an agreement or receive payments because the offer and mergers would cause a default or violate an anti-assignment, change-of-control or similar clause in such agreement. If this happens, MACOM may have to seek to replace that agreement with a new agreement or make additional payments under such agreement. However, MACOM may be unable to replace a terminated agreement on comparable terms or at all. Depending on the importance of such agreement to AppliedMicro's business, the failure to replace a terminated agreement on similar terms or at all, and requirements to pay additional amounts, may increase the costs to MACOM of operating AppliedMicro's business or decrease the expected benefits of the offer and mergers to the combined company.

The stock prices of MACOM and AppliedMicro common stock may be adversely affected if the offer and mergers are not completed.

If the offer and the mergers are not completed, the prices of MACOM common stock and AppliedMicro common stock may decline to the extent that the current market prices of such common stock reflect a market assumption that the offer and the mergers will be completed and have value.

Failure to effectively retain, attract and motivate key employees could diminish the anticipated benefits of the transactions.

The success of the acquisition of AppliedMicro will depend in part on the attraction, retention and motivation of personnel critical to the business and operations of the combined company due to, for example, their technical skills or industry and management expertise. Employees and consultants may experience uncertainty about their future roles with MACOM and AppliedMicro during the pendency of the offer and mergers or after their completion. MACOM and AppliedMicro, while similar and sharing a number of core values, do not have identical corporate cultures, and some employees or consultants may not want to work for the combined company. In addition, competitors may recruit employees during MACOM's integration of AppliedMicro. If the companies are unable to attract, retain and motivate personnel that are critical to the successful integration and future operation of the companies, the combined company could face disruptions in its operations, loss of existing customers, key information, expertise or know-how and unanticipated additional recruiting and training costs. In addition, the loss of key personnel could diminish the anticipated benefits of the acquisition of AppliedMicro to MACOM.

The financial analyses and forecasts considered by AppliedMicro and its financial advisors may not be realized.

While the financial projections utilized by AppliedMicro and its advisors in connection with the offer and the mergers and summarized in this registration statement were prepared in good faith based on information available at the time of preparation, no assurances can be made regarding future events or that the assumptions made in preparing such projections will accurately reflect future conditions. In preparing such projections, the management of AppliedMicro made assumptions regarding, among other things, future economic, competitive, regulatory and financial market conditions and future business decisions that may not be realized and that are inherently subject to significant uncertainties and contingencies, including, among others, risks and uncertainties described or incorporated by reference in this section and the section entitled "Forward-Looking Statements," all of which are difficult to predict and many of which are beyond the control of AppliedMicro and MACOM and will be beyond the control of the combined company. There can be no assurance that the underlying assumptions or projected results will be realized, and actual results will likely differ, and may differ materially, from those reflected in the unaudited financial projections, whether or not the offer and mergers are completed. The financial projections do not necessarily reflect the manner in which the acquired business will be operated by MACOM or the results of operations of such underlying business after the completion of the acquisition. The costs and expenses shown in such AppliedMicro projections do not necessarily represent the costs and expenses to be incurred by MACOM. As a result, the unaudited financial projections cannot be considered predictive of actual future operating results, and this information should not be relied on as such. In addition, since such projections cover multiple years, the information by its nature becomes less predictive with each successive year.

Risks Related to MACOM's Business

You should read and consider the risk factors specific to MACOM's business that will also affect the combined company after the merger. These risks are described in (i) Part I, Item 1A of MACOM's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended September 30, 2016, as filed with the SEC on November 17, 2016 and (ii) in other documents that are incorporated by reference into this document. See "Where To Obtain Additional Information" for the location of information incorporated by reference in this document.

Risks Related to AppliedMicro's Business

The announcement and pendency of AppliedMicro's agreement to be acquired by MACOM may have an adverse effect on AppliedMicro's business, operating results and stock price.

AppliedMicro's announcement of having entered into the merger agreement and MACOM's and the Purchaser's commencement of the offer could cause a material disruption to AppliedMicro's business.

Table of Contents

AppliedMicro is subject to additional risks in connection with the announcement and pendency of the offer and the mergers, including, but not limited to, the following:

- market reaction to the announcement of the offer and the mergers;
- changes in the respective business, operations, financial position and prospects of either company or the combined company following consummation of the mergers;
- market assessments of the likelihood that the offer and the mergers will be consummated;
- the amount of cash and the number of shares of MACOM common stock comprising the transaction consideration will not be adjusted for changes in AppliedMicro's business, assets, liabilities, prospects, outlook, financial condition or results of operations during the pendency of the merger agreement, including any successful execution of AppliedMicro's current strategy as an independent company or in the event of any change in the market price of, analyst estimates of, or projections relating to, AppliedMicro common stock;
- potential adverse effects on AppliedMicro's relationships with AppliedMicro's current customers, suppliers and other business partners, or those with which AppliedMicro is seeking to establish business relationships, due to uncertainties about the offer and the mergers;
- pursuant to the merger agreement, AppliedMicro is subject to certain restrictions on the conduct of AppliedMicro's business prior to consummation of the mergers, which restrictions could adversely affect AppliedMicro's ability to realize certain of AppliedMicro's business strategies or take advantage of certain business opportunities;
- potential adverse effects on AppliedMicro's ability to attract, recruit, retain and motivate current and prospective employees who may be uncertain about their future roles and relationships with us following the completion of the mergers, and the possibility that AppliedMicro's employees could lose productivity as a result of uncertainty regarding their employment following the mergers;
- AppliedMicro has incurred, and will continue to incur, significant costs, expenses and fees for professional services and other transaction costs in connection with the offer and the mergers, and many of these fees and costs are payable by AppliedMicro regardless of whether the mergers are consummated;
- the possibility of disruption to AppliedMicro's business, including increased costs and diversion of management time and resources that could otherwise have been devoted to other opportunities that may have been beneficial to us; and
- interest rates, general market and economic conditions and other factors generally affecting the market prices of MACOM common stock and AppliedMicro common stock.

Since a portion of the offer consideration consists of MACOM common stock, AppliedMicro's stock price will be adversely affected by a decline in MACOM's stock price and any adverse developments in MACOM's business. Changes in MACOM's stock price and business may result from a variety of factors, including changes in its business operations and changes in general market and economic conditions. These factors are beyond AppliedMicro's control.

The failure of the offer and the mergers to be completed may adversely affect AppliedMicro's business and AppliedMicro's stock price.

MACOM's and the Purchaser's obligation to accept for exchange, and to exchange, shares of AppliedMicro common stock for the transaction consideration in the offer is subject to a number of conditions, including (i) at least a majority of the outstanding shares of AppliedMicro common stock, when added to shares of AppliedMicro common stock already owned by the Purchaser, having been validly tendered into (and not withdrawn from) the offer prior to the expiration date of the Offer, (ii) the exchange of shares of MACOM common stock pursuant to the offer and the mergers having been registered pursuant to a registration statement filed by MACOM with the SEC and declared effective by the SEC, (iii) shares of MACOM common stock issuable pursuant to the offer and the mergers having been authorized for listing on Nasdaq, (iv) the absence of any order or ruling prohibiting the consummation of the mergers and (v) subject to certain exceptions, the accuracy of the other party's representations and warranties and compliance with covenants.

There can be no assurance that these conditions to the completion of the offer will be satisfied, or that the mergers will be completed on the proposed terms, within the expected timeframe or at all. If the offer and the mergers are not completed, AppliedMicro's stock price could fall. Furthermore, if the offer and the mergers are not completed, AppliedMicro may suffer other consequences that could adversely affect AppliedMicro's business, results of operations and stock price, including the following:

- AppliedMicro could be required to pay a termination fee of $30 million to MACOM under certain circumstances as described in the merger agreement;
- AppliedMicro would have incurred significant costs in connection with the offer and the mergers that AppliedMicro would be unable to recover;
- AppliedMicro may be subject to negative publicity or be negatively perceived by the investment or business communities;
- AppliedMicro may be subject to legal proceedings related to the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement;
- any disruptions to AppliedMicro's business resulting from the announcement and pendency of the offer and the mergers, including any adverse changes in its relationships with customers, suppliers, other business partners and employees, may continue or intensify in the event the mergers are not consummated; and
- AppliedMicro may not be able to take advantage of alternative business opportunities or effectively respond to competitive pressures.

Other Risks Related to AppliedMicro's Business

You should also read and consider the risk factors specific to AppliedMicro's business that will also affect the combined company after the mergers. These risks are described in (i) Part II, Item 1A of AppliedMicro's 10-Q for the quarterly period ended September 30, 2016, as filed with the SEC on November 2, 2016, and (ii) in other documents that are incorporated by reference into this document. See "Where to Obtain Additional Information" for the location of information incorporated by reference in this document.

FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

Information both included and incorporated by reference in this document may contain forward-looking statements, which may be identified by their use of terms such as “intend,” “plan,” “may,” “should,” “will,” “anticipate,” “believe,” “could,” “estimate,” “expect,” “forecast,” “continue,” “potential,” “opportunity,” “project” and similar terms and their negative expressions. These statements are based on certain assumptions and analyses that MACOM’s management or AppliedMicro’s management believe are appropriate under the circumstances. However, these statements are subject to risks, uncertainties and assumptions. Should one or more of these risks or uncertainties materialize, or should the assumptions prove incorrect, actual results may differ materially from those expected, estimated or projected. Forward-looking statements speak only as of the date they are made, and neither MACOM nor AppliedMicro undertakes any obligation to publicly update or revise any of them in light of new information, future events or otherwise.

All subsequent forward-looking statements attributable to MACOM, AppliedMicro or any person acting on MACOM’s or AppliedMicro’s behalf are qualified by the cautionary statements in this section.

Factors that could have a material adverse effect on MACOM’s or AppliedMicro’s operations and future prospects or the consummation of the offer and the mergers, many of which are difficult to predict and beyond the control of MACOM or AppliedMicro, include, but are not limited to:

- failure to satisfy the conditions to consummate the offer and the mergers;
- uncertainties as to how many AppliedMicro stockholders will tender their shares in the offer;
- the occurrence of any event, change or other circumstances that could give rise to the termination of the merger agreement;
- the failure of the offer and the mergers to close in a timely manner or at all;
- difficulties encountered in integrating or inability of MACOM to integrate AppliedMicro following completion of the acquisition;
- failure to realize the expected benefits, costs savings, revenues, profits, synergies or growth from the acquisition of AppliedMicro, in a timely manner or at all;
- failure to meet expectations concerning future business combinations or dispositions, including the potential sale of a portion of AppliedMicro’s compute business following the closing of the offer and the mergers, at all or within a specific time period;
- significant transaction costs related to the offer and the mergers and any future divestment of a portion of AppliedMicro’s compute business;
- effects of the pendency of the acquisition or any future divestment of a portion of AppliedMicro’s compute business on relationships with employees, suppliers, customers and other business partners;
- MACOM acquiring, managing and integrating new operations, businesses or assets, and the associated diversion of management attention or other related costs or difficulties;
- the loss of the services of any of key employees, the inability to attract or retain qualified employees in the future, or delays in hiring required employees;
- the inherent uncertainty associated with financial or other projections;
- changes in tax laws or other rules or regulations, including laws relating to net operating loss carry-forwards and credits;
- potential non-realization of expected orders or non-realization of backlog;
- variations in product development costs, especially related to advanced technologies;
- risks related to litigation and/or regulatory actions related to the offer and the mergers;
- fluctuations in the market price of AppliedMicro’s or MACOM’s common stock, for any reason; and
- negative effects of this registration statement or the consummation of the offer and mergers on the market price of MACOM’s common stock and on MACOM’s operating results.

These risks and uncertainties, along with the risk factors discussed under “Risk Factors” in this document, should be considered in evaluating any forward-looking statements contained in this document.

THE TRANSACTIONS

General

MACOM, through the Purchaser, which is a direct wholly owned subsidiary of MACOM, is offering to exchange the transaction consideration for each outstanding share of AppliedMicro common stock validly tendered in the offer and not properly withdrawn.

The transaction consideration consists of:

- $3.25 in cash, without interest and less any applicable withholding taxes; and
- 0.1089 shares of MACOM common stock, par value $0.001, together with cash in lieu of any fractional shares of MACOM common stock, without interest and less any applicable withholding taxes.

AppliedMicro stockholders will not receive any fractional shares of MACOM common stock in the offer or the first merger, and each AppliedMicro stockholder who otherwise would be entitled to receive a fraction of a share of MACOM common stock pursuant to the offer or the first merger will be paid an amount in cash (without interest) in lieu thereof, based on the MACOM trading price. See “Merger Agreement – Transaction Consideration.”

The purpose of the transactions is for MACOM to acquire control of, and ultimately the entire equity interest in, AppliedMicro. The offer is the first step in MACOM’s plan to acquire all of the outstanding shares of AppliedMicro common stock, and the first merger is the second step in such plan. Tendered shares of AppliedMicro common stock will be exchanged for the transaction consideration, and if the first merger is completed, any remaining shares of AppliedMicro common stock that were not tendered into the offer (other than certain dissenting, converted or cancelled shares, as described further in this document) will be converted into the right to receive the transaction consideration.

Immediately following the first merger and as the final step in MACOM’s plan to acquire all of the outstanding shares of AppliedMicro common stock, the first surviving company will merge with and into Merger Sub in the second merger.

Background of the Transactions

The AppliedMicro board of directors regularly and on an ongoing basis evaluates the strategic direction of AppliedMicro and its short-term and long-term business plans and objectives. In late 2014, in recognition of significant changes to AppliedMicro’s competitive landscape, including without limitation increased levels of consolidation among semiconductor and communications companies, as well as the need for AppliedMicro to make significant additional investments in new products and design process technologies, the AppliedMicro board of directors determined that AppliedMicro should explore its strategic alternatives.

In February 2015, AppliedMicro engaged Morgan Stanley & Co. LLC (“Morgan Stanley”) to provide financial advisory and placement agent services in connection with AppliedMicro’s efforts to conduct a private placement financing of AppliedMicro equity securities to one or more strategic investors in AppliedMicro or its ARM-based compute business, for the intended purpose of adding to AppliedMicro’s balance sheet and enabling increased product and market development activities.

In May 2015, the AppliedMicro board of directors, in accordance with AppliedMicro’s bylaws, established the strategy committee of the board (the “strategy committee”), consisting of directors Cesaratto, Shlapak, Williams and Zepf, to investigate, review, consider and, if deemed advisable, to make recommendations to the AppliedMicro board of directors with respect to one or more strategic alternatives intended to enhance stockholder value. All four members of the strategy committee are independent members of the AppliedMicro board of directors. Mr. Zepf is the managing principal of Kingdom Ridge Capital, which has been one of AppliedMicro's largest stockholders since 2011. Strategic alternatives would include, but would not be limited to, a sale or purchase by AppliedMicro of one or more product lines, business units or engineering teams, an acquisition of AppliedMicro, an equity financing by AppliedMicro either by way of public or private offering, a debt financing of AppliedMicro, and/or one or more strategic partnerships. Over the course of the next several months, the strategy committee held meetings and investigated and evaluated various possible strategic alternatives, including, among others, the proposed private placement equity investment described above and other potential equity and debt financing alternatives, prior to the commencement of the activities leading up to the current transaction.

On January 21, 2016, at a telephonic meeting of the strategy committee, also attended by AppliedMicro management representatives, the strategy committee discussed expanding the focus of its evaluation of strategic alternatives to include the investigation of a potential merger or acquisition of AppliedMicro or of its ARM-based compute business, including what considerations should accompany such an analysis and what such a process would entail. The strategy committee members and management representatives discussed the value to AppliedMicro of engaging an experienced investment bank as financial advisor in connection with such investigation, and determined that at least three investment banks be interviewed in connection with making such engagement. Thereafter, representatives of Morgan Stanley joined the meeting and made a presentation to the strategy committee and management representatives on AppliedMicro's strategic alternatives, as well as an overview of sales process considerations, the strategic landscape of the semiconductor industry, M&A timing and process considerations, Company financial analyses, and recommendations for next steps. Following their departure, the strategy committee members and management representatives discussed the Morgan Stanley presentation and identified two other qualified investment banks that would be requested to present to the management and, subject to clearing conflicts, the strategy committee.

In late January 2016, Dr. Gopi and director Zepf interviewed the second qualified investment banking firm candidate with respect to advising AppliedMicro on the proposed transaction, during which it was determined that such bank had material conflicts of interest as a result of its relationship with a key competitor of AppliedMicro and therefore could not be further considered for the engagement.

On February 2, 2016, the strategy committee held a meeting at which the representatives of the third investment banking firm candidate made a presentation to the strategy committee and management, which included an overview of the firm's credentials, a semiconductor market update, including recent consolidation activity, an evaluation of AppliedMicro including financial analyses, an analysis of potential mergers and acquisitions partners, and related timing and process considerations.

Following the departure of the representatives of the third independent banking firm candidate, the strategy committee members reviewed and evaluated the presentations made by Morgan Stanley and the other banking firm, discussing the pros and cons of each in assisting AppliedMicro in connection with the proposed strategic transaction process. As part of this discussion, the strategy committee members considered various criteria and factors, including Morgan Stanley's leadership position and experience in the semiconductor industry, its understanding of AppliedMicro's business and previous advisory services provided to AppliedMicro, its relationships with potential business combination partners including the fact that Morgan Stanley's representatives had informed AppliedMicro that it was not representing any of the potential business combination partners under discussion in connection with strategic transactions involving AppliedMicro or that would otherwise pose a conflict of interest, and its overall capabilities and strengths. After discussion, the strategy committee members determined that Morgan Stanley would be best qualified and able to serve as investment advisor to AppliedMicro and approved recommending the engagement of that firm to the full AppliedMicro board of directors.

On February 3, 2016, at a regular meeting of the AppliedMicro board of directors, Mr. Cesaratto updated the directors with respect to the matters discussed and decisions made at the recent meetings held by the strategy committee including, among other things, the basis of its decision to recommend that AppliedMicro commence a non-public process aimed at finding an acquirer of its ARM-based compute business or product line or of AppliedMicro as a whole; its deliberations whether to engage Morgan Stanley as outside financial advisor in connection with such process; and its directive to Company management to initiate all appropriate steps consistent with implementing such process on a confidential basis, while continuing to fully execute on AppliedMicro's existing annual operating plan.

Thereafter, following additional discussion and evaluation, the AppliedMicro board of directors approved each of the strategy committee's recommendations and directives and agreed to vote upon engaging Morgan Stanley later in the meeting after hearing a presentation by the firm. The directors then discussed with AppliedMicro management and representatives of Morgan Stanley the strategic alternatives explored to date, an overview of sales process considerations, the strategic landscape, potential timing and process, Morgan Stanley's preliminary views on valuation, and potential next steps. Following the departure of the Morgan Stanley representatives, the AppliedMicro board of directors discussed whether to engage Morgan Stanley as financial advisor to AppliedMicro in connection with the strategic transaction process. After discussion, the board of directors agreed to engage Morgan Stanley as financial advisor to AppliedMicro, and authorized and directed AppliedMicro management to negotiate an appropriate engagement letter with the firm.

On February 12, 2016, the strategy committee held a telephonic meeting to review and evaluate the proposed Morgan Stanley engagement letter and related indemnity agreement. After discussion of the material terms and conditions proposed, the strategy committee directed the AppliedMicro management representatives attending the meeting to finalize negotiation of the remaining terms and thereupon execute and deliver the agreements.

On February 24, 2016, AppliedMicro signed Morgan Stanley's engagement letter and indemnity agreement to retain Morgan Stanley as AppliedMicro's financial advisor in connection with the strategic transaction process.

Between March 9 and March 16, 2016, at the direction of the strategy committee, representatives of Morgan Stanley contacted representatives of six entities regarding their potential interest in a strategic transaction.

Between March 22 and April 26, 2016, at the direction of the strategy committee, representatives of AppliedMicro management and of Morgan Stanley contacted an additional nine entities to discuss their potential interest in a strategic transaction.

On April 26, 2016, the strategy committee met and received updates on the strategic process from representatives of AppliedMicro management and of Morgan Stanley, including that management presentations had been made to four entities, and that there was an upcoming meeting scheduled with one entity. The strategy committee was also informed that six of the 17 entities contacted to date had said they were not interested in pursuing discussions. The other entities contacted had expressed interest in meeting or a presentation, had not replied, or said they might have interest at a later date. The strategy committee asked AppliedMicro management and the Morgan Stanley representatives to follow up with those entities, and to re-engage with potential consolidation partners in China that previously had been contacted by or on behalf of AppliedMicro with respect to a potential investment transaction. Ultimately, in connection with the process of exploring its strategic alternatives, representatives of AppliedMicro and/or Morgan Stanley contacted 30 entities, met with 15 entities, and received indications of interest from five entities.

On May 3, 2016, the strategy committee met to discuss and evaluate the status of these outreach efforts. The strategy committee noted the results of the outreach efforts to date, and directed the AppliedMicro management attendees to take steps to expand AppliedMicro's outreach to include seeking a consolidation partner for its connectivity business.

On May 4, 2016, the AppliedMicro board of directors held a meeting at which representatives of AppliedMicro management and of Morgan Stanley reported on activities undertaken to date in the current strategic process, and discussed next steps and additional considerations regarding strategic alternatives. The Morgan Stanley representatives also provided an update on their preliminary views on valuation.

On June 20, 2016, the strategy committee met and received an update from representatives of AppliedMicro management and of Morgan Stanley on the strategic process. The strategy committee discussed potential Committee on Foreign Investment in the United States concerns related to China-based transactions. The strategy committee then discussed Company C's interest in the connectivity business, and directed AppliedMicro management and the Morgan Stanley representatives to pursue further discussions with Company C. The Morgan Stanley representatives also discussed reaching out to seven additional entities, including MACOM and Company D, each of whom could potentially be interested in a transaction involving either the acquisition of AppliedMicro as a whole or just the connectivity business. The Morgan Stanley representatives noted that, consistent with the directions from the strategy committee, they were now also approaching potential financial sponsors in the U.S. and China. In this regard, they also discussed the interest from Company B, a U.S. private equity firm, in sponsoring a potential PIPE transaction. The strategy committee directed management and the Morgan Stanley representatives to pursue further discussions with the entities discussed at the meeting.

On June 27, 2016, representatives of Morgan Stanley met with Company C and the financial advisor to Company C, at Morgan Stanley's Menlo Park offices to discuss Company C's possible interest in a strategic transaction.

On July 7, 2016, the strategy committee met and received an update regarding a potential sale of the connectivity business, including due diligence meetings held with Company C (which had also expressed some interest in acquiring AppliedMicro as a whole and subsequently disposing of the compute business), and Company B's continuing interest in a potential PIPE transaction. The strategy committee directed AppliedMicro management to continue to engage with Company C and Company B, pursue due diligence discussions with China-based potential investors and acquirers, and commence a broader outreach to additional entities.

Between July 13, 2016 and July 22, 2016, consistent with the directions from the strategy committee, representatives of Morgan Stanley contacted five more entities, including Company D, to discuss each party's possible interest in a strategic transaction. On or about July 18, 2016, a representative from Morgan Stanley contacted John Croteau, MACOM's president and chief executive officer, to ask whether MACOM had any interest in pursuing a potential acquisition of AppliedMicro.

On July 29, 2016, representatives of AppliedMicro, Morgan Stanley and Company A met by video conference, at which time AppliedMicro made a management presentation to Company A.

On August 2, 2016, the strategy committee held a regular meeting, also attended by the other members of the AppliedMicro board of directors, during which the strategy committee and representatives of AppliedMicro management and Morgan Stanley discussed various possible alternatives, including a sale of AppliedMicro as a whole to potentially interested parties (including Company A, Company C and MACOM), a sale of the connectivity business to potentially interested parties (including Company C, Company D and MACOM), and a PIPE transaction to be led by Company B.

On August 22, 2016, the strategy committee held a telephonic meeting during which the strategy committee and representatives of AppliedMicro management and of Morgan Stanley discussed the status of discussions with potential acquirers of AppliedMicro as a whole (including Company A and MACOM) and potential acquirers of the connectivity business (including Company D, MACOM and Company C), and discussed Company B as a potential lead investor for a PIPE transaction. The AppliedMicro management and Morgan Stanley representatives also reported on the other entities that had been recently contacted at the direction of the strategy committee and that had informed them that they did not have any interest in pursuing strategic or financing discussions with AppliedMicro.

On August 30, 2016, at the direction of the strategy committee, Morgan Stanley sent letters describing a proposed process for submitting indications of interest in a strategic transaction with AppliedMicro to five entities, including Company A, Company D, and MACOM, which letters provided for a September 13, 2016 deadline for submitting written indications of interest.

On August 30, 2016, Company B provided AppliedMicro, by email to representatives of Morgan Stanley, a draft term sheet for a proposed PIPE transaction involving the issuance of up to $300 million of senior secured, fully participating, redeemable, convertible preferred stock (the "PIPE proposal"). AppliedMicro and representatives of Morgan Stanley held a telephonic discussion of the draft term sheet on September 1, 2016.

On September 1, 2016, representatives of AppliedMicro, Morgan Stanley and Company A held a due diligence call regarding the compute business.

On September 2, 2016, Company C submitted a written indication of interest for the purchase of the connectivity business for $300 million on a cash-free, debt-free basis (the "Company C Proposal").

On September 6, 2016, the AppliedMicro board of directors met with management. Initially, the board of directors reviewed Company B's PIPE proposal. The board of directors received advice that the proposal included material terms that would not typically be considered market standard for a transaction of this nature or that were otherwise onerous to AppliedMicro and its stockholders. The AppliedMicro board of directors considered the potentially negative impact of those terms on AppliedMicro and its stockholders. The AppliedMicro board of directors decided not to pursue further discussions of the PIPE proposal.

The AppliedMicro board of directors also discussed and evaluated the Company C Proposal, with input from AppliedMicro management. The AppliedMicro board of directors concluded that the purchase price set forth in the Company C Proposal was significantly below the minimum enterprise value attributable to the connectivity business, and decided not to accept its proposal.

AppliedMicro's management then updated the AppliedMicro board of directors on the responses received from each entity that the board of directors had authorized them to contact, the likely further response expected from each, and which of AppliedMicro's strategic alternatives were expected to be addressed by each such entity. The AppliedMicro directors discussed whether to invite additional companies to participate in the process.

The AppliedMicro board of directors then discussed with management and counsel the need to obtain from Morgan Stanley, as AppliedMicro's outside independent financial advisor, further disclosure of Morgan Stanley's relationships with the process participants who had submitted or were expected to submit indications of interest or proposals. The AppliedMicro board of directors directed management to request the additional disclosure, which it did by means of a letter to Morgan Stanley dated September 6, 2016.

On September 7, 2016, representatives of AppliedMicro (including Dr. Gopi), Morgan Stanley, MACOM (including Mr. Croteau) and Evercore, financial advisor to MACOM, met in Tyngsboro, Massachusetts for a management presentation by AppliedMicro.

On September 12, 2016, Company A sent AppliedMicro, by email to representatives of Morgan Stanley, a written indication of interest regarding a proposed purchase of AppliedMicro as a whole.

On September 13, 2016, MACOM and Company D each submitted to AppliedMicro a written indication of interest, with MACOM submitting a written indication of interest for AppliedMicro as a whole, and Company D submitting a written indication of interest to purchase the connectivity business only.

On September 14, 2016, the strategy committee of the AppliedMicro board of directors met by telephone and received an update from representatives of AppliedMicro management and Morgan Stanley on the initial indications of interest received. The Morgan Stanley representatives summarized the five proposals received to date, and noted they were waiting for responses from two other potentially interested parties. Of the five proposals: two proposals were for acquisitions of AppliedMicro as a whole, one at a proposed purchase price of $645 million (MACOM) and one at a proposed purchase price of $670 million (Company A); two were for the connectivity business, one at a proposed purchase price of $300 million (Company C), and one at a proposed purchase price of between $475 to $525 million (Company D); and one was for the $300 million PIPE proposal (Company B). The MACOM proposal was to buy AppliedMicro as a whole for a mixture of cash and stock, consisting of $2.67 per share in cash and approximately $4.43 per share in MACOM common stock, for a total price of $7.10 per share of AppliedMicro common stock, with the exchange ratio to be fixed at signing, and the Morgan Stanley representatives noted that this constituted essentially an at-market offer (no premium) and was not subject to a financing contingency. The MACOM proposal also requested a 45-day exclusive negotiating period. The proposal by Company D was to acquire the connectivity business in a debt-free asset purchase transaction for an all cash payment of between $475 million to $525 million, with the ultimate price to be determined after conducting due diligence. The Company D proposal was not subject to a financing contingency and would allow AppliedMicro to retain all of its cash and all assets other than the connectivity business. The proposal by Company A was an all-cash offer for AppliedMicro as a whole at $7.38 per share of AppliedMicro common stock for a total price of $670 million. However, the Company A proposal was subject to a financing contingency, the funding source had not been identified, Company A had not conducted significant due diligence, and the Company A proposal included unusual and unacceptable terms such as a requirement for indemnity of the buyer by AppliedMicro stockholders. The strategy committee and representatives of AppliedMicro management and of Morgan Stanley discussed the relative value and structure of the proposals, including the relative merits and advantages and disadvantages of a sale of AppliedMicro as a whole, a sale of the connectivity business only, and the PIPE proposal.

After extensive discussion, the strategy committee directed the AppliedMicro management and Morgan Stanley representatives to ask Company A to submit a separate indication of interest to acquire the compute business only, which might enable AppliedMicro to combine such an offer with a separate sale of the connectivity business to Company D or another bidder. In addition, the strategy committee believed that Company A might have an easier time obtaining financing for a smaller offer. The strategy committee directed the AppliedMicro management and Morgan Stanley representatives to ask Company A to otherwise improve the price and certainty of its proposal substantially. The strategy committee also directed the AppliedMicro management and Morgan Stanley representatives to ask MACOM and Company D to submit improved purchase price offers. The strategy committee reiterated the conclusion of the AppliedMicro board of directors that Company B's Pipe proposal was not attractive, nor was Company C's proposal to purchase the connectivity business for $300 million cash.

Between September 20 and 26, 2016, representatives of Morgan Stanley had a number of conversations with representatives of Evercore and MACOM concerning the MACOM indication of interest. The Morgan Stanley representatives communicated AppliedMicro's view that the price offered by MACOM was inadequate. The Evercore representatives informed the Morgan Stanley representatives that MACOM would be willing to increase the price to at least a 10% premium over the AppliedMicro common stock current closing price, if AppliedMicro would permit MACOM to commence limited due diligence and the results of the diligence were satisfactory to MACOM. The Morgan Stanley representatives communicated this proposal to AppliedMicro's management, which agreed to schedule preliminary due diligence meetings with MACOM.

On September 20, 2016, the AppliedMicro board of directors met to review and evaluate the potential feasibility of AppliedMicro selling the connectivity business and continuing to operate the compute business as a standalone public company ("RemainCo") until such time as AppliedMicro was able to consolidate the compute business with another company or otherwise unlock additional value for the benefit of AppliedMicro's stockholders. Management then reviewed in detail the potential viability of pursuing a RemainCo option, including an analysis of the context and objectives for unlocking additional value in the compute business. Management also presented preliminary pro forma financial information relating to a RemainCo enterprise.

On September 28, 2016, the AppliedMicro board of directors met to receive an update on indications of interest received and additional outreach conducted, and to review and evaluate additional financial and other information relating to the RemainCo option. The AppliedMicro board of directors instructed management to continue (either directly or in conjunction with or through Morgan Stanley) reaching out to potential purchasers of the compute business on a stand-alone basis, as well as any other likely participants in the strategic process and to encourage Company D and Company A to continue to engage in the process. Management also provided additional information regarding the RemainCo option. The AppliedMicro board of directors discussed the potential risks and benefits to AppliedMicro and its stockholders of pursuing a RemainCo option, required operating capital and cash reserves needed for the enterprise, and, in the event a consolidation partner or other growth or monetization strategy could not be found for the compute business, the costs associated with ceasing business operations. After discussion, the AppliedMicro board of directors decided that it was not supportive of proceeding with the RemainCo option at that time in light of the risks and uncertainties discussed.

On September 28, 2016, representatives of Morgan Stanley contacted two additional entities that had not submitted indications of interest; both declined to engage further in the process. Also on September 28, 2016, Company D informed representatives of Morgan Stanley via telephone that it was only willing to explore a possible acquisition of AppliedMicro's connectivity business if AppliedMicro could address Company D's reservations about AppliedMicro's ability and willingness to complete a sale of its connectivity business without first finding a buyer for its compute business. Company D reiterated its lack of interest in making a bid for AppliedMicro as a whole, and its unwillingness to further engage with AppliedMicro, unless and until AppliedMicro could assure Company D that it had a buyer for its compute business.

On September 30, 2016, AppliedMicro granted MACOM and its advisors access to its electronic data room containing legal, contractual and other information regarding AppliedMicro. From September 30 through November 21, 2016, MACOM and its advisors engaged in due diligence review of AppliedMicro.

From October 4 to October 6, 2016, representatives of AppliedMicro, Morgan Stanley, MACOM, Evercore, financial advisor to MACOM, and AppliedMicro and MACOM legal counsel conducted due diligence and reverse due diligence review sessions at Pillsbury's Palo Alto offices.

On October 7, 2016, the AppliedMicro board of directors met and initially reviewed and evaluated the current status of the indications of interest received from MACOM, Company D and Company A. A representative of Pillsbury attended the meeting. Members of AppliedMicro management updated the AppliedMicro board of directors with respect to discussions with each of MACOM, Company D and Company A. The AppliedMicro board of directors and management also discussed the scope of AppliedMicro's reverse due diligence review of MACOM, given that MACOM's proposed purchase price consideration included significant MACOM equity. The AppliedMicro board of directors then discussed the status of Company D's indication of interest to acquire the connectivity business, including Company D's reservations about AppliedMicro's ability and willingness to complete a sale of its connectivity business without first finding a buyer for its compute business, its lack of interest in making a bid for AppliedMicro as a whole, and its unwillingness to further engage with AppliedMicro unless and until AppliedMicro could assure Company D that it had a buyer for its compute business. Consequently, the AppliedMicro board of directors asked management to instruct Morgan Stanley to keep Company D informed of AppliedMicro's efforts to find a buyer for the compute business and to encourage Company D to further engage in due diligence. The AppliedMicro directors discussed with management the likely value of a RemainCo entity to determine whether such value, when added to the amount being offered for the connectivity business by Company D, would likely be higher than the other strategic alternatives potentially available to AppliedMicro, including the MACOM proposal and Company A proposals to purchase AppliedMicro as a whole, or the alternative of AppliedMicro remaining as an independent company with both the compute and connectivity businesses.

Management then reviewed with the AppliedMicro board of directors further information provided by Morgan Stanley in response to AppliedMicro's September 6, 2016 letter related to its relationships with the companies participating in the process, including that the amount of fees received by Morgan Stanley for financial services to MACOM during the last two years was between $2 million to $3 million, that Morgan Stanley was a lender to MACOM, and that one of the senior Morgan Stanley AppliedMicro transaction team members who had served as a member of the MACOM board of directors starting in March 2013 and ending in September 2014 still held 2,533 shares of MACOM common stock received for such service and, along with another senior member of the Morgan Stanley AppliedMicro transaction team, is on Morgan Stanley's coverage team for MACOM. The board of directors evaluated and was advised by counsel with respect to the disclosures. The AppliedMicro board of directors decided to further discuss these matters with Morgan Stanley's representatives. It also considered the potential costs and benefits of retaining a second independent financial advisor to provide a valuation opinion and its view as to the conduct of the strategic transaction process as whole but took no action at that time.

On October 14, 2016, MACOM submitted a revised non-binding proposal and proposed exclusivity agreement to AppliedMicro via email to representatives of Morgan Stanley. The revised non-binding proposal proposed that MACOM would acquire all of AppliedMicro's equity for a premium of 10% over the closing price the day before signing a definitive agreement.

On October 17, 2016, Company A submitted a revised proposal to acquire the compute business for $100 million in cash paid at closing, plus up to $140 million payable over three years subject to attainment of annual performance milestones, which was subject to a number of conditions.

On October 17, 2016, the AppliedMicro board of directors met and discussed the current status of outreach activities and an updated management presentation on the feasibility and viability of the RemainCo option. The directors then reviewed the revised MACOM indication of interest. Had a definitive agreement been signed on October 14, 2016, on the basis of such proposal the purchase price would have been $6.81 per share, of which $3.29 per share would be paid in cash and approximately $3.52 in MACOM common stock. The AppliedMicro board of directors noted that this price was lower than the $7.10 per share price set forth in MACOM's previous indication of interest and on that basis instructed management and the Morgan Stanley representatives to convey to MACOM that its offer was unlikely to be acceptable unless it was increased. The AppliedMicro board of directors further noted that even though the $6.81 price per share was unacceptable, the actual price to be paid for AppliedMicro was unpredictable since it was not fixed but rather was based on the closing price of AppliedMicro stock on a trading date at least 30 calendar days in the future. The AppliedMicro board of directors then discussed other methods for calculating per share acquisition price other than setting it based on the closing price on a future date (a "spot price"). Among the approaches considered was calculating such price using a formula based on an average of the trading prices of AppliedMicro's stock on a daily basis over an extended period of time prior to the signing of a definitive agreement. It was noted that such an approach would reduce the impact of one day or short term fluctuation in AppliedMicro's stock price, more accurately reflect the market's perception of the value of AppliedMicro when compared to the use of a spot price and would be less susceptible to manipulation. The AppliedMicro board of directors, and its advisors, then discussed various formulas used for calculating premiums in acquisition transactions including the use of a 10, 30 and 90 trading day volume weighted average price ("VWAP"), and the pros and cons of each, before settling on the latter as a basis for its counteroffer. Morgan Stanley was authorized to indicate to MACOM that AppliedMicro was willing to proceed with negotiations on the basis of a per share acquisition price equal to a 10% premium to AppliedMicro's 90-day VWAP calculated as of the last trading day immediately prior to the signing of a definitive agreement.

The AppliedMicro directors then reviewed Company A's revised indication of interest to acquire the compute business, noting that it was unclear from the written offer whether AppliedMicro would need to provide additional capital to fund the working capital requirements of the compute business, which would in effect substantially reduce the proposed purchase price, and further noting that Company A had conducted limited due diligence to date and had conditioned its offer on the results of further diligence. The AppliedMicro board of directors discussed the merits of the Company A proposal with the AppliedMicro management, Morgan Stanley and Pillsbury representatives, relative to the other proposals received, in light of its potential likelihood of completion, noting, among other matters: Company A's financing condition, which raised uncertainty as to ability to complete the transaction; the relatively longer timeframe required to complete M&A transactions with Chinese acquirers due to regulatory and other issues; Company A's relative lack of due diligence performed to date, the probability that the revenue goals set out in the earn-out portion of the proposal could be achieved, and the possible need to fund working capital requirements. The AppliedMicro board of directors directed management to continue to engage with Company A to discuss and potentially address the issues described above.

On October 19, 2016, management representatives had a telephonic meeting with Company A, during which Company A informed AppliedMicro that, notwithstanding the terms of Company A's October 17 indication of interest, Company A would reduce the total cash purchase price for the compute business dollar-for-dollar by the amount of cash the business would need to operate until profitability; Company A expected the full management team for the compute business to come from AppliedMicro, with Company A serving primarily as an outside investor; Company A did not intend to engage a financial advisor and would engage legal counsel only later in the process; Company A would require additional strategic investors, as yet not identified, to provide financing for the acquisition; Company A would require detailed pro forma financial statements of the compute business as a standalone company; and Company A anticipated the time frame required to negotiate a definitive agreement would remain 60 days.

On October 19, 2016, representatives of Evercore and Morgan Stanley discussed MACOM's indication of interest. On behalf of AppliedMicro, Morgan Stanley discussed AppliedMicro's willingness to accept a per share acquisition price equal to a 10% premium if calculated based on a 90-day VWAP formula.

On October 21, 2016, Evercore, on behalf of MACOM, communicated MACOM's counterproposal of $7.20 per share (comprised of both cash and shares of MACOM common stock) to Morgan Stanley.

On October 21, 2016, the strategy committee held a telephonic meeting, also attended by representatives of Morgan Stanley and AppliedMicro management, to discuss MACOM's revised proposal to acquire AppliedMicro. The Morgan Stanley representatives presented the strategy committee with a summary of the key economic terms of MACOM's prior indication of interest, as well as its new proposal, and its preliminary views regarding the valuation of the MACOM common stock. The Morgan Stanley representatives were requested to prepare for consideration by the AppliedMicro board of directors an additional analysis regarding the potential use of a price collar with respect to MACOM's purchase price proposal. The strategy committee members also reviewed the status of the other indications of interest previously received by AppliedMicro and, with respect to a potential sale of the connectivity business, a RemainCo valuation analysis.

On October 22, 2016, the AppliedMicro board of directors met and received an update on the strategy committee meeting held on October 21, 2016, including the current revised non-binding Letter of Intent ("LOI") and exclusivity agreement from MACOM. A representative of management and a representative of Pillsbury then provided a summary of the material terms in the proposed LOI and exclusivity agreement from MACOM, including suggested modifications. The Morgan Stanley representatives then discussed the use and advisability of requesting a price collar in light of the fact that under the MACOM proposal MACOM common stock would represent a significant portion of the total proposed purchase price, noting that whether a collar would benefit or be detrimental to AppliedMicro stockholders would depend on the type of collar and the movement of MACOM's stock price between announcement of the transaction and closing. The AppliedMicro board of directors also considered the results of reverse due diligence performed to date and publicly available information (including the historical MACOM price performance information presented), Morgan Stanley's preliminary views regarding the valuation of the MACOM common stock, the likelihood of success and cost in negotiating a collar, and that stock price performance is inherently unpredictable.

The AppliedMicro directors and management then discussed with Morgan Stanley its responses regarding its relationships with MACOM and the other participants in the process.

The AppliedMicro directors and management and the Morgan Stanley representatives then discussed the current MACOM proposal, including the value offered by MACOM relative to the other strategic alternatives available to AppliedMicro, including proceeding as a standalone company. The AppliedMicro board of directors decided that the MACOM proposal under consideration did not adequately value AppliedMicro and was not in the best interests of AppliedMicro stockholders. The AppliedMicro board of directors approved proposing a purchase price counter offer based on its earlier offer of a 10% premium valuing AppliedMicro stock for purposes of such valuation using a 90-day VWAP formula. Applying such formula generated a price per share, assuming no change in the results of the application of such formulas due to future stock price changes, of approximately $7.50 per share of AppliedMicro common stock (comprised of both cash and shares of MACOM common stock). The counteroffer did not include a price collar. Morgan Stanley was directed to deliver such counter offer to the Evercore representatives on AppliedMicro's behalf.

On October 22, 2016, Morgan Stanley, on behalf of AppliedMicro, counter-proposed a transaction in which MACOM would acquire all of the outstanding shares of AppliedMicro for approximately $7.50 per share (comprised of both cash and new shares of MACOM common stock), based on a 10% premium to the current 90-day VWAP of AppliedMicro stock.

On October 23, 2016, Evercore, on behalf of MACOM, orally made a counteroffer on the terms described below. On the same day, the AppliedMicro board of directors held a telephonic meeting to review and evaluate MACOM's counterproposal and to discuss financial advisor independence matters. In its revised proposal, MACOM proposed a strategic combination that would involve a payment of $300 million in cash and the remainder in stock. The aggregate purchase price would reflect a 10% premium over AppliedMicro's valuation as calculated using the VWAP of AppliedMicro's outstanding stock for the 90 days preceding the date of the signing of a definitive agreement with respect to the strategic combination, with the exchange ratio of MACOM common stock to be issued in the transaction calculated in the same manner using the 90-day VWAP for MACOM's stock. Applying the exchange ratio to MACOM's stock price on October 21 (the last trading day preceding the Board meeting) would have generated an implied price per share of AppliedMicro common stock of approximately $7.43 per AppliedMicro share, with $3.25 paid in cash and approximately $4.18 in shares of MACOM common stock. The terms of the exclusivity agreement and the LOI as proposed by MACOM were otherwise unchanged, with the exception that MACOM (i) requested the ability to contact certain customers prior to executing the definitive agreement and (ii) had asked for access to all proposals regarding the sale of AppliedMicro's compute business received by AppliedMicro.

The Morgan Stanley representatives informed the AppliedMicro board of directors that, absent a change in circumstance, they believed that the revised proposal represented MACOM's last and best offer on price. It was noted that a potential change of circumstances might result from movements in the stock price of MACOM or AppliedMicro prior to signing a definitive agreement. The AppliedMicro board of directors discussed the revised MACOM proposal, including the potential impact on the return to AppliedMicro's stockholders of changes in AppliedMicro and MACOM's stock value prior to the signing of the definitive agreement and from the signing of the definitive agreement to the closing.

During the meeting, in a closed session of the AppliedMicro board of directors, a representative of Pillsbury discussed with the board of directors Morgan Stanley's response to AppliedMicro's request for additional details regarding the financial services that Morgan Stanley had provided to MACOM, including the fact that Morgan Stanley had served as an arranger and bookrunner in connection with a $250 million incremental term loan to MACOM in August 2016. A discussion followed, after which the AppliedMicro board of directors again discussed whether to retain a second independent financial advisor to review and evaluate the strategic process overall and deliver a second fairness opinion. Upon the conclusion of this discussion, taking into account the information received and considered at this and its prior meeting, the AppliedMicro board of directors concluded that it did not need the services of a second independent advisor at that time.

The Morgan Stanley representatives then returned to the meeting and responded to further questions regarding their previous work for MACOM. Morgan Stanley then presented a written analysis of the impact on the purchase price of stock price volatility and stock price changes over time in light of the 90-day VWAP formula.

The AppliedMicro board of directors again discussed the other strategic alternatives available to AppliedMicro, including the proposal received from Company A to acquire AppliedMicro as a whole, proposals received from Company D and Company A (individually or in combination), continuing the process in order to try to attract additional interest in AppliedMicro or its compute and connectivity businesses from other parties and remaining as a standalone company (either in conjunction with a sale of its connectivity or compute businesses or without having completed either transaction). The AppliedMicro directors also discussed in detail the merits of the MACOM revised proposal. The AppliedMicro board of directors concluded that, relative to the Company D indication of interest in acquiring the connectivity business (whether in combination with the Company A transaction with respect to the compute business or otherwise) and the Company A indications of interest to acquire AppliedMicro as a whole or the compute business, the MACOM proposal appeared to offer the best strategic alternative available to AppliedMicro and offered its stockholders, on a risk adjusted basis, the highest return. It was noted that AppliedMicro had engaged in a thorough marketing process and that it seemed unlikely that extending that process and either reaching out to additional parties or re-contacting parties who had been previously contacted would result in AppliedMicro's receipt of proposals that offered a higher value than those received to date. It was also noted that a definitive agreement would provide for a fiduciary out that would allow other parties in the future, subject to certain conditions, to make an offer to acquire AppliedMicro and the AppliedMicro board of directors to consider such offer. The relative benefits of the MACOM offer as compared to proceeding on a standalone basis, on a risk-adjusted basis were also discussed. A representative of Pillsbury discussed with the AppliedMicro board of directors its fiduciary duties.

After discussion, the AppliedMicro board of directors approved proceeding with negotiations on the LOI and exclusivity agreement based on the price formula proposed by MACOM. AppliedMicro management, in conjunction with representatives of Morgan Stanley, was instructed to pursue the various suggestions considered by the AppliedMicro board of directors with respect to modifications of the LOI and authorized to negotiate an exclusivity agreement with MACOM, subject to the prior approval of the strategy committee or the AppliedMicro board of directors.

On October 25, 2016, Evercore submitted to AppliedMicro by email to representatives of Morgan Stanley, a revised LOI and exclusivity agreement from MACOM, requesting a 30-day exclusive negotiating period, and indicated that this constituted its final proposal to acquire AppliedMicro.

Between October 25 and October 28, 2016, representatives of AppliedMicro and MACOM continued to negotiate the terms of the LOI and an exclusivity agreement.

On October 28, 2016, the AppliedMicro board of directors met to review the status of negotiations with MACOM and to consider whether to approve the revised LOI and exclusivity agreement. The exclusivity agreement provided MACOM with the exclusive right to negotiate a potential transaction with AppliedMicro until November 15, 2016. The exclusivity agreement also contained an automatic 14-day extension of the exclusivity period provided that AppliedMicro had not provided written notice of termination of negotiations with MACOM. Representatives of AppliedMicro management, Pillsbury and Morgan Stanley discussed the status of the parties' negotiation of the remaining open issues in the LOI, including: MACOM's preliminary indication of a tax-free structure, concessions regarding due diligence customer calls and MACOM's intention to provide at closing equity arrangements to AppliedMicro's employees that were substantially comparable to existing arrangements, including those providing for acceleration. The AppliedMicro board of directors discussed the need to retain employees in the event the proposed transaction with MACOM failed to close; the importance of negotiating reasonable employee retention and compensation arrangements in the definitive agreement and the need for AppliedMicro to conduct further reverse due diligence in light of the equity portion of the proposed transaction. The AppliedMicro board of directors then discussed the remaining open issues in the exclusivity agreement. The AppliedMicro board of directors also discussed the anticipated timeframe and process by which additional due diligence would be conducted by both MACOM and AppliedMicro, and by which a proposed definitive agreement between the parties would be negotiated, drafted and signed. The AppliedMicro board of directors again reviewed with representatives of Morgan Stanley and Pillsbury the strategic alternatives available to the AppliedMicro board of directors and the status of each alternative. After the conclusion of this discussion, the AppliedMicro board of directors unanimously approved the terms and conditions of the proposed LOI and exclusivity agreement and directed Dr. Gopi to finalize and execute them.

On October 28, 2016, AppliedMicro and MACOM executed the LOI and exclusivity agreement.

On November 1, 2016, the AppliedMicro board of directors held a meeting at AppliedMicro's Santa Clara, California headquarters offices, also attended by representatives of AppliedMicro management, Morgan Stanley and Pillsbury, to further discuss the LOI's purchase price dynamics relating to potential changes in the share trading prices of AppliedMicro and the MACOM common stock prior to signing a definitive agreement. Among other things, Morgan Stanley reviewed with the directors the last 12 months stock price performance of AppliedMicro and MACOM, the parties' historical exchange ratio, an economic summary of the LOI proposal at current share prices and as projected assuming a November 15, 2016 definitive agreement signing date, and illustrative value sensitivity and deal parameter sensitivity analyses, as well as a review of selected precedent lower-than-average premium M&A transactions. The AppliedMicro board of directors also discussed the status of the indications of interest previously submitted by other potential bidders and evaluated potential backup strategies in the event the LOI transaction did not reach completion. The AppliedMicro board of directors also discussed the anticipated timing of receipt from MACOM's counsel of the first draft merger agreement, as well as certain open issues likely to be present in that document and requiring further negotiation.

On November 2, 2016, MACOM's legal counsel, Ropes & Gray LLP ("Ropes") sent the initial draft of the merger agreement for the transaction to representatives of Pillsbury.

On November 3, 2016, tax, environmental, export controls and compliance, and technology and engineering due diligence meetings took place between representatives of MACOM and AppliedMicro management.

On November 4, 2016, the AppliedMicro board of directors held a meeting to discuss the proposed transaction with MACOM. The AppliedMicro board of directors discussed the initial draft of the merger agreement, noting, among other things, that the draft did not reflect a tax-free structure, and was silent with respect to employee equity assumption. The AppliedMicro board of directors stressed to AppliedMicro management that a tax-free structure would be an important consideration for many of the AppliedMicro stockholders. It was noted that since the LOI with MACOM had been executed, AppliedMicro's market capitalization had increased, while the price of MACOM's common stock had declined. Dr. Gopi said that the increase in the AppliedMicro common stock price had substantially reduced the valuation premium represented by the offer described in the LOI, and the AppliedMicro board of directors directed AppliedMicro management to continue to monitor developments in this regard and work with the Morgan Stanley representatives to seek to negotiate a price increase with MACOM.

The AppliedMicro board of directors also discussed the retention of a second independent financial advisor in order to get its advice regarding AppliedMicro's process for exploring its strategic alternatives and a second fairness opinion. The AppliedMicro board of directors concluded that such advice and opinion would be helpful to its decision-making and in the best interest of AppliedMicro's stockholders, and authorized AppliedMicro management to continue its efforts in this regard. The AppliedMicro board of directors then selected three possible candidates, including Needham & Company, LLC ("Needham & Company") for this role and authorized AppliedMicro's management to select the firm within the group that could best serve AppliedMicro stockholders' interests, taking into account actual or potential conflicts, expertise, ability to engage quickly and cost.

On November 4, 2016, AppliedMicro management held a telephonic discussion with Needham & Company regarding the retention of Needham & Company as a second independent financial advisor to provide its view as to the conduct of AppliedMicro's strategic process overall and to render a second fairness opinion. AppliedMicro management also engaged in discussions with the two other firms on November 4 and 5, 2016.

On November 6, 2016, Pillsbury sent Ropes and MACOM a revised draft of the merger agreement reflecting AppliedMicro's revisions to the initial draft provided by MACOM.

Between November 7 and November 18, 2016, representatives of AppliedMicro, Morgan Stanley, Pillsbury and, at times, AppliedMicro's independent audit firm, KPMG LLP, participated in several reverse due diligence conference calls with representatives of MACOM, Evercore, and Ropes, and received information and documents from and on behalf of MACOM responding to written requests from AppliedMicro and its representatives for due diligence information.

On November 9, 2016, AppliedMicro entered into an engagement letter with Needham & Company. On that day representatives of Pillsbury and Ropes also discussed the draft merger agreement by telephone.

On November 9, 2016, an AppliedMicro management representative, on behalf of AppliedMicro, requested that Morgan Stanley provide more detail with respect to the financial services provided to MACOM in its October 7, 2016 letter.

On November 10, 2016, Ropes sent MACOM's revised draft of the merger agreement responding to the previous draft sent by Pillsbury and AppliedMicro. That draft did not provide for tax-free reorganization treatment with respect to the exchange of shares of MACOM common stock for AppliedMicro common stock in the proposed transaction.

On November 10, 2016, the AppliedMicro board of directors held a telephonic meeting, also attended by representatives of AppliedMicro management and Morgan Stanley, to discuss valuation of the consideration to be paid by MACOM per share of AppliedMicro common stock in the transaction, in light of current market prices and 90-day VWAP prices for the stock of both companies, and MACOM's insistence on a taxable transaction for the share exchange portion of the consideration. The Morgan Stanley representatives noted that given that the value of the transaction to AppliedMicro's stockholders was fluctuating daily, it might make sense to have a final discussion on this subject closer in time to the execution of the merger agreement, and that MACOM was due to release its financial results for the fourth quarter of fiscal 2016 on November 15, 2016. The AppliedMicro board of directors expressed the view that, absent a significant change in relative value, a price increase was appropriate. A representative of Morgan Stanley later called a representative of MACOM and communicated the request for a price increase in light of the recent increases in the AppliedMicro stock price. Such request was not accepted.

On November 11, 2016, representatives of Pillsbury and Ropes discussed open issues and negotiated terms of the merger agreement by telephone.

On November 11, 2016, the AppliedMicro board of directors held a meeting at which AppliedMicro management provided and the board approved updated projections for the future operation of the compute business. The AppliedMicro directors also received an update regarding the transaction and merger agreement discussions with MACOM from AppliedMicro management.

On November 11, 2016, intellectual property and software diligence meetings took place between representatives of Ropes and the MACOM and AppliedMicro management teams. In addition, technology diligence meetings also took place between MACOM's technical team and AppliedMicro management.

On November 14, 2016, human relations diligence meetings took place between representatives of MACOM and AppliedMicro management.

On November 14, 2016, the AppliedMicro board of directors held a telephonic meeting, also attended by AppliedMicro management representatives and Pillsbury, to review and discuss the terms and conditions of the proposed support agreements to be entered into by AppliedMicro's directors and officers and certain stockholders as a condition to MACOM's execution and delivery of the proposed merger agreement, as well as the status of the merger agreement negotiations and estimated timetable to completion.

On November 16, 2016, representatives of Pillsbury sent AppliedMicro's revised draft of the merger agreement to representatives of Ropes. Ropes and MACOM sent a further revised draft of the merger agreement to Pillsbury and AppliedMicro on November 17, 2016. The revised draft of the merger agreement provided for tax-free reorganization treatment of the share exchange portion of the proposed consideration.

On November 17, 2016, representatives of AppliedMicro management, Morgan Stanley and Pillsbury had a conference call with representatives of MACOM, Evercore and Ropes to discuss and negotiate open issues in the merger agreement.

On November 17, 2016, the AppliedMicro board of directors held a meeting at which representatives of Morgan Stanley reviewed with the AppliedMicro board of directors the implicit premium of the proposed transaction, noting that depending on the signing date and the performance of the stock price of the two companies in the interim, the 90-day VWAP might change. The AppliedMicro board of directors then discussed perceived trends in the stock price of the two companies and their potential impact on the transaction. Representatives of AppliedMicro management, Morgan Stanley and Pillsbury updated the AppliedMicro board of directors on the progress of various aspects of the transaction, including merger agreement negotiations, reverse due diligence, including the presentation of Mr. Croteau, to the AppliedMicro board of directors set for November 19, 2016, and customer diligence calls with MACOM's top customers. They discussed MACOM's financial position and its recent quarterly results and expected future prospects, based on publicly available information and research analyst reports. The AppliedMicro directors asked a number of questions regarding MACOM's business model and its different lines of business. The Morgan Stanley representatives responded that MACOM appeared to be performing strongly and that they did not expect MACOM to make any divestitures in the near term apart from the possible sale, post-transaction, of the compute business. Morgan Stanley then left the meeting.

Representatives of Needham & Company then joined the meeting and shared their views with the AppliedMicro board of directors regarding the strategic process, including with respect to the approach taken by AppliedMicro generally in identifying and contacting interested bidders, as well as their thoughts as to the relative merits of the indications of interest received. A representative of Pillsbury asked the Needham & Company representatives if they had any business relationships with MACOM. The representatives responded that Needham & Company had been involved as a co-manager in MACOM's initial public offering several years ago.

A member of AppliedMicro management and representatives of Pillsbury then summarized the open issues remaining in the merger agreement negotiations. The AppliedMicro board of directors provided management with specific instructions regarding AppliedMicro's position with respect to certain of the specific issues identified. The AppliedMicro board of directors asked management for additional information regarding break-up fee precedents in transactions of this size. AppliedMicro management made a presentation with respect to the state of negotiations regarding retention arrangements with certain executives. He noted that the negotiation included a request for the modification of certain rights to severance that the executives might otherwise be entitled to receive on completion of the MACOM transaction.

On November 18, 2016, representatives of Pillsbury and Ropes again met by telephone to negotiate open issues under the merger agreement.

On November 18, 2016, the AppliedMicro board of directors held a telephonic meeting, also attended by AppliedMicro management representatives and Pillsbury, to review and discuss proposed amendments to AppliedMicro's Executive Severance Benefit Plan that would take effect upon the merger agreement closing, ratify officer appointments and financial assumptions, and coordinate the remaining board meeting schedule to facilitate completion of the merger agreement.

On November 19, 2016, Pillsbury sent a revised draft of the merger agreement to Ropes and MACOM.

On November 19, 2016, the AppliedMicro board of directors held a meeting at 8:00 a.m. California time at which Mr. Croteau provided the AppliedMicro board of directors with an overview of MACOM's business and his view of how the proposed acquisition of AppliedMicro would synergistically fit with MACOM's business lines and business model. Mr. Croteau also provided a financial overview of MACOM and MACOM's expectations regarding earnings and MACOM's history of exceeding analyst forecasts. Mr. Croteau responded to diligence questions from the AppliedMicro board of directors.

Thereafter, Mr. Croteau left the meeting and the Morgan Stanley representatives reported to the AppliedMicro board of directors that as of the close of trading on November 18, 2016, assuming the execution of the merger agreement prior to the market opening on November 21, 2016, the consideration payable by MACOM in the proposed transaction would consist of $3.25 cash (39%) and 0.1089 shares of MACOM common stock (61%) per share of AppliedMicro common stock with an implied value (for such cash and stock) of $8.36 per share based on the MACOM common stock closing price. They noted that this represented approximately a 15% premium to the AppliedMicro common stock closing price on November 18, 2016. The Morgan Stanley representatives discussed the sales process and Morgan Stanley's financial analysis of the transaction. The Morgan Stanley representatives then responded to questions from the AppliedMicro directors.

Next, AppliedMicro management discussed with the AppliedMicro board of directors Morgan Stanley's responses to AppliedMicro's requests for details with respect to the financial services provided to MACOM in the last two years, including that Morgan Stanley's role as a lender to MACOM arose from Morgan Stanley's participation in $30 million of a $130 million revolving credit facility in February 2015, and the involvement of a senior member of the Morgan Stanley AppliedMicro transaction team in the services provided for the August 2016 MACOM loan. Thereafter, Morgan Stanley representatives answered further questions regarding Morgan Stanley's prior financial services for MACOM. A member of AppliedMicro management and a Pillsbury representative provided the AppliedMicro board of directors an update on the status of the Merger Agreement negotiations. The Morgan Stanley representatives then left the meeting. AppliedMicro management then shared with the AppliedMicro board of directors further information derived from the reverse due diligence.

On November 19, 2016, representatives of Morgan Stanley and Evercore had a number of discussions regarding open issues in the merger agreement and attempted to negotiate resolutions on behalf of their clients.

At the end of the day on November 19, 2016, representatives of Ropes sent MACOM's latest revised merger agreement draft to Pillsbury and AppliedMicro. Representatives of Pillsbury and Ropes discussed the open issues.

On November 20, 2016, the AppliedMicro board of directors held a morning meeting at which representatives of Pillsbury, Morgan Stanley and AppliedMicro management were present. The Pillsbury representatives summarized the terms of the merger agreement as currently proposed by MACOM for signature by AppliedMicro and provided advice to the AppliedMicro board of directors on matters relating to the merger agreement and the proposed transaction. The Pillsbury representatives summarized the open issues in the merger agreement and received instruction from the AppliedMicro board of directors regarding AppliedMicro's responses. The Pillsbury representatives recommended that the AppliedMicro board of directors reconvene later in the day to vote on MACOM's proposed acquisition of AppliedMicro assuming the parties were able to resolve the open merger agreement issues. It was anticipated that at such later meeting, the AppliedMicro board of directors would vote on the proposed transaction and that Morgan Stanley and Needham & Company each would deliver its fairness opinion to the AppliedMicro board of directors, after which the AppliedMicro board of directors would vote on the proposed acquisition. The AppliedMicro board of directors then invited Needham & Company representatives to the meeting and the Needham & Company representatives presented their valuation analysis and assumptions, as well as an analysis with respect to the transaction consideration. The Needham & Company representatives stated that they were ready to deliver a fairness opinion if requested to do so.

Representatives of Pillsbury, Morgan Stanley, Ropes and Evercore negotiated the open issues in the merger agreement on November 20, 2016 and exchanged additional drafts of the merger agreement and the Support Agreements.

In the evening on November 20, 2016, the AppliedMicro board of directors met again. Pillsbury reviewed and discussed the proposed resolutions regarding the transaction and advised the AppliedMicro board of directors regarding their fiduciary duties. Representatives of Morgan Stanley reviewed with the AppliedMicro board of directors its financial analysis of the proposed transaction. Morgan Stanley rendered to the AppliedMicro board of directors its oral opinion, subsequently confirmed in writing, that as of November 20, 2016, and based upon and subject to the assumptions made, procedures followed, matters considered and qualifications and limitations upon the scope of the review undertaken by Morgan Stanley as set forth in its written opinion, the transaction consideration to be received by the holders of shares pursuant to the merger agreement was fair from a financial point of view to the holders of AppliedMicro shares. The opinion of Morgan Stanley is more fully described in the section entitled "The Transactions – Opinions of AppliedMicro's Financial Advisors – Opinion of Morgan Stanley & Co. LLC."

The AppliedMicro board of directors then invited Needham & Company to the meeting and the Needham & Company representatives reviewed with the AppliedMicro board of directors its financial analysis of the proposed transaction and formally delivered the Needham & Company fairness opinion (orally, subsequently confirmed in writing), as more fully described below under the heading “The Transactions – Opinions of AppliedMicro’s Financial Advisors – Opinion of Needham & Company, LLC.” Following discussion, the AppliedMicro board of directors unanimously agreed and determined, for the reasons more fully described in “The Transactions – AppliedMicro’s Reasons for the Transactions; Recommendation of AppliedMicro’s Board of Directors,” that the offer and the transactions were advisable and in the best interests of AppliedMicro and its stockholders, and the AppliedMicro board of directors voted unanimously to approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereunder.

On the morning of November 21, 2016, before the opening of trading on Nasdaq, MACOM, Purchaser, Merger Sub and AppliedMicro executed the merger agreement and issued press releases announcing its execution.

MACOM’s Reasons for the Transactions

MACOM’s board of directors unanimously approved, adopted and declared advisable the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the offer, the mergers and that the mergers are fair to, and in the best interests of, MACOM and its stockholders.

In reaching its determination, MACOM’s board of directors consulted with MACOM’s management, as well as with MACOM’s legal and financial advisors, and considered a variety of factors weighing favorably towards the transactions, including the factors described below.

- Expected Benefits of the Transaction. MACOM’s board of directors believes that the transactions will allow MACOM to realize a number of significant benefits, including the following:
 - The addition of AppliedMicro’s connectivity business is expected to be highly complementary to MACOM’s product portfolio, through the addition of market-leading OTN framers, MACsec Ethernet networking components and a leading single-lambda PAM4 platform.
 - The transactions are expected to accelerate MACOM’s significant growth in optical technologies for cloud service providers and enterprise network customers serving the high-growth, high-margin data center market.
 - The transactions are expected to expand MACOM’s addressable market and complete MACOM’s protocol-agnostic “switch to fiber” data center product portfolio.
 - AppliedMicro’s leadership in PAM4 solutions based on FinFET technology and custom engagements with top-tier data center and service provider customers is expected to strengthen MACOM’s competitive position with those customers.
 - MACOM plans to improve the profitability of AppliedMicro by divesting a portion of its compute business and by realizing potential revenue and cost synergies.
 - MACOM expects to benefit from over $500 million of AppliedMicro U.S. federal income tax net operating loss carry-forwards, subject to applicable limitations.
 - Excluding the impact of a portion of AppliedMicro’s compute business, the transactions are anticipated to be accretive to MACOM’s non-GAAP revenue growth, non-GAAP gross margin, non-GAAP operating margin and non-GAAP earnings per share beginning in MACOM’s fiscal year 2017.
- Market Conditions and Diligence. MACOM’s board also took into account current financial market conditions and the current and historical market prices and volatility of, and trading information with respect to, shares of AppliedMicro and MACOM common stock. MACOM's board of directors further considered its familiarity with the business operations, strategy, earnings and prospects of each of MACOM and AppliedMicro and the scope and results of the due diligence investigation conducted by MACOM's management and advisors with respect to AppliedMicro.

- Financial Terms of the Transaction. MACOM's board of directors reviewed the amount and form of consideration to be paid in the transactions, the fact that the exchange ratio is fixed, the expected pro forma ownership of the combined company and other financial terms of the transactions.
- Recommendation of Management. MACOM's board of directors took into account the recommendation of MACOM's management in favor of the transactions.
- Provisions of the Merger Agreement. MACOM's board of directors considered the structure of the transactions and terms and conditions of the merger agreement, including the financial terms, the anticipated short time period from announcement to completion achievable through the exchange offer structure, the limited restrictions placed on AppliedMicro's ability to seek an AppliedMicro takeover proposal (as defined below) from any person other than MACOM and its subsidiaries, the conditions to completion, the termination rights of the parties and the obligation of AppliedMicro to pay a $30 million termination fee to MACOM in certain circumstances.
- Likelihood of Completion. MACOM's board of directors took into account the expectation that the conditions to consummation of the offer and the mergers will be satisfied on a timely basis.
- Support Agreements. MACOM's board of directors viewed favorably the willingness of AppliedMicro's directors and executive officers, along with Kingdom Ridge Capital LLC, who together beneficially own approximately eleven percent (11%) of AppliedMicro's outstanding common stock, to commit to tender their outstanding AppliedMicro shares in the offer (see "Support Agreements").

MACOM's board of directors also identified and considered certain potentially negative factors in its deliberations to be balanced against the positive factors, including:

- the risk that the anticipated benefits of the transactions will not be realized in full or in part, including the risks that only limited interest or no buyer at all may emerge for a portion of AppliedMicro's compute business, or that expected revenue and/or cost synergies will not be achieved or not achieved on the expected timeframe;
- the risk that the transaction may not be consummated despite the parties' efforts or that the closing of the transaction may be unduly delayed;
- costs associated with the transactions, and with any disruption to MACOM's or AppliedMicro's business resulting from the transactions;
- the risk that the trading price of MACOM common stock could decrease and the offer and the merger could have a dilutive effect on the value of common shares held by MACOM stockholders for any number of reasons, some of which are outside MACOM's control, including for example if investors in MACOM believe that the value of the cash and stock consideration to be exchanged for AppliedMicro shares in connection with the offer and the merger, together with transaction costs, is greater than the value of AppliedMicro's business, together with any synergies expected to be achieved or actually realized from MACOM's acquisition of AppliedMicro;
- potential challenges in integrating the two companies;
- the provisions of the merger agreement that place restrictions on the interim operations of MACOM and its subsidiaries pending the closing (see "Merger Agreement – Conduct of Business During Pendency of the Transactions");

- the risks associated with the occurrence of events which may materially adversely affect the operations or financial condition of AppliedMicro and its subsidiaries, which may not entitle MACOM to terminate the merger agreement;
- the risk of diverting MACOM management's focus and resources from other strategic opportunities and from operational matters while working to implement the transaction with AppliedMicro, and other potential disruption associated with combining the companies, and the potential effects of such diversion and disruption on the businesses and customer relationships of MACOM and AppliedMicro; and
- the risks associated with the transactions, the combined company following the transactions, MACOM's business and AppliedMicro's business described under the sections entitled "Forward-Looking Statements" and "Risk Factors."

After consideration of these factors, MACOM's board of directors determined that, overall, the potential benefits of the transactions outweighed the potential risks.

This discussion of the information and factors considered by MACOM's board of directors includes the material positive and negative factors considered by MACOM's board of directors, but it is not intended to be exhaustive and may not include all the factors considered by MACOM's board of directors. MACOM's board of directors did not quantify or assign any relative or specific weights to the various factors that it considered in reaching its determination to approve the merger agreement and the transactions. Rather, MACOM's board of directors viewed its position and recommendation as being based on the totality of the information presented to and factors considered by it. In addition, individual members of MACOM's board of directors may have given differing weights to different factors. It should be noted that this explanation of the reasoning of MACOM's board of directors and certain information presented in this section is forward-looking in nature and, therefore, should be read in light of the factors discussed in the section entitled "Forward-Looking Statements."

AppliedMicro's Reasons for the Transactions; Recommendation of AppliedMicro's Board of Directors

Expected Benefits of the Transactions

The transactions are expected to result in benefits to all AppliedMicro stockholders. In evaluating the transactions and the merger agreement, the AppliedMicro board of directors consulted with AppliedMicro management and legal and financial advisors. In reaching its decision that the transactions are advisable, and in reaching its recommendation that AppliedMicro stockholders tender their shares in the offer, the AppliedMicro board of directors considered a number of factors, including the following material factors, which the AppliedMicro board of directors viewed as supporting its recommendation.

Considered Factors

AppliedMicro's Operating and Financial Condition; Prospects of AppliedMicro as an Independent Company and of Compute Business as a Standalone Company. The AppliedMicro board of directors considered its knowledge and familiarity with AppliedMicro's business, its current and historical financial condition and results of operations, as well as AppliedMicro's financial plan and prospects, if it were to remain an independent company with both the Compute and Connectivity businesses. The AppliedMicro board of directors evaluated AppliedMicro's long-term strategic plan, including the execution risks and uncertainties, and the potential impact on the trading price of AppliedMicro shares (which is not feasible to quantify numerically) if AppliedMicro were to execute or fail to execute upon its strategic plan. The AppliedMicro board of directors reviewed the projections described in the section entitled "Certain Financial Forecasts of AppliedMicro," and weighed the prospects of AppliedMicro's ability as a stand-alone entity to achieve long-term value for AppliedMicro stockholders through execution on AppliedMicro's strategic business plan against the near-term value to AppliedMicro stockholders which could be realized through the transaction at a premium to the then-current market price of the AppliedMicro shares.

The AppliedMicro board of directors also considered the feasibility, financial viability and prospects of operating the Compute business as a standalone public company, after a sale of the Connectivity business, until such time as AppliedMicro were able to sell the Compute business or otherwise unlock additional value for the benefit of AppliedMicro stockholders. The AppliedMicro board of directors evaluated the potential impact to the stock price of AppliedMicro after a sale of the Connectivity business, as well as the lack of scale, negative cash flow, projected losses and the lack of predictability around product development and future revenue and market and customer perception of the long-term viability of the Compute business as a standalone company, as well as the disproportionate expense and management burden of remaining a public company given the scale of the Compute business. The AppliedMicro board of directors also evaluated the divestiture alternatives that might be available in the event an acquiror or other growth or monetization strategy could not be found for the Compute business.

Risks of Execution in a Competitive Marketplace. In evaluating AppliedMicro's long-term prospects as an independent company against the value to AppliedMicro stockholders which could be realized by AppliedMicro stockholders through the transaction, the AppliedMicro board of directors considered the impact of general economic market trends on AppliedMicro's sales, as well as general market risks that could reduce the price of AppliedMicro shares. The AppliedMicro board of directors also considered the highly competitive marketplace for AppliedMicro's products and the fact that many of AppliedMicro's competitors are significantly larger and have greater financial and other resources than AppliedMicro, and the impact of this competitive environment on AppliedMicro's ability to execute its strategic plan without substantial risk to the value of AppliedMicro.

Premium to Market Share Price. The AppliedMicro board of directors considered that the transaction consideration represented:

- a premium of 15.4% to the $ 7.25 closing price per share on November 18, 2016;
- a premium of 20.7% based on the 30-day VWAP of $6.93 per share;
- a premium of 20.1% based on the 60-day VWAP of $6.96 per share; and
- a premium of 20.3% based on the 90-day VWAP of $6.95 per share.

Absence of Financing Condition and Other Limited Conditions. The AppliedMicro board of directors considered that the offer is likely to be completed and the merger is likely to be consummated, based on, among other things, the absence of a financing condition and the limited number of other conditions to the transactions.

Timing of Completion. The AppliedMicro board of directors considered the anticipated timing of the consummation of the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement and the fact that the transaction is structured as a tender offer and a subsequent merger, which can often be completed more promptly than would have been the case with a merger alone, meaning that all AppliedMicro stockholders are likely to receive the transaction consideration for their shares more promptly.

Opinions of AppliedMicro's Financial Advisors.

The AppliedMicro board of directors considered the oral opinion of Morgan Stanley, which was confirmed in writing by delivery of Morgan Stanley's written opinion, dated November 20, 2016, that as of such date, and based upon and subject to the assumptions made, procedures followed, matters considered and qualifications and limitations upon the scope of the review undertaken by Morgan Stanley as set forth in its written opinion, the transaction consideration to be received by the holders of shares of AppliedMicro common stock pursuant to the merger agreement was fair from a financial point of view to such holders. The full text of Morgan Stanley's written opinion to the AppliedMicro board of directors, dated as of November 20, 2016, is attached hereto as Annex C. The summary of the opinion of Morgan Stanley herein is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the opinion. We encourage you to read Morgan Stanley's opinion and the summary of Morgan Stanley's opinion below under the heading "Opinions of AppliedMicro's Financial Advisors – Opinion of Morgan Stanley & Co. LLC," carefully and in their entirety.

The AppliedMicro board of directors also considered the oral opinion of Needham & Company, which was confirmed in writing by delivery of Needham & Company's written opinion, dated November 20, 2016, to the effect that, as of such date and based upon and subject to the various qualifications, limitations, assumptions and conditions set forth therein, the transaction consideration per share to be paid to AppliedMicro stockholders (other than MACOM or any of its affiliates and other than holders of dissenting shares) pursuant to the merger agreement was fair from a financial point of view to such stockholders, as more fully described below under the heading "Opinions of AppliedMicro's Financial Advisors – Opinion of Needham & Company, LLC." The full text of Needham & Company's written opinion, dated November 20, 2016, is attached hereto as Annex D.

Inclusion of Cash and Stock Consideration. The AppliedMicro board of directors considered the form of transaction consideration to be paid to the AppliedMicro stockholders in the transactions and the certainty of the value of the cash consideration component in addition to the current and potential value of the stock consideration, as well as the fact that MACOM's proposal was not subject to obtaining any outside financing. The AppliedMicro board of directors considered the performance of the MACOM common stock, the reverse due diligence conducted on MACOM, the business reputation of MACOM and its management and the substantial financial resources of MACOM and, by extension, Purchaser, which the AppliedMicro board of directors believed supported the conclusion that a transaction with MACOM and Purchaser could be completed relatively quickly and in an orderly manner, and, furthermore, that the stock consideration would enable stockholders to participate in any future growth in MACOM's value.

Available Alternatives; Results of Discussions with Third Parties. The AppliedMicro board of directors considered the possible alternatives to the acquisition by MACOM (including the possibility of being acquired in whole or in part by another company or financial sponsor, continuing to operate as an independent entity, and operating the Compute business as a standalone company subsequent to a sale of the Connectivity business as discussed above, and the desirability and perceived risks of those alternatives), the range of potential benefits to AppliedMicro stockholders of these alternatives and the timing and the likelihood of accomplishing the goals of such alternatives, as well as the AppliedMicro board of directors' assessment that none of these alternatives were reasonably likely to present superior opportunities for AppliedMicro to create greater value for AppliedMicro stockholders, taking into account risks of execution as well as business, competitive, industry and market risks. The AppliedMicro board of directors also considered the results of the process that the AppliedMicro board of directors had conducted, with the assistance of the AppliedMicro management and its financial and legal advisors, to evaluate strategic alternatives and the results of discussions with third parties regarding business combination and change of control transactions. The AppliedMicro board of directors also considered the ability of other bidders to make, and the likelihood that other bidders would make, a proposal to acquire AppliedMicro at a higher price.

Availability of Appraisal Rights. The AppliedMicro board of directors considered the availability of statutory appraisal rights under the DGCL for AppliedMicro stockholders in connection with the first merger who do not tender their shares in the offer and who otherwise comply with the statutory requirements of the DGCL, and who believe that exercising their appraisal rights would yield them a greater per share amount than the first merger would.

Regulatory Approvals. The AppliedMicro board of directors considered that the substantive regulatory approvals that may be required to consummate the transactions would likely be limited to complying with the requirements under the HSR Act.

Terms of the Merger Agreement

Termination Right to Accept Superior Proposals. The AppliedMicro board of directors also considered the fact that the merger agreement provides that at any time prior to such time as the purchaser accepts the shares tendered and not properly withdrawn, if the AppliedMicro board of directors receives a bona fide unsolicited written company takeover proposal (as defined in the merger agreement) that did not result from a breach of AppliedMicro's covenant not to solicit and if the AppliedMicro board of directors determines in good faith, after consultation with its independent financial advisor and legal counsel, that such company takeover proposal constitutes or would reasonably be expected to lead to a company superior proposal (as defined merger agreement) and that failure to take such action would or would be reasonably be expected to, be inconsistent with the AppliedMicro directors' fiduciary duties under applicable law, pursuant to the terms and conditions of the merger agreement, the AppliedMicro board of directors can terminate the merger agreement to concurrently enter into an agreement with respect to that company superior proposal. The AppliedMicro board of directors also considered the fact that there is no additional expense reimbursement payable except to the extent of the fixed termination fee.

Change in Recommendation. The AppliedMicro board of directors considered the fact that, on the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in the merger agreement, the AppliedMicro board of directors may withdraw or modify its recommendation (a) in response to a company superior proposal or (b) in other circumstances not in response to a company superior proposal, if it determines in good faith, after consultation with its financial and legal advisors, that in the case of (a), such action would, or would reasonably be expected to, be required to comply with the directors' fiduciary duties under applicable law and in the case of (b), such action is required to comply with the directors' fiduciary duties under applicable law.

Termination Fee. The AppliedMicro board of directors considered that the merger agreement requires AppliedMicro to pay a termination fee of $30.0 million if AppliedMicro terminates the merger agreement to enter into an agreement with respect to a company superior proposal or if MACOM terminates the merger agreement because a company adverse recommendation change (as defined in the merger agreement) has occurred. The AppliedMicro board of directors believes that the termination fee amount is customary and reasonable and will not deter any interested third party from making a company superior proposal or inhibit the AppliedMicro board of directors from approving a company superior proposal if such were available.

Extension of Offer Period. The AppliedMicro board of directors considered the fact that the merger agreement provides that, under certain circumstances, the Purchaser would be required to extend the offer beyond the initial expiration of the offer if certain conditions to the consummation of the offer are not satisfied as of the initial expiration of the offer or, if applicable, certain subsequent expirations, which would increase the likelihood that the offer could be consummated.

Arm's-Length Negotiation. The merger agreement has customary terms and was the product of arm's-length negotiations.

Potentially Negative Factors

The AppliedMicro board of directors also considered potential risks associated with the transactions in connection with its evaluation of the fairness of the proposed transaction, including:

Termination by MACOM. The AppliedMicro board of directors considered the risk that MACOM may terminate the merger agreement and not complete the offer in certain limited circumstances, including, subject to certain conditions, if there is a company material adverse effect (as defined in the merger agreement), or if AppliedMicro does not perform its obligations under the merger agreement in all material respects.

Termination Fee. The AppliedMicro board of directors reviewed and discussed the termination fee that could become payable by AppliedMicro pursuant to the merger agreement under certain circumstances. The AppliedMicro board of directors believes that the termination fee is customary and reasonable and will not deter any interested third party from making a company superior proposal or inhibit the AppliedMicro board of directors from approving a company superior proposal if such were available.

Pre-Closing Covenants. The AppliedMicro board of directors considered that, under the terms of the merger agreement, AppliedMicro has agreed that it will carry on its business in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice and, subject to specified exceptions, that AppliedMicro will not take a number of actions related to the conduct of its business without the prior written consent of MACOM (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed). The AppliedMicro board of directors further considered that these terms may limit the ability of AppliedMicro to pursue or undertake business opportunities that could arise prior to the consummation of the transactions.

Loss of Ability to Participate in the Future Growth of AppliedMicro. The AppliedMicro board of directors considered the fact that stockholders who tender their shares (or whose shares are converted to transaction consideration in the merger, if it occurs) will not participate in any future earnings or growth of AppliedMicro and will not benefit from any future appreciation in the value of AppliedMicro. Likewise, if the first merger is completed, AppliedMicro stockholders will not bear the risks associated with a decrease in the value of AppliedMicro.

Tax Treatment. The AppliedMicro board of directors considered that the receipt of cash by AppliedMicro stockholders will be fully taxable to AppliedMicro stockholders.

Failure to Close. The AppliedMicro board of directors considered the risk that the proposed transaction might not be completed and the effect of the resulting public announcement of termination of the merger agreement on:

- the market price of the AppliedMicro shares, which could be affected by many factors, including (i) the reason for which the merger agreement was terminated and whether such termination results from factors adversely affecting AppliedMicro, (ii) the possibility that the marketplace would consider AppliedMicro to be an unattractive acquisition candidate, and (iii) the possible sale of AppliedMicro shares by short-term investors following the announcement of termination of the merger agreement;
- AppliedMicro's operating results, particularly in light of the costs incurred in connection with the transaction, including the potential requirement to make a termination payment;
- the ability to attract and retain key personnel; and
- relationships with customers, suppliers, vendors, purchasing agents and other business partners of AppliedMicro.

Regulatory Approvals. The AppliedMicro board of directors considered the regulatory approvals that may be required to consummate the transactions (including, in particular, the requirements under the HSR Act).

Other Factors

In addition to the above, the AppliedMicro board of directors also considered the following factors:

Conflicts of Interest. The AppliedMicro board of directors considered the fact that AppliedMicro's executive officers and directors have financial interests in the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the offer and the mergers, that may be different from or in addition to those of other stockholders, as more fully described under "Interests of Certain Persons in the Transactions."

Liquidation Valuation; Net Book Value; Other Factors Not Considered. The AppliedMicro board of directors did not consider the liquidation value of AppliedMicro, because the AppliedMicro board of directors considered AppliedMicro to be a viable, going concern with its value derived from cash flows from its continuing operations rather than from its assets. Moreover, the AppliedMicro board of directors did not consider net book value, which is an accounting concept, because it believes that net book value does not present a meaningful valuation for AppliedMicro and its business since AppliedMicro's value is derived from cash flows generated by continuing operations.

The AppliedMicro board of directors based its ultimate decision on its business judgment that the benefits of the transactions to unaffiliated AppliedMicro stockholders outweigh the negative considerations. The AppliedMicro board of directors determined that the transactions represent the best reasonably available alternative to maximize AppliedMicro stockholder value with the least risk of non-completion.

This discussion of the information and factors considered by the AppliedMicro board of directors includes the material positive and negative factors considered by the AppliedMicro board of directors, but is not intended to be exhaustive and may not include all of the factors considered by the AppliedMicro board of directors. The AppliedMicro board of directors did not undertake to make any specific determination as to whether any particular factor, or any aspect of any particular factor, was favorable or unfavorable to its ultimate determination, and did not quantify or assign any relative or specific weights to the various factors that it considered in reaching its determination that the transactions, the merger agreement and the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement are fair and advisable to and in the interests of AppliedMicro stockholders (including the unaffiliated AppliedMicro stockholders). Rather, the AppliedMicro board of directors conducted an overall analysis of the factors described above, including thorough discussions with, and questioning of, AppliedMicro management and AppliedMicro's outside advisors, and considered the factors overall to be favorable to, and to support, its determination. In addition, individual members of the AppliedMicro board of directors may have given different weight to different factors.

For the reasons described above, the AppliedMicro board of directors has unanimously recommended that the AppliedMicro stockholders accept the offer and tender their shares in the offer.

In arriving at its opinion, Morgan Stanley assumed and relied upon, without independent verification, the accuracy and completeness of the information that was publicly available or supplied or otherwise made available to Morgan Stanley by AppliedMicro and MACOM, and formed a substantial basis for its opinion. With respect to the financial projections, including information relating to certain strategic, financial and operational benefits anticipated from the transactions, Morgan Stanley assumed that they had been reasonably prepared on bases reflecting the best currently available estimates and judgments of AppliedMicro's management of the future financial performance of AppliedMicro and MACOM. At AppliedMicro's direction, Morgan Stanley's analysis relating to the business and financial prospects of MACOM for purposes of the opinion were made on the basis of Thompson consensus forecasts as of November 18, 2016 (the "MACOM Street Forecasts") only. Morgan Stanley was advised by AppliedMicro, and assumed, with AppliedMicro's consent, that the MACOM Street Forecasts are a reasonable basis upon which to evaluate the business and financial prospects of MACOM. Morgan Stanley expressed no view as to the MACOM Street Forecasts or the assumptions on which they were based, including the selection of the analyst forecasts from which the MACOM Street Forecasts were derived. In addition, Morgan Stanley assumed that the transactions will be consummated in accordance with the terms set forth in the merger agreement without any waiver, amendment or delay of any terms or conditions, and that transactions will be treated as a tax-free reorganization, pursuant to the Code, and that the definitive merger agreement would not differ in any material respect from the draft thereof furnished to Morgan Stanley. Morgan Stanley also assumed that in connection with the receipt of all the necessary governmental, regulatory or other approvals and consents required for the proposed merger, no delays, limitations, conditions or restrictions will be imposed that would have a material adverse effect on the contemplated benefits expected to be derived in the proposed transactions. Morgan Stanley is not a legal, tax, or regulatory advisor. Morgan Stanley is a financial advisor only and relied upon, without independent verification, the assessment of MACOM and AppliedMicro and their legal, tax, or regulatory advisors with respect to legal, tax, or regulatory matters. Morgan Stanley relied upon, without independent verification, the assessment by the managements of AppliedMicro and MACOM of: (1) the strategic, financial and other benefits expected to result from the transactions, (2) the timing and risks associated with the integration of AppliedMicro and MACOM, (3) their ability to retain key employees of AppliedMicro and MACOM, respectively, and (4) the validity of, and risks associated with, AppliedMicro's and MACOM's existing and future technologies, intellectual property, products, services and business models. Morgan Stanley expressed no opinion with respect to the fairness of the amount or nature of the compensation to any of AppliedMicro's officers, directors or employees, or any class of such persons, relative to the transaction consideration to be received by the holders of shares of AppliedMicro common stock in the transaction. Morgan Stanley did not make any independent valuation or appraisal of the assets or liabilities of AppliedMicro or MACOM, nor was Morgan Stanley furnished with any such valuations or appraisals. Morgan Stanley's opinion was necessarily based on financial, economic, market and other conditions as in effect on, and the information made available to Morgan Stanley as of November 20, 2016. Events occurring after November 20, 2016 may affect Morgan Stanley's opinion and the assumptions used in preparing it, and Morgan Stanley did not assume any obligation to update, revise or reaffirm its opinion.

Summary of Financial Analyses.

The following is a brief summary of the material analyses performed by Morgan Stanley in connection with its oral opinion and the preparation of its written opinion letter to the AppliedMicro board of directors dated November 20, 2016. The following summary is not a complete description of Morgan Stanley's opinion or the financial analyses performed and factors considered by Morgan Stanley in connection with its opinion, nor does the order of analyses described represent the relative importance or weight given to those analyses. Except as otherwise noted, to the extent that it is based on market data, the following quantitative information is based on market data as it existed on or before November 18, 2016, the last full trading day prior to the meeting of the AppliedMicro board of directors to approve and adopt the merger agreement, declare the advisability of the merger agreement and approve the transactions. The various analyses summarized below were based on the closing prices of $7.25 per share, and $46.95 per share of the MACOM common stock, respectively, as of November 18, 2016, and are not necessarily indicative of current market conditions. Based on the closing price per share of the MACOM common stock of $46.95, and the per share transaction consideration comprised of $3.25 in cash and 0.1089 of a share of MACOM common stock for each share, the implied value of the transaction consideration per share was $8.36.

Some of these summaries of financial analyses include information presented in tabular format. In order to fully understand the financial analyses used by Morgan Stanley, the tables must be read together with the text of each summary. The tables alone do not constitute a complete description of the financial analyses. The analyses listed in the tables and described below must be considered as a whole; considering any portion of such analyses and of the factors considered, without considering all analyses and factors, could create a misleading or incomplete view of the process underlying Morgan Stanley's opinion.

In performing the financial analyses summarized below and arriving at its opinion, Morgan Stanley used and relied upon certain forecasts approved for its use by the AppliedMicro board of directors, including (1) a "Management Case," which was based on AppliedMicro management's projections (as defined below under the heading "Certain Financial Forecasts of AppliedMicro") for the fiscal quarter ended March 31, 2017 and the fiscal years 2017 through 2020 and AppliedMicro's management's guidance in extrapolating these forecasts for fiscal years 2021 through 2026, and (2) a "Company Street Case" based on Thompson consensus forecasts as of November 18, 2016 for fiscal years 2017 and 2018 and AppliedMicro management's guidance in extrapolating these forecasts for fiscal years 2019 through 2026.

Public Trading Comparables Analysis.

Morgan Stanley performed a public trading comparables analysis, which attempts to provide an implied value of a company by comparing it to similar companies that are publicly traded. Morgan Stanley reviewed and compared certain financial estimates for AppliedMicro, under each of the Company Street Case and the Management Case, with comparable publicly available consensus equity analyst research estimates for selected companies that share similar business characteristics and have certain comparable operating characteristics including, among other things, similarly sized revenue and/or revenue growth rates, market capitalizations, profitability, scale and/or other similar operating characteristics (we refer to these companies as the comparable companies). These companies were the following:

- Advanced Micro Devices, Inc.
- Acacia Communications, Inc.
- Cavium, Inc.
- Inphi Corporation
- Mellanox Technologies, Ltd.

Morgan Stanley analyzed the ratio of aggregate value (defined as fully diluted market capitalization plus total debt, plus non-controlling interest, less cash and cash equivalents) to projected revenue for calendar year 2017. For purposes of this analysis, Morgan Stanley utilized market data as of November 18, 2016 and Thompson consensus forecasts as of November 18, 2016 for aggregate value and revenue for each of the comparable companies. Morgan Stanley also analyzed the ratio of aggregate value to projected EBITDA (defined as net income excluding net interest expense, income tax expense and certain other non-cash and non-recurring items, principally depreciation, amortization and stock-based compensation) for calendar year 2017, and the ratio of price per share to projected earnings per share for calendar year 2017, but as the projected EBITDA and earnings for AppliedMicro for calendar year 2017 under the Management Case are negative, these ratios were not material.

Based on its analysis of the relevant metrics for each of the comparable companies and upon the application of its professional judgment and experience, Morgan Stanley selected a representative range of ratios of aggregate value to projected revenue, and applied this range to the projected revenue for AppliedMicro for calendar year 2017, under each of the Company Street Case and the Management Case. Based on this analysis, and the outstanding shares of AppliedMicro common stock on a fully diluted basis (including outstanding options, restricted stock units and performance-based restricted stock units) as of November 18, 2016, Morgan Stanley calculated the estimated implied value per share as of November 18, 2016 as follows:

	Selected Comparable Company Multiple Ranges	Implied Value Per Share of Company Common Stock ($)
Company Street Case
Aggregate Value to Projected 2017 Revenue of $193MM	2.5x – 4.0x	6.17 – 9.32
Management Case
Aggregate Value to Projected 2017 Revenue of $158MM	2.5x – 4.0x	5.22 – 7.80

Morgan Stanley also performed a public trading comparables analysis of MACOM, consistent with the method used to perform a public trading comparables analysis of AppliedMicro, as described above. Morgan Stanley utilized the MACOM Street Forecasts to compare MACOM with the following companies:

- Advanced Micro Devices, Inc.

- Acacia Communications, Inc.
- Cavium, Inc,
- Integrated Device Technology, Inc.
- Inphi Corporation
- MaxLinear, Inc.
- Mellanox Technologies, Ltd.
- Microsemi Corporation
- Monolithic Power Systems, Inc.
- Power Integrations, Inc.
- Semtech Corporation

Based on its analysis of the relevant metrics for each of the comparable companies and upon the application of its professional judgment and experience, Morgan Stanley selected representative ranges of aggregate value to revenue and aggregate value to EBITDA and price to earnings multiples, and applied these ranges to the estimated relevant metric for MACOM under the MACOM Street Forecasts. Based on this analysis, and the outstanding shares of MACOM common stock on a fully diluted basis (including outstanding options, restricted stock units and warrants) as of November 18, 2016, Morgan Stanley calculated the estimated implied value per share of MACOM common stock as of November 18, 2016 as follows:

	Selected Comparable Company Multiple Ranges	Implied Value Per Share of MACOM Common Stock ($)
Aggregate Value to Projected 2017 Revenue of $665MM	3.5x – 5.0x	37.12 – 54.39
Aggregate Value to Projected 2017 EBITDA of $222MM	11.0x – 16.0x	39.07 – 58.28
Price to Estimated 2017 Earnings of $2.73 per share	15.0x – 21.0x	40.89 – 57.25

No company utilized in the public trading comparables analysis is identical to AppliedMicro or MACOM. In evaluating the comparable companies, Morgan Stanley made numerous assumptions with respect to industry performance, general business, regulatory, economic, market and financial conditions and other matters, many of which are beyond AppliedMicro's, MACOM's and Morgan Stanley's control. These include, among other things, the impact of competition on AppliedMicro's and MACOM's respective businesses and the industry generally, industry growth, and the absence of any adverse material change in the financial condition and prospects of AppliedMicro and MACOM, in the industry, and in the financial markets in general. Mathematical analysis (such as determining the average or median) is not in and of itself a meaningful method of using comparable company data.

Precedent Transactions Analysis.

Morgan Stanley performed a precedent transactions analysis, which is designed to imply a value of a company based on publicly available financial terms and premia of selected transactions. Morgan Stanley compared publicly available statistics for select semiconductor transactions occurring between 2012 and November 2016, and involving U.S.-based target companies. Morgan Stanley selected such comparable transactions because they shared certain characteristics with the transactions, most notably because they were similar semiconductor transactions. The following is a list of the semiconductor transactions reviewed:

For the transactions listed above, Morgan Stanley noted (1) the multiple of aggregate value of the transaction to the last twelve months' ("LTM") revenue, and (2) the multiple of aggregate value of the transaction to the next twelve months' ("NTM") revenue, in each case based on publicly available information compiled in Morgan Stanley's technology transactions database. Based on its analysis of the relevant metrics and time frame for each of the transactions listed above and upon the application of its professional judgment and experience, Morgan Stanley selected representative ranges of financial multiples for the transactions listed above and applied these ranges of financial multiples to the relevant financial statistic for AppliedMicro, under each of the Company Street Case and the Management Case. The following table summarizes Morgan Stanley's analysis:

	Representative Ranges	Implied Value Per Share of Company Common Stock($)
Company Street Case
Aggregate Value to LTM Revenue of $165MM	2.0x – 4.0x	4.51 – 8.11
Aggregate Value to NTM Revenue of $183MM	2.0x – 3.5x	4.89 – 7.89
Management Case
Aggregate Value to LTM Revenue of $165MM	2.0x – 4.0x	4.51 – 8.11
Aggregate Value to NTM Revenue of $159MM	2.0x – 3.5x	4.37 – 6.98

For the transactions listed above, Morgan Stanley also noted the distributions of (1) the implied premium to the acquired company's closing share price on the last trading day prior to announcement (or the last trading day prior to the share price being affected by acquisition rumors or similar merger-related news), and (2) the implied premium to the acquired company's 30-trading-day average closing share price prior to announcement (or the last 30-trading-day average closing share price prior to the share price being affected by acquisition rumors or similar merger-related news).

Based on its analysis of the relevant metrics and time frame for each of the transactions listed above and upon the application of its professional judgment and experience, Morgan Stanley selected representative ranges of implied premiums of the transactions listed above and applied these ranges of premiums to the relevant financial statistic for AppliedMicro. The following table summarizes Morgan Stanley's analysis:

	Representative Ranges	Implied Value Per Share of Company Common Stock($)
Premium to 1-Day Closing Share Price of $7.25	23% – 48%	8.91 – 10.72
Premium to 30-Day Average Closing Share Price of $6.78	22% – 50%	8.29 – 10.17

No company or transaction utilized in the precedent transactions analysis is identical to AppliedMicro or to the transactions. In evaluating the precedent transactions, Morgan Stanley made judgments and assumptions with respect to industry performance, general business, regulatory, economic, market and financial conditions and other matters, many of which are beyond AppliedMicro's and Morgan Stanley's control. These include, among other things, the impact of competition on AppliedMicro's business and the industry generally, industry growth, and the absence of any adverse material change in the financial condition and prospects of AppliedMicro and the industry, and in the financial markets in general, which could affect the public trading value of the companies and the aggregate value of the transactions to which they are being compared. The fact that points in the range of implied value per share derived from the valuation of precedent transactions were less than or greater than the transaction consideration to be received by the holders of shares of AppliedMicro common stock is not necessarily dispositive in connection with Morgan Stanley's analysis of such consideration, but one of many factors Morgan Stanley considered.

Discounted Cash Flow Analysis.

Morgan Stanley performed a discounted cash flow analysis of AppliedMicro, which is an analysis designed to provide an implied value of a company by calculating the present value of the projected future cash flows and terminal value of such company. Morgan Stanley calculated a range of equity values per share based on a discounted cash flow analysis to value AppliedMicro as a standalone entity, under each of the Company Street Case and the Management Case.

Morgan Stanley first calculated AppliedMicro's projected free cash flows (defined as net income excluding net interest expense, income tax expense and certain other non-cash and non-recurring items, principally depreciation, amortization and stock-based compensation). Morgan Stanley then calculated the present value of AppliedMicro's projected free cash flows for the fourth quarter of fiscal year 2017 and fiscal years 2018 through 2026, and based on the variable year-to-year growth rate present in the Company Street Case and the Management Case, calculated terminal values based on a range of perpetual growth rates from 1% to 3%, which range was selected in Morgan Stanley's professional judgment and experience. The free cash flows and terminal values were discounted to present values as of December 31, 2016, at a range of discount rates from 11.7% to 13.7%, which range of discount rates was selected, in Morgan Stanley's professional judgment and experience, to reflect AppliedMicro's weighted average cost of capital. Morgan Stanley also calculated an estimated value for AppliedMicro's net operating loss balance as of June 30, 2016 using the same range of discount rates, which resulted in a range of estimated present values for AppliedMicro's net operating loss balance of $111 million to $126 million under the Company Street Case, and $165 million to $186 million under the Management Case. Based on this analysis, and the outstanding shares of AppliedMicro common stock on a fully diluted basis (including outstanding options, restricted stock units and performance-based restricted stock units) as of November 18, 2016, Morgan Stanley calculated the estimated implied present value per Share as of December 31, 2016 under the Company Street Case and the Management Case as follows:

	Implied Value Per Share of Company Common Stock ($)
Company Street Case	5.59 – 7.47
Management Case	6.60 – 9.37

Morgan Stanley also performed a discounted cash flow analysis of MACOM utilizing the MACOM Street Forecasts. The MACOM Street Forecasts were based on Thomson consensus forecasts as of November 18, 2016, and the projections for calendar years 2017 through 2026 represented extrapolations of the MACOM Street Forecasts. Morgan Stanley's calculation of MACOM's projected free cash flows used the same methodology as described for AppliedMicro's projected free cash flows above. Morgan Stanley then calculated the present value of MACOM's projected free cash flows for calendar years 2017 through 2026, and calculated a terminal value based on a range of perpetual growth rates from 1% to 3%, which range was selected in Morgan Stanley's professional judgment and experience. The projected free cash flows and terminal values were discounted to present values as of December 31, 2016 at a range of discount rates from 9.3% to 11.0%, which range of discount rates was selected, in Morgan Stanley's professional judgment and experience, to reflect MACOM's weighted average cost of capital. Based on this analysis, and the outstanding shares of MACOM common stock on a fully diluted basis (including outstanding options, restricted stock units and warrants) as of November 18, 2016, Morgan Stanley calculated the estimated implied present value per share of MACOM common stock as of December 31, 2016 under the MACOM Street Forecasts as follows:

	Implied Value Per Share of MACOM Common Stock ($)
MACOM Street Forecasts	37.44 – 52.51

Sum-of-the-Parts Discounted Cash Flow Analysis.

Morgan Stanley performed a sum-of-the-parts discounted cash flow analysis, which is designed to imply a value of a company based on the separate valuation of the Company's three lines of business: (1) Connectivity, (2) ARM-based Compute ("ARM"), and (3) Power PC, in each case based upon the Management Case.

Morgan Stanley's discounted cash flow analysis of the Connectivity, ARM and Power PC lines of business used the same projections and methodology as described above under the heading "—Discounted Cash Flow Analysis," except that for purposes of the sum-of-the-parts analysis, the free cash flows and terminal values were discounted to present values as of December 31, 2016 at a range of discount rates from 10.5% to 12.5% for the Connectivity and Power PC businesses, and 16.3% to 18.3% for the ARM business, which ranges of discount rates were selected, in Morgan Stanley's professional judgment and experience, to reflect the weighted average cost of capital applicable to each business.

To estimate the aggregate value of AppliedMicro as a whole, Morgan Stanley added the estimated present value as of December 31, 2016 of AppliedMicro's net operating loss balance as of June 30, 2016, calculated using the method described above under the heading "Opinion of Morgan Stanley & Co. LLC – Discounted Cash Flow Analysis." Morgan Stanley then added AppliedMicro's cash balance as of September 30, 2016 of $82 million to reach an estimated implied equity value range of $520 million to $729 million, and divided those equity values by the number of fully diluted shares of AppliedMicro common stock outstanding. Based on this analysis, Morgan Stanley calculated a range of estimated implied present values per share as of December 31, 2016 of $5.69 to $7.97.

The sum-of-the-parts analysis was prepared for illustrative purposes only, is not necessarily reflective of the prices that would actually be obtained if AppliedMicro's businesses were sold separately, and does not address the feasibility of selling such businesses separately and certain factors and costs, such as tax inefficiencies, separation and transaction costs, and change-of-control restrictions, that would be implicated by a sale of the component parts of AppliedMicro and that were not considered in Morgan Stanley's sum-of-the-parts analysis.

General.

In connection with the review of the transactions by AppliedMicro's board of directors, Morgan Stanley performed a variety of financial and comparative analyses for purposes of rendering its opinion. The preparation of a financial opinion is a complex process and is not necessarily susceptible to a partial analysis or summary description. In arriving at its opinion, Morgan Stanley considered the results of all of its analyses as a whole and did not attribute any particular weight to any analysis or factor it considered. Morgan Stanley believes that selecting any portion of its analyses, without considering all analyses as a whole, would create an incomplete view of the process underlying its analyses and opinion. In addition, Morgan Stanley may have given various analyses and factors more or less weight than other analyses and factors, and may have deemed various assumptions more or less probable than other assumptions. As a result, the ranges of valuations resulting from any particular analysis described above should not be taken to be Morgan Stanley's view of the actual value of AppliedMicro or MACOM. In performing its analyses, Morgan Stanley made numerous assumptions with respect to industry performance, general business, regulatory, economic, market and financial conditions and other matters, many of which are beyond AppliedMicro's, MACOM's and Morgan Stanley's control. These include, among other things, the impact of competition on AppliedMicro's and MACOM's respective business and the industry generally, industry growth, and the absence of any adverse material change in the financial condition and prospects of AppliedMicro, MACOM, and the industry, or in the financial markets in general. Any estimates contained in Morgan Stanley's analyses are not necessarily indicative of future results or actual values, which may be significantly more or less favorable than those suggested by such estimates.

Morgan Stanley conducted the analyses described above solely as part of its analysis of the fairness from a financial point of view of the transaction consideration to be received by the holders of shares of AppliedMicro common stock pursuant to the merger agreement and in connection with the delivery of its opinion, dated November 20, 2016, to the AppliedMicro board of directors. These analyses do not purport to be appraisals or to reflect the prices at which shares of AppliedMicro common stock or shares of Parent's common stock might actually trade.

The consideration to be received by the holders of shares of AppliedMicro common stock pursuant to the merger agreement was determined through arm's-length negotiations between AppliedMicro and MACOM, and was approved by the AppliedMicro board of directors. Morgan Stanley provided advice to the AppliedMicro board of directors during these negotiations, but did not, however, recommend any specific consideration to AppliedMicro or the AppliedMicro board of directors, nor did Morgan Stanley opine that any specific consideration constituted the only appropriate consideration for the transactions. Morgan Stanley's opinion did not address the relative merits of the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement as compared to other business or financial strategies that might be available to AppliedMicro, nor did the opinion address the underlying business decision of AppliedMicro to enter into the merger agreement or proceed with any other transaction contemplated by the merger agreement. Morgan Stanley expressed no opinion or recommendation as to how the stockholders of AppliedMicro should act or vote in connection with any of the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including, without limitation, as to whether such holders of AppliedMicro common stock should tender their common stock into the offer.

Morgan Stanley's opinion and its presentation to the AppliedMicro board of directors was one of many factors taken into consideration by the AppliedMicro board of directors in deciding to approve and adopt the merger agreement, declare the advisability of the merger agreement and approve the transactions. Consequently, the analyses as described above should not be viewed as determinative of the opinion of the AppliedMicro board of directors with respect to the transaction consideration or of whether the AppliedMicro board of directors would have been willing to agree to different consideration. Morgan Stanley's opinion was approved by a committee of Morgan Stanley investment banking and other professionals in accordance with Morgan Stanley's customary practice.

Discounted Cash Flow Analysis

Needham & Company performed illustrative discounted cash flow analyses to determine indicators of illustrative implied equity values for AppliedMicro and illustrative implied equity values per share based on AppliedMicro management's projections. Needham & Company calculated a range of indications of the present value of unlevered free cash flows for AppliedMicro for the projected fourth quarter of the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017 (referred to as fiscal year 2017), and for the fiscal years ended March 31, 2018, March 31, 2019, and March 31, 2020 (referred to as fiscal years 2018, 2019 and 2020, respectively). In calculating the ranges of present values of unlevered cash flows, Needham & Company used discount rates ranging from 14.3% to 22.3%.

The range of discount rates, reflecting an estimated range of weighted average costs of capital of AppliedMicro, was selected by Needham & Company utilizing its professional judgment and experience, and was calculated using an assumed equity market risk premium based upon data from Duff & Phelps, a levered beta estimate based upon Bloomberg financial databases, an assumed size-related risk premium based upon data from Duff & Phelps, and an assumed risk-free rate based on the U.S. Government 10-year Treasury note yield, and took account of risks associated with AppliedMicro's stage of development. Needham & Company then calculated a range of illustrative terminal enterprise values at the end of fiscal year 2020, by applying multiples ranging from 2.25x to 3.75x to AppliedMicro management's estimate of its fiscal year 2020 revenue. The range of multiples was selected by Needham & Company utilizing its professional judgment and experience by reference to the longer term revenue multiples for AppliedMicro. These illustrative terminal enterprise values were then discounted to calculate ranges of implied indications of present values using discount rates ranging from 14.3% to 22.3%. Needham & Company then added the ranges of the implied present values of AppliedMicro's unlevered free cash flows for the projected periods to the ranges of implied present values of AppliedMicro's terminal enterprise values to derive ranges of implied present enterprise values of AppliedMicro. Needham & Company then added AppliedMicro's net cash, based on cash and cash equivalents and short-term investments at September 30, 2016, to arrive at the ranges of implied present equity values. Needham & Company calculated AppliedMicro's estimated fully-diluted shares outstanding at the end of fiscal year 2020 based on AppliedMicro management's estimates of 3.5% annual future share dilution to current stockholders resulting from issuances of equity compensation awards, and divided the implied present equity values by these estimated outstanding share numbers. This analysis indicated an implied per share equity reference range for AppliedMicro of $4.47 to $8.89.

Needham & Company also performed an illustrative discounted cash flow analysis to determine indicators of illustrative implied value of future tax savings based on AppliedMicro's net operating loss carryforwards and research and development credit carryforwards. In calculating the ranges of present values of future tax savings, Needham & Company used Company management's projections for earnings before taxes (referred to as EBT) through fiscal year 2020 and a 3% annual long-term EBT growth rate through the expiration of all applicable tax credits in the fiscal year 2036. Needham & Company then calculated the applicable tax savings for each fiscal year from AppliedMicro's net operating loss carryforwards and research and development credit carryforwards using a Company management's estimated tax rate of 35% to imply the future values of tax savings. These illustrative future values of tax savings were then discounted to calculate ranges of implied indications of present values using discount rates ranging from 14.3% to 22.3%. Needham & Company then divided these indicated present values by AppliedMicro's estimated fully-diluted shares of AppliedMicro common stock outstanding at the end of fiscal year 2020, calculated as described above. This analysis indicated an implied per share value reference range of $0.54 to $0.90. The value of future tax savings is dependent on numerous factors, including the operating or financial results achieved by AppliedMicro, expiration or limitation of the various tax credits, changes in regulations that inhibit AppliedMicro from realizing the tax benefits in the future, the tax rates of jurisdictions to which AppliedMicro owes a tax liability. The values may vary from estimated results, and these variations may be material.

Present Value of Future Share Price Analysis

Needham & Company performed an illustrative analysis of the implied present value of the future price per share using AppliedMicro management's estimates, which is designed to provide an indication of the present value of a theoretical value of AppliedMicro's equity as a function of AppliedMicro's estimated future revenue and its assumed price to a revenue multiple. For this analysis, Needham & Company used certain financial information from AppliedMicro management's estimates for each of AppliedMicro's 2017 to 2020 fiscal years.

Needham & Company calculated the implied values per share as of March 31 for each of the fiscal years 2017 through 2020 by applying illustrative revenue multiples of 2.25x to 3.75x to Company management's revenue estimates, adding the net cash balance as of September 30, 2016, dividing by an assumed diluted share count, and then discounting these theoretical future values of AppliedMicro's equity on a per share basis to present values at November 20, 2016, using discount rates ranging from 14.3% to 22.3%, reflecting estimates of AppliedMicro's cost of equity. The assumed diluted shares count was based on AppliedMicro management's estimates of 3.5% annual future share dilution to current stockholders resulting from issuances of equity compensation awards.

The following table presents the results of these analyses:

FY 2017	FY 2018	FY 2019	FY 2020

Pro Forma Transaction Analysis

Needham & Company prepared illustrative pro forma analyses of the financial impact of the first merger based on the transaction consideration, estimated financial results of AppliedMicro and MACOM for fiscal years ending September 30, 2017 and 2018 (referred to as MACOM FY 2017 and MACOM FY 2018, respectively), and estimated transaction expenses, and assuming cost savings and other synergies resulting from the transactions. The estimated financial results of AppliedMicro and transaction expenses and synergies were based upon AppliedMicro management's estimates, and assumed that MACOM would dispose of or exit AppliedMicro's ARM business after completion of the transaction. These estimates excluded $2 million and $21 million in revenues and $71 million and $95 million in total costs associated with the ARM business in MACOM FY 2017 and MACOM FY 2018, respectively which were based on Company management's estimates. The estimated financial results of MACOM were based on certain research analyst projections. The estimated cost savings and other synergies, aggregating $29.2 million and $35.5 million in MACOM FY 2017 and MACOM FY 2018, respectively, were based on AppliedMicro management's estimates. Based upon these estimates and assumptions, Needham & Company noted that the transactions would result in accretion to the estimated EPS of MACOM for MACOM FY 2017 and MACOM FY 2018. The actual operating or financial results achieved by the combined entity may vary from estimated results, and these variations may be material.

Present Value of Future MACOM Pro Forma Share Price Analysis

Needham & Company performed an illustrative analysis of the implied present value of the future pro forma price per share of MACOM common stock, using estimated financial results for MACOM and AppliedMicro for MACOM FY 2017 and MACOM FY 2018, and estimated transaction expenses and synergies resulting from the transactions, in each case based on the information sources described under "Pro Forma Transaction Analysis" above. The analysis is designed to provide an indication of the offer value, by adding the cash consideration of $3.25 per share to the theoretical value of 0.1089 of a share of MACOM common stock, based on the projected pro forma earnings per share of MACOM for MACOM FY 2017 and MACOM 2018 and the assumed price to earnings multiple.

Needham & Company calculated a range of implied present values of the future pro forma prices per share of MACOM common stock for MACOM FY 2017 and MACOM FY 2018 by applying a range of price to LTM earnings multiples from 18.0x to 24.0x, and a range of synergies to be realized from $0 to $29.2 million and $0 to $35.5 million for MACOM FY 2017 and MACOM FY 2018, respectively, and then discounting to present value using a discount rate of 14.5% reflecting an estimate of MACOM's cost of equity. The range of multiples was selected by Needham & Company utilizing its professional judgment and experience by reference to current trading multiples of the MACOM. The range of synergies was selected by Needham & Company utilizing its professional judgment and experience by reference to AppliedMicro management's estimates. The following table presents the results of these analyses:

	MACOM FY 2017	MACOM FY 2018
Implied Offer Value	$ 8.07 – $10.58	$ 8.41 – $11.09

Miscellaneous

No company, transaction or business used in the "AppliedMicro Selected Companies Analysis," "Selected Transactions Analysis," "Premiums Paid Analysis" or "MACOM Selected Companies Analysis" as a comparison is identical to AppliedMicro or MACOM or to the transactions. Accordingly, an evaluation of the results of these analyses is not entirely mathematical; rather, it involves complex considerations and judgments concerning differences in the financial and operating characteristics and other factors that could affect the acquisition, public trading or other values of the selected companies or selected transactions or the business segment, company or transaction to which they are being compared.

The summary set forth above does not purport to be a complete description of the analyses performed by Needham & Company in connection with the rendering of its opinion. The preparation of a fairness opinion is a complex analytical process involving various determinations as to the most appropriate and relevant quantitative and qualitative methods of financial analyses and the application of those methods to the particular circumstances and, therefore, such an opinion is not readily susceptible to summary description. Accordingly, Needham & Company believes that its analyses must be considered as a whole and that selecting portions of its analyses or the factors it considered, without considering all analyses and factors, could create a misleading or incomplete view of the process underlying its analyses and opinion. Needham & Company did not attribute any specific weight to any factor or analysis considered by it. The fact that any specific analysis has been referred to in the summary above is not meant to indicate that such analysis was given greater weight than any other analysis.

In performing its analyses, Needham & Company made numerous assumptions with respect to industry performance, general business and economic conditions and other matters, many of which are beyond AppliedMicro's or MACOM's control. Any estimates contained in or underlying these analyses, including estimates of AppliedMicro's and MACOM's future performance, are not necessarily indicative of actual values or predictive of future results or values, which may be significantly more or less favorable than those estimates. Additionally, analyses relating to the values of businesses or assets do not purport to be appraisals or necessarily reflect the prices at which businesses or assets may actually be sold or the prices at which any securities have traded or may trade at any time in the future. Accordingly, these analyses and estimates are inherently subject to substantial uncertainty. Needham & Company's opinion and its related analyses were only one of many factors considered by the AppliedMicro board of directors in their evaluation of the transactions and should not be viewed as determinative of the views of the AppliedMicro board of directors or management with respect to the transaction consideration.

Under the terms of the Company's engagement letter with Needham & Company, the Company has paid or agreed to pay a nonrefundable fee of $600,000 that became payable upon Needham & Company's delivery of its opinion with respect to the Merger Agreement and no portion of Needham & Company's fee is contingent on the successful completion of the Offer or the Merger. In addition, the Company has agreed to reimburse Needham & Company for certain of its out-of-pocket expenses and to indemnify Needham & Company and related persons against various liabilities, including certain liabilities under the federal securities laws.

Needham & Company is a nationally recognized investment banking firm. As part of its investment banking services, Needham & Company is regularly engaged in the valuation of businesses and their securities in connection with merger and acquisitions, negotiated underwritings, secondary distributions of securities, private placements and other purposes. Needham & Company believes that it was retained by the AppliedMicro board of directors as a financial advisor to provide its opinion based on Needham & Company's experience as a financial advisor in mergers and acquisitions as well as Needham & Company's familiarity with AppliedMicro and its industry generally. Needham & Company has not in the past two years provided investment banking or financial advisory services to AppliedMicro unrelated to its current engagement for which it has received compensation. Needham & Company has not in the past two years provided investment banking or financial advisory services to MACOM or the Purchaser for which it has received compensation. Needham & Company may in the future provide investment banking and financial advisory services to AppliedMicro, MACOM, or their respective affiliates unrelated to the transactions, for which services Needham & Company would expect to receive compensation. In the normal course of its business, Needham & Company may actively trade equity securities of AppliedMicro and MACOM for its own account or for the account of its customers or affiliates and, therefore, may at any time hold a long or short position in those securities.

Certain Financial Forecasts of AppliedMicro

AppliedMicro does not, as a matter of course, make detailed or long-term public forecasts or projections as to its future financial performance due to the unpredictability of the underlying assumptions and estimates. However, AppliedMicro's management regularly prepared internal forecasts and projections for use by the board of directors and management for planning and decision-making purposes. In addition, in connection with the strategic process, including, without limitation, the due diligence process and evaluation of the offer, the merger agreement and the transactions, AppliedMicro's senior management prepared financial projections for fiscal years 2017 through 2020, including certain projections of AppliedMicro's operations presented by line of business (the "projections"). These projections were provided to the AppliedMicro board of directors, Morgan Stanley, Needham & Company, and MACOM, in preparation for their analysis and evaluation of AppliedMicro and its businesses. To give AppliedMicro stockholders access to certain nonpublic information that was available to MACOM and the AppliedMicro board of directors at the time of the evaluation of the merger agreement and the transactions AppliedMicro's senior management has included these projections below.

These projections were developed from historical financial statements and a series of assumptions and estimates of management related to future trends and did not give effect to any changes or expenses as a result of the offer, the merger agreement or the transactions or any other effects of such terms. AppliedMicro has one operating segment and therefore one reportable segment, and its management evaluates AppliedMicro's performance and makes decisions regarding allocation of resources based on overall AppliedMicro results. AppliedMicro does not provide line of business operating results on a standalone business, and the separate line of business projections set forth below were prepared and provided only for diligence and valuation purposes with respect to the proposed transactions. The projections were prepared by AppliedMicro's management for internal use and were not prepared with a view toward public disclosure, except to the parties identified above, nor were they prepared with a view toward compliance with published guidelines of the SEC, the guidelines established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants for preparation and presentation of financial forecasts or generally accepted accounting principles. The projections do not comply with generally accepted accounting principles. No independent registered public accounting firm, has examined, compiled, nor performed any procedures with respect to the accompanying projected financial information, nor have they expressed any opinion or any other form of assurance on such information or its achievability, and assume no responsibility for, and disclaim any association with, the prospective financial information. The projections were prepared by employees of AppliedMicro without the assistance of MACOM, Purchaser or any of their affiliates.

Before entering into the merger agreement, representatives of MACOM and the Purchaser conducted a due diligence review of AppliedMicro, and in connection with their review MACOM and the Purchaser received certain non-public information concerning AppliedMicro, including the projections that were also furnished to Morgan Stanley and Needham & Company. AppliedMicro management and the AppliedMicro board of directors instructed Morgan Stanley and Needham & Company to rely on these projections for the purposes of rendering their fairness opinions described in more detail above. AppliedMicro's management also advised MACOM and Purchaser that the financial projections provided to them on November 14, 2016 and set forth below for fiscal years 2017 through 2020 represented AppliedMicro's management's best estimate as to AppliedMicro's future performance on a stand-alone basis.

These projections were based on numerous variables and assumptions that are inherently uncertain and may be beyond the control of AppliedMicro and exclude, among other things, transaction-related expenses. The projections show condensed operating results, EBIT and EBITDA for WholeCo and AppliedMicro's three separate lines of business, Connectivity, ARM and PowerPC. Important factors that may affect actual results and results of AppliedMicro's operations, or could lead to the projections not being achieved include, but are not limited to: customer demand for AppliedMicro's products, successful and timely development of products, an evolving competitive landscape, rapid technological change, increased supplier lead times and other supply chain constraints, the businesses and budgeting decisions of AppliedMicro's major customers, which may cause delays, reductions, rescheduling or cancellation of customer orders, successful management and retention of key personnel and service providers, market acceptance of new products and technologies, legal and regulatory developments, unexpected expenses and general economic conditions, and do not take into account any restructuring or related activities that AppliedMicro may undertake, and other factors that are more fully described in the "Risk Factors" section of AppliedMicro's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016, Quarterly Report on Form 10Q for the fiscal quarter ended June 30, 2016, and Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the fiscal quarter ended September 30, 2016, as filed with the SEC. The assumptions upon which the projections were based necessarily involve judgments with respect to, among other things, future economic, competitive and regulatory conditions, financial market conditions and conditions in the industries in which AppliedMicro operates, all of which are difficult or impossible to predict accurately and many of which are beyond the control of AppliedMicro and its management. The projections also reflect assumptions as to certain business decisions that are subject to change.

Accordingly, there can be no assurance that the projections will be realized, and actual results may vary materially from those shown. The inclusion of the projections in this prospectus/offer should not be regarded as an indication that any member of AppliedMicro or any of their respective affiliates, advisors, officers, directors, partners, members or representatives considered or consider the projections to be predictive of actual future events, and the internal financial forecasts should not be relied upon as such. Neither AppliedMicro nor any of its respective affiliates, advisors, officers, directors, partners, members or representatives can give you any assurance that actual results will not differ from the projections, and none of them undertakes any obligation to update or otherwise revise or reconcile the projections to reflect circumstances existing after the date such projections were generated or to reflect the occurrence of future events even in the event that any or all of the assumptions underlying the projections are shown to be in error. Neither AppliedMicro nor any of their respective affiliates intends to make publicly available an update or other revisions to the projections. Neither AppliedMicro nor any of their respective affiliates, advisors, officers, directors, partners, members or representatives has made or makes any representation to any stockholder or other person regarding the ultimate performance of AppliedMicro compared to the information contained in the projections or that the projections will be achieved. AppliedMicro has made no representation to MACOM or Purchaser or any of their respective affiliates concerning the projections.

The summary of the projections is not being included in this prospectus/offer to influence any stockholder's decision whether to tender their shares in the offer, but because this information was made available by AppliedMicro to MACOM, the Purchaser, Morgan Stanley and Needham & Company. The information from the projections should be evaluated, if at all, in conjunction with the historical financial statements and other information regarding AppliedMicro contained in AppliedMicro's public filings with the SEC.

All projections are forward-looking statements. These and other forward-looking statements are expressly qualified in their entirety by the risks and uncertainties identified above and the cautionary statements contained in AppliedMicro's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 and Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the fiscal quarter ended September 30, 2016. Any provisions of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 that may be referenced in these, or AppliedMicro's other, periodic reports are not applicable to any forward looking statements made in connection with the offer.

Stockholders are cautioned not to place undue reliance on the projections included in this prospectus/offer.

- Needham & Company advised AppliedMicro senior management that its free cash flow figure is a non-GAAP financial measure calculated by starting with operating income (as shown in the projections table in this section) and subtracting cash taxes payable, capital expenditures, and investment in working capital, and then adding back depreciation and amortization expense. The free cash flow figures for the fiscal quarter ending March 31, 2017 and the fiscal years ending March 31, 2018 through March 31, 2020 used in the Needham & Company analysis may differ from those reflected in the table above because Needham & Company calculates cash taxes payable as 35% of positive EBIT. Needham & Company utilizes this method due to the uncertainty related to AppliedMicro’s ability to recognize tax benefits of net operating losses or other tax credits due to potential Section 382 of the Code ownership changes and other factors. Any tax benefits from net operating losses or other tax credits are calculated, whether existing, created, or used during the projection period and beyond, on a separate schedule from the discounted cash flow analysis. The present value of this benefit, on a per share basis, is included as a separate line item in the Needham & Company Discounted Cash Flow Analysis.

Ownership of MACOM After the Transactions

It is estimated that former stockholders of AppliedMicro will own in the aggregate approximately 16.1% of the outstanding shares of MACOM common stock immediately following consummation of the transaction, assuming that:

- MACOM acquires through the offer and the first merger one hundred percent (100%) of the outstanding shares of common stock of AppliedMicro;
- in the offer and the first merger, MACOM issues 10,354,000 shares of MACOM common stock as part of the transaction consideration (see Note 2 to the “Unaudited Pro Forma Condensed Combined Financial Statements” for the calculation of the estimated shares to be issued); and
- immediately following completion of the transactions, there are 64,151,893 shares of MACOM common stock outstanding (calculated by adding 53,797,893, the number of shares of MACOM common stock outstanding as of January 12, 2017 (excluding treasury shares), plus 10,354,000, the number of shares of MACOM common stock estimated to be issued as part of the transaction consideration).

No appraisal rights are available to AppliedMicro stockholders in connection with the offer. However, if the first merger is consummated, the holders of shares of AppliedMicro common stock immediately prior to the effective time who (1) did not tender their shares of AppliedMicro common stock in the offer; (2) follow the procedures set forth in Section 262 of the DGCL; and (3) do not thereafter withdraw their demand for appraisal of such shares or otherwise lose their appraisal rights, in each case in accordance with the DGCL, will be entitled to have their shares appraised by the Delaware Court of Chancery and receive payment of the “fair value” of such shares, exclusive of any element of value arising from the accomplishment or expectation of the transactions, together with a fair rate of interest, as determined by such court.

The “fair value” of any shares of AppliedMicro common stock could be based upon considerations other than, or in addition to, the price paid in the offer and the first merger and the market value of such shares. AppliedMicro stockholders should recognize that the value so determined could be higher or lower than, or the same as, the consideration payable in the offer and the first merger. Moreover, MACOM and AppliedMicro may argue in an appraisal proceeding that, for purposes of such proceeding, the fair value of such shares of AppliedMicro common stock is less than such amount.

Under Section 262 of the DGCL, if a merger is approved under Section 251(h) of the DGCL, either a constituent corporation before the effective date of the merger, or the first surviving company within ten (10) days thereafter, will notify each of the holders of any class or series of stock of such constituent corporation who is entitled to appraisal rights of the approval of the merger or consolidation and that appraisal rights are available for any or all shares of such class or series of stock of such constituent corporation, and will include in such notice a copy of Section 262 of the DGCL. The Schedule 14D-9 will constitute the formal notice of appraisal rights under Section 262 of the DGCL.

As will be described more fully in the Schedule 14D-9, if a AppliedMicro stockholder elects to exercise appraisal rights under Section 262 of the DGCL, such stockholder must do all of the following:

- within the later of the consummation of the offer and twenty (20) days after the mailing of the Schedule 14D-9, deliver to AppliedMicro a written demand for appraisal of shares of AppliedMicro common stock held, which demand must reasonably inform AppliedMicro of the identity of the stockholder and that the stockholder is demanding appraisal;
- not tender AppliedMicro shares in the offer and, if applicable, not vote AppliedMicro shares in favor of the merger agreement; and
- continuously hold of record the shares from the date on which the written demand for appraisal is made through the effective time.

This does not purport to be a complete statement of the procedures to be followed by AppliedMicro stockholders desiring to exercise any appraisal rights and is qualified in its entirety by reference to Section 262 of the DGCL. The proper exercise of appraisal rights requires strict and timely adherence to the applicable provisions of Delaware law. A copy of Section 262 of the DGCL was included as Annex C to the Schedule 14D-9 which has been filed by AppliedMicro with the SEC.

Plans for AppliedMicro

In connection with the offer, MACOM has reviewed and will continue to review various possible business strategies that it might consider in the event that MACOM acquires control of AppliedMicro pursuant to the offer and the first merger. MACOM intends to divest a portion of AppliedMicro’s compute business and following a review of additional information regarding AppliedMicro, other changes could include, among other things, changes in AppliedMicro’s business, operations, personnel, employee benefit plans, corporate structure, capitalization and management. See also “The Transactions – MACOM’s Reasons for the Transactions.”

Delisting and Termination of Registration

Following consummation of the transactions, shares of AppliedMicro common stock will no longer be eligible for inclusion on Nasdaq and will be withdrawn from listing. Assuming that AppliedMicro qualifies for termination of registration under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the “Exchange Act”) after the transactions are consummated, MACOM also intends to seek to terminate the registration of shares of AppliedMicro common stock under the Exchange Act.

Board of Directors, Management and Organizational Documents

Upon consummation of the first merger, subject to applicable law, the directors of the Purchaser immediately prior to the effective time will become the initial directors of the first surviving company, and the officers of the Purchaser immediately prior to the effective time will continue as the officers of the first surviving company. At the effective time, the amended and restated certificate of incorporation of AppliedMicro, as amended (the “AppliedMicro Charter”), and the amended and restated bylaws of AppliedMicro (the “AppliedMicro Bylaws”) will be the certificate of incorporation and bylaws of the first surviving company.

Upon consummation of the second merger, subject to applicable law, the manager of Merger Sub immediately prior to the second effective time will become the manager of the surviving company, and, except as otherwise determined by MACOM prior to the second effective time, the officers of the corporation surviving the first merger immediately prior to the second effective time will be the officers of the company surviving the second merger. At the second effective time, the certificate of formation and limited liability company agreement of Merger Sub will be the certificate of formation and limited liability company agreement of the surviving company. From and after the effective time until the sixth (6th) anniversary thereof, the organizational documents of the surviving company as of the effective time of the second merger will contain provisions no less favorable with respect to indemnification, advancement of expenses and limitation of director, officer and employee liability for individuals who were, prior to the effective time, directors or officers of AppliedMicro, than are presently set forth in the organizational documents of AppliedMicro and certain indemnification agreements between AppliedMicro and directors and officers.

After MACOM’s review of AppliedMicro and its corporate structure, management and personnel, MACOM will determine what additional changes, if any, are desirable.

Regulatory Approvals

MACOM is not aware of any governmental license or regulatory permit that is material to AppliedMicro’s business and might be adversely affected by the Purchaser’s acquisition of AppliedMicro shares pursuant to the transactions or, except as described below or of any approval or other action by any government or governmental administrative or regulatory authority or agency, domestic or foreign, that would be required for the Purchaser’s acquisition or ownership of AppliedMicro shares pursuant to the transactions. Should any of these approvals or other actions be required, MACOM and the Purchaser currently contemplate that these approvals or other actions will be sought. There can be no assurance that (a) any of these approvals or other actions, if needed, will be obtained (with or without substantial conditions), (b) if these approvals were not obtained or these other actions were not taken adverse consequences would not result to AppliedMicro’s business or (c) certain parts of AppliedMicro’s or MACOM’s businesses, or those of any of their respective subsidiaries’ businesses, would not have to be disposed of or held separate.

MACOM and AppliedMicro agreed to use their respective reasonable best efforts to obtain any required governmental or third party consents and approvals required in connection with the transactions (including in connection with the HSR Act) and, including with respect to antitrust laws, use their reasonable efforts to obtain any consent, authorization or approval of any governmental entity required as described in the merger agreement as promptly as reasonably practicable.

It is a condition to completion of the transactions the waiting period under the HSR Act has expired or been terminated. Accordingly, and in accordance with their obligations under the merger agreement, MACOM filed a Notification and Report Form with respect to the transactions with the Antitrust Division and the FTC on December 5, 2016. AppliedMicro also filed a Notification and Report Form with respect to the transactions with the Antitrust Division and the FTC on December 5, 2016.

On December 12, 2016, the FTC granted early termination of the waiting period under the HSR Act. With such early termination, the condition to the offer relating to the expiration or termination of the HSR Act waiting period has been satisfied.

At any time before or after consummation of the transactions, notwithstanding any termination or expiration of the waiting period under the HSR Act, the FTC or the Antitrust Division could take such action under the antitrust laws as it deems necessary under the applicable statutes, including seeking to enjoin the completion of the transactions, seeking divestiture of substantial assets of the parties or requiring the parties to license, or hold separate, assets or terminate existing relationships and contractual rights. At any time before or after the completion of the transactions, and notwithstanding any termination or expiration of the waiting period under the HSR Act, any state or other governmental entity could take such action under the antitrust laws as it deems necessary. Such action could include seeking to enjoin the completion of the transactions or seeking divestiture of substantial assets of the parties, or requiring the parties to license, or hold separate, assets or terminate existing relationships and contractual rights. Private parties may also seek to take legal action under the antitrust laws under certain circumstances. There can be no assurance that a challenge to the transactions on antitrust grounds will not be made, or if such a challenge is made, what the result will be.

Litigation Related to the Transaction

Kevin Nygren v. Applied Micro Circuits Corporation, Cesar Cesaratto, Paul R. Gray, Fred Shlapak, Robert F. Sproull, Duston Williams, Paramesh Gopi, and Christopher Zepf, No. C-16-7400-VC (N.D. Cal.).

On December 29, 2016, Kevin Nygren, who alleges that he owns 100 shares of AppliedMicro's common stock, filed a complaint in the United States District Court for the Northern District of California against AppliedMicro and its board of directors. The complaint alleges that AppliedMicro's Schedule 14D-9 filed with the SEC on December 21, 2016 misstates or omits material facts regarding the process that led to the merger agreement, the opinions and analyses of AppliedMicro's financial advisors, the transaction consideration, the intrinsic value of AppliedMicro, and unspecified potential conflicts of interest faced by certain individual defendants. Based on these allegations, the complaint asserts putative class claims under Sections 14(e) of the Exchange Act (Count I), Section 14(d)(9) of the Exchange Act and SEC Rule 14d-9 (Count II), and Section 20(a) of the Exchange Act (Count III). The complaint seeks certification of a class; preliminary and permanent injunctions barring the proposed transaction with MACOM; declaratory relief; and an accounting for damages allegedly caused by and profits and special benefits allegedly obtained as a result of the defendants' actions. Defense counsel has agreed to waive formal service of summons.

On January 9, 2017, Nygren filed an ex parte motion with the court seeking a temporary restraining order barring AppliedMicro from consummating its sale or causing the expiration of MACOM's tender offer, seeking expedited discovery and a seeking a hearing to be held on or before January 25, 2017 on a motion (not yet filed) for a preliminary injunction.

On January 17, 2017, Nygren withdrew his ex parte motion without prejudice stating to the court that AppliedMicro's supplemental disclosures provided shareholders with the information identified in plaintiff's complaint and motion for temporary restraining order.

Deven Shah v. Applied Micro Circuits Corporation, Cesar Cesaratto, Paul R. Gray, Fred Shlapak, Robert F. Sproull, Duston Williams, Paramesh Gopi, and Christopher Zepf, No. C-17-151 (N.D. Cal.).

On January 12, 2017, Deven Shah, alleging that he owns 10,000 shares of AppliedMicro's common stock, filed a complaint in the United States District Court for the Northern District of California against AppliedMicro and its board of directors. The Shah complaint repeats, essentially verbatim, the allegations and legal theories of the Nygren complaint; the two complaints were filed by the same local counsel. Counsel for Nygren has indicated that the two plaintiffs will seek to consolidate the two cases into one and that counsel for the two plaintiffs are working together.

Interests of Certain Persons in the Transactions

AppliedMicro's directors and executive officers may have interests in the offer, the mergers and the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement that are different from, or in addition to, the interests of the AppliedMicro stockholders generally. These interests may create potential conflicts of interest. The AppliedMicro board of directors was aware of these interests and considered them, among other matters, in approving the merger agreement and the transactions described therein.

Treatment of Equity and Equity-Based Awards

Certain AppliedMicro directors and executive officers hold equity and/or one or more of the following equity-based awards: options to acquire shares of AppliedMicro common stock ("AppliedMicro options") and AppliedMicro restricted stock units ("AppliedMicro RSUs"), which equity and equity-based awards will be treated as follows in connection with the transactions.

AppliedMicro Options

Each AppliedMicro option that is outstanding and unexercised as of immediately prior to the effective time and that has a per-share exercise price less than the sum of the cash consideration plus the product of the stock consideration multiplied by the closing price of MACOM common stock on Nasdaq on the last trading day immediately prior to the effective time, to the extent vested in accordance with its terms as of the effective time (each, a "vested in-the-money AppliedMicro option"), will be cancelled as of the effective time and thereafter will only entitle the holder of such AppliedMicro option to receive (without interest) an amount in cash and a number of shares of MACOM common stock equal to the product of the (i) transaction consideration (with the stock consideration valued based on the closing price of the MACOM common stock on Nasdaq on the last trading day immediately prior to the effective time), multiplied by (ii) that number of whole and partial (computed to the nearest four decimal places) shares of AppliedMicro common stock equal to the excess of (A) the total number of shares of AppliedMicro common stock then subject to such AppliedMicro option over (B) the number of whole and partial (computed to the nearest four decimal places) shares of AppliedMicro common stock that, when multiplied by the closing price of the AppliedMicro common stock on Nasdaq on the last trading day immediately prior to the effective time, is equal to the aggregate exercise price of such AppliedMicro option (the "option consideration"). The option consideration will be paid in cash and MACOM common stock in the same proportion as is paid to AppliedMicro stockholders generally in connection with the transactions, except that MACOM may pay the option consideration in cash in excess of such proportion or wholly in cash.

Each AppliedMicro option other than a vested in-the-money AppliedMicro option that is outstanding and unexercised as of immediately prior to the effective time will be cancelled as of immediately prior to the effective time and converted into, as of the effective time, and thereafter evidence an award of stock options exercisable for shares of MACOM common stock with respect to that number of shares of MACOM common stock equal to (i) the number of whole shares of AppliedMicro common stock underlying the AppliedMicro option from which it was converted immediately prior to the effective time, multiplied by (ii) a fraction (computed to the nearest four decimal places) the numerator of which is the fair market value of one share of AppliedMicro common stock and the denominator of which is the fair market value of one share of MACOM common stock (with the fair market value of AppliedMicro common stock and MACOM common stock determined based on their respective closing prices on Nasdaq on the last trading day immediately prior to the effective time) (after such conversion, a "rollover option"). Each rollover option will have an exercise price per share of MACOM common stock (rounded up to the nearest whole cent) equal to (1)(A) the per share exercise price for the corresponding AppliedMicro option, divided by (B) the fair market value of one share of AppliedMicro common stock, which quotient will be multiplied by (2) the fair market value of one share of MACOM common stock (with the fair market value of AppliedMicro common stock and MACOM common stock determined based on their respective closing prices on Nasdaq on the last trading day immediately prior to the effective time), and will be subject to the same vesting terms and conditions as had been applied to the corresponding AppliedMicro option immediately prior to the effective time, subject to such modifications as required for the conversion to be consistent with exemption from Sections 409A and 424 of the Code or as may be reasonably determined by MACOM.

The approximate value of the option consideration and the approximate number of shares of MACOM common stock underlying the rollover options that each director and executive officer of AppliedMicro is expected to receive in exchange for his or her AppliedMicro options (assuming that each such director and executive officer does not otherwise forfeit or exercise any outstanding and vested AppliedMicro options prior to the effective time) is in each case set forth in the table below. This information is based on the number of shares of AppliedMicro common stock subject to the AppliedMicro options held by AppliedMicro's directors and executive officers as of December 15, 2016, a price per share of AppliedMicro common stock of $8.46 and a price per share of MACOM common stock of $48.03 (which are their respective average closing prices on Nasdaq over the first five (5) business days (November 22, 2016 through November 29, 2016) following November 21, 2016, the date on which the execution of the merger agreement was first publicly announced). The amounts set forth in the table below are calculated before any taxes that may be due on such amounts are paid.

(1) For purposes of identifying Vested In-the-Money AppliedMicro Options, the value of the transaction consideration was assumed to be the sum of $3.25 plus $5.23, the latter of which is the product of the stock consideration multiplied by $48.03 per share, which is the average closing price per share of MACOM common stock over the first five business days (November 22, 2016 through November 29, 2016) following the date on which the execution of the merger agreement was first publicly announced.

(2) After calculation of the number of shares of AppliedMicro common stock underlying such Vested-in-the-Money: AppliedMicro Options that exceed that number of shares with an aggregated spread value equal to the option exercise price (such number determined based on an assumed price per share of AppliedMicro common stock of $8.46, which is the average closing price on Nasdaq over the first five business days (November 22, 2016 through November 29, 2016) following the date on which the execution of the merger agreement was first publicly announced, the option consideration value was calculated based on the sum of (i) the cash consideration, (ii) cash to be received in lieu of fractional shares of MACOM common stock, and (iii) the aggregate value of the stock consideration, based on an assumed price per share of MACOM common stock of $48.03, which the average closing price per share of MACOM common stock over the first five business days (November 22, 2016 through November 29, 2016) following the date on which the execution of the merger agreement was first publically announced.

- (3) For purposes of converting AppliedMicro Options other than Vested in-the-Money AppliedMicro Options to Rollover Options, the price per share of AppliedMicro common stock was assumed to be $8.46 and the price per share of MACOM common stock was assumed to be $48.03, each of which is the average closing price of the respective company's stock over the first five business days (November 22, 2016 through November 29, 2016) following the date on which the execution of the merger agreement was first publicly announced.

Each AppliedMicro RSU that is outstanding as of the effective time, to the extent vested in accordance with its terms as of the effective time (each, a "vested AppliedMicro RSU") will be settled in that number of shares of AppliedMicro common stock underlying the vested AppliedMicro RSU as of the effective time and thereafter will entitle the holder of such vested AppliedMicro RSU to receive (without interest) an amount in cash and a number of shares of MACOM common stock equal to the transaction consideration (with the stock consideration valued based on the closing price of MACOM common stock on Nasdaq on the last trading day immediately before the effective time), in respect of each share of AppliedMicro common stock that was subject to such holder's vested AppliedMicro RSUs (the "RSU consideration"). The RSU consideration will be paid in cash and MACOM common stock in the same proportion as is paid to AppliedMicro stockholders generally in connection with the transactions, except that MACOM may pay the RSU consideration in cash in excess of such proportion or wholly in cash.

Each AppliedMicro RSU that is outstanding as of the effective time and is not a vested AppliedMicro RSU (each, an "unvested AppliedMicro RSU"), will be cancelled as of immediately prior to the effective time and converted into, as of the effective time, and thereafter evidence a RSU award with respect to the number of shares of MACOM common stock that is equal to the product of (A) the number of shares of AppliedMicro common stock subject to such unvested AppliedMicro RSU as of the effective time (for the avoidance of doubt, for AppliedMicro RSUs the vesting and settlement of which are subject, in whole or part, to achievement of specified performance criteria ("MSUs"), only as to that number of shares that become eligible to vest or be accelerated after the effective time under the applicable award agreement or AppliedMicro's Executive Severance Benefit Plan (the "severance plan") based on actual or deemed performance, as applicable), multiplied by (B) a fraction, the numerator of which is the fair market value of one share of AppliedMicro common stock and the denominator of which is the fair market value of one share of MACOM common stock (with the fair market value of AppliedMicro common stock and MACOM common stock determined based on their respective closing prices on Nasdaq on the last trading day immediately prior to the effective time) (after such conversion, "rollover RSUs"). Each rollover RSU will be subject to the same vesting terms and conditions as had applied to the corresponding unvested AppliedMicro RSU immediately prior to the effective time, except for such terms rendered inoperative by reason of the merger (including, to the extent an MSU vests in accordance with its terms as of immediately prior to the effective time or is deemed to vest under the severance plan, as applicable, the elimination of all AppliedMicro common stock price vesting criteria that applied to MSUs prior to the effective time), subject to such adjustments as are reasonably determined by MACOM to be necessary or desirable to give effect to such conversion and the transactions. Each MSU (or portion thereof) will terminate without consideration immediately prior to the effective time to the extent that the applicable performance criteria have not been satisfied (or deemed satisfied under the severance plan) as of the effective time.

The approximate value of the RSU consideration and the approximate number of shares of MACOM common stock underlying the rollover RSUs that each director and executive officer of AppliedMicro is expected to receive

- (1) The number of AppliedMicro directors' Vested AppliedMicro RSUs reflects that number of AppliedMicro RSUs that will vest on a prorated basis in connection with the merger assuming the merger closed on December 15, 2016. The number of Dr. Gopi's Vested AppliedMicro RSUs reflects accelerated vesting of 50% of his Unvested AppliedMicro RSUs pursuant to his amended participation notice under the AppliedMicro Severance Plan, as described below under "Dr. Gopi's Severance Benefits."
- (2) Calculated based on the sum of (i) the cash consideration, (ii) cash to be received in lieu of fractional shares of MACOM Common Stock, and (iii) the aggregate value of the stock consideration, based on an assumed price per share of MACOM common stock of $48.03, which is the average closing price per share of MACOM common stock over the first five business days (November 22, 2016 through November 29, 2016) following the date on which the execution of the merger agreement was first publicly announced.
- (3) For purposes of converting Unvested AppliedMicro RSUs and MSUs to Rollover RSUs, the price per share of AppliedMicro common stock was assumed to be $8.46 and the price per share of MACOM common stock was assumed to be $48.03, each of which is the average closing price of the respective company's stock over the first five business days (November 22, 2016 through November 29, 2016) following the date on which the execution of the merger agreement was first publicly announced.

ESPP

Prior to the earlier of the effective time and the commencement of the next regularly scheduled offering period under the ESPP, AppliedMicro will take all actions necessary to ensure that no offering period or purchase period will be authorized or commenced, other than the offering period that commenced on August 1, 2016, that no new participant may begin to participate in the ESPP, and that the purchase price of shares shall not be decreased below the levels set forth in the ESPP on the date of the merger agreement. If closing occurs prior to the end of the offering period in effect on the date of the merger agreement, AppliedMicro will cause the rights of participants to be determined by treating the last business day prior to the effective time as the last day of such offering period and purchase period, with any shares purchased under the ESPP cancelled and converted into the right to receive transaction consideration and any funds remaining in any participant's account after such purchase to be promptly returned. AppliedMicro will terminate the ESPP and all rights under it effective as of and contingent upon the effective time.

Arrangements with Executive Officers

Under the severance plan, participating employees are eligible for certain severance benefits in the event they experience an involuntary termination of employment without Cause (as defined below) and additional benefits if they experience a "change-in-control termination," which is an involuntary termination without Cause or a voluntary resignation for Good Reason (as defined below) in either case occurring within one month prior to or 12 months following a change in control of AppliedMicro (which, for purposes of the severance plan, includes the surviving entity following a change in control or the parent company of such surviving entity). The consummation of the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement will constitute a change in control for purposes of the severance plan. Each of the AppliedMicro executive officers participates in the severance plan. The following summarizes the change-in-control termination benefits that could be payable under the severance plan to the AppliedMicro executive officers in connection with a change-in-control termination.

Dr. Gopi's Severance Benefits

In the event of a change-in-control termination, the severance plan provides that Dr. Gopi would receive a lump sum payment equal to 24 months of his base salary, based on the highest monthly base pay Dr. Gopi was paid by AppliedMicro during the three-year period preceding the employment termination date, plus his target bonus amount under AppliedMicro's annual bonus plan. In addition, Dr. Gopi would be entitled to receive continued health insurance benefits for 24 months following termination of employment and he would immediately become 100% vested with respect to all of his outstanding AppliedMicro options and AppliedMicro RSUs and a number of his AppliedMicro MSUs equal to the target number of outstanding AppliedMicro MSUs at the time of the change in control. Dr. Gopi would also have 24 months from the date of his employment termination during which he may choose to exercise any of his vested and outstanding AppliedMicro options, but in no event will such exercise period extend past the AppliedMicro option's expiration date as established at the time of grant.

On December 20, 2016, AppliedMicro's compensation committee approved an amendment to Dr. Gopi's participation notice under the severance plan to provide that (i) 50% of the cash severance amount described above will be paid on or as soon as reasonably practicable following the consummation of the transactions, (ii) the remaining 50% of such cash severance amount will be placed in a rabbi trust, (iii) 50% of Dr. Gopi's outstanding unvested AppliedMicro RSUs and AppliedMicro MSUs will vest immediately prior to the consummation of the transactions, and (iv) the proceeds of Dr. Gopi's remaining outstanding unvested AppliedMicro RSUs and AppliedMicro MSUs will be placed in a rabbi trust. In addition, during the period beginning on the consummation of the transactions and ending upon the earlier of (i) six months following the consummation of the transactions; and (ii) the sale of AppliedMicro's ARM-based computing business, Dr. Gopi will receive a base salary of $85,000 per month (prorated for partial months) and standard employee benefits and, to the extent that Dr. Gopi's existing employee benefits do not continue in substantially their current form, a cash payment in respect of any such benefits that are not so provided to him. Dr. Gopi will also remain eligible to receive the continued health benefits and extended option exercise period described above in the event of a change-in-control termination.

The portion of Dr. Gopi's cash severance payment and the RSU and MSU proceeds that are held in the rabbi trust will fully vest and be released from the trust upon the earliest of (i) the six month anniversary of the closing of the transactions; (ii) the sale of AppliedMicro's ARM-based computing business, subject, in the case of (i) or (ii), to his continuing employment through such date; (iii) his termination of employment without Cause (as defined below); and (iv) his resignation for Good Reason (as defined below and as modified by the amendment described below).

Dr. Gopi's severance benefits are conditioned on his timely entering into and not revoking a general waiver and release of claims.

Messrs. Caraccio, McDermut and Major's Severance Benefits

With respect to the executive officers other than Dr. Gopi, in the event of a change-in-control termination, Mr. Caraccio will receive a lump sum payment equal to 18 months of his base salary plus his target bonus amount under AppliedMicro's annual bonus plan and Messrs. McDermut and Major will each receive a lump sum payment equal to 12 months of his base salary. In addition, in the event of a change-in-control termination, such executive officers will receive continued health insurance benefits for the following periods: 18 months for Mr. Caraccio and 12 months for Messrs. McDermut and Major. The base salary for each executive officer is determined based on the highest monthly base pay the executive officer was paid by AppliedMicro during the three-year period preceding the employment termination date.

In the event of a change-in-control termination, the affected executive officer will immediately become 100% vested with respect to all outstanding AppliedMicro options, AppliedMicro RSUs and AppliedMicro MSUs. The number of AppliedMicro MSUs eligible to vest in this respect is equal to the target number of outstanding AppliedMicro MSUs at the time of the applicable change in control of AppliedMicro. In the case of a change-in-control termination, the executive officers will also have the following extended time periods from the date of termination during which they may choose to exercise any vested and outstanding AppliedMicro options: 15 months for Mr. Caraccio and 12 months for Messrs. McDermut and Major. However, in no event will a AppliedMicro option's exercise period extend past the Company Option's expiration date as established at the time of grant.

Each of Messrs. Caraccio, McDermut and Major's severance benefits are conditioned on his timely entering into and not revoking a general waiver and release of claims with AppliedMicro (or its successor as applicable).

The severance plan includes the following defined terms.

- "Cause" means termination of a participant's employment for any of the following reasons (i) such participant's commission of any felony or any crime involving fraud, dishonesty or moral turpitude under the laws of the United States or any state thereof; (ii) such participant's attempted commission of, or participation in, a fraud or act of dishonesty against AppliedMicro; (iii) such participant's intentional, material violation of any contract or agreement between the participant and AppliedMicro or of any statutory duty owed to AppliedMicro; (iv) such participant's unauthorized use or disclosure of the AppliedMicro's confidential information or trade secrets; or (v) such participant's gross misconduct. The determination that a termination of the participant's employment is either for Cause or without Cause shall be made by AppliedMicro in its sole discretion.
- "Good Reason" means, subject to the further provision below, the occurrence of any of the following events within one month prior to or 11 months following a change in control of AppliedMicro: (i) a material reduction in the participant's duties or responsibilities (and not solely a change in title or reporting relationships) for any reason other than as a result of the participant's physical or mental incapacity which impairs his or her ability to materially perform his or her duties or responsibilities, or any other action that has the effect of a material demotion of the participant; (ii) a material reduction by AppliedMicro in such participant's base salary then currently in effect, and that is not part of a performance-based reduction in base salaries for selected senior executives; or (iii) a relocation of the participant's principal place of work that results in an increase by more than 50 miles in the one-way driving distance from the participant's principal residence to the participant's principal place of work in effect immediately prior to the relocation. However, in no event will a participant have "Good Reason" to resign unless: (a) the participant notifies AppliedMicro in writing, within 30 days after the occurrence of one of the foregoing event(s), specifying the event(s) constituting Good Reason and that he or she intends to terminate his or her employment no earlier than 30 days after providing such notice; (b) AppliedMicro does not cure such condition within 30 days following its receipt of such notice or states unequivocally in writing that it does not intend to attempt to cure such condition (the "cure period") and (c) the participant resigns from employment within 30 days following the end of the cure period.

For purposes of clause (i) above in the definition of Good Reason, if a change in control results in AppliedMicro continuing in existence as a direct or indirect subsidiary of an acquirer, a severance plan participant shall be considered to have been materially demoted unless given the same position, duties and authority in the ultimate parent of the acquirer.

Effective November 18, 2016 the severance plan was amended to, among other things, modify the definition of Good Reason to provide as follows: (x) AppliedMicro's Chief Financial Officer, Chief Legal Officer and Chief Human Resources Officer will not be entitled to claim Good Reason under clause (i) of the definition until two months following a change in control of AppliedMicro and (y) AppliedMicro's Chief Executive Officer may not claim Good Reason under clause (i) of the definition until six months following a change in control of AppliedMicro or, if earlier, the sale of AppliedMicro's ARM-based computing business, but in any such case the applicable executive officer will be able to resign immediately after the applicable two- or six-month period without providing AppliedMicro (or its successor) any cure period.

Participants in the severance plan are not entitled to any tax "gross up" in respect of excise taxes, if any, that might arise under the "golden parachute" sections of the federal income tax law (Sections 280G and 4999 of the Code), and may be subject to a reduction in benefits if any such excise tax were applicable and the reduced benefit would maximize the after-tax payment to the participant.

Indemnification of Executive Officers and Directors

The merger agreement provides that all rights to exculpation and indemnification (and all rights to advancement of expenses relating thereto) for acts or omissions occurring at or prior to the effective time of the first merger in favor of each current and former director or officer of AppliedMicro, when acting in their capacity as such (each an "AppliedMicro indemnitee" and collectively, the "AppliedMicro indemnitees"), existing on the date of the merger agreement as provided in the AppliedMicro Charter and the AppliedMicro Bylaws or certain indemnification agreements between AppliedMicro and such AppliedMicro indemnitees, will survive and continue in full force and effect for a period of six (6) years after the effective time.

The merger agreement also provides that from and after the effective time, the company surviving the second merger will indemnify and hold harmless each AppliedMicro indemnitee with respect to (a) all acts or omissions by AppliedMicro indemnitees in their capacity as such at any time at or prior to the effective time and (b) any costs or expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees), judgments, fines, losses, claims, damages, liabilities and amounts paid in settlement in connection with any claim, action, suit, proceeding or investigation, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative, to the extent arising out of or pertaining to the offer, the mergers, the merger agreement and any transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, in either case, in each of (a) and (b) to the extent provided by the AppliedMicro Charter and the AppliedMicro Bylaws or certain indemnification agreements between AppliedMicro and such AppliedMicro indemnitees.

From and after the effective time, MACOM will obtain and fully pay the premium for a six (6) year “tail” prepaid policy on terms and conditions no less advantageous to the AppliedMicro indemnitees than AppliedMicro’s directors’ and officers’ insurance policies and fiduciary liability insurance policies (“D&O insurance”) existing as of the date of the merger agreement with respect to any claim related to any period of time at or prior to the effective time or, if substantially equivalent or greater insurance coverage is unavailable, the best available coverage. In the alternative, AppliedMicro may purchase fully-prepaid, and the company surviving the second merger will maintain, for a period of at least six (6) years from the date of the merger agreement, D&O insurance in place as of the date of the merger agreement. In no event, however, will the company surviving the second merger nor MACOM be required to pay for such “tail” prepaid policy more than two hundred fifty percent (250%) of the annual premium paid by AppliedMicro as of the date of the merger agreement for its D&O insurance.

The foregoing summary of the indemnification of executive officers and directors and directors’ and officers’ insurance does not purport to be complete and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the merger agreement, a copy of which is attached to this document as Annex A and incorporated into this document by reference.

Executive Officer and Director Arrangements Following the Mergers

Although it is possible that certain AppliedMicro employees, including AppliedMicro’s executive officers will enter into arrangements with MACOM regarding employment, compensation or benefits prior to the consummation of the Offer, no such arrangements have been entered into as of the date hereof.

Effect of the Mergers on Employee Benefits

The merger agreement provides that, effective as of the effective time and until December 31, 2017, MACOM will provide, or will cause the surviving company to provide, to employees of AppliedMicro or any of its subsidiaries who are employed as of immediately prior to the effective time and who continue to be employed by MACOM or the surviving company or any of their respective subsidiaries following the effective time (the “AppliedMicro employees”), (i) base salaries or wage rates with respect to each AppliedMicro employee that are no less than provided to such AppliedMicro employee immediately prior to the effective time, (ii) employee benefits (other than equity-based compensation) and annual cash bonus opportunities that are substantially comparable to the aggregate employee benefits and annual cash bonus opportunities provided to (x) AppliedMicro employees immediately prior to the effective time or (y) at MACOM’s election, to similarly situated employees of MACOM and its subsidiaries (other than AppliedMicro and its subsidiaries) and (iii) severance benefits that are no less favorable than the severance benefits provided to such AppliedMicro employee immediately prior to the effective time. From and after the effective time, MACOM will, or will cause the surviving company to, continue to honor the milestone or other bonus plans and agreements disclosed by AppliedMicro at the signing of the merger agreement.

Following the effective time, MACOM will, or will cause the surviving company to, cause any employee benefit plans sponsored or maintained by MACOM or the surviving company or any of their subsidiaries in the United States in which AppliedMicro employees are eligible to participate following the closing date, other than any equity-based or qualified or non-qualified defined benefit or deferred compensation plans (collectively, the “post-closing plans”) to recognize the service of each AppliedMicro employee with AppliedMicro and its subsidiaries and their respective predecessors prior to the effective time for purposes of eligibility to participate and vesting under such post-closing plans, in each case, to the same extent such service was recognized immediately prior to the effective time under a comparable AppliedMicro benefit plan in which such AppliedMicro employee was eligible to participate immediately prior to the effective time; provided that such recognition of service will not operate to duplicate any benefits of an AppliedMicro employee with respect to the same period of service. Under each post-closing plan that provides medical, dental, pharmaceutical or vision insurance benefits, for the plan year in which such AppliedMicro employee is first eligible to participate,

MACOM will use reasonable best efforts to (A) cause any pre-existing condition limitations or eligibility waiting periods under such plan to be waived with respect to each AppliedMicro employee to the extent such limitation would have been waived or satisfied under the AppliedMicro benefit plan in which such AppliedMicro employee participated or was eligible to participate in immediately prior to the effective time, and (B) credit each AppliedMicro employee for an amount equal to any eligible expenses incurred by such AppliedMicro employee in the plan year that includes the effective time for purposes of any applicable deductible, coinsurance and annual out-of-pocket expense requirements under any such post-closing plan to the extent such expenses would have been credited under the terms of the applicable AppliedMicro benefit plans.

Unless requested by MACOM not later than ten (10) days prior to the closing date, AppliedMicro will take (or cause to be taken) all actions necessary or appropriate to terminate, effective no later than the day prior to the closing date, any AppliedMicro benefit plan that contains a cash or deferred arrangement intended to qualify under Section 401(k) of the Code (an "AppliedMicro 401(k) plan"). AppliedMicro will provide to MACOM prior to the closing date written evidence of the adoption by AppliedMicro's board of directors of resolutions authorizing the termination of such AppliedMicro 401(k) plan (the form and substance of which resolutions will be subject to the prior review and approval of MACOM, which approval will not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed). In the event of such 401(k) plan termination, MACOM will take all actions necessary to allow AppliedMicro employees who meet the age and service eligibility requirements under a 401(k) plan maintained by MACOM or its affiliates (the "MACOM 401(k) plan") to enroll as soon as reasonably practicable following the closing (and in no event later than sixty (60) days following the effective time) under the MACOM 401(k) plan and to make rollover contributions of "eligible rollover distributions" (within the meaning of Section 401(a)(31) of the Code), in the form of cash only. AppliedMicro will, and will cause its subsidiaries to, cooperate with MACOM in good faith (including by promptly furnishing such information as is requested by MACOM) in fulfilling MACOM's obligations described in this paragraph.

Certain Relationships With AppliedMicro

As of the date of this document, MACOM does not own any shares of AppliedMicro common stock. Neither MACOM nor the Purchaser has effected any transaction in the securities of AppliedMicro in the past sixty (60) days. To the best of MACOM and the Purchaser's knowledge, after reasonable inquiry, none of the directors or executive officers of MACOM or the Purchaser, nor any of their respective associates or majority-owned subsidiaries, beneficially owns or has the right to acquire any securities of AppliedMicro or has effected any transaction in the securities of AppliedMicro during the past sixty (60) days.

Source and Amount of Funds

MACOM estimates that the aggregate amount of cash consideration required to purchase the maximum amount of shares of AppliedMicro common stock sought in the offer is approximately $288 million, which is equal to $3.25 multiplied by 88,581,000 shares of AppliedMicro common stock (see Note 2 to the "Unaudited Pro Forma Condensed Combined Financial Statements" for the calculation of the estimated shares of AppliedMicro common stock entitled to the cash consideration), plus related costs and expenses. MACOM intends to use cash on hand to finance the cash portion of the transactions and the related costs and expenses.

Fees and Expenses

MACOM has retained D.F. King & Co., Inc., as the information agent (the "information agent") in connection with the offer and the first merger. The information agent may contact holders of shares by mail, email, telephone, facsimile or personal interview and may request brokers, dealers, commercial banks and trust companies and other nominees to forward material relating to the offer and the merger to beneficial owners of shares. MACOM will pay the information agent reasonable and customary compensation for its services in connection with the offer, will reimburse the information agent for its reasonable out-of-pocket expenses and will indemnify the information agent against certain liabilities and expenses, including certain liabilities under the U.S. federal securities laws.

In addition, MACOM has retained American Stock Transfer & Trust Company, LLC, as the exchange agent in connection with the offer and the first merger. MACOM will pay the exchange agent reasonable and customary compensation for its services in connection with the offer, will reimburse the exchange agent for its reasonable out-of-pocket expenses and will indemnify the exchange agent against certain liabilities and expenses, including certain liabilities under the U.S. federal securities laws.

MACOM will reimburse brokers, dealers, commercial banks and trust companies and other nominees, upon request, for customary clerical and mailing expenses incurred by them in forwarding materials related to the offer and the merger to their customers. Except as set forth above, neither MACOM nor the Purchaser will pay any fees or commissions to any broker, dealer or other person for soliciting tenders of shares pursuant to the offer.

Accounting Treatment

In accordance with GAAP, MACOM will account for the acquisition of shares in the transactions under the acquisition method of accounting for business combinations.

Stock Exchange Listing

Shares of MACOM common stock are listed on Nasdaq under the symbol "MTSI." MACOM intends to submit a supplemental listing application to list on Nasdaq the shares of MACOM common stock that MACOM will issue in the transactions as part of the transaction consideration. Such listing is a condition to completion of the transactions.

Resale of MACOM Common Stock

All MACOM common stock received by AppliedMicro stockholders as consideration in the offer and the first merger will be freely tradable for purposes of the Securities Act, except for MACOM common stock received by any person who is deemed an "affiliate" of MACOM at the time of the closing of the first merger. MACOM common stock held by an affiliate of MACOM may be resold or otherwise transferred without registration in compliance with the volume limitations, manner of sale requirements, notice requirements and other requirements under Rule 144 or as otherwise permitted under the Securities Act. This document does not cover resale of MACOM common stock received upon completion of the offer or the first merger by any person, and no person is authorized to make any use of this document in connection with any resale.

EXCHANGE OFFER PROCEDURES

Distribution of Offering Materials

This document, the related letter of transmittal and other relevant materials will be delivered to record holders of shares of AppliedMicro common stock and to brokers, dealers, commercial banks, trust companies and similar persons whose names, or the names of whose nominees, appear on AppliedMicro's stockholder list or, if applicable, who are listed as participants in a clearing agency's security position listing, so that they can in turn send these materials to beneficial owners of shares of AppliedMicro common stock.

Expiration of the Offer

The offer is scheduled to expire at 12:00 midnight, Eastern time, at the end of January 25, 2017, unless terminated or extended. "Expiration date" means January 25, 2017, unless and until the Purchaser has extended the period during which the offer is open, subject to the terms and conditions of the merger agreement, in which event the term "expiration date" means the latest time and date at which the offer, as so extended by the Purchaser, will expire.

Extension, Termination and Amendment of Offer

Unless the merger agreement has been terminated in accordance with its terms, (1) the Purchaser will extend the expiration date for any period required by applicable U.S. federal securities laws and the rules and regulations of the SEC and its staff or the rules and regulations of Nasdaq applicable to the offer (but in no event will the Purchaser be required to extend the offer past the end date) and (2) if at any scheduled expiration date any of the offer conditions have not been satisfied or earlier waived, the Purchaser may elect to, and if requested by AppliedMicro, will, extend the offer and the expiration date to a date that is not more than ten (10) business days after such previously scheduled expiration date, except that Purchaser will not be required to, but may in its sole and absolute discretion elect to, extend the offer on more than two (2) ten (10) day occasions if all conditions other than the minimum condition are satisfied (but in no event will the Purchaser be required to extend the offer beyond the end date if the Purchaser is entitled to terminate the merger agreement pursuant to Section 8.1(b) of the merger agreement and in no event will the Purchaser be permitted to extend the offer past the end date unless AppliedMicro has consented to such extension).

If the merger agreement is terminated in accordance with its terms, the Purchaser will promptly (and in any event within twenty-four (24) hours) irrevocably and unconditionally terminate the offer.

If the Purchaser does not accept any tendered AppliedMicro shares for exchange pursuant to the terms and conditions of the offer for any reason, including as a result of termination of the offer, the Purchaser will cause to be returned certificates for such unexchanged shares without expense to the tendering stockholder or, in the case of shares tendered by book-entry transfer into the exchange agent's account at DTC, the shares to be returned will be credited to an account maintained with DTC following any such termination of the offer.

Other than as described above, the Purchaser may not extend, terminate or withdraw the offer without the prior written consent of AppliedMicro.

Any decision to extend, terminate or withdraw the offer will be made public by an announcement.

The Purchaser expressly reserves the right to waive any offer condition or modify the terms of the offer, except that the Purchaser may not take the following actions without AppliedMicro's prior written consent: (1) reduce the number of shares of AppliedMicro common stock subject to the offer, (2) reduce the transaction consideration to be paid in the offer, (3) change the form of consideration payable in the offer, (4) waive, amend or modify the minimum condition or the offer conditions relating to receipt of regulatory approvals, effectiveness of the Form S-4 or approval for Nasdaq listing of the MACOM common stock to be issued in the transactions, (5) add any condition to the offer other than those offer conditions set forth in Annex A of the merger agreement, (6) amend, modify or supplement any offer condition in a manner adverse to AppliedMicro stockholders, (7) except as otherwise expressly required or permitted under the merger agreement, extend or terminate the offer, or (8) otherwise amend, modify or supplement any of the terms of the offer in any manner adverse (other than in an immaterial or de minimis way) to AppliedMicro stockholders.

In the case of any extension, the Purchaser will make a public announcement of such extension that is issued no later than 9:00 a.m., Eastern time, on the next business day following the previously scheduled expiration date. Subject to applicable law (including Rules 14d-4(c) and 14d-6(d) under the Exchange Act, which require that any material change in the information published, sent or given to stockholders in connection with the offer be promptly disseminated to stockholders in a manner reasonably designed to inform them of such change) and without limiting the manner in which the Purchaser may choose to make any public announcement, the Purchaser assumes no obligation to publish, advertise or otherwise communicate any such public announcement of this type other than by issuing a press release or making a public announcement.

If the Purchaser materially changes the terms of the offer or the information concerning the offer, or if the Purchaser waives a material condition of the offer, the Purchaser will extend the offer to the extent legally required under the Exchange Act.

For purposes of the offer, a “business day” means any day other than a Saturday, Sunday or any other day on which commercial banks in New York, New York are closed and consists of the time period from 12:01 a.m. through 12:00 midnight, Eastern time.

The parties do not anticipate making any subsequent offering period available after the offer.

Exchange of Shares

MACOM has retained American Stock Transfer & Trust Company, LLC as the exchange agent to handle the exchange of shares for the transaction consideration in both the offer and the first merger.

Upon the terms and subject to the satisfaction or waiver of the conditions of the offer (including, if the offer is extended or amended, the terms and conditions of any such extension or amendment), the Purchaser will accept for exchange promptly after the expiration date, and will thereafter promptly exchange the transaction consideration for, shares of AppliedMicro common stock validly tendered and not properly withdrawn. In all cases, an AppliedMicro stockholder will receive consideration for tendered AppliedMicro shares only after timely receipt by the exchange agent of certificates for those shares, or a confirmation of a book-entry transfer of those shares into the exchange agent’s account at DTC, a properly completed and duly executed letter of transmittal, or an agent’s message in connection with a book-entry transfer, and any other required documents.

For purposes of the offer, the Purchaser will be deemed to have accepted for exchange shares validly tendered and not properly withdrawn if and when it notifies the exchange agent of its acceptance of those shares pursuant to the offer. The exchange agent will deliver to the applicable AppliedMicro stockholders any cash and shares of MACOM common stock issuable in exchange for shares validly tendered and accepted pursuant to the offer promptly after receipt of such notice informing it of the Purchaser’s acceptance. The exchange agent will act as the agent for tendering AppliedMicro stockholders for the purpose of receiving cash and shares of MACOM common stock from the Purchaser and transmitting such cash and stock to the tendering AppliedMicro stockholders. AppliedMicro stockholders will not receive any interest on any cash that the Purchaser pays in the offer, even if there is a delay in making the exchange.

Without the prior written consent of AppliedMicro, the Purchaser shall not accept for payment or pay for any AppliedMicro shares if, as a result, the Purchaser would acquire less than the number of shares of AppliedMicro common stock necessary to satisfy the minimum condition to the offer.

If the Purchaser does not accept any tendered AppliedMicro shares for exchange pursuant to the terms and conditions of the offer for any reason, or if certificates are submitted representing more shares than are tendered for, the Purchaser will cause to be returned certificates for such unexchanged shares without expense to the tendering stockholder or, in the case of shares tendered by book-entry transfer into the exchange agent's account at DTC, the shares to be returned will be credited to an account maintained with DTC following expiration or termination of the offer.

Withdrawal Rights

AppliedMicro stockholders may withdraw tendered shares of AppliedMicro common stock at any time until the expiration date (as the same may be extended).

For the withdrawal of shares to be effective, the exchange agent must receive a written notice of withdrawal from the AppliedMicro stockholder at one of the addresses set forth elsewhere in this document, prior to the expiration time on the expiration date. The notice must include the AppliedMicro stockholder's name, address, social security number, the certificate number(s), if any, the number of shares to be withdrawn and the name of the registered holder, if it is different from that of the person who tendered those shares, and any other information required pursuant to the offer or the procedures of DTC, if applicable.

A financial institution must guarantee all signatures on the notice of withdrawal, unless the shares to be withdrawn were tendered for the account of an eligible institution (as defined below). Most banks, savings and loan associations and brokerage houses are able to provide signature guarantees. An "eligible institution" is a financial institution that is a participant in the Securities Transfer Agents Medallion Program.

If shares have been tendered pursuant to the procedures for book-entry transfer, any notice of withdrawal must specify the name and number of the account at DTC to be credited with the withdrawn shares and must otherwise comply with DTC's procedures. If certificates have been delivered or otherwise identified to the exchange agent, the name of the registered holder and the serial numbers of the particular certificates evidencing the shares withdrawn must also be furnished to the exchange agent, as stated above, prior to the physical release of such certificates.

The Purchaser will decide all questions as to the form and validity (including time of receipt) of any notice of withdrawal in its sole discretion, and its decision will be final and binding. None of the Purchaser, MACOM, AppliedMicro, the exchange agent, the information agent or any other person is under any duty to give notification of any defects or irregularities in any tender or notice of withdrawal or will incur any liability for failure to give any such notification. Any shares properly withdrawn will be deemed not to have been validly tendered for purposes of the offer. However, an AppliedMicro stockholder may re-tender withdrawn shares by following the applicable procedures discussed under the section "Exchange Offer Procedures-Procedures for Tendering" at any time prior to the expiration date.

Procedures for Tendering

To validly tender shares of AppliedMicro common stock held of record, AppliedMicro stockholders must:

- if such shares are in certificated form or Direct Registration Form, deliver a properly completed and duly executed letter of transmittal, along with any required signature guarantees and any other required documents, and certificates, if applicable, for tendered AppliedMicro shares to the exchange agent for the offer, at its address set forth elsewhere in this document, all of which must be received by the exchange agent prior to the expiration date; or
- if such shares are in electronic book-entry form, deliver an agent's message in connection with a book-entry transfer, and any other required documents, to the exchange agent at its address set forth elsewhere in this document and follow the other procedures for book-entry tender set forth herein, all of which must be received by the exchange agent prior to the expiration date.

If shares of AppliedMicro common stock are held in “street name” (i.e., through a broker, dealer, commercial bank, trust company or other nominee), those shares may be tendered by the nominee holding such shares by book-entry transfer through DTC. To validly tender such shares held in street name, AppliedMicro stockholders should instruct such nominee to do so prior to the expiration date.

The term “agent’s message” means a message transmitted by DTC to, and received by, the exchange agent and forming a part of a book-entry confirmation, which states that DTC has received an express acknowledgment from the DTC participant tendering the shares that are the subject of such book-entry confirmation, that such participant has received and agrees to be bound by the terms of the letter of transmittal and that the Purchaser may enforce that agreement against such participant.

The exchange agent has established an account with respect to the shares at DTC in connection with the offer, and any financial institution that is a participant in DTC may make book-entry delivery of shares by causing DTC to transfer such shares prior to the expiration date into the exchange agent’s account in accordance with DTC’s procedure for such transfer. However, although delivery of shares may be effected through book-entry transfer at DTC, the letter of transmittal with any required signature guarantees, or an agent’s message, along with any other required documents, must, in any case, be received by the exchange agent at one of its addresses set forth elsewhere in this document prior to the expiration date. The Purchaser cannot assure AppliedMicro stockholders that book-entry delivery of shares will be available. If book-entry delivery is not available, AppliedMicro stockholders must tender shares by means of delivery of AppliedMicro share certificates. The Purchaser is not providing for guaranteed delivery procedures and therefore AppliedMicro stockholders must allow sufficient time for the necessary tender procedures to be completed during normal business hours of DTC prior to the expiration date. Tendered shares received by the exchange agent after the expiration date will be disregarded and of no effect.

Signatures on all letters of transmittal must be guaranteed by an eligible institution, except in cases in which shares are tendered either by a registered holder of shares who has not completed the box entitled “Special Issuance Instructions” or the box entitled “Special Delivery Instructions” on the letter of transmittal or for the account of an eligible institution.

If the certificates for shares are registered in the name of a person other than the person who signs the letter of transmittal, or if certificates for unexchanged shares are to be issued to a person other than the registered holder(s), the certificates must be endorsed or accompanied by appropriate stock powers, in either case signed exactly as the name or names of the registered owner or owners appear on the certificates, with the signature or signatures on the certificates or stock powers guaranteed by an eligible institution.

The method of delivery of AppliedMicro share certificates and all other required documents, including delivery through DTC, is at the option and risk of the tendering AppliedMicro stockholder, and delivery will be deemed made only when actually received by the exchange agent. If delivery is by mail, the Purchaser recommends registered mail with return receipt requested and properly insured. In all cases, AppliedMicro stockholders should allow sufficient time to ensure timely delivery.

To prevent U.S. federal backup withholding, each AppliedMicro stockholder that is a U.S. person, other than a stockholder exempt from backup withholding as described elsewhere in this document, must provide the exchange agent with its correct taxpayer identification number and certify that it is not subject to backup withholding by completing the Internal Revenue Service (“IRS”) Form W-9 included with the letter of transmittal. Certain stockholders (including, among others, certain foreign persons) are not subject to these backup withholding requirements. In order for a foreign person to qualify as an exempt recipient for purposes of U.S. backup withholding, the stockholder must submit an IRS Form W-8BEN, or other applicable IRS Form W-8, signed under penalties of perjury, attesting to such person’s exempt status. In addition, foreign persons may be subject to U.S. federal withholding tax with respect to cash received pursuant to the offer. See “Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences.”

The tender of shares pursuant to any of the procedures described above will constitute a binding agreement between the Purchaser and the tendering AppliedMicro stockholder upon the terms and subject to the satisfaction or waiver of the conditions of the offer (including, if the offer is extended or amended, the terms and conditions of any such extension or amendment).

No Guaranteed Delivery

The Purchaser is not providing for guaranteed delivery procedures, and therefore AppliedMicro stockholders must allow sufficient time for the necessary tender procedures to be completed during normal business hours of DTC prior to the expiration date. AppliedMicro stockholders must tender their AppliedMicro shares in accordance with the procedures set forth in this document. In all cases, the Purchaser will exchange shares tendered and accepted for exchange pursuant to the offer only after timely receipt by the exchange agent of certificates for shares (or timely confirmation of a book-entry transfer of such shares into the exchange agent's account at DTC as described elsewhere in this document), a properly completed and duly executed letter of transmittal (or an agent's message in connection with a book-entry transfer) and any other required documents.

Fees and Commissions

Tendering registered AppliedMicro stockholders who tender shares directly to the exchange agent will not be obligated to pay any charges or expenses of the exchange agent or any brokerage commissions. Tendering AppliedMicro stockholders who hold AppliedMicro shares through a broker, dealer, commercial bank, trust company or other nominee should consult that institution as to whether or not such institution will charge the stockholder any service fees in connection with tendering shares pursuant to the offer. Except as set forth in the instructions to the letter of transmittal, transfer taxes on the exchange of shares pursuant to the offer will be paid by the Purchaser.

Matters Concerning Validity and Eligibility

The Purchaser will determine questions as to the validity, form, eligibility (including time of receipt) and acceptance for exchange of any tender of shares, in its sole discretion, and its determination will be final and binding. The Purchaser reserves the absolute right to reject any and all tenders of shares that it determines are not in the proper form or the acceptance of or exchange for which may be unlawful. The Purchaser also reserves the absolute right, subject to applicable laws, to waive any defect or irregularity in the tender of any shares. No tender of shares will be deemed to have been validly made until all defects and irregularities in tenders of such shares have been cured or waived. None of the Purchaser, MACOM, AppliedMicro, the exchange agent, the information agent or any other person will be under any duty to give notification of any defects or irregularities in the tender of any shares or will incur any liability for failure to give any such notification. The Purchaser's interpretation of the terms and conditions of the offer (including the letter of transmittal and instructions thereto) will be final and binding.

AppliedMicro stockholders who have any questions about the procedure for tendering shares in the offer should contact the information agent at the address and telephone number set forth elsewhere in this document.

Announcement of Results of the Offer

MACOM will announce the final results of the offer, including whether all of the conditions to the offer have been satisfied or waived and whether the Purchaser will accept the tendered shares of AppliedMicro common stock for exchange, as promptly as practicable following the expiration date. The announcement will be made by a press release in accordance with applicable securities laws and stock exchange requirements.

No Stockholder Approval

Section 251(h) of the DGCL provides that following consummation of a successful tender offer for a public corporation, and subject to certain statutory provisions, if the acquiring corporation owns at least the amount of shares of each class of stock of the target corporation that would otherwise be required to approve a merger involving the target corporation, and the other stockholders receive the same consideration for their stock in the merger as was payable in the tender offer, the acquiring corporation can effect a merger without the action of the other stockholders of the target corporation. Accordingly, if the offer is completed, it will mean that the minimum condition has been satisfied, and if the minimum condition has been satisfied, it will mean that the first merger will be subject to Section 251(h) of the DGCL. Accordingly, if the offer is completed, MACOM intends to affect the closing of the first merger without a vote of the AppliedMicro stockholders in accordance with Section 251(h) of the DGCL.

Non-Applicability of Rules Regarding “Going Private” Transactions

The SEC has adopted Rule 13e-3 under the Exchange Act, which is applicable to certain “going private” transactions, and which may under certain circumstances be applicable to the first merger or another business combination following the purchase of shares pursuant to the offer in which the Purchaser seeks to acquire the remaining shares not held by it. The Purchaser believes that Rule 13e-3 will not be applicable to the first merger because it is anticipated that the first merger will be effected within one year following the consummation of the offer and, in the first merger, stockholders will receive the same consideration as that paid in the offer.

Effect of the Offer on the Market for AppliedMicro Common Stock

The purchase of shares of AppliedMicro common stock by the Purchaser pursuant to the offer will reduce the number of holders of shares of AppliedMicro common stock, and the number of shares of AppliedMicro common stock that might otherwise trade publicly and could adversely affect the liquidity and market value of the remaining shares held by the public. The extent of the public market for shares of AppliedMicro common stock after consummation of the offer and the availability of quotations for such shares will depend upon a number of factors, including the number of AppliedMicro stockholders, the aggregate market value of the shares of AppliedMicro common stock held by the public at such time, the interest in maintaining a market in the shares of AppliedMicro common stock, analyst coverage of AppliedMicro on the part of any securities firms and other factors. It is anticipated that, because the first merger will be subject to Section 251(h) of the DGCL if the offer is consummated, the first merger will be consummated on the same day that the offer is consummated. As a result of the first merger, shares of AppliedMicro common stock will no longer qualify for inclusion on Nasdaq and will be withdrawn from listing.

Nasdaq Listing

The shares of AppliedMicro common stock are currently listed on Nasdaq. However, the rules of Nasdaq establish certain criteria that, if not met, could lead to the discontinuance of listing of the shares of AppliedMicro common stock from Nasdaq. Among such criteria are the number of stockholders, the number of shares publicly held and the aggregate market value of the shares publicly held. If, as a result of the purchase of shares of AppliedMicro common stock pursuant to the offer, shares of AppliedMicro common stock no longer meet the requirements of Nasdaq for continued listing and the listing of shares of AppliedMicro common stock is discontinued, the market for such shares would be adversely affected.

Following the consummation of the offer, if the first merger is for some reason not consummated, it is possible that shares of AppliedMicro common stock would be traded on other securities exchanges (with trades published by such exchanges), the OTC Bulletin Board or in a local or regional over-the-counter market. The extent of the public market for such shares would, however, depend upon the number of AppliedMicro stockholders and the aggregate market value of shares of AppliedMicro common stock remaining at such time, the interest in maintaining a market in such shares on the part of securities firms, the possible termination of registration of shares of AppliedMicro common stock under the Exchange Act and other factors. As a result of the first merger, shares of AppliedMicro common stock will no longer qualify for inclusion on Nasdaq and will be withdrawn from listing.

Registration Under the Exchange Act

The shares of AppliedMicro common stock are currently registered under the Exchange Act. Such registration may be terminated upon application by AppliedMicro to the SEC if AppliedMicro shares are neither listed on a national securities exchange nor held by 300 or more holders of record. Termination of registration of AppliedMicro shares under the Exchange Act would substantially reduce the information required to be furnished by AppliedMicro to its stockholders and to the SEC and would make certain provisions of the Exchange Act no longer applicable to AppliedMicro, such as the short-swing profit recovery provisions of Section 16(b) of the Exchange Act, the requirement of furnishing a proxy statement pursuant to Section 14(a) of the Exchange Act in connection with meetings of stockholders and the related requirement of furnishing an annual report to stockholders and the requirements of Rule 13e-3 under the Exchange Act with respect to “going private” transactions. Furthermore, the ability of “affiliates” of AppliedMicro and persons holding “restricted securities” of AppliedMicro to dispose of such securities pursuant to Rule 144 promulgated under the Securities Act may be impaired. If registration of shares of AppliedMicro common stock under the Exchange Act were terminated, such shares would no longer be “margin securities” or be eligible for listing on Nasdaq. After consummation of the offer, MACOM and the Purchaser currently intend to cause AppliedMicro to terminate the registration of AppliedMicro shares under the Exchange Act as soon as the requirements for termination of registration are met.

Margin Regulations

The shares of AppliedMicro common stock are currently “margin securities” under the Regulations of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (the “Federal Reserve Board”), which designation has the effect, among other effects, of allowing brokers to extend credit on the collateral of such shares of AppliedMicro common stock. Depending upon factors similar to those described above regarding the market for AppliedMicro shares and stock quotations, it is possible that, following the offer, shares of AppliedMicro common stock would no longer constitute “margin securities” for the purposes of the margin regulations of the Federal Reserve Board and, therefore, could no longer be used as collateral for loans made by brokers. As a result of the first merger, shares of AppliedMicro common stock will no longer constitute “margin securities.”

MERGER AGREEMENT

The following summary describes certain material provisions of the merger agreement entered into by MACOM, the Purchaser and AppliedMicro, a copy of which is attached to this document as Annex A and incorporated into this document by reference. This summary may not contain all of the information about the merger agreement that is important to AppliedMicro stockholders, and AppliedMicro stockholders are encouraged to read the merger agreement carefully in its entirety. The legal rights and obligations of the parties are governed by the specific language of the merger agreement and not this summary.

The summary of the merger agreement is intended to provide information regarding the terms of the merger agreement and is not intended to modify or supplement any factual disclosures about MACOM or AppliedMicro in its public reports filed with the SEC. In particular, the merger agreement and the related summary are not intended to be, and should not be relied upon as, disclosures regarding any facts and circumstances relating to any party to the merger agreement. The merger agreement includes representations, warranties and covenants of the parties thereto made solely for the benefit of such parties. The assertions embodied in those representations and warranties were made solely for purposes of the contract among the parties to the merger agreement and may be subject to important qualifications and limitations agreed to by the parties thereto in connection with the negotiated terms. Moreover, some of those representations and warranties may not be accurate or complete as of any specified date, may be subject to a contractual standard of materiality different from those generally applicable to MACOM's or AppliedMicro's SEC filings or may have been used for purposes of allocating risk among the parties rather than establishing matters as facts. AppliedMicro stockholders should not rely on the representations, warranties and covenants or any description thereof as characterizations of the actual state of facts of the parties to the merger agreement.

The Offer

The Purchaser is offering to exchange the transaction consideration for each outstanding share of AppliedMicro common stock that is validly tendered in the offer and not properly withdrawn.

The Purchaser's obligation to accept for exchange and to exchange shares of AppliedMicro common stock validly tendered in the offer and not properly withdrawn is subject to the satisfaction or waiver of certain conditions, including there having been validly tendered and not properly withdrawn prior to the expiration of the offer a number of shares of AppliedMicro common stock that, together with the shares of AppliedMicro common stock then owned by MACOM, the Purchaser and MACOM's other subsidiaries, represents at least a majority of all then-outstanding shares of AppliedMicro common stock. This condition is referred to as the "minimum condition." See "The Merger Agreement – Conditions to the Transaction – Conditions to the Offer" for a description of the other offer conditions.

The offer is scheduled to expire at 12:00 midnight, Eastern time, at the end of January 25, 2017, unless extended or terminated. Any extension, delay, termination, waiver or amendment of the offer will be followed by public announcement thereof. During any such extension, all shares previously tendered and not properly withdrawn will remain subject to the offer, subject to the rights of a tendering stockholder to withdraw such stockholder's shares. "Expiration date" means January 25, 2017, unless and until the Purchaser has extended the period during which the offer is open, subject to the terms and conditions of the merger agreement, in which even the term "expiration date" means the latest time and date at which the offer, as so extended by the Purchaser, will expire.

Subject to the provisions of the merger agreement, and unless the merger agreement has been terminated in accordance with its terms, (1) the Purchaser will extend the expiration date for any period required by applicable U.S. federal securities laws and the rules and regulations of the SEC and its staff or the rules and regulations of Nasdaq applicable to the offer (but in no event will the Purchaser be required to extend the offer past the end date, subject to extension to June 30, 2017 under certain circumstances to cure breaches by either party of their representations and warranties) and (2) if at any scheduled expiration date any of the offer conditions have not been satisfied or earlier waived, the Purchaser may elect to, and if requested by AppliedMicro, will, extend the offer and the expiration date to a date that is not more than ten (10) business days after such previously scheduled expiration date, except that Purchaser will not be required to, but may in its sole and absolute discretion elect to, extend the offer on more than two (2) ten (10) business day occasions if all conditions other than the minimum offer condition are satisfied (but in no event will the Purchaser be required to extend the offer beyond the end date if the Purchaser is entitled to terminate the merger agreement under its terms and in no event will the Purchaser be permitted to extend the offer past the end date unless AppliedMicro has consented to such extension).

Other than as described above, the Purchaser may not extend, terminate or withdraw the offer without the prior written consent of AppliedMicro.

See “Exchange Offer Procedures – Extension, Termination and Amendment of Offer.”

The Mergers

The first merger and second merger will be completed as soon as practicable after the satisfaction or waiver of the closing conditions and following the consummation of the offer. The first merger refers to the merger of AppliedMicro with and into the Purchaser, with AppliedMicro surviving the first merger. The first merger will be governed by Section 251(h) of the DGCL, and accordingly no stockholder vote will be required to consummate the merger. As such, MACOM anticipates that, the first merger will be completed on or about the same day as completion of the offer. The second merger refers to the merger of AppliedMicro, as the company surviving the first merger, with and into Merger Sub, with Merger Sub surviving the second merger. After the first merger, AppliedMicro will be a direct wholly owned subsidiary of MACOM, and the former stockholders of AppliedMicro will no longer have any direct ownership interest in the first surviving company. From and after the second effective time, the surviving company holding the AppliedMicro business will be a limited liability company rather than a corporation.

Each merger will become effective upon the issuance of a certificate of merger by the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware unless a later date is specified therein. The first merger (the merger of the Purchaser with and into AppliedMicro) must precede the second merger (the merger of the corporation surviving the first merger with and into Merger Sub).

Effect of the Mergers

At the effective time, by virtue of the first merger and without any action on the part of the parties to the merger agreement or the holder of any shares of AppliedMicro common stock or on the part of the sole stockholder of the Purchaser:

- Each share of AppliedMicro common stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the effective time that is owned or held in treasury by AppliedMicro and each share of AppliedMicro common stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the effective time that is owned by MACOM, the Purchaser or any other direct or indirect wholly owned subsidiary of MACOM will no longer be outstanding and will automatically be cancelled and retired and will cease to exist, and no consideration will be delivered in exchange therefor (the “cancelled shares”).
- Each share of AppliedMicro common stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the effective time (other than any cancelled shares and any dissenting shares) will be automatically converted into the right to receive the transaction consideration. From and after the effective time, each applicable holder of such shares of AppliedMicro common stock will cease to have any rights with respect thereto, all such shares of AppliedMicro common stock will no longer be outstanding and will automatically be cancelled and retired and will cease to exist, and uncertificated shares of AppliedMicro common stock represented by book-entry form (“book-entry shares”) and each certificate that, immediately prior to the effective time, represented any such shares of AppliedMicro common stock will thereafter represent only the right to receive the transaction consideration upon the surrender of such shares of AppliedMicro common stock.

- Any shares of AppliedMicro common stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the effective time and held by a person (a “dissenting stockholder”) who has not tendered into the offer and has complied with all the provisions of the DGCL concerning the right of holders of shares of AppliedMicro common stock to require appraisal of their shares (the “appraisal provisions”) of AppliedMicro common stock (“dissenting shares”), to the extent the appraisal provisions are applicable, will not be converted into the right to receive the transaction consideration, but will become the right to receive such consideration as may be determined to be due to such dissenting stockholder pursuant to the procedures set forth in Section 262 of the DGCL. If such dissenting stockholder, after the effective time, withdraws its demand for appraisal or fails to perfect or otherwise loses its right of appraisal, in any case pursuant to the DGCL, each of such dissenting stockholder’s shares of AppliedMicro common stock will thereupon be treated as though such shares of AppliedMicro common stock had been converted as of the effective time into the right to receive the transaction consideration.
- Each issued and outstanding share of common stock of the Purchaser will be automatically converted into and become one fully paid and nonassessable share of common stock of the corporation surviving the first merger and will constitute the only outstanding shares of capital stock of the corporation surviving the first merger.

At the second effective time, by virtue of the second merger and without any action on the part of any of the parties or holders of any securities of the corporation surviving the first merger or Merger Sub:

- Each membership interest of Merger Sub issued and outstanding immediately prior to the second effective time will remain outstanding as a membership interest of the company surviving the second merger.
- All shares of common stock of the company surviving the first merger will no longer be outstanding and will automatically be cancelled and will cease to exist without any consideration being payable therefor.

The effects of the mergers will be as provided in the merger agreement and in the applicable provisions of the DGCL and the DLLCA. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, and subject thereto, (a) at the effective time, all of the property, rights, privileges, powers and franchises of AppliedMicro and the Purchaser will vest in the company surviving the first merger, and all debts, liabilities and duties of AppliedMicro and the Purchaser will become the debts, liabilities and duties of the company surviving the first merger, all as provided under the DGCL and (b) at the second effective time, all of the property, rights, privileges, powers and franchises of the company surviving the first merger and Merger Sub will vest in the company surviving the second merger, and all debts, liabilities and duties of the company surviving the first merger and Merger Sub will become the debts, liabilities and duties of the company surviving the second merger, all as provided under the DGCL and the DLLCA.

Transaction Consideration

The transaction consideration consists of, for each share of AppliedMicro common stock:

- Cash Consideration. $3.25 in cash, without interest and less any applicable withholding taxes; and

- Stock Consideration. 0.1089 shares of MACOM common stock, together with cash in lieu of any fractional shares of MACOM common stock, without interest and less any applicable withholding taxes.

Fractional Shares

MACOM will not issue fractional shares of MACOM common stock in the offer or the first merger. Each holder of AppliedMicro common stock who otherwise would be entitled to receive a fraction of a share of MACOM common stock pursuant to the offer (after aggregating all shares of AppliedMicro common stock tendered in the offer (and not validly withdrawn) by such holder) will be paid an amount in cash (without interest) equal to such fractional part of a share of MACOM common stock multiplied by the volume weighted average price per share (calculated to the nearest one-hundredth of one cent) of MACOM common stock on Nasdaq for the consecutive period of ten (10) trading days beginning on the thirteenth (13th) trading day immediately preceding the closing date and concluding at the close of trading on the third (3rd) trading day immediately preceding the closing date.

Each holder of AppliedMicro common stock that was converted into the right to receive the transaction consideration in the first merger who otherwise would be entitled to receive a fraction of a share of MACOM common stock pursuant to the offer (after aggregating all shares of AppliedMicro common stock tendered in the offer (and not validly withdrawn) by such holder) will be entitled to receive, in lieu thereof, an amount in cash (without interest) equal to such fractional part of a share of MACOM common stock (after taking into account all shares of AppliedMicro common stock held by such holder at the effective time and rounded to the nearest one thousandth when expressed in decimal form) multiplied by the MACOM trading price, rounded to the nearest one-hundredth of a cent.

No such holder will be entitled to dividends, voting rights or any other rights in respect of any fractional share of MACOM common stock.

Exchange of AppliedMicro Stock Certificates for the Transaction Consideration

MACOM has retained American Stock Transfer & Trust Company, LLC as the exchange agent for the offer and the first merger to handle the exchange of shares of AppliedMicro common stock for the transaction consideration.

To effect the exchange of shares of AppliedMicro common stock that were converted into the right to receive the transaction consideration in the first merger, promptly after the effective time, the exchange agent will mail to each record holder of AppliedMicro shares of common stock a letter of transmittal and instructions for surrendering the stock certificates or book-entry shares that formerly represented shares for the transaction consideration. After surrender to the exchange agent of the stock certificates or book-entry shares that formerly represented shares of AppliedMicro common stock, together with a duly completed and validly executed letter of transmittal and any other documents as may customarily be required by the exchange agent, the record holder of the surrendered shares will be entitled to receive the transaction consideration (including cash in lieu of any fractional shares), and the payment of any dividends or other distributions, without interest, which prior to proper exchange of such shares had become payable with respect to the MACOM common stock issuable as stock consideration in respect of such shares.

After the effective time, each stock certificate formerly representing shares of AppliedMicro common stock that has not been surrendered will represent only the right to receive upon such surrender the transaction consideration to which such holder is entitled by virtue of the first merger and any dividends or other distributions payable to such holder upon such surrender.

As promptly as practicable following the effective time of the first merger, the exchange agent will determine the excess of the number of whole shares of MACOM common stock issued and delivered representing the transaction consideration over the aggregate number of whole shares of MACOM common stock to be distributed to former AppliedMicro stockholders (determined before taking into account any shares of MACOM common stock withheld pursuant to the terms of the merger agreement). Following the effective time, the exchange agent will, on behalf of the former AppliedMicro stockholders, sell the excess shares at then prevailing prices on Nasdaq, through one or more member firms of Nasdaq, and in round lots to the extent practicable. The exchange agent will use reasonable best efforts to complete the sale of the excess shares as promptly following the effective time is practicable, consistent with obtaining the best execution of such sales in light of prevailing market conditions. Until the net proceeds of such sale or sales have been distributed to the former AppliedMicro stockholders, the exchange agent will hold such proceeds in the exchange fund.

Treatment of AppliedMicro Equity Awards; Employee Stock Purchase Plan

Consideration for AppliedMicro Options

Vested in-the-Money AppliedMicro Options

As of the effective time each vested in-the-money AppliedMicro option will be cancelled and thereafter will only entitle the holder of such AppliedMicro option to receive (without interest) an amount in cash and a number of shares of MACOM common stock equal to the option consideration. The option consideration will be paid in cash and MACOM common stock in the same proportion as is paid to AppliedMicro stockholders generally in connection with the transactions, except that MACOM may pay the option consideration in cash in excess of such proportion or wholly in cash.

Other AppliedMicro Options

As of the effective time each AppliedMicro option other than a vested in-the-money AppliedMicro option that is outstanding and unexercised as of immediately prior to the effective time will be cancelled as of immediately prior to the effective time and converted into, as of the effective time, and thereafter evidence a rollover option award. Each rollover option will have an exercise price per share of MACOM common stock (rounded up to the nearest whole cent) equal to (1)(A) the per share exercise price for the corresponding AppliedMicro option, divided by (B) the fair market value of one share of AppliedMicro common stock, which quotient will be multiplied by (2) the fair market value of one share of MACOM common stock (with the fair market value of AppliedMicro common stock and MACOM common stock determined based on their respective closing prices on Nasdaq on the last trading day immediately prior to the effective time), and will be subject to the same vesting terms and conditions as had been applied to the corresponding AppliedMicro option immediately prior to the effective time, subject to such modifications as required for the conversion to be consistent with exemption from Sections 409A and 424 of the Code or as may be reasonably determined by MACOM.

Consideration for AppliedMicro RSUs

Vested AppliedMicro RSUs

As of the effective time, each vested AppliedMicro RSU will be settled in that number of shares of AppliedMicro common stock underlying the vested AppliedMicro RSU as of the effective time and thereafter will entitle the holder of such vested AppliedMicro RSU to receive (without interest) an amount in cash and a number of shares of MACOM common stock equal to the RSU consideration. The RSU consideration will be paid in cash and MACOM common stock in the same proportion as is paid to stockholders generally in connection with the transactions, except that MACOM may pay the RSU consideration in cash in excess of such proportion or wholly in cash.

Unvested AppliedMicro RSUs

As of the effective time, each unvested AppliedMicro RSU will be cancelled as of immediately prior to the effective time and converted into and thereafter evidence a rollover RSU award. Each rollover RSU will be subject to the same vesting terms and conditions as had been applied to the corresponding unvested AppliedMicro RSU immediately prior to the effective time, except for such terms rendered inoperative by reason of the merger (including, to the extent an MSU vests in accordance with its terms as of immediately prior to the effective time or is deemed to vest under the severance plan, as applicable, the elimination of all AppliedMicro common stock price vesting criteria that applied to MSUs prior to the effective time) subject to such adjustments as are reasonably determined by MACOM to be necessary or desirable to give effect to such conversion and the Transactions. Each MSU (or portion thereof) will terminate without consideration immediately prior to the effective time to the extent that the applicable performance criteria have not been satisfied (or deemed satisfied under the severance plan) as of the effective time.

ESPP

Prior to the earlier of the effective time and the commencement of the next regularly scheduled offering period under the ESPP, AppliedMicro will take all actions necessary to ensure that no offering period or purchase period will be authorized or commenced, other than the offering period that commenced on August 1, 2016, that no new participant may begin to participate in the ESPP, and that the purchase price of shares shall not be decreased below the levels set forth in the ESPP on the date of the merger agreement. If closing occurs prior to the end of the offering period in effect on the date of the merger agreement, AppliedMicro will cause the rights of participants to be determined by treating the last business day prior to the effective time as the last day of such offering period and purchase period, with any shares purchased under the ESPP cancelled and converted into the right to receive transaction consideration and any funds remaining in any participant's account after such purchase to be promptly returned. AppliedMicro will terminate the ESPP and all rights under it effective as of and contingent upon the effective time.

Conditions to the Transactions

Completion of the offer is subject to a number of conditions. If such conditions are satisfied or waived and the offer is completed, completion of the mergers is subject to two further conditions, and the mergers will be completed as soon as practicable after the offer is completed subject to the satisfaction or waiver of such two further conditions.

Conditions to the Offer

Completion of the offer is subject to a number of conditions. If such conditions are satisfied or waived and the offer is completed, the mergers will be completed as soon as practicable after the offer is completed. The Purchaser will not be required to, and MACOM will not be required to cause the Purchaser to, accept for payment any tendered shares of AppliedMicro common stock if, at the time that the offer expires:

- Regulatory Approval – any waiting period (and extensions thereof) applicable to the offer and the mergers under the HSR Act has not expired or been terminated, which required waiting period with respect to the offer and the mergers was terminated by the FTC and the Antitrust Division on December 12, 2016;

- Minimum Condition – there have not been validly tendered in the offer, and not properly withdrawn, a number of shares of AppliedMicro common stock that, together with the shares of AppliedMicro common stock (if any) then owned by MACOM, the Purchaser and MACOM’s other subsidiaries, represents at least a majority of all then-outstanding shares of MACOM common stock;
- Effectiveness of Form S-4 – the registration statement on Form S-4 relating to the exchange offer (of which this document is a part) has not been declared effective by the SEC under the Securities Act or a stop order suspending the effectiveness of such Form S-4 has been issued by the SEC or proceedings for that purpose have been initiated or threatened by the SEC (provided that MACOM will not be entitled to invoke this condition to avoid accepting shares in the offer if it has not complied in all material respects with its obligations under the merger agreement with respect to preparing and filing the Form S-4 with the SEC);
- Listing of MACOM Common Stock – the shares of MACOM common stock issued in connection with the offer and the mergers have not been approved for listing on Nasdaq, subject to official notice of issuance (provided that MACOM will not be entitled to invoke this condition to avoid accepting shares in the offer if it has not complied in all material respects with its obligations under the merger agreement with respect to submitting the requisite listing application to Nasdaq); or
- Other Conditions – any of the following has occurred and continues to exist as of the expiration date of the offer:
 - No Legal Prohibition – an injunction by any court or other tribunal of competent jurisdiction will have been entered and will continue to be in effect, or a law will have been adopted or be effective, in each case that prohibits or makes illegal the consummation of the offer or the mergers;
 - Accuracy of AppliedMicro’s Representations – (i) the representations and warranties of AppliedMicro contained in Section 4.1(a) (regarding AppliedMicro’s corporate good standing and governmental approvals), Section 4.3(a) and Section 4.3(b) (regarding AppliedMicro’s corporate authority to enter the agreement), and Section 4.22 (regarding AppliedMicro’s use of finders or brokers in the transaction) are not true and correct in all material respects as of the date of the merger agreement and as of the expiration date as if made as of such date, (ii) the representations and warranties of AppliedMicro contained in Section 4.2(a) (regarding AppliedMicro’s current capitalization and indebtedness) are not true and correct other than in de minimis respects as of the date of the merger agreement and as of the expiration date, as if made as of such date (except for those representations and warranties which address matters only as of an earlier date which will have been true and correct as of such earlier date), and (iii) the other representations and warranties of AppliedMicro contained in Article IV of the merger agreement are not true and correct (without giving effect to any exception or qualification contained therein relating to materiality or a Company Material Adverse Effect (as described below)) as of the date of the merger agreement and as of the expiration date, as if made as of such date (except for those representations and warranties which address matters only as of an earlier date which were true and correct as of such earlier date), except in the case of this clause (iii), where the failure of such other representations and warranties to be true and correct, individually or in the aggregate, has not had, or would not be reasonably expected to have, a Company Material Adverse Effect;
 - AppliedMicro’s Compliance with Covenants – AppliedMicro has failed to perform and comply with, in all material respects, its covenants required by the merger agreement to be performed by it at or prior to the expiration date;
 - AppliedMicro Closing Certificate – AppliedMicro has failed to deliver to MACOM a certificate, signed by AppliedMicro’s Chief Executive Officer or another senior officer, certifying to the effect that the conditions regarding the accuracy of its representations and warranties and compliance with its covenants have been satisfied;

- AppliedMicro Tax Opinion – AppliedMicro has not received an opinion of Pillsbury Winthrop Shaw Pittman LLP, in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to AppliedMicro, dated as of the date of the expiration of the offer, to the effect that, on the basis of certain facts, representations and assumptions described or referred to in such opinion, the offer and the mergers, taken together, will qualify as a “reorganization” within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code;
- MACOM Tax Opinion – MACOM has not received an opinion of Ropes & Gray LLP, in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to MACOM, dated as of the date of the expiration of the offer, to the effect that, on the basis of certain facts, representations and assumptions described or referred to in such opinion, the offer and the mergers, taken together, will qualify as a “reorganization” within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code; or
- Termination of Merger Agreement – the merger agreement has been terminated in accordance with its terms.

The Purchaser expressly reserves the right to waive any offer condition or modify the terms of the offer, except that, without the prior written consent of AppliedMicro, the Purchaser will not, and MACOM will not permit the Purchaser to, (i) reduce the number of shares of AppliedMicro common stock subject to the offer, (ii) reduce the transaction consideration to be paid in the offer, (iii) change the form of consideration payable in the offer, (iv) waive, amend or modify any of the conditions set forth in the first four bullet points above, (v) add any condition to the offer other than those set forth above, (vi) amend, modify or supplement any offer condition in any manner adverse to the holders of AppliedMicro common stock, (vii) except as otherwise expressly required or permitted under the merger agreement, terminate or extend the offer, or (viii) otherwise amend, modify or supplement any of the terms of the offer in any manner adverse (other than in an immaterial or de minimis way) to the holders of AppliedMicro common stock.

Conditions to the Mergers Following Completion of the Offer

The respective obligations of each party to effect the mergers are subject to the satisfaction or waiver of the following two conditions:

- Consummation of Offer – the Purchaser has accepted for payment and paid for all of the shares of AppliedMicro common stock validly tendered in the offer and not properly withdrawn; and
- No Legal Prohibition – no order, injunction, decree or ruling (whether temporary, preliminary or permanent) enacted, promulgated, issued or entered after the date of the merger agreement by any court or other tribunal of competent jurisdiction is in effect and no law has been adopted or is effective, in each case that restrains, enjoins, prevents, prohibits or makes illegal the consummation of the mergers.

Material Adverse Effect

A “Company Material Adverse Effect” is defined by the merger agreement to mean any event, occurrence, development or state of circumstances, change, fact or condition that (i) prevents, materially impedes or materially delays the consummation of the offer to a date following the end date or (ii) is materially adverse to the financial condition, assets, liabilities, business or results of operations of AppliedMicro and its subsidiaries, taken as a whole; provided, however, that none of the following will constitute or be taken into account in determining whether there has been, is or would be a Company Material Adverse Effect:

- (A) any changes in global, national or regional economic conditions except to the extent that such changes have a disproportionate adverse impact on AppliedMicro and its subsidiaries, taken as a whole, relative to other participants in AppliedMicro’s industry;
- (B) any changes in conditions generally affecting the semiconductor industry except to the extent such changes have a disproportionate adverse impact on AppliedMicro and its subsidiaries, taken as a whole, relative to other participants in AppliedMicro’s industry;

- (C) any decline in the market price or trading volume of the shares of the AppliedMicro common stock on Nasdaq (provided that the exception in this clause (C) will not prevent or otherwise affect a determination that any change, effect or development underlying such decline has resulted in or contributed to a Company Material Adverse Effect);
- (D) any failure, in and of itself, by AppliedMicro or any of its subsidiaries to meet any internal or published projections, forecasts, estimates or predictions in respect of revenues, earnings or other financial or operating metrics for any period (provided that the exception in this clause (D) will not prevent or otherwise affect a determination that any change, effect or development underlying such failure has resulted in or contributed to a Company Material Adverse Effect);

No Solicitation of Other Offers by AppliedMicro

Under the terms of the merger agreement, subject to certain exceptions described below, AppliedMicro has agreed that it will and will cause each of its subsidiaries and its and their respective officers, directors and employees and will instruct and cause their respective agents, financial advisors, investment bankers, attorneys and accountants (each of the foregoing being “representatives”) (i) to immediately cease and cause to be terminated any discussions or negotiations with any persons (other than MACOM) that are ongoing with respect to an AppliedMicro takeover proposal (as defined below) and (ii) not to, directly or indirectly through intermediaries:

- (A) solicit, initiate, knowingly encourage (including by way of furnishing non-public information relating to AppliedMicro or any of its subsidiaries), or knowingly facilitate any inquiries regarding, or the making or submission of any proposal or offer that constitutes, or could reasonably be expected to lead to, an AppliedMicro takeover proposal,
- (B) engage in, continue or otherwise participate in any discussions or negotiations regarding, or furnish to any other person any information in connection with or for the purpose of knowingly encouraging or facilitating, an AppliedMicro takeover proposal (other than, solely in response to an unsolicited inquiry, to refer the inquiring person to Section 6.3 of the merger agreement and to limit its conversation or other communication exclusively to such referral, or to otherwise comply with its obligations pursuant to Section 6.3 of the merger agreement),
- (C) engage in any negotiations or discussions with, or provide any information or data to, any person (other than MACOM or any of its affiliates or representatives) relating to any AppliedMicro takeover proposal,
- (D) approve, endorse or recommend an AppliedMicro takeover proposal or any letter of intent, memorandum of understanding or other contract contemplating an AppliedMicro takeover proposal, or
- (E) resolve to do any of the foregoing.

Under the merger agreement, AppliedMicro is obligated to notify MACOM in writing promptly (and in no event later than 24 hours after receipt) after receiving an AppliedMicro takeover proposal or a request for information relating to AppliedMicro or its subsidiaries that is reasonably likely to lead to or that contemplates an AppliedMicro takeover proposal. Such notice to MACOM must include the identity of the person making the AppliedMicro takeover proposal and the material terms and conditions of the takeover proposal. AppliedMicro must also keep MACOM reasonably informed, on a prompt basis (and, in any event within twenty-four (24) hours of any such development), as to the status of discussions or negotiations relating to such AppliedMicro takeover proposal, including with respect to any updates or developments regarding the material terms and conditions of such AppliedMicro takeover proposal. AppliedMicro agrees that it and its subsidiaries will not enter into any agreement with any person subsequent to the date of the merger agreement which prohibits AppliedMicro from providing any information to MACOM in accordance with, or otherwise complying with, Section 6.3 of the merger agreement.

Table of Contents

Notwithstanding the prohibitions described above, AppliedMicro may (i) furnish information (including non-public information) with respect to AppliedMicro and its subsidiaries to the person who has made such AppliedMicro takeover proposal if AppliedMicro receives from such person an executed confidentiality agreement containing terms that, taken as a whole, are not less restrictive to the other party than those contained collectively in the confidentiality agreement between MACOM and AppliedMicro, it being understood and agreed that such confidentiality agreement need not contain a standstill provision or otherwise prohibit the making or amendment of an AppliedMicro takeover proposal, and (ii) engage in or otherwise participate in discussions or negotiations with the person making such AppliedMicro takeover proposal and its representatives regarding such AppliedMicro takeover proposal if:

- AppliedMicro or any of its representatives receives a bona fide, unsolicited written AppliedMicro takeover proposal from such person that did not result from a knowing and intentional breach of AppliedMicro's non-solicitation obligations under the merger agreement; and
- AppliedMicro's board of directors determines in good faith after consultation with its independent financial advisor and outside legal counsel that such AppliedMicro takeover proposal constitutes or is reasonably likely to lead to a superior proposal (as defined below) and that the failure to take such action would be inconsistent with the directors' fiduciary duties under applicable law.

An "AppliedMicro takeover proposal" for purposes of the merger agreement means any inquiry, proposal or offer from any person (other than MACOM or its subsidiaries) relating to:

- (A) a merger, consolidation, business combination, recapitalization, binding share exchange, liquidation, dissolution, joint venture or other similar transaction involving AppliedMicro or any of its subsidiaries,
- (B) any acquisition of the beneficial ownership of or the right to acquire beneficial ownership, directly or indirectly, of fifteen percent (15%) or more of the outstanding AppliedMicro common stock or securities of AppliedMicro representing more than fifteen percent (15%) of the voting power of AppliedMicro,
- (C) any acquisition (including the acquisition of stock in any subsidiary of AppliedMicro) of assets or businesses of AppliedMicro or its subsidiaries, including pursuant to a joint venture, representing fifteen percent (15%) or more of the consolidated assets, revenues or net income of AppliedMicro and its subsidiaries, or
- (D) any tender offer or exchange offer or any other similar transaction or series of transactions that if consummated would result in any person directly or indirectly acquiring beneficial ownership or the right to acquire beneficial ownership of fifteen percent (15%) or more of the outstanding AppliedMicro common stock or securities of AppliedMicro representing more than fifteen percent (15%) of the voting power of AppliedMicro.

A "superior proposal" for purposes of the merger agreement means any takeover proposal that would result in any person becoming the beneficial owner, directly or indirectly, of more than fifty percent (50%) of the assets (on a consolidated basis) or more than fifty percent (50%) of the total voting power of the equity securities of AppliedMicro that AppliedMicro's board of directors or any committee thereof has determined in its good faith judgment would, taking into account any revisions to the terms of the merger agreement proposed by MACOM in response to such takeover proposal, if consummated, result in a transaction more favorable to AppliedMicro's stockholders from a financial point of view than the offer and the mergers.

Change of Recommendation

The merger agreement requires AppliedMicro's board of directors to recommend to AppliedMicro stockholders that they accept the offer and tender their AppliedMicro shares into the offer (the "AppliedMicro recommendation"). In general, AppliedMicro's board of directors may not change such recommendation unless it has determined that the failure to so change its recommendation would be inconsistent with directors' fiduciary duties, including as a result of a superior proposal, as more particularly described below.

Table of Contents

More specifically, other than as described below (any of the following being an “adverse recommendation change”), AppliedMicro’s board of directors may not:

- (A) fail to include the AppliedMicro recommendation in the Schedule 14D-9 or the prospectus/offer when disseminated to AppliedMicro’s stockholders,
- (B) change, qualify, withhold, withdraw or modify (or authorize or publicly propose to change, qualify, withhold, withdraw or modify), in any such case in a manner adverse to MACOM, the AppliedMicro recommendation,
- (C) publicly make any recommendation in connection with a tender offer, exchange offer or merger (other than the offer or the mergers) other than a recommendation against such merger or a temporary “stop, look and listen” communication by AppliedMicro’s board of directors of the type contemplated by Rule 14d-9(f) under the Exchange Act (it being understood that AppliedMicro’s board of directors may take no position with respect to an AppliedMicro takeover proposal that is a tender offer or exchange offer until the close of business on the tenth (10th) business day after the commencement of such tender offer or exchange offer pursuant to Rule 14d-2 under the Exchange Act, without such action being considered an adverse recommendation change), or
- (D) adopt, approve or recommend, or publicly propose to adopt, approve or recommend to stockholders of AppliedMicro an AppliedMicro takeover proposal.

The merger agreement also prohibits AppliedMicro’s board of directors from authorizing, causing or permitting AppliedMicro or any of its subsidiaries to enter into any letter of intent, memorandum of understanding, agreement or agreement in principle with respect to any AppliedMicro takeover proposal.

Notwithstanding the above, prior to the Purchaser’s acceptance of shares tendered in the offer (the “acceptance time”), AppliedMicro’s board of directors, (i) may make an adverse recommendation change other than in response to an AppliedMicro takeover proposal if, prior to taking such action, AppliedMicro’s board of directors has determined in good faith, after consultation with its independent financial advisor and outside legal counsel, that such action is required to comply with the directors’ fiduciary duties under applicable law and (ii) may make an adverse recommendation change and/or authorize, cause or permit AppliedMicro or any of its subsidiaries to enter into an acquisition agreement, in either such case in response to a bona fide, unsolicited AppliedMicro takeover proposal that did not result from a breach of AppliedMicro’s covenant not to solicit, if prior to taking such action, AppliedMicro’s board of directors has determined in good faith, after consultation with its independent financial advisor and outside legal counsel, that (x) such AppliedMicro takeover proposal constitutes a superior proposal and (y) such action would be, or would reasonably be expected to be, required to comply with the directors’ fiduciary duties under applicable law; provided, however, that, prior to taking such action,

- (A) AppliedMicro has given MACOM at least four (4) business days’ prior written notice of its intention to take such action, including the terms and conditions of, and the identity of the person making, any such superior proposal and has contemporaneously provided to MACOM a copy of the superior proposal or any proposed acquisition agreement (or, in each case, if not provided in writing to AppliedMicro, a written summary of the material terms thereof),
- (B) AppliedMicro has negotiated, and has caused its representatives to negotiate, in good faith with MACOM during such four (4) business day period, to the extent MACOM wishes to negotiate, to make such revisions to the terms of the merger agreement as would permit AppliedMicro’s board of directors not to effect an adverse recommendation change in connection with receipt of a superior proposal or take any termination action, and
- (C) following the end of the four (4) business days’ notice period, AppliedMicro’s board of directors will have determined, after consultation with its independent financial advisors and outside legal counsel, and giving due consideration to the revisions to the terms of the merger agreement to which MACOM has irrevocably committed in writing, that the superior proposal would nevertheless continue to constitute a superior proposal and that such action is required to comply with the directors' fiduciary duties under applicable law (it being previously understood and agreed that any change to the financial or other material terms of a proposal that was previously the subject of a notice under the merger agreement will require a new notice to MACOM as provided above), but with respect to any such subsequent notices, a two (2) business day notice period will be required.

Prior to the acceptance time, and provided that AppliedMicro has complied with the covenant not to solicit, AppliedMicro may enter into a definitive agreement with respect to a superior proposal only if AppliedMicro's board of directors terminates the merger agreement and pays the termination fee.

Conduct of Business During Pendency of the Transactions

Restrictions on AppliedMicro's Operations

The merger agreement provides for certain restrictions on AppliedMicro's and its subsidiaries' activities until either the completion of the mergers or the termination of the merger agreement. In general, except as may be required by applicable law, with the prior written consent of MACOM, as may be required or expressly permitted by the transaction or as set forth in the disclosure schedule delivered by AppliedMicro to MACOM concurrently with the signing of the merger agreement, AppliedMicro and its subsidiaries are required to conduct their business in the ordinary course consistent with past practice and to use their reasonable best efforts to maintain and preserve their assets and keep intact their business organization, keep available the services of key employees and maintain satisfactory relationships with governmental entities, customers, suppliers, distributors, licensors and others having significant business dealings with them.

In addition, except as may be required by law, the merger agreement or as set forth in the disclosure schedule delivered by AppliedMicro to MACOM concurrently with the signing of the merger agreement, neither AppliedMicro nor its subsidiaries may, among other things:

- grant any AppliedMicro equity or equity-based awards or interests;
- grant any individual, corporation or other entity any right to acquire any shares of its capital stock other than such grants to new hires, or retention grants (such grants made pursuant to this provision will not represent right(s) to acquire, in the aggregate, more than 200,000 shares of AppliedMicro common stock); issue, sell or otherwise permit to become outstanding any shares of its capital stock or securities convertible or exchangeable into, or exercisable for, any shares of its capital stock or any options, warrants or other rights to acquire shares of its capital stock, except (a) pursuant to the exercise of AppliedMicro options or the settlement of AppliedMicro RSUs or MSUs, (b) pursuant to the exercise of rights under the ESPP that were outstanding on the date the merger agreement was signed or (c) the issuance of shares by a wholly owned subsidiary of AppliedMicro to AppliedMicro or another wholly owned subsidiary of AppliedMicro;

Restrictions on MACOM’s Operations

The merger agreement provides for certain restrictions on MACOM’s and its subsidiaries’ activities until either the completion of the mergers or the termination of the merger agreement. In general, except as may be required by applicable law, as may be required or expressly permitted by the transaction or as set forth in the disclosure schedule delivered by MACOM to AppliedMicro concurrently with the execution of the merger agreement, MACOM and the Purchaser will not:

- agree to take, or make any binding commitment to take, any of the foregoing prohibited actions.

Regulatory Efforts

MACOM and AppliedMicro agreed to use their respective reasonable best efforts to consummate the offer and the other transactions, including (i) the preparation and filing of all forms, registrations, applications and notices required to be filed under applicable law to consummate the offer and the mergers (including the registration statement, the offer documents, the Schedule 14D-9, and the prospectus/offer of which this description is a part), (ii) the satisfaction of the conditions to consummating the offer and the mergers, (iii) taking all reasonable actions necessary to obtain (and cooperating with each other in obtaining) any consent, authorization, order or approval of, or any exemption by, any governmental entity (which actions will include furnishing all information and documentary material required under the HSR Act) required to be obtained or made by MACOM, the Purchaser, AppliedMicro or any of their respective subsidiaries in connection with the offer or the mergers or the taking of any action contemplated by the merger agreement and (iv) the execution and delivery of any reasonable additional instruments necessary to consummate the offer and the mergers and to fully carry out the purposes of the merger agreement.

Additionally, each of MACOM, the Purchaser and AppliedMicro will use reasonable best efforts to fulfill all conditions precedent to the offer and the mergers and will not take any action after the date of the merger agreement that would reasonably be expected to materially delay the obtaining of, or result in not obtaining, any permission, approval or consent from any such governmental entity necessary to be obtained to consummate the offer and the mergers. MACOM and AppliedMicro may agree to postpone any required regulatory filings based on input from counsel.

MACOM and AppliedMicro will each keep the other apprised of the status of matters relating to the completion of the offer and work cooperatively in connection with obtaining all required consents, authorizations, orders or approvals of, or any exemptions by, any governmental entity. In that regard, prior to the consummation of the mergers, each party will promptly consult with the other parties to the merger agreement with respect to and provide any reasonable information and assistance as the other parties may reasonably request with respect to (and, in the case of correspondence, provide the other parties (or their counsel) copies of) all material notices, submissions, or filings made by such party with any governmental entity regarding any antitrust laws or any other information supplied by such party to, or correspondence with, a governmental entity regarding any antitrust laws and in connection with the merger agreement and the offer and the mergers. Each party to the merger agreement will promptly inform the other parties to the merger agreement, and if in writing, furnish the other parties with copies of (or, in the case of oral communications, advise the other parties orally of) any material communication from or to any governmental entity relating to any antitrust laws and regarding the offer and the mergers, and afford the other parties a reasonable opportunity to review and discuss in advance, and consider in good faith the views of the other parties in connection with, any proposed communication with any such governmental entity relating to any antitrust laws.

Pursuant to the merger agreement, AppliedMicro and MACOM each requested early termination of the waiting period with respect to the offer under the HSR Act. On December 12, 2016, early termination of the waiting period under the HSR Act was granted, and accordingly this condition has been satisfied.

Access

The merger agreement provides that, for purposes of furthering the transactions, each party will upon reasonable advance notice afford the other and its employees, accountants, consultants, internal and external legal counsel, financial advisors, tax advisors, and agents and other representatives reasonable access during normal business hours, throughout the period prior to the effective time, to its and its subsidiaries' personnel, properties, contracts, books and records and, during such period, each party will, and will cause its subsidiaries to, without limitation to the preceding obligations, make available to the other party all other information concerning its business, properties and personnel as such other party may reasonably request.

However, no party will be required to provide access to or make available to any person any document or information that, in the reasonable judgment of the disclosing party, would be detrimental to its business operations, would result in the disclosure of any trade secrets of third parties or violate any of its obligations with respect to confidentiality or is subject to any attorney-client or work-product privilege.

The parties have agreed that all information provided to them or their respective officers, directors, employees or representatives in connection with the merger agreement and the consummation of the transactions will be governed in accordance with the confidentiality agreement between the parties.

Employee Matters

The merger agreement provides that, effective as of the effective time and until December 31, 2017, MACOM will provide, or will cause the surviving company to provide, to employees of AppliedMicro or any of its subsidiaries who are employed as of immediately prior to the effective time and who continue to be employed by MACOM or the surviving company or any of their respective subsidiaries following the effective time (the "AppliedMicro employees"), (i) base salaries or wage rates with respect to each AppliedMicro employee that are no less than provided to such AppliedMicro employee immediately prior to the effective time, (ii) employee benefits (other than equity-based compensation) and annual cash bonus opportunities that are substantially comparable in the aggregate to employee benefits and annual cash bonus opportunities provided to (x) AppliedMicro employees immediately prior to the effective time or (y) at MACOM's election, to similarly situated employees of MACOM and its subsidiaries (other than AppliedMicro and its subsidiaries) and (iii) severance benefits that are no less favorable than the severance benefits provided to such AppliedMicro employee immediately prior to the effective time. AppliedMicro employees may commence participation in MACOM's compensation and benefit plans on different dates following the effective time with respect to different compensation and benefit plans, in accordance with the terms of the applicable plans. From and after the effective time, MACOM will, or will cause the surviving company to, continue to honor the milestone or other bonus plans and agreements disclosed by AppliedMicro at the signing of the merger agreement.

Following the effective time, MACOM will, or will cause the surviving company to, cause any employee benefit plans sponsored or maintained by MACOM or the surviving company or any of their subsidiaries in the United States in which AppliedMicro employees are eligible to participate following the closing date, other than any equity-based or qualified or non-qualified defined benefit or deferred compensation plans (collectively, the "post-closing plans") to recognize the service of each AppliedMicro employee with AppliedMicro and its subsidiaries and their respective predecessors prior to the effective time for purposes of eligibility to participate and vesting under such post-closing plans, in each case, to the same extent such service was recognized immediately prior to the effective time under a comparable AppliedMicro benefit plan in which such AppliedMicro employee was eligible to participate immediately prior to the effective time; provided that such recognition of service will not operate to duplicate any benefits of an AppliedMicro employee with respect to the same period of service. Under each post-closing plan that provides medical, dental, pharmaceutical or vision insurance benefits, for the plan year in which such AppliedMicro employee is first eligible to participate, MACOM will use reasonable best efforts to (A) cause any pre-existing condition limitations or eligibility waiting periods under such plan to be waived with respect to each AppliedMicro employee to the extent such limitation would have been waived or satisfied under the AppliedMicro benefit plan in which such AppliedMicro employee participated or was eligible to participate in immediately prior to the effective time, and (B) credit each AppliedMicro employee for an amount equal to any eligible expenses incurred by such AppliedMicro employee in the plan year that includes the effective time for purposes of any applicable deductible, coinsurance and annual out-of-pocket expense requirements under any such post-closing plan to the extent such expenses would have been credited under the terms of the applicable AppliedMicro benefit plans.

Unless requested by MACOM not later than ten (10) days prior to the closing date, AppliedMicro will take (or cause to be taken) all actions necessary or appropriate to terminate, effective no later than the day prior to the closing date, any AppliedMicro benefit plan that contains a cash or deferred arrangement intended to qualify under Section 401(k) of the Code (an “AppliedMicro 401(k) plan”). AppliedMicro will provide to MACOM prior to the closing date written evidence of the adoption by AppliedMicro’s board of directors of resolutions authorizing the termination of such AppliedMicro 401(k) plan (the form and substance of which resolutions will be subject to the prior review and approval of MACOM, which approval will not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed). In the event of such 401(k) plan termination, MACOM will take all actions necessary to allow AppliedMicro employees who meet the age and service eligibility requirements under a 401(k) plan maintained by MACOM or its affiliates (the “MACOM 401(k) plan”) to enroll as soon as reasonably practicable following the closing (and in no event later than sixty (60) days following the effective time) under the MACOM 401(k) plan and to make rollover contributions of “eligible rollover distributions” (within the meaning of Section 401(a)(31) of the Code), in the form of cash only. AppliedMicro will, and will cause its subsidiaries to, cooperate with MACOM in good faith (including by promptly furnishing such information as is requested by MACOM) in fulfilling MACOM’s obligations described in this paragraph.

Resignations

Prior to the effective time, AppliedMicro will cause any director and any officer of AppliedMicro or each subsidiary of AppliedMicro identified in writing by MACOM at least five (5) business days prior to the anticipated effective time to execute and deliver a letter effectuating his or her resignation as a director or officer (but not as an employee) of such entity effective as of the effective time. At the request of MACOM, AppliedMicro will use reasonable best efforts to cooperate with MACOM to effect the replacement of any such directors and officers selected by MACOM at the effective time.

Third Party Consents

AppliedMicro will use reasonable best efforts, and will cause its subsidiaries to use reasonable best efforts, to obtain waivers and consents from any and all third parties with respect to certain contracts listed on the disclosure schedule delivered to MACOM; provided, that, in connection with obtaining such waivers and consents, AppliedMicro will not agree to any change to such contracts that would be materially adverse to the interest of AppliedMicro, its subsidiaries or, after the Closing, MACOM, without the prior written consent of MACOM, which consent will not be unreasonably withheld, delayed or denied.

Certain Tax Matters

Each of the parties will use its reasonable best efforts to cause the offer and the mergers, taken together, to qualify as a “reorganization” within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code, including by executing and delivering customary tax representation letters to AppliedMicro’s and/or MACOM’s counsel, as applicable, in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to such counsel.

Directors’ and Officers’ Indemnification and Insurance

Under the merger agreement, MACOM and the Purchaser agree that all rights to exculpation and indemnification (and all rights to advancement of expenses relating thereto) for acts or omissions occurring at or prior to the effective time, whether asserted or claimed prior to, at or after the effective time (including any matters arising in connection with the transactions), now existing in favor of the indemnitees as provided in AppliedMicro organizational documents or in any contract between such indemnitee and AppliedMicro listed on the disclosure schedules delivered to MACOM and the Purchaser in connection with the merger agreement (in each case as in effect on the date of the merger agreement) will survive the mergers and will continue in full force and effect. From and after the effective time, the surviving company will (and MACOM will cause the surviving company to) indemnify, defend and hold harmless, and advance expenses to, indemnitees with respect to (x) all acts or omissions by them in their capacities as such at any time at or prior to the effective time or (y) any costs or expenses (including attorneys' fees), judgments, fines, losses, claims, damages, liabilities and amounts paid in settlement in connection with any claim, action, suit, proceeding or investigation, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative, to the extent such claim, action, suit, proceeding or investigation arises out of or pertains to the offer, the mergers, the merger agreement and any transactions contemplated hereby, in either case, in each of (x) and (y) to the extent provided in AppliedMicro organizational documents or in any contract between such indemnitee and AppliedMicro listed on the disclosure schedules delivered to MACOM and the Purchaser in connection with the merger agreement (in each case as in effect on the date of the merger agreement), and MACOM will guarantee the payment of such amounts to the maximum extent permitted by applicable law. For a period of six (6) years after the effective time, MACOM will cause the certificate of incorporation, bylaws or other organizational documents of the surviving company to contain provisions with respect to indemnification, advancement of expenses and limitation of director, officer and employee liability that are no less favorable to the indemnitees than those set forth in AppliedMicro organizational documents and the contracts listed on the disclosure schedules delivered to MACOM and the Purchaser in connection with the merger agreement as of the date of the merger agreement, which provisions thereafter will not be amended, repealed or otherwise modified in any manner that would adversely affect the rights of any indemnitees under the merger agreement.

From and after the effective time, MACOM will obtain (either directly or through one of its subsidiaries) and fully pay the premium for a six (6) year "tail" prepaid policy on terms and conditions no less advantageous to the indemnitees than the existing directors' and officers' insurance policies and AppliedMicro's existing D&O insurance with respect to any claim related to any period of time at or prior to the effective time; provided, however, that neither the surviving company nor MACOM will be required to pay for such "tail" prepaid policy more than two hundred fifty percent (250%) of the annual premium currently paid by AppliedMicro for its D&O insurance or, if substantially equivalent or greater insurance coverage is unavailable, the best available coverage; provided, however, that MACOM and the surviving company will not be required to pay an annual premium for the D&O insurance in excess of two hundred fifty percent (250%) of the annual premium currently paid by AppliedMicro for such insurance. If the annual premiums of such insurance coverage exceed such amount, MACOM will be obligated to obtain a policy with the greatest coverage available, with respect to matters occurring prior to the effective time, for a cost not exceeding such amount. In the alternative, AppliedMicro may purchase fully-prepaid, and the surviving company will maintain, for a period of at least six (6) years from and after the effective time, D&O insurance in place as of the date of the merger agreement with AppliedMicro's current insurance carrier or a reputable alternative insurance carrier; provided, however, that AppliedMicro will not be permitted to pay for such "tail" prepaid policy in excess of two hundred fifty percent (250%) of the annual premium currently paid by AppliedMicro for such insurance.

The indemnification and insurance obligations described above will survive the consummation of the mergers indefinitely and will be binding, jointly and severally, on all successors and assigns of MACOM, the surviving company and its subsidiaries, and will be enforceable by the indemnitees. In the event that MACOM or the surviving company or any of its successors or assigns consolidates with or merges into any other entity and will not be the continuing or surviving corporation or entity of such consolidation or merger or transfers or conveys all or a majority of its properties and assets to any entity, then, and in each such case, MACOM will ensure that proper provision will be made so that the successors and assigns of MACOM or the surviving company, as applicable, will succeed to the obligations set forth above.

Takeover Statutes

The parties and each of their respective board of directors will grant such approvals and take such actions within such party's control as are permitted and necessary so that such transactions may be consummated as promptly as practicable on the terms contemplated by the merger agreement and otherwise act to eliminate or minimize the effects of such statute or regulation on such transactions.

AppliedMicro's board of directors has taken all action necessary to render inapplicable to the merger agreement and the support agreements and the transactions contemplated hereby and thereby all applicable state anti-takeover statutes or regulations (including Section 203 of the DGCL) and any similar provisions in AppliedMicro's organizational documents.

Public Announcements

Unless an adverse recommendation change has occurred, so long as the merger agreement is in effect, AppliedMicro will not disseminate any press release or other announcement concerning the offer or the merger agreement or the Transactions, except as may be required by law, without the prior consent of MACOM and the Purchaser, which consent will not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, without prior consent of the other parties, each party (a) may communicate information that is not confidential information of any other party with financial analysts, investors and media representatives in a manner consistent with its past practice in compliance with applicable law or by the rules and regulations of Nasdaq, and (b) may disseminate the information included in a press release or other document previously approved for external distribution by the other parties. Each party agrees to promptly (and in any event within two (2) business days) make available to the other parties copies of any written communications made without prior consultation with the other parties. Notwithstanding any other provision of the merger agreement, (i) no party will be required to consult with the other party in connection with any such press release or announcement if AppliedMicro's board of directors has effected an adverse recommendation change or will have resolved to do so and (ii) the public announcement requirements of this paragraph will not apply to any disclosure by AppliedMicro or MACOM of any information concerning the merger agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby in connection with a determination by AppliedMicro in accordance with the provisions of the merger agreement that an AppliedMicro takeover proposal constitutes, or may constitute, a superior proposal or any dispute between the parties regarding the merger agreement, the offer or the mergers or the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement.

Transaction Litigation

The terms of the merger agreement require AppliedMicro to give MACOM the opportunity to participate in AppliedMicro's defense or settlement of any actions, suits, claims, governmental investigations or proceedings instituted or threatened against AppliedMicro or any of its directors, officers or affiliates, including by any stockholder of AppliedMicro relating to the transactions, which, if pending on the date of the merger agreement, would have been required to have been disclosed pursuant to the merger agreement or relating to the merger agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby, or seeking damages or discovery in connection with such transactions. Subject to entry into a customary joint defense agreement, MACOM will have the right to participate in the defense of any such actions, suits, claims, investigations or proceedings, AppliedMicro will consult with MACOM regarding the defense of any such actions, suits, claims, investigations or proceedings, and AppliedMicro may not settle or compromise any stockholder litigation without the prior written consent of MACOM, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld, conditioned, delayed or denied.

Listing of MACOM Common Stock

MACOM agreed in the merger agreement to file a notification of listing of additional shares with Nasdaq with respect to the listing of the shares of MACOM common stock to be issued in connection with the offer and the first merger and to use reasonable best efforts to cause such shares to be approved for listing on Nasdaq, subject to official notice of issuance, prior to the acceptance time.

Termination of the Merger Agreement

Termination by MACOM or AppliedMicro

The merger agreement may be terminated at any time before the acceptance time by mutual written consent of MACOM and AppliedMicro or by either party:

- Offer Not Completed – if the acceptance time will not have occurred on or prior to the end date; provided, however that the right to terminate the merger agreement under this paragraph will not be available to any party whose action or failure to fulfill any obligation under the merger agreement proximately caused any of the offer conditions to fail to be satisfied, and such action or failure to act constitutes a material breach of the merger agreement and; provided further, that no termination may be effected as of the end date during a thirty (30)-day cure period to which a party is entitled by reason of termination rights exercised as a result of a party's breach; or
- Legal Prohibition – if an order by a governmental entity of competent jurisdiction will have been issued permanently restraining, enjoining or otherwise prohibiting the consummation of the offer and such order will have become final and not appealable; provided, however, that the right to terminate the merger agreement under this paragraph will not be available to a party if such order (or such order becoming final and no appealable) was due to the material breach by such party of any covenant of such party set forth in the merger agreement, or such party's failure to fulfill a condition that the party is obligated to satisfy under the merger agreement.

Termination by MACOM

The merger agreement may be terminated at any time before the acceptance time by MACOM:

- Change of Recommendation – if, prior to the acceptance time, (i) an adverse recommendation change will have occurred or (ii) AppliedMicro will have violated or breached its non-solicitation obligations described under the heading “No Solicitation of Other Offers by AppliedMicro”; or
- AppliedMicro's Breach – if AppliedMicro has breached its representations or warranties or covenants in the merger agreement, such that the closing conditions relating to the truth and accuracy of its representations and warranties and its compliance with its covenants (subject, in each case, to specified materiality standards) would not be satisfied and such breach is not curable or is not cured within a specified time period, except that such right to terminate will not be available to MACOM if MACOM is then in material breach that would similarly cause a failure of its corresponding closing conditions to be satisfied.

Termination by AppliedMicro

The merger agreement may be terminated at any time before the acceptance time by AppliedMicro:

- Superior Proposal – to enter into an acquisition agreement with respect to a superior proposal provided that (i) AppliedMicro has complied with its non-solicitation obligations described under the heading “No Solicitation of Other Offers by AppliedMicro” and (ii) immediately prior to or concurrently with (and as a condition to) the termination of the merger agreement, AppliedMicro pays to MACOM the termination fee described under the heading “Termination Fee”; or
- MACOM's Breach – if MACOM has breached certain of its representations or warranties, obligations or covenants in the merger agreement, such that the closing conditions relating to the truth and accuracy of its representations and warranties and its compliance with its covenants (subject, in each case, to specified materiality standards) would not be satisfied and such breach is not curable or is not cured within a specified time period, except that such right to terminate will not be available to AppliedMicro if AppliedMicro is then in breach that would similarly cause a failure of its corresponding closing conditions to be satisfied.

Termination Fee

The merger agreement provides that AppliedMicro will pay MACOM a termination fee of $30 million within two (2) business days if:

- (a) after the date of the merger agreement, an AppliedMicro takeover proposal is publicly announced or otherwise communicated or is made known to AppliedMicro's board of directors, (b) thereafter, either AppliedMicro or MACOM terminates the merger agreement pursuant to one of the termination rights described under the headings "– Offer Not Completed," "AppliedMicro's Breach" or part (ii) of "–Change of Recommendation" and (c) within 12 months after such termination, AppliedMicro or any of its subsidiaries enters into a definitive agreement with respect to, or consummates, any transaction constituting an AppliedMicro takeover proposal (with references to "15%" in the definition of AppliedMicro takeover proposal deemed to be references to "50%");
- MACOM terminates the merger agreement pursuant to the termination right described under the heading "– Change in Recommendation" because of a change of recommendation by AppliedMicro's board of directors; or
- AppliedMicro terminates the merger agreement pursuant to the termination right described under the heading "– Superior Proposal" in order to enter into a definitive agreement with respect to a superior proposal.

In no event will AppliedMicro be obligated to pay the termination fee on more than one occasion.

Expenses

Under the terms of the merger agreement, except for the termination fee, whether or not the offer and the mergers are consummated, all costs and expenses incurred in connection with the offer, the mergers, the merger agreement and the other transactions will be paid by the party incurring or required to incur such expenses.

Effect of Termination

In the event of termination of the merger agreement, the merger agreement, other than specified provisions that survive, will become void, and there will be no liability or further obligation on the part of MACOM, the Purchaser, Merger Sub or AppliedMicro, provided that no party will be relieved of liability for any fraud or a willful and material breach of the merger agreement.

Enforcements and Remedies

Under the merger agreement, the parties have agreed that, prior to the valid termination of the merger agreement, each party will be entitled to:

- an injunction or injunctions to prevent any breaches of the merger agreement;
- specifically enforce the terms and provisions of the merger agreement (including the obligation of the parties to consummate the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement and the obligation of MACOM and the Purchaser to pay, and AppliedMicro's stockholders' right to receive, the aggregate consideration payable to them pursuant to the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, in each case in accordance with the terms and subject to the conditions of the merger agreement); and
- any further relief to which such party is entitled at law or in equity.

The merger agreement also provides that AppliedMicro shall have the right on behalf of its stockholders to pursue damages (including claims for damages based on loss of economic benefits of the transaction to AppliedMicro's stockholders) in the event of any fraud or willful and material breach of the merger agreement by MACOM or the Purchaser.

Amendments and Waivers of Merger Agreement

At any time prior to the acceptance time, any provision of the merger agreement may be amended or waived, but only if, such amendment or waiver is in writing and signed, in the case of an amendment, by AppliedMicro, MACOM and the Purchaser or, in the case of a waiver, by the party waiving such provision. At any time and from time to time prior to the acceptance time, either AppliedMicro, on the one hand, or MACOM and the Purchaser, on the other hand, may, to the extent permissible by applicable law and except as otherwise set forth in the merger agreement,

- (A) extend the time for the performance of any of the obligations or other acts of MACOM or the Purchaser, in the case of an extension by AppliedMicro, or of AppliedMicro, in the case of an extension by MACOM and Purchaser, as applicable,
- (B) waive any inaccuracies in the representations and warranties made to such party contained in the merger agreement or in any document delivered pursuant hereto, and
- (C) waive compliance with any of the agreements or conditions for the benefit of any such party contained in the merger agreement.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, no failure or delay by any party hereto in exercising any right under the merger agreement will operate as a waiver thereof nor will any single or partial exercise thereof preclude any other or further exercise of any other right under the merger agreement.

SUPPORT AGREEMENTS

The following summary describes certain material provisions of the support agreements, the form of which is attached to this document as Annex B and incorporated into this document by reference. This summary may not contain all of the information about the support agreements important to AppliedMicro stockholders, and AppliedMicro stockholders are encouraged to read the form of support agreement carefully in its entirety. The legal rights and obligations of the parties are governed by the specific language of the support agreements and not this summary.

The summary of the support agreements is intended to provide information regarding the terms of the support agreements and is not intended to modify or supplement any factual disclosures about MACOM or AppliedMicro in their public reports filed with the SEC. In particular, the form of support agreement and the related summary are not intended to be, and should not be relied upon as, disclosures regarding any facts and circumstances relating to any party to such agreements. The support agreements include representations, warranties and covenants of the parties thereto made solely for the benefit of such parties. The assertions embodied in those representations and warranties were made solely for purposes of the contracts among the parties to the support agreements and may be subject to important qualifications and limitations agreed to by the parties thereto in connection with the negotiated terms. Moreover, some of those representations and warranties may not be accurate or complete as of any specified date, may be subject to a contractual standard of materiality different from those generally applicable to MACOM or AppliedMicro's SEC filings or may have been used for purposes of allocating risk among the parties rather than establishing matters as facts. AppliedMicro stockholders should not rely on the representations, warranties and covenants or any description thereof as characterizations of the actual state of facts of the parties to the agreements.

Concurrently with the execution of the merger agreement on November 21, 2016, MACOM and the Purchaser entered into the support agreements with the supporting stockholders, pursuant to which each of the supporting stockholders agreed during the term of his, her or its respective support agreement, among other things:

(i) to promptly (and, in any event, not later than ten (10) business days following commencement of the offer) validly tender or cause to be tendered all outstanding shares of AppliedMicro common stock owned by the supporting stockholder;

(ii) with respect to any additional shares of AppliedMicro common stock acquired after commencement of the offer, but before the acceptance time, to promptly (and, in any event, not later than two (2) business days following the acquisition of such additional shares) validly tender or cause to be tendered such additional shares;

(iii) not to withdraw such shares of AppliedMicro common stock from the offer unless the offer is terminated, except that the supporting stockholder may withdraw his, her or its shares at any time following (a) the termination of the support agreement in accordance with its terms, (b) upon the offer being terminated in accordance with the terms of the merger agreement or (c) the termination of the merger agreement, pursuant to its terms, prior to consummation of the offer; and

(iv) to certain restrictions on directly or indirectly selling, transferring, assigning, pledging, hypothecating, tendering, encumbering or otherwise disposing of any such shares of AppliedMicro common stock prior to termination of the support agreement.

Each of the support agreements terminates upon the earlier of: (a) the day after the mergers are consummated, (b) the termination of the merger agreement pursuant to its terms and, if due in connection therewith, payment in full of the termination fee, (c) the mutual written consent of MACOM and the Purchaser on one hand and the supporting stockholder on the other or (d) such date and time as any amendment or change to the merger agreement or the offer is effected without the supporting stockholder's consent that decreases the amount, or changes the form or (except with respect to extensions of the offer in accordance with the terms of the merger agreement) timing of the consideration payable to all AppliedMicro stockholders, or that imposes conditions to the offer in addition to the original conditions to the offer set forth in Annex A to the merger agreement or modifies such conditions in a manner adverse to the supporting stockholder.

The supporting stockholders beneficially own in the aggregate approximately eleven percent (11%) of outstanding AppliedMicro common stock as of December 15, 2016.

1. Description of Transaction and Basis of Presentation

Description of Transaction

On November 21, 2016, MACOM, AppliedMicro, the Purchaser and Merger Sub entered into the merger agreement. Pursuant to the merger agreement, MACOM plans to acquire control of, and ultimately the entire equity interest in, AppliedMicro. The offer is the first step in MACOM's plan to acquire all of the outstanding shares of AppliedMicro common stock, and the first merger is the second step in such plan. Tendered shares of AppliedMicro common stock will be exchanged for the transaction consideration, and if the first merger is completed, any remaining shares of AppliedMicro common stock that were not tendered into the offer (other than certain dissenting, converted or cancelled shares, as described further in this document) will be converted into the right to receive the transaction consideration. Immediately following the first merger and as the final step in MACOM's plan to acquire all of the outstanding shares of AppliedMicro common stock, the first surviving company will merge with and into Merger Sub in the second merger.

To prepare the unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial statements, MACOM adjusted AppliedMicro's assets and liabilities to their estimated fair values based on preliminary valuation work. As of the date of this document, MACOM has not completed the detailed valuation work necessary to finalize the required estimated fair values of the AppliedMicro assets to be acquired and liabilities to be assumed and the related allocation of purchase price. The final allocation of the purchase price will be determined after the transaction is completed and after completion of an analysis to determine the estimated net fair value of AppliedMicro's assets and liabilities. Accordingly, the final acquisition accounting adjustments may be materially different from the unaudited pro forma adjustments. Also, as of the date of this document, MACOM has not identified all adjustments necessary to conform AppliedMicro's accounting policies to MACOM's accounting policies. MACOM will conduct a final review of AppliedMicro's accounting policies as of the date of the completion of the transactions in an effort to determine if differences in accounting policies require adjustment or reclassification of AppliedMicro's results of operations or reclassification of assets or liabilities to conform to MACOM's accounting policies and classifications. As a result of this review, the final acquisition accounting adjustments may be materially different from the unaudited pro forma adjustments. The unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial statements do not give effect to any cost savings, operating synergies or revenue synergies that may result from the transactions or the costs to achieve any such cost savings, operating synergies and revenue synergies. There were no material transactions between MACOM and AppliedMicro during the period presented in the unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial statements that would need to be eliminated.

Basis of Presentation

The unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial statements were prepared in accordance with Article 11 of SEC Regulation S-X. The unaudited pro forma condensed combined balance sheet as of September 30, 2016 is presented as if the transactions had been completed on September 30, 2016. The unaudited pro forma condensed combined statement of operations for the year ended September 30, 2016 assumes that the transactions took place as of October 3, 2015, and combines the historical results of MACOM and AppliedMicro for the same period. Based on the terms of the transactions, MACOM is deemed to be the acquiring company and the transaction will be accounted for as a business combination in accordance with GAAP. Accordingly, the assets and liabilities of MACOM will be recorded as of the closing date at their respective carrying value and the acquired net assets of AppliedMicro will be recorded as of the closing date at their fair value, with the excess of the value of consideration transferred over the fair value of net assets acquired being recognized as goodwill. For the purpose of these unaudited pro forma financial statements, management of MACOM has determined a preliminary estimated purchase price for the asset acquisition, and such amount has been calculated as described in Note 2 to these unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial statements. The net assets acquired in connection with the transaction are at their estimated fair values. A final determination of these estimated fair values will be based on the actual net acquired assets of AppliedMicro as of the closing date.

Treatment of Stock Options, RSUs and ESPP in the Transactions

Under the terms of the merger agreement, each outstanding vested in-the-money option to acquire shares of AppliedMicro common stock will be cancelled as of the effective time and thereafter will only entitle the holder of such option to receive (without interest) an amount in cash and a number of shares of MACOM common stock equal to the product of the (i) transaction consideration (with the stock consideration value based on the closing price of the MACOM common stock on Nasdaq on the last trading day immediately before the effective time), multiplied by (ii) that number of whole and partial (computed to the nearest four decimal places) shares of AppliedMicro common stock equal to the excess of (A) the total number of shares of AppliedMicro common stock then subject to such vested in-the-money AppliedMicro option over (B) the number of whole and partial (computed to the nearest four decimal places) shares of AppliedMicro common stock that, when multiplied by the closing price of the AppliedMicro common stock on Nasdaq on the last trading day immediately prior to the effective time, is equal to the aggregate exercise price of such vested in-the-money AppliedMicro option. Each outstanding option to acquire shares of AppliedMicro common stock other than a vested in-the-money AppliedMicro option will be cancelled and converted into, as of the effective time, and thereafter evidence an award of stock options exercisable for shares of MACOM common stock having the same terms and conditions, subject to certain modifications.

Further, each outstanding vested AppliedMicro restricted stock unit will be settled in that number of shares of AppliedMicro common stock underlying the vested AppliedMicro restricted stock unit and thereafter will entitle the holder thereof to receive (without interest) an amount in cash and a number of shares of MACOM common stock equal to the transaction consideration (with the stock consideration valued based on the closing price of MACOM common stock on Nasdaq on the last trading day immediately before the effective time), in respect of each share of AppliedMicro common stock that was subject to such holder's vested AppliedMicro restricted stock unit. Each outstanding unvested AppliedMicro restricted stock unit will be cancelled and converted into, as of the effective time, and thereafter evidence an award of restricted stock units with respect to shares of MACOM common stock having the same terms and conditions, subject to certain modifications.

Finally, AppliedMicro will cause the ESPP to terminate as of the effective time, with the ESPP and all outstanding rights under such plan being terminated as of such time. Any shares of AppliedMicro common stock purchased under the ESPP will be canceled and converted into the right to receive the transaction consideration. Any funds that remain in the account of an ESPP participant will be promptly returned to the participant. See "Interests of Certain Persons in the Transactions – Treatment of Equity and Equity-Based Awards – ESPP."

The final purchase price allocation may differ significantly based on final appraisals, third-party valuations and analyses of the assets acquired and liabilities assumed. Accordingly, the preliminary allocation described below is subject to change.

3. Income Taxes

As of March 31, 2016 AppliedMicro reported federal net operating loss (NOL) carryforwards of approximately $1,233.0 million, which will expire at various dates through 2036, and federal research and development tax credit carryforwards of $64.6 million.

AppliedMicro recorded a full valuation allowance against its outstanding net deferred tax assets, including those arising from the NOL as well as research and development tax credit carryforwards due to its history of losses. In connection with the transactions, MACOM expects to be able to utilize a portion of the NOL and development tax credit carryforwards. Both the NOL and the tax credits are subject to change-in-control limitations within the Internal Revenue Code and, accordingly, these carryforwards were reduced and an estimated Deferred Tax Asset amount to be realized by MACOM following the transactions, after consideration of the limitations, was $121.9 million. AppliedMicro also had other deferred tax assets that were fully reserved by AppliedMicro which are estimated to be realizable by MACOM following the transactions totaling $43.8

million. The transactions also resulted in the acquisition of intangible and other assets with different book and tax bases that give rise to a net deferred income tax liability of $141.2 million.

Federal net operating losses and credits	$ 121,900
Other, net	43,800
Deferred tax liability resulting from the transactions	(141,162)
Deferred tax asset, net	$ 24,538

The following represents the estimated deferred income tax liability to be recorded by MACOM as part of the accounting for the transactions. The pro forma adjustment to record deferred taxes as part of the accounting for the transactions was computed as follows:

(in thousands)
Estimated fair value adjustment of identifiable intangible assets acquired	$377,500
Estimated fair value adjustment of inventory acquired	25,819
Total estimated fair value adjustments of net assets acquired	403,319
Net deferred tax liabilities associated with the estimate fair value adjustments of net assets acquired, at 35%	$141,162

For purposes of the Unaudited Pro Forma Condensed Combined Financial Information, the United States federal statutory tax rate of 35% has been used for all periods presented. This rate does not reflect MACOM's effective tax rate, which includes other tax items, such as state and foreign taxes, as well as other tax charges or benefits, and does not take into account any historical or possible future tax events that may impact the combined company.

4. Pro Forma Adjustments

The unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial statements include pro forma adjustments to give effect to the transactions. The pro forma adjustments reflecting the completion of the transactions are based upon the accounting analysis conclusion that the transactions should be accounted for as a business combination and upon the assumptions set forth below.

- (a) Reflect a reduction in cash of an estimated $287.9 million cash and issuance of 10,354,000 common shares of MACOM valued at an estimated $486.1 million as of November 18, 2016 as estimated consideration transferred to AppliedMicro stockholders in connection with the transactions, utilizing share amounts from November 18, 2016, the business day prior to announcement of the transaction;
- (b) To reflect an increase of $25.8 million to AppliedMicro's inventories to record inventory at estimated net realizable value, which has been estimated to be sales price less cost to sell plus a reasonable margin for selling effort. In addition, as MACOM sells the acquired inventory, its cost of revenue will reflect the increased valuation of AppliedMicro's inventory, which will temporarily reduce MACOM's gross margin. This impact to gross margin is considered to be non-recurring and, as such, is not included in the Unaudited Pro Forma Statement of Operations.

- (c) To record the preliminary fair value estimate of identifiable intangible assets. The intangible assets to be acquired consist of the following:

(in thousands, except estimated life)	Estimated Fair Value	Estimated Life
Trade name	$ 2,100	5 years
Technology	98,500	10 years
Backlog	8,600	3 years
Customer relationships	268,300	15 years
Total estimated consideration transferred	$377,500

- (d) The adjustment to net deferred tax assets of $24.5 million reflects the recognition of certain NOLs, development tax credit carryforwards and other deferred tax assets of AppliedMicro, which are partially offset by deferred tax liabilities arising from the differences between the book and tax bases of certain acquired assets, as more fully described in Note 3.
- (e) To record the resulting goodwill from the transactions. Resulting goodwill is equal to the excess of consideration of the fair value of the net assets acquired of 244.6 million, partially offset by historical AppliedMicro goodwill of $11.4 million.
- (f) To reflect the consolidation of AppliedMicro's net assets. AppliedMicro's historical stockholders' equity balances and accumulated deficit were removed.
- (g) To record $21.3 million as an estimate of AppliedMicro's transaction costs that are not already included in accrued liabilities as of September 30, 2016, as it is assumed that the costs would have been included in AppliedMicro's historical financial statements had the transactions been completed on September 30, 2016. The adjustment is reflected as an increase to accrued expenses with an offsetting adjustment to goodwill. These costs are considered to be non-recurring and, as such, are not included in the Unaudited Pro Forma Statement of Operations.
- (h) To record $10.7 million as an estimate of MACOM's transaction costs that are not already included in accrued liabilities as of September 30, 2016, as it is assumed that the costs would have been included in MACOM's historical financial statements had the transactions been completed on September 30, 2016. The adjustment is reflected as an increase to accrued expenses with an offsetting adjustment to accumulated deficit. These costs are considered to be non-recurring and, as such, are not included in the Unaudited Pro Forma Statement of Operations.
- (i) To record amortization expense based on the preliminary estimated fair value of identifiable intangible assets. The adjustment was comprised of the following:

(in thousands)		Amortization Expense
Trade Name	Cost of Revenue	$ 503
Technology	Cost of Revenue	4,524
Backlog	Cost of Revenue	6,177
Customer relationships	Selling, General & Administrative	4,862
Total amortization expense		$ 16,066

Amortization expense is recognized based on the pattern over which we expect to receive the economic benefit from these assets. Future amortization expense for the next five fiscal years is as follows:

(in thousands)	Cost of Revenue	Selling, General and Administrative	Total
2018	10,106	23,661	33,767
2019	11,352	29,483	40,835
2020	11,568	29,969	41,537
2021	10,818	28,255	39,073
Total	$53,015	$ 124,238	$177,253

- (j) To reverse $0.5 million of transaction costs reflected in the historical financial statements of AppliedMicro. Had the transactions been completed as of October 3, 2015, it is expected that all transaction costs would have been expensed in the prior period. These costs are considered to be non-recurring and, as such, are not included in the Unaudited Pro Forma Statement of Operations.
- (k) To reflect eleven months of incremental interest expense associated with the $250 million in term loans entered into by MACOM on August 31, 2016, as it is assumed the term loans would have been entered into at the beginning of the year as a means of financing the acquisition. Incremental interest expense is calculated using an interest rate of 4.5% and also includes $1.2 million in incremental amortization of deferred financing costs.
- (l) To reflect the pro forma adjustment at the U.S. Federal statutory tax rate of 35%. In addition, also reflects the assumed reversal of AppliedMicro's valuation allowance against net deferred tax assets as of September 30, 2016 due to MACOM's expected realization of such deferred tax assets. A summary of the pro forma income tax adjustments follows:

(in thousands)
AppliedMicro recorded loss before income taxes	$ (31,750)
Pro forma adjustments to loss before income taxes	(27,066)
Adjusted AppliedMicro loss before income taxes	(58,816)
U.S. federal statutory income tax rate	35%
Pro forma income tax adjustment	(20,586)
As recorded AppliedMicro income tax benefit	(535)
	$ (20,051)

- (m) The pro forma combined basic and diluted net loss from continuing operations per share has been adjusted to reflect the pro forma combined net loss for the year ended September 30, 2016. In addition, the numbers of shares used in calculating the pro forma combined basic and diluted net loss per share have been adjusted to reflect the estimated total number of shares of common stock of the combined company that would be outstanding as of the closing of the transactions. The estimated total number of shares of MACOM common stock expected to be issued to AppliedMicro stockholders in connection with the transactions is presented in Note 2, "Preliminary Consideration Transferred and Preliminary Fair Value of Net Assets Acquired." The following table sets forth the calculation of the basic and diluted shares used to compute net loss from continuing operations per common share:

(in thousands)	All Shares Issued/Issuable upon the transactions	Pro-Forma Weighted Average Shares Year Ended September 30, 2016

MATERIAL U.S. FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSEQUENCES

The following is a general discussion of the material U.S. federal income tax consequences of the offer and the mergers to U.S. holders and non-U.S. holders (each as defined below) of AppliedMicro common stock who exchange shares of AppliedMicro common stock for the transaction consideration pursuant to the offer and/or the first merger. This discussion is limited to such holders who hold their AppliedMicro common stock as a “capital asset” within the meaning of Section 1221 of the Code (generally, property held for investment). This discussion is based on current provisions of the Code, the Treasury regulations promulgated thereunder, judicial interpretations thereof and administrative rulings and published positions of the IRS, each as in effect as of the date hereof, and all of which are subject to change or differing interpretations, possibly with retroactive effect, and any such change could affect the accuracy of the statements and conclusions set forth herein.

This discussion is for general information only and does not purport to address all aspects of U.S. federal income taxation that may be relevant to particular holders of AppliedMicro common stock in light of their particular facts and circumstances and does not apply to holders of AppliedMicro common stock that are subject to special rules under the U.S. federal income tax laws (including, for example, banks or other financial institutions, dealers in securities or currencies, traders in securities that elect to apply a mark-to-market method of accounting, insurance companies, tax-exempt entities, entities or arrangements treated as partnerships for U.S. federal income tax purposes or other flow-through entities (and investors therein), subchapter S corporations, retirement plans, individual retirement accounts or other tax-deferred accounts, real estate investment trusts, regulated investment companies, holders liable for the alternative minimum tax, certain former citizens or former long-term residents of the United States, U.S. holders having a “functional currency” other than the U.S. dollar, holders who hold shares of AppliedMicro common stock as part of a hedge, straddle, constructive sale, conversion transaction or other integrated transaction, “controlled foreign corporations,” “passive foreign investment companies,” holders who exercise dissenters’ rights, and holders who acquired their shares of AppliedMicro common stock through the exercise of an employee stock option or otherwise as compensation or through a tax-qualified retirement plan). This discussion does not address any considerations under U.S. federal tax laws other than those pertaining to the income tax, nor does it address any considerations under any state, local or non-U.S. tax laws or under the unearned income Medicare contribution tax pursuant to the Health Care and Education Reconciliation Act of 2010.

If an entity or arrangement treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes holds shares of AppliedMicro common stock, the tax treatment of a person treated as a partner in such partnership generally will depend on the status of the partner and the activities of the partnership. Persons that for U.S. federal income tax purposes are treated as a partner in a partnership holding shares of AppliedMicro common stock should consult their tax advisors regarding the tax consequences of the offer and the mergers to them.

ALL HOLDERS OF APPLIEDMICRO COMMON STOCK SHOULD CONSULT THEIR OWN TAX ADVISORS AS TO THE PARTICULAR TAX CONSEQUENCES TO THEM OF THE OFFER AND THE MERGERS, INCLUDING THE APPLICABILITY AND EFFECT OF ANY U.S. FEDERAL, STATE, LOCAL, NON-U.S. AND OTHER TAX LAWS.

For purposes of this discussion, the term “U.S. holder” means a beneficial owner of shares of AppliedMicro common stock that is, for U.S. federal income tax purposes:

- an individual who is a citizen or resident of the United States;
- a corporation (or any other entity treated as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes) created or organized under the laws of the United States, any state thereof, or the District of Columbia;
- an estate, the income of which is subject to U.S. federal income tax regardless of its source; or
- a trust (a) if a court within the United States is able to exercise primary supervision over the trust’s administration and one or more U.S. persons have the authority to control all substantial decisions of the trust or (b) that has a valid election in effect under applicable Treasury regulations to be treated as a U.S. person for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

For purposes of this discussion, the term “non-U.S. holder” means a beneficial owner of shares of AppliedMicro common stock that is neither a U.S. holder nor a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

It is a condition to MACOM’s obligation to complete the offer that MACOM and AppliedMicro each receive a written opinion from their respective legal counsel, Ropes & Gray LLP and Pillsbury Winthrop Shaw Pittman LLP, respectively, to the effect that the offer and the mergers, taken together, will qualify as a “reorganization” within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code. These opinions will be based on representations made by AppliedMicro and MACOM and on customary factual assumptions, as well as certain covenants and undertakings of AppliedMicro and MACOM. If any of such representations, assumptions, covenants or undertakings is or becomes incorrect, incomplete, inaccurate or is violated, the validity of the opinions described above may be affected and the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the offer and the mergers could differ materially from those described below. In addition, neither of the opinions described above will be binding on the IRS or any court. MACOM and AppliedMicro have not sought and will not seek any ruling from the IRS regarding any matters relating to the offer and the mergers. There can be no assurance that the IRS will not assert, or that a court would not sustain, a position contrary to any of the conclusions set forth below.

U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Offer and the Mergers to U.S. Holders

Assuming the receipt and accuracy of the opinions described above, the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the offer and the mergers to U.S. holders are as follows:

- a U.S. holder who receives a combination of shares of MACOM common stock and cash (other than cash received in lieu of fractional shares of MACOM common stock) in exchange for shares of AppliedMicro common stock pursuant to the offer and/or the first merger generally will recognize gain (but not loss) in an amount equal to the lesser of (i) the amount by which the sum of the fair market value of the MACOM common stock and cash received by the U.S. holder exceeds such U.S. holder’s adjusted tax basis in its shares of AppliedMicro common stock surrendered and (ii) the amount of cash received by such U.S. holder (in each case excluding any cash received in lieu of fractional shares in MACOM common stock, which shall be treated as discussed below);
- the aggregate tax basis of the shares of MACOM common stock received pursuant to the offer and the first merger (including any fractional shares of MACOM common stock deemed received and exchanged for cash, as discussed below) will be the same as the aggregate tax basis of the shares of AppliedMicro common stock surrendered in exchange therefor, decreased by the amount of cash received (excluding any cash received instead of fractional shares of MACOM common stock), and increased by the amount of gain recognized on the exchange (regardless of whether such gain is classified as capital gain or dividend income, as discussed below), excluding any gain recognized with respect to any fractional shares of MACOM common stock for which cash is received, as discussed below; and
- the holding period of the MACOM common stock received in exchange for shares of AppliedMicro common stock (including any fractional shares of MACOM common stock deemed received and exchanged for cash, as discussed below) will include the holding period of the AppliedMicro common stock for which it is exchanged.

If a U.S. holder of AppliedMicro common stock acquired different blocks of shares of AppliedMicro common stock at different times or at different prices, any gain or loss will be determined separately with respect to each block of shares of AppliedMicro common stock and such U.S. holder’s basis and holding period in its shares of MACOM common stock may be determined with reference to each block of shares of AppliedMicro common stock. Any such holder should consult its tax advisors regarding the manner in which cash and shares of MACOM common stock received in the offer and the first merger should be allocated among different blocks of shares of AppliedMicro common stock and with respect to identifying the bases or holding periods of the particular shares of MACOM common stock received.

Any gain recognized by a U.S. holder of AppliedMicro common stock in connection with the offer and the mergers generally will constitute capital gain or loss and will constitute long-term capital gain or loss if such U.S. holder has held its shares of AppliedMicro common stock surrendered for more than one year as of the date of the exchange. Long-term capital gains of certain non-corporate holders, including individuals, are generally taxed at preferential rates. The deductibility of capital losses is subject to limitations. In some cases, if a holder actually or constructively owns MACOM common stock other than MACOM common stock received pursuant to the offer and/or the first merger, the recognized gain could be treated as having the effect of a distribution of a dividend under the tests set forth in Section 302 of the Code, in which case such gain would be treated as dividend income. Because the possibility of dividend treatment depends upon each holder's particular circumstances, including the application of constructive ownership rules, holders of AppliedMicro common stock should consult their tax advisors regarding the application of the foregoing rules to their particular circumstances.

A U.S. holder of shares of AppliedMicro common stock who receives cash instead of a fractional share of MACOM common stock will generally be treated as having received the fractional share pursuant to the offer or the first merger, as applicable, and then as having sold that fractional share of MACOM common stock for cash. As a result, such U.S. holder will generally recognize gain or loss equal to the difference between the amount of cash received and the tax basis allocated to such fractional share of MACOM common stock. Gain or loss recognized with respect to cash received in lieu of a fractional share of MACOM common stock will generally constitute capital gain or loss, and will constitute long-term capital gain or loss if, as of the date of the exchange, the holding period for such share is greater than one year. The deductibility of capital losses is subject to limitations.

U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Offer and the Mergers to Non-U.S. Holders

In general, the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the offer and the mergers to non-U.S. holders that receive a combination of shares of MACOM common stock and cash in exchange for shares of AppliedMicro common stock pursuant to the offer and/or the first merger will be the same as those described above for U.S. holders, except that, subject to the discussion below regarding potential dividend treatment, a non-U.S. holder generally will not be subject to U.S. federal income tax or withholding tax on any gain realized in connection with the offer and the first merger unless:

- such gain is effectively connected with the non-U.S. holder's conduct of a trade or business within the United States (and, if required by an applicable income tax treaty, is attributable to a permanent establishment of the non-U.S. holder in the United States); or
- the non-U.S. holder is an individual who is present in the United States for 183 days or more in the taxable year in which the gain is realized and certain other conditions are met; or
- AppliedMicro is or has been a "United States real property holding corporation" within the meaning of Section 897(c)(2) of the Code for U.S. federal income tax purposes at any time during the shorter of the five-year period preceding the date of disposition or the non-U.S. holder's holding period for AppliedMicro common stock, and certain other requirements are met.

Gain described in the first bullet point above generally will be subject to U.S. federal income tax on a net income basis at the regular graduated U.S. federal income tax rates in the same manner as if such non-U.S. holder were a U.S. person. A non-U.S. holder that is a corporation also may be subject to an additional branch profits tax at a rate of thirty percent (30%) (or such lower rate as may be specified by an applicable income tax treaty) on its "effectively connected earnings and profits" for the taxable year, subject to certain adjustments.

Gain described in the second bullet point above will be subject to U.S. federal income tax at a thirty percent (30%) rate (or such lower rate as may be specified by an applicable income tax treaty), but may be offset by U.S. source capital losses, if any, of the non-U.S. holder.

Even if AppliedMicro is treated as a United States real property holding corporation, gain realized by a non-U.S. holder on a disposition of shares of AppliedMicro common stock will not be subject to U.S. federal income tax so long as (1) the non-U.S. holder owned, directly, indirectly and constructively, no more than five percent of AppliedMicro's common stock at all times within the shorter of (x) the five-year period preceding the disposition or (y) the holder's holding period and (2) shares of AppliedMicro common stock are regularly traded on an established securities market. If any gain realized by a non-U.S. holder in connection with the offer and the first merger is taxable because AppliedMicro is a United States real property holding corporation and the non-U.S. holder's ownership of AppliedMicro common stock exceeds five percent, the non-U.S. holder will be subject to U.S. federal income tax (but not withholding) on such disposition generally in the manner applicable to U.S. holders.

As discussed above under "- U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Offer and the Mergers to U.S. Holders," in certain circumstances, gain recognized in connection with the offer and the mergers by a non-U.S. holder could be treated as having the effect of a distribution of a dividend under the tests set forth in Section 302 of the Code, in which case such gain would be treated as dividend income. Any amount so treated generally would be subject to U.S. withholding tax at a rate of thirty percent (30%), or such lower rate as may be specified by an applicable income tax treaty, unless such dividend is effectively connected with the non-U.S. holder's conduct of a trade or business within the United States (and, if required by an applicable income tax treaty, is attributable to a permanent establishment of the non-U.S. holder in the United States). To the extent the applicable withholding agent is unable to determine the amount subject to such withholding with respect to a non-U.S. holder, the withholding agent may withhold at a rate of thirty percent (30%) (or such lower rate as may be specified by an applicable income tax treaty) on the entire amount of cash consideration payable to such non-U.S. holder pursuant to the offer and/or the first merger. If a withholding agent withholds excess amounts from the cash consideration so payable to a non-U.S. holder, such non-U.S. holder may obtain a refund of any such excess amounts by timely filing an appropriate claim with the IRS. Non-U.S. holders should consult their own tax advisors regarding the application of the foregoing rules in light of their particular facts and circumstances, the procedures for claiming treaty benefits or otherwise establishing an exemption from U.S. withholding tax with respect to any portion of the cash consideration payable to them pursuant to the offer and/or the first merger, and the possible desirability of selling their shares of AppliedMicro common stock or MACOM common stock (and considerations relating to the timing of any such sales).

Information Reporting and Backup Withholding

Payments of cash to a U.S. holder of AppliedMicro common stock may, under certain circumstances, be subject to information reporting and backup withholding, unless the U.S. holder provides proof of an applicable exemption or furnishes its taxpayer identification number and otherwise complies with all applicable requirements of the backup withholding rules. Certain holders (such as corporations and non-U.S. holders) are exempt from backup withholding. Non-U.S. holders may be required to comply with certification requirements and identification procedures in order to establish an exemption from information reporting and backup withholding. The amount of any backup withholding will be allowed as a refund or credit against a holder's U.S. federal income tax liability, if any, provided that certain required information is timely furnished to the IRS.

The preceding discussion is intended only as a summary of material U.S. federal income tax consequences of the offer and the mergers. It is not a complete analysis or discussion of all potential tax effects that may be important to a particular holder. All holders of AppliedMicro common stock should consult their own tax advisors as to the specific tax consequences of the offer and the mergers to them, including tax reporting requirements, and the applicability and effect of any federal, state, local and non-U.S. tax laws.

DESCRIPTION OF MACOM CAPITAL STOCK

As of the date of this document, MACOM is authorized to issue 300,000,000 shares of common stock, par value $0.001 per share, and 10,000,000 shares of preferred stock, par value $0.001 per share. As of January 12, 2017, there were 53,797,893 shares of MACOM common stock outstanding (excluding 22,993 shares held in treasury), and no shares of preferred stock issued or outstanding.

The following summary describes the material terms of MACOM's capital stock but is not complete and is qualified by reference to the fifth amended and restated certificate of incorporation of MACOM (its "charter"), and the third amended and restated bylaws of MACOM (its "bylaws"), both of which are filed as exhibits to the registration statement of which this document forms a part. See "Where To Obtain Additional Information."

Common Stock

The holders of MACOM common stock are entitled to one vote per share on all matters to be voted on by the common stockholders. The holders of MACOM common stock are not entitled to cumulative voting in the election of directors. Therefore, holders of a majority of the shares voting for the election of directors can elect all directors. Subject to preferences of any outstanding shares of preferred stock, the holders of MACOM common stock are entitled to receive ratably any dividends MACOM's board of directors may declare out of funds legally available for the payment of dividends. If MACOM is liquidated, dissolved or wound up, the holders of MACOM common stock are entitled to share pro rata in all assets remaining after payment of, or provision for, liabilities and liquidation preferences of any outstanding shares of preferred stock. Holders of MACOM common stock have no pre-emptive rights or rights to convert their common stock into any other securities. There are no redemption or sinking fund provisions applicable to the common stock. All outstanding shares of common stock are fully paid and non-assessable.

Preferred Stock

Pursuant to its charter, MACOM's board of directors has the authority, without further action by the stockholders, to issue up to 10,000,000 shares of preferred stock from time to time in one or more series. MACOM's board of directors also has the authority to fix the designations, voting powers, preferences, and relative, participating, optional or other special rights, and the qualifications, limitations or restrictions of, any series of preferred stock, including dividend rights, conversion rights, voting rights, terms of redemption and liquidation preferences, any or all of which may be greater than the rights of the common stock. MACOM's board of directors, without stockholder approval, can issue preferred stock with voting, conversion or other rights that could adversely affect the voting power and other rights of the holders of common stock. The issuance of preferred stock may decrease the market price of MACOM's common stock.

Pre-emptive Rights

Under Delaware law, a stockholder is not entitled to pre-emptive rights to subscribe for additional issuances of common stock or any other class of series of common stock or any security convertible into such stock in proportion to the shares that are owned unless there is a provision to the contrary in the certificate of incorporation. MACOM's charter does not provide that MACOM stockholders are entitled to pre-emptive rights.

Registration Rights

MACOM is party to a second amended and restated investor rights agreement with certain holders of its capital stock and warrants (as amended, the "second amended and restated investor rights agreement"), which provides for rights relating to the registration of the shares of MACOM's common stock held by them and issuable to them upon exercise of the warrants held by them. These securities are referred to as "registrable securities."

Table of Contents

Specifically, the second amended and restated investor rights agreement provides for, subject to certain conditions, (i) up to two demand registration rights, which require MACOM to effect a registration of registrable securities with the SEC upon a written request from certain holders of registrable securities; (ii) unlimited shelf demand registration rights after MACOM is eligible to use a registration statement on Form S-3 upon request from the holders of at least five percent (5%) of the outstanding registrable securities; and (iii) piggyback registration rights, subject to certain conditions, which may require MACOM to register registrable securities if MACOM proposes to register any of its equity securities for sale to the public (whether for its account or the account of any stockholder).

In connection with any registration effected pursuant to the terms of the second amended and restated investor rights agreement, MACOM will be required to pay for all of the fees and expenses incurred in connection with such registration, including registration fees, filing fees and printing fees. However, the underwriting discounts, commissions and fees payable in respect of registrable securities included in any registration will be paid by the persons including such registrable securities in any such registration. MACOM has also agreed to indemnify the holders of registrable securities against claims, losses, damages and liabilities with respect to each registration effected pursuant to the second amended and restated investor rights agreement subject to limited exceptions.

Anti-Takeover Effects of Certain Provisions of MACOM's Charter and MACOM's Bylaws

Provisions of MACOM's charter, MACOM's bylaws and Delaware law could have the effect of delaying or preventing a third party from acquiring MACOM, even if the acquisition would benefit MACOM's stockholders. These provisions may delay, defer or prevent a tender offer or takeover attempt of MACOM that a stockholder might consider in the stockholder's best interest, including those attempts that might result in a premium over the market price for the shares held by MACOM stockholders. These provisions are intended to enhance the likelihood of continuity and stability in the composition of MACOM's board of directors and in the policies formulated by the board of directors and to reduce vulnerability to an unsolicited proposal for a takeover that does not contemplate the acquisition of all of MACOM's outstanding shares, or an unsolicited proposal for MACOM's restructuring or sale of all or part of MACOM's business.

Authorized but Unissued Shares of Common Stock and Preferred Stock

MACOM's authorized but unissued shares of common stock and preferred stock are available for MACOM's board of directors to issue without stockholder approval. As noted above, the board of directors, without stockholder approval, has the authority under MACOM's charter to issue preferred stock with rights superior to the rights of the holders of common stock. As a result, preferred stock could be issued quickly, could adversely affect the rights of holders of common stock and could be issued with terms calculated to delay or prevent a change of control or make removal of management more difficult. MACOM may use the additional authorized shares of common or preferred stock for a variety of corporate purposes, including future public offerings to raise additional capital, corporate acquisitions and employee benefit plans. The existence of MACOM's authorized but unissued shares of common stock and preferred stock could render more difficult or discourage an attempt to obtain control of the company by means of a proxy contest, tender offer, merger or other transaction.

Classified Board; Election and Removal of Directors

MACOM's charter provides for the division of MACOM's board of directors into three classes, as nearly as equal in number as possible, with the directors in each class serving for three (3)-year terms, and one class being elected each year by MACOM's stockholders. MACOM's directors can be removed only for cause and, subject to specified exceptions, vacancies on the board of directors may be filled only by the affirmative vote of a majority of the directors then in office. Further, only MACOM's board of directors may change the size of the board of directors. Because this system of electing, appointing and removing directors generally makes it more difficult for stockholders to replace a majority of the board of directors, it may discourage a third party from initiating a tender offer or otherwise attempting to gain control of the company, and may maintain the incumbency of MACOM's board of directors.

Stockholder Action; Special Meetings of Stockholders

MACOM's charter and bylaws provide that no action shall be taken by the stockholders except at an annual or special meeting of the stockholders called in accordance with MACOM's bylaws and no action shall be taken by the stockholders by written consent.

MACOM's charter also provides that special meetings of MACOM's stockholders may be called only by the majority of MACOM's board of directors or by the chairman of the board of directors.

Advance Notice Requirements for Stockholder Proposals and Director Nominations

MACOM's bylaws provide that stockholders seeking to bring business before a meeting of stockholders, or to nominate candidates for election as directors at a meeting of stockholders, must provide MACOM with timely written notice of their proposal. MACOM's bylaws also specify requirements as to the form and content of a stockholder's notice. These provisions may preclude stockholders from bringing matters before an annual meeting of stockholders or from making nominations for directors at an annual meeting of stockholders.

Amendment to MACOM's Charter and MACOM's Bylaws

MACOM's charter may generally be amended by a majority of its stockholders, except with respect to provisions of the charter regarding MACOM's board of directors, stockholder meetings and amendments to MACOM's certificate of incorporation and bylaws, which may only be amended upon approval of holders of at least 66-2/3% of MACOM's outstanding voting stock. In addition, the approval of at least 80% of MACOM's outstanding voting stock is required to amend the provisions of Article VI of MACOM's charter with respect to limitation of director liability, indemnification of directors and officers and renunciation of corporate opportunities. MACOM's bylaws may generally be amended by MACOM's board of directors or by MACOM's stockholders upon approval of holders of at least 66-2/3% of MACOM's outstanding voting stock.

Corporate Opportunities

MACOM's charter provides that it expressly renounce any interest or expectancy in any corporate opportunity and that there shall be no expectation that such corporate opportunity be offered to MACOM or its affiliates, if such opportunity is one that an "Institutional Investor" (as defined below) has acquired knowledge of or is otherwise pursuing, such that as a result of such renunciation, the corporate opportunity shall belong to such Institutional Investor. The renunciation does not apply to any interest or expectancy MACOM may have in any corporate opportunity that is expressly offered to any of MACOM's directors or officers in his or her capacity as a director or officer of MACOM. An "Institutional Investor" is defined as (i) GaAs Labs, LLC and its affiliated companies, or (ii) Summit Partners, L.P. and its affiliated companies, in each case including each of their respective directors, officers, employees and agents.

Delaware Law

MACOM is subject to the provisions of Section 203 of the DGCL, an anti-takeover law. Subject to exceptions, the statute prohibits a publicly-held Delaware corporation from engaging in a "business combination" with an "interested stockholder" for a period of three (3) years after the date of the transaction in which the person became an interested stockholder, unless:

- prior to such date, the board of directors of the corporation approved either the business combination or the transaction which resulted in the stockholder becoming an interested stockholder;

- upon consummation of the transaction which resulted in the stockholder becoming an interested stockholder, the interested stockholder owned at least eighty-five percent (85%) of the voting stock of the corporation outstanding at the time the transaction commenced (excluding for purposes of determining the number of shares outstanding, those shares owned by (1) persons who are directors and also officers and (2) employee stock plans in which employee participants do not have the right to determine confidentially whether shares held subject to the plan will be tendered in a tender or exchange offer); or
- on or after such date, the business combination is approved by the board of directors and authorized at an annual or special meeting of stockholders and not by written consent, by the affirmative vote of at least 66-2/3% of the outstanding voting stock which is not owned by the interested stockholder.

For purposes of Section 203 of the DGCL, a “business combination” includes a merger, asset sale or other transaction resulting in a financial benefit to the interested stockholder, with an “interested stockholder” being defined as a person who, together with affiliates and associates, owns, or within three (3) years prior to the date of determination whether the person is an “interested stockholder,” did own, fifteen percent (15%) or more of the corporation’s voting stock.

Exclusive Forum

MACOM’s charter provides that the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware shall be the sole and exclusive forum for (i) any derivative action or proceeding brought on behalf of MACOM, (ii) any action asserting a claim of breach of a fiduciary duty owed by any director or officer of MACOM to MACOM or its stockholders, (iii) any action asserting a claim against MACOM arising pursuant to the DGCL or MACOM’s charter or bylaws or (iv) any action asserting a claim against MACOM that is governed by the internal affairs doctrine. Although MACOM has included a choice of forum clause in its certificate of incorporation, it is possible that a court could rule that such clause is inapplicable or unenforceable. MACOM’s bylaws provide that any person or entity purchasing or otherwise acquiring an interest in MACOM capital stock is deemed to have notice of and to have consented to the exclusive forum provisions described in this paragraph.

MACOM’s bylaws further provide that any person or entity purchasing or otherwise acquiring an interest in MACOM capital stock is deemed to have (i) consented and submitted to personal jurisdiction of the courts located within the State of Delaware in connection with any action described in the paragraph above (an “Action”), (ii) waived any objection to the exercise of personal jurisdiction over such stockholder in the courts located within the State of Delaware, (iii) waived any argument relating to the inconvenience of the forums described in (i) and (ii) of this paragraph with respect to any Action, (iv) agreed not to commence any Action other than before a court within the State of Delaware nor to make any attempt to cause transfer or removal of any such Action to any court other than a court within the State of Delaware, and (v) consented to having service of process made upon such stockholder by service upon such stockholder’s counsel as agent for such stockholder in the event that such stockholder brings an Action in a court other than a court within the State of Delaware.

WHEREAS, the Parties desire to make certain representations, warranties, covenants and agreements specified herein in connection with the Transactions.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the foregoing and the representations, warranties, covenants and agreements contained herein, and intending to be legally bound hereby, the Parties agree as follows:

ARTICLE I

Section 1.1. The Offer.

(a) Terms and Conditions of the Offer. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement and provided that this Agreement has not been terminated in accordance with ARTICLE VIII and that the Company shall have complied with its obligations under Section 1.2 and Section 1.3 hereof, as promptly as practicable after the date hereof (but in any event within twenty (20) Business Days of the date hereof), Purchaser shall, and Parent shall cause Purchaser to, commence the Offer within the meaning of Rule 14d-2 promulgated under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (together with the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, the "Exchange Act"). The obligations of Purchaser to, and of Parent to cause Purchaser to, accept for payment, and pay for, any shares of Company Common Stock validly tendered and not properly withdrawn pursuant to the Offer are subject only to the satisfaction or waiver of the conditions set forth in Annex A (the "Offer Conditions"). In the Offer, each share of Company Common Stock accepted by Purchaser shall be exchanged for the right to receive: (i) $3.25 in cash (the "Cash Consideration"), and (ii) 0.1089 shares of Parent Common Stock (the "Stock Consideration"), and together with the Cash Consideration, the "Transaction Consideration").

(b) Changes to Terms and Conditions. Purchaser expressly reserves the right to waive any Offer Condition or modify the terms of the Offer, except that, without the prior written consent of the Company, Purchaser shall not, and Parent shall not permit Purchaser to, (i) reduce the number of shares of Company Common Stock subject to the Offer, (ii) reduce the Transaction Consideration to be paid in the Offer, (iii) change the form of consideration payable in the Offer, (iv) waive, amend or modify any of the conditions set forth in paragraphs (A), (B), (C) or (D) of Annex A, (v) add any condition to the Offer other than those set forth in Annex A, (vi) amend, modify or supplement any Offer Condition in any manner adverse to the holders of Company Common Stock, (vii) except as otherwise expressly required or permitted under this Agreement, terminate or extend the Offer, or (viii) otherwise amend, modify or supplement any of the terms of the Offer in any manner adverse (other than in an immaterial or de minimis way) to the holders of Company Common Stock.

(c) Expiration and Extension of the Offer.

(i) Unless the Offer is extended pursuant to and in accordance with this Agreement, the Offer shall expire at 12:00 a.m. midnight, Eastern time, on the date that is twenty (20) business days (for this purpose calculated in accordance with Rule 14d-1(g)(3) promulgated under the Exchange Act) after the date the Offer is first commenced (within the meaning of Rule 14d-2 promulgated under the Exchange Act) (such initial expiration date, or such subsequent time and date to which the expiration of the Offer is extended pursuant to and in accordance with this Agreement, the "Expiration Date").

(ii) Notwithstanding the foregoing, unless this Agreement has been terminated in accordance with ARTICLE VIII, (A) Purchaser shall (and Parent shall cause Purchaser to) extend the Expiration Date for any period required by applicable U.S. federal securities laws and the rules and regulations of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC") and its staff with respect thereto or the rules and regulations of the Nasdaq Global Select Market ("Nasdaq"), applicable to the Offer, including such time as is necessary pursuant to Section 1.2(c) (but in no event shall Purchaser be required to extend the Offer for this purpose past the End Date), and (B) if at any scheduled Expiration Date the Offer Conditions shall not have been satisfied or earlier waived, Purchaser may elect to, and if requested by the Company, shall (and Parent shall cause Purchaser to), extend the Offer and the Expiration Date to a date that is not more than ten (10) business days (for this purpose calculated in accordance with Rule 14d-1(g)(3) promulgated under the Exchange Act) after such previously scheduled Expiration Date; provided, however, that Purchaser shall not be required to extend the Offer pursuant to this clause (ii) on more than two (2) occasions if all Offer Conditions other than the Minimum Condition are satisfied on the date on which the Offer is scheduled to expire, but the Minimum Condition is not satisfied, but may, in its sole and absolute discretion, elect to do so; provided, further, that (x) notwithstanding the foregoing in this clause (ii), in no event shall Purchaser be required to extend the Offer beyond the End Date, if Purchaser is then entitled to terminate this Agreement pursuant to Section 8.1(b) and (y) in no event shall Purchaser be permitted to extend the Offer beyond the End Date (unless the Company has consented to such extension).

(d) Payment for Shares of Company Common Stock. Subject only to the satisfaction or waiver by Purchaser of the Offer Conditions as of the Expiration Date, Purchaser shall, and Parent shall cause Purchaser to, (i) promptly after the Expiration Date irrevocably accept for payment (the time of such acceptance, the “Acceptance Time”), and (ii) promptly (within the meaning of Section 14e-1(c) promulgated under the Exchange Act, and in any event within three (3) business days (calculated as set forth in Rule 14d-1(g)(3))) after the Expiration Date pay for, all shares of Company Common Stock that are validly tendered (and not properly withdrawn) in the Offer. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, Parent shall provide or cause to be provided to Purchaser on a timely basis the funds and shares of Parent Common Stock necessary to pay for any shares of Company Common Stock that Purchaser becomes obligated to purchase pursuant to the Offer; provided, however, that notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Section 1.1(d) without the prior written consent of the Company, Purchaser shall not accept for payment or pay for any shares of Company Common Stock if, as a result, Purchaser would acquire less than the number of shares of Company Common Stock necessary to satisfy the Minimum Condition. The Company shall use its reasonable best efforts to register (and shall instruct its transfer agent to register) the transfer of shares of Company Common Stock accepted for payment effective immediately after the Acceptance Time.

(e) No Fractional Shares. In lieu of any fractional share of Parent Common Stock that otherwise would be issuable pursuant to the Offer, each holder of Company Common Stock who otherwise would be entitled to receive a fraction of a share of Parent Common Stock pursuant to the Offer (after aggregating all shares of Company Common Stock tendered in the Offer (and not validly withdrawn) by such holder) will be paid an amount in cash (without interest) equal to such fractional part of a share of Parent Common Stock multiplied by the Parent Trading Price, rounded to the nearest one-hundredth of a cent.

(f) Adjustments to the Offer. The Cash Consideration and the Stock Consideration shall each be adjusted appropriately to reflect the effect of any stock split, reverse stock split, stock dividend (including any dividend or distribution of securities convertible into Company Common Stock or Parent Common Stock, as applicable), reclassification, combination, exchange of shares or other like change (other than in connection with the Transactions) with respect to the number of shares of Company Common Stock or shares of Parent Common Stock outstanding after the date hereof and prior to Purchaser’s acceptance for payment of, and payment for, shares of Company Common Stock that are tendered pursuant to the Offer.

(g) Termination. Nothing in this Section 1.1 shall be deemed to impair, limit or otherwise restrict in any manner the right of the Parties to terminate this Agreement pursuant to the terms of ARTICLE VIII. In the event this Agreement is terminated pursuant to ARTICLE VIII prior to any scheduled Expiration Date, Purchaser shall promptly (and in any event within twenty-four (24) hours of such termination of this Agreement) irrevocably and unconditionally terminate the Offer.

Parent shall use reasonable best efforts to take any other action required to be taken under the Securities Act, the Exchange Act, any applicable state securities or “blue sky” Laws and the rules and regulations thereunder in connection with the issuance of the Parent Common Stock in the Offer and/or the First Merger, and will pay all expenses thereto, and the Company shall furnish all information concerning the Company and the holders of the Company Common Stock as may be reasonably requested in connection with any such actions.

Section 1.3. Company Actions.

(a) Company Recommendation. The Company hereby consents to and approves the Offer pursuant to the terms of this Agreement. The Company hereby further consents to the inclusion in the Offer Document of such approval and Company Recommendation, unless the Company shall have withdrawn or modified such Company Recommendation as provided in Section 6.3(f). The Company shall not withdraw or modify such Company Recommendation in any manner adverse to Purchaser or Parent except as provided in Section 6.3(f).

(b) Schedule 14D-9. The Company shall (i) file with the SEC concurrently with the filing by Parent and Purchaser of the Schedule TO, a Solicitation/Recommendation Statement on Schedule 14D-9 pertaining to the Offer, which shall contain and constitute notice to holders of shares of Company Common Stock informing such holders of their rights of appraisal in respect of such shares of Company Common Stock in accordance with Section 262 of the DGCL (together with all amendments and supplements thereto, and including all exhibits thereto, the “Schedule 14D-9”) and (ii) cause the Schedule 14D-9 to be mailed to the holders of shares of Company Common Stock promptly after commencement of the Offer. The Company shall cause the Schedule 14D-9 to comply as to form and content in all material respects with the requirements of the applicable provisions of the Exchange Act and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder and other applicable Law. To the extent requested by the Company, Parent shall cause the Schedule 14D-9 to be mailed or otherwise disseminated to the holders of shares of Company Common Stock (to the extent required by the applicable Laws) together with the Offer Documents. Each of Parent and Purchaser shall furnish to the Company all information concerning Parent and Purchaser that is required by applicable Laws to be included in the Schedule 14D-9 so as to enable the Company to comply with its obligations under this Section 1.3(b). Parent, Purchaser and the Company shall cooperate in good faith to determine the information regarding the Company that is necessary to include in the Schedule 14D-9 in order to satisfy applicable Laws. Each of the Company, Parent and Purchaser shall promptly correct any information provided by it or any of its Representatives for use in the Schedule 14D-9, or provide information it has not provided if and to the extent that such information contains any untrue statement of a material fact or the Schedule 14D-9 omits to state any material fact required to be stated therein or necessary in order to make the statements therein, in light of the circumstances under which they are made, not misleading. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Company shall have no responsibility with respect to any information supplied by Parent or any Merger Sub for inclusion or incorporation by reference in the Schedule 14D-9. The Company shall, with Parent’s and Purchaser’s cooperation, take all steps necessary to cause the Schedule 14D-9, as so corrected, to be filed with the SEC and disseminated to the holders of shares of Company Common Stock, in each case as and to the extent required by applicable Laws. Unless and until the Company

Board of Directors has effected a Company Adverse Recommendation Change in accordance with Section 6.3, the Company shall (A) provide Parent and its counsel with a reasonable opportunity to review and comment on the Schedule 14D-9 (and any amendments or supplements to the foregoing) prior to the filing thereof with the SEC, and the Company shall give reasonable and good faith consideration to any timely comments thereon made by Parent or its counsel, (B) promptly notify Parent of the receipt of, and promptly provide Parent copies of, all comments from, and all correspondence with, the SEC or its staff with respect to the Schedule 14D-9 and shall promptly notify Parent of any request by the SEC or its staff for any amendment or supplement thereto or for additional information, (C) provide Parent and its counsel with a reasonable opportunity to review and comment on any proposed correspondence between it and/or any of its Representatives on the one hand and the SEC or its staff on the other hand with respect to the Schedule 14D-9 and the Company shall give reasonable and good faith consideration to any comments thereon made by Parent or its counsel and (D) promptly provide Parent with final copies of any correspondence sent by it and/or any of its Representatives to the SEC or its staff with respect to the Schedule 14D-9, and of any amendments or supplements to the Schedule 14D-9. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Section 1.3(b), but subject to Section 6.3, the Company may amend or supplement the Schedule 14D-9 in connection with a Company Adverse Recommendation Change, without the prior consent of Parent and without providing Parent or its counsel an opportunity to review or comment thereon. The Schedule 14D-9 shall include the fairness opinions of the Company's financial advisors referenced in Section 4.18.

(c) Company Information. In connection with the Offer, the Company shall, or shall use reasonable best efforts to cause its transfer agent to, promptly furnish Parent and Purchaser with such assistance and such information as Parent or its agents may reasonably request in order to disseminate and otherwise communicate the Offer to the record and beneficial holders of shares of Company Common Stock, including a list, as of the most recent practicable date, of the stockholders of the Company, mailing labels and any available listing or computer files containing the names and addresses of all record and beneficial holders of shares of Company Common Stock, and lists of security positions of shares of Company Common Stock held in stock depositories (including updated lists of stockholders, mailing labels, listings or files of securities positions), in each case as of the most recent practicable date, and shall promptly furnish Parent and Purchaser with such additional information and assistance (including updated lists of the record and beneficial holders of shares of Company Common Stock, mailing labels and lists of security positions) as Parent and Purchaser or their agents may reasonably request in order to communicate the Offer to the holders of shares of Company Common Stock. Subject to applicable Laws, and except for such steps as are necessary to disseminate the Offer Documents and any other documents necessary to consummate the Offer and the Mergers, Parent and Purchaser (and their respective agents) shall:

- (i) hold in confidence the information contained in any such lists of stockholders, mailing labels and listings or files of securities positions;
- (ii) use such information only in connection with the Offer and the Mergers; and

(iii) if this Agreement shall be terminated pursuant to ARTICLE VIII, promptly return (and shall use their respective reasonable efforts to cause their agents to return to the Company or destroy) any and all copies and any extracts or summaries from such information then in their possession or control.

following the First Merger, the First Surviving Company will be a wholly owned direct subsidiary of Parent, and (b) immediately thereafter, and as part of the same plan, at the Second Effective Time, in accordance with Limited Liability Company Act of the State of Delaware (the “DLLCA”), the First Surviving Company shall be merged with and into Merger Sub Two, whereupon the separate corporate existence of the First Surviving Company will cease with Merger Sub Two surviving the Second Merger (Merger Sub Two, as the surviving entity of the Second Merger, sometimes being referred to herein as the “Surviving Company”) such that following the Second Merger, the Surviving Company will be a wholly owned direct subsidiary of Parent. The Mergers shall have the effects provided in this Agreement and as specified in the DGCL and the DLLCA, as applicable. The First Merger shall be governed by Section 251(h) of the DGCL.

Section 2.2. Closing. The closing of the Mergers (the “Closing”) shall take place at the offices of Ropes & Gray LLP, Prudential Tower, 800 Boylston Street, Boston, Massachusetts, 02199, at 10:00 a.m., Eastern time, on the date that is the third (3rd) Business Day after the satisfaction or waiver (to the extent permitted by applicable Law) of the last of the conditions set forth in ARTICLE VII (other than those conditions that by their nature are to be satisfied at or immediately prior to the Closing, but subject to the satisfaction or waiver of such conditions), or at such other place, date and time as the Company and Parent may agree in writing. The date on which the Closing actually occurs is referred to as the “Closing Date.”

Section 2.3. Effective Time. As soon as practicable on the Closing Date, the Parties shall cause (a) a certificate of merger with respect to the First Merger (the “First Certificate of Merger”) to be duly executed and filed with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware (the “Delaware Secretary”) as provided under the DGCL and make any other filings, recordings or publications required to be made by the Company or Purchaser under the DGCL in connection with the First Merger, and (b) following the filing of the First Certificate of Merger, a certificate of merger with respect to the Second Merger (the “Second Certificate of Merger”, and together with the First Certificate of Merger, the “Certificates of Merger”) to be duly executed and filed with the Delaware Secretary as provided under the DGCL and the DLLCA and make any other filings, recordings or publications required to be made by the First Surviving Company or Merger Sub Two under the DGCL and the DLLCA in connection with the Second Merger. The First Merger shall become effective at such time as the First Certificate of Merger is duly filed with the Delaware Secretary or on such later date and time as shall be agreed to by the Company and Parent and specified in the First Certificate of Merger (such date and time being hereinafter referred to as the “Effective Time”). The Second Merger shall become effective at such time as the Second Certificate of Merger is duly filed with the Delaware Secretary or on such later date and time as shall be agreed to by the Company and Parent and specified in the Second Certificate of Merger (such date and time being hereinafter referred to as the “Second Effective Time”). The Effective Time shall, in all events, precede the Second Effective Time.

Section 2.4. Effects of the Mergers. The effects of the Mergers shall be as provided in this Agreement and in the applicable provisions of the DGCL and the DLLCA. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, and subject thereto, (a) at the Effective Time, all of the property, rights, privileges, powers and franchises of the Company and Purchaser shall vest in the First Surviving Company, and all debts, liabilities and duties of the Company and Purchaser shall become the debts, liabilities and duties of the First Surviving Company, all as provided under the DGCL and (b) at the Second Effective Time, all of the property, rights, privileges, powers and franchises of the First Surviving Company and Merger Sub Two shall vest in the Surviving Company, and all debts, liabilities and duties of the First Surviving Company and Merger Sub Two shall become the debts, liabilities and duties of the Surviving Company, all as provided under the DGCL and the DLLCA.

Section 2.5. Organizational Documents of the Surviving Company.

(a) At the First Effective Time, the amended and restated certificate of incorporation of the Company, as amended (the “Charter”) and the amended and restated bylaws of the Company (the “Bylaws”) shall serve as the certificate of incorporation and the bylaws, respectively of the First Surviving Company until thereafter amended and provided therein or by applicable Law.

(b) At the Second Effective Time (and subject to Section 6.8(d)), the certificate of formation and limited liability company agreement of Merger Sub Two as in effect immediately prior to the Second Effective Time, as set forth in Exhibit A here to, shall be the certificate of formation and limited liability company agreement of the Surviving Company, until thereafter amended in accordance with applicable Law and the applicable provisions of such certificate of formation and limited liability company agreement.

Section 2.6. Tax Consequences. It is intended that the Offer and the Mergers, taken together, will qualify as a “reorganization” within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code, and that this Agreement be, and is hereby adopted as, a “plan of reorganization” for purposes of Sections 354 and 361 of the Code and Treasury Regulations Section 1.368-2(g).

Section 2.7. Directors, Officers and Manager. (a) Subject to applicable Law, the directors of Purchaser immediately prior to the Effective Time shall be the initial directors of the First Surviving Company and shall hold office until their respective successors are duly elected and qualified, or their earlier death, resignation or removal. The officers of Purchaser immediately prior to the Effective Time, from and after the Effective Time, shall continue as the officers of the First Surviving Company. Subject to applicable Law, the manager of Merger Sub Two immediately prior to the Second Effective Time shall be and become the manager of the Surviving Company as of the Second Effective Time. Except as otherwise determined by Parent prior to the Second Effective Time, the officers of the First Surviving Company immediately prior to the Second Effective Time, from and after the Second Effective Time, shall be the officers of the Surviving Company and shall hold office until their respective successors shall have been duly elected, designated or qualified, or until their earlier death, resignation or removal

ARTICLE III

CONVERSION OF SHARES; EXCHANGE OF CERTIFICATES

Section 3.1. Effect on Capital Stock.

(a) At the Effective Time, by virtue of the First Merger and without any action on the part of any of the Parties or the holder of any shares of Company Common Stock or on the part of the sole stockholder of Purchaser:

(i) Conversion of Company Common Stock. Subject to Section 3.2(j), below, each share of Company Common Stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time (other than any Cancelled Shares and any Dissenting Shares) shall be automatically converted into the right to receive the Transaction Consideration. From and after the Effective Time, each applicable holder of such shares of Company Common Stock shall cease to have any rights with respect thereto, all such shares of Company Common Stock shall no longer be outstanding and shall automatically be cancelled and retired and shall cease to exist, and uncertificated shares of Company Common Stock represented by book-entry form (“Book-Entry Shares”) and each certificate that, immediately prior to the Effective Time, represented any such shares of Company Common Stock (each, a “Certificate”) shall thereafter represent only the right to receive the Transaction Consideration upon the surrender of such shares of Company Common Stock in accordance with Section 3.2, including the right to receive, pursuant to Section 3.1(e), cash in lieu of fractional shares of Parent Common Stock, if any, into which such shares of Company Common Stock have been converted pursuant to this Section 3.1(a), together with the amounts, if any, payable pursuant to Section 3.2(e).

(ii) Cancellation of Company Common Stock; Certain Subsidiary Owned Shares. Each share of Company Common Stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time that is owned or held in treasury by the Company and each share of Company Common Stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time that is owned by Parent, Purchaser or any other direct or indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of Parent shall no longer be outstanding and shall automatically be cancelled and retired and shall cease to exist (the “Cancelled Shares”), and no consideration shall be delivered in exchange therefor.

(iii) Treatment of Purchaser Shares. At the Effective Time, each issued and outstanding share of common stock, par value $0.01 per share, of Purchaser (the "Purchaser Common Stock") shall be automatically converted into and become one fully paid and nonassessable share of common stock of the First Surviving Company and shall constitute the only outstanding shares of capital stock of the First Surviving Company. From and after the Effective Time, all certificates representing shares of Purchaser Common Stock shall be deemed for all purposes to represent the number of shares of common stock of the First Surviving Company into which they were converted in accordance with the immediately preceding sentence.

(b) Share Adjustments. At the Second Effective Time, by virtue of the Second Merger and without any action on the part of any of the Parties or holders of any securities of the First Surviving Company or of Merger Sub Two, (i) each membership interest of Merger Sub Two issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Second Effective Time shall remain outstanding as a membership interest of the Surviving Company and (ii) all shares of common stock of the First Surviving Company shall no longer be outstanding and shall automatically be cancelled and shall cease to exist without any consideration being payable therefor.

(c) Shares of Dissenting Stockholders. Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, any shares of Company Common Stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time and held by a person (a "Dissenting Stockholder") who has not tendered into the Offer and has complied with all the provisions of the DGCL concerning the right of holders of shares of Company Common Stock to require appraisal of their shares (the "Appraisal Provisions") of Company Common Stock ("Dissenting Shares"), to the extent the Appraisal Provisions are applicable, shall not be converted into the right to receive the Transaction Consideration, but shall become the right to receive such consideration as may be determined to be due to such Dissenting Stockholder pursuant to the procedures set forth in Section 262 of the DGCL. If such Dissenting Stockholder, after the Effective Time, withdraws its demand for appraisal or fails to perfect or otherwise loses its right of appraisal, in any case pursuant to the DGCL, each of such Dissenting Stockholder's shares of Company Common Stock shall thereupon be treated as though such shares of Company Common Stock had been converted as of the Effective Time into the right to receive the Transaction Consideration. The Company shall give Parent prompt (and in any event within three (3) days) notice of any demands for appraisal of shares of Company Common Stock received by the Company, withdrawals of such demands and any other instruments served pursuant to Section 262 of the DGCL and shall give Parent the opportunity to participate in all negotiations and proceedings with respect thereto. The Company shall not, without the prior written consent of Parent, voluntarily make any payment with respect to, or settle or offer to settle, any such demands.

(d) Certain Adjustments. If, between the date of this Agreement and the Effective Time, the outstanding shares of Company Common Stock or Parent Common Stock shall have been changed into a different number of shares or a different class of shares by reason of any stock dividend, subdivision, reclassification, stock split, reverse stock split, combination or exchange of shares, or any similar event shall have occurred (other than in connection with the Transactions), then the Transaction Consideration shall be equitably adjusted, without duplication, to proportionally reflect such change; provided that nothing in this Section 3.1(d) shall be construed to permit the Company to take any of the foregoing actions with respect to its securities to the extent otherwise prohibited by the terms of this Agreement.

(e) No Fractional Shares. No fractional shares of Parent Common Stock shall be issued in connection with the Offer or the Merger, no certificates or scrip representing fractional shares of Parent Common Stock shall be delivered upon the conversion of Company Common Stock pursuant to Section 3.1(a) (i), and such fractional share interests shall not entitle the owner thereof to vote or to any other rights of a holder of shares of Parent Common Stock. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, each holder of shares of Company Common Stock converted pursuant to the First Merger who would otherwise have been entitled to receive a fraction of a share of Parent Common Stock (after aggregating all shares represented by the Certificates and Book-Entry Shares delivered by such holder) shall receive, in lieu thereof and upon surrender thereof, cash (without interest) in an amount determined by multiplying (i) the Parent Trading Price, rounded to the nearest one-hundredth of a cent by (ii) the fraction of a share (after taking into account all shares of Company Common Stock held by such holder at the Effective Time and rounded to the nearest one thousandth when expressed in decimal form) of Parent Common Stock to which such holder would otherwise be entitled (the “Fractional Share Cash Amount”). No such holder shall be entitled to dividends, voting rights or any other rights in respect of any fractional share of Parent Common Stock.

Section 3.2. Exchange of Certificates.

(a) Appointment of Exchange Agent. Prior to the Effective Time, Parent shall appoint a bank or trust company selected with the prior approval of the Company (such approval not to be unreasonably withheld, delayed or conditioned) to act as exchange agent (such exchange agent, which, if practicable, shall also be the depository pursuant to the Offer, the “Exchange Agent”) for the payment of the Transaction Consideration in the Offer and the Mergers and shall enter into an agreement (the “Exchange Agent Agreement”) relating to the Exchange Agent’s responsibilities under this Agreement, which shall be in form and substance satisfactory to the Company.

(b) Deposit of Transaction Consideration. Parent shall deposit, or cause to be deposited, with the Exchange Agent, within two (2) Business Days after the Acceptance Time, cash sufficient to pay the aggregate Cash Consideration payable in the Mergers to holders of Company Common Stock and shall deposit, or shall cause to be deposited, with the Exchange Agent, at such time, evidence of Parent Common Stock in book-entry form (and/or certificates representing such Parent Common Stock, at Parent’s election) representing the number of shares of Parent Common Stock sufficient to deliver the aggregate Stock Consideration payable in the Mergers (such cash and certificates, together with any dividends or distributions with respect thereto, the “Exchange Fund”).

(c) Exchange Procedures. Promptly after the Effective Time (and in any event within three (3) Business Days thereafter), Parent shall, and shall cause the Surviving Company to, cause the Exchange Agent to mail to each holder of record of shares of Company Common Stock whose shares of Company Common Stock were converted pursuant to Section 3.1(a)(i) into the right to receive the Transaction Consideration (i) a letter of transmittal in customary form (which shall specify that delivery shall be effected, and risk of loss and title to the Certificates shall pass, only upon delivery of the Certificates to the Exchange Agent and shall be in such form and have such other provisions as Parent and the Company shall reasonably agree) (the “Letter of Transmittal”) and (ii) instructions for use in effecting the surrender of Certificates or Book-Entry Shares in exchange for the Transaction Consideration (including the Fractional Share Cash Amount) and any dividends or other distributions to which such Certificates or Book-Entry Shares become entitled in accordance with Section 3.2(e) (collectively, the “Exchanged Amounts”). Parent shall cause the Exchange Agent to make, and the Exchange Agent shall make, delivery of the Transaction Consideration, including payment of the Fractional Share Cash Amount, and any amounts payable in respect of dividends or other distributions on shares of Parent common stock in accordance with Section 3.2(e) out of the Exchange Fund in accordance with this Agreement. The Exchange Fund shall not be used for any purpose that is not expressly provided for in this Agreement.

(d) Surrender of Certificates or Book-Entry Shares. Upon surrender of Certificates or Book-Entry Shares to the Exchange Agent together (in the case of Certificates) with the Letter of Transmittal, duly completed and validly executed in accordance with the instructions thereto, and such other documents as may customarily be required by the Exchange Agent, the holder of such Certificates or Book-Entry Shares shall be entitled to receive in exchange therefor the Transaction Consideration into which the shares represented by such Certificates or Book-Entry Shares have been converted pursuant to this Agreement, including the Fractional Share Cash Amount, together with any dividends or other distributions to which such Certificates or Book-Entry Shares become entitled in accordance with Section 3.2(e). In the event of a transfer of ownership of shares of Company Common Stock that is not registered in the transfer or stock records of the Company, any cash to be paid upon, or shares of Parent Common Stock to be issued upon, due surrender of the Certificate or Book-Entry Share formerly representing such shares of Company Common Stock may be paid or issued, as the case may be, to such a transferee if such Certificate or Book-Entry Share is presented to the Exchange Agent, accompanied by all documents reasonably required to evidence and effect such transfer and to evidence that any applicable stock transfer or other similar Taxes have been paid or are not applicable. No interest shall be paid or shall accrue on the cash payable upon surrender of any Certificate or Book-Entry Share. Until surrendered as contemplated by this Section 3.2, each Certificate and Book-Entry Share shall be deemed at any time after the Effective Time to represent only the right to receive, upon such surrender, the Transaction Consideration into which the shares represented by such Certificates or Book-Entry Shares have been converted pursuant to this Agreement, together with the Fractional Share Cash Amount and any dividends or other distributions to which such Certificates or Book-Entry Shares become entitled in accordance with Section 3.2(e). Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, any holder of Book-Entry Shares shall not be required to deliver a Certificate or an executed letter of transmittal to the Exchange Agent to receive the Exchanged Amounts that such holder is entitled to receive pursuant to this ARTICLE III. In lieu thereof, each holder of record of one or more Book-Entry Shares whose Company Common Stock were converted into the right to receive the Exchanged Amounts shall upon receipt by the Exchange Agent of an “agent’s message” in customary form (or such other evidence, if any, as the Exchange Agent may reasonably request), be entitled to receive, and Parent shall cause the Exchange Agent to exchange and deliver as promptly as reasonably practicable after the Effective Time, the Exchanged Amounts in respect of each such share of Company Common Stock, and the Book-Entry Shares of such holder shall forthwith be cancelled.

(e) Treatment of Unexchanged Shares. No dividends or other distributions, if any, with a record date after the Effective Time with respect to Parent Common Stock, shall be paid to the holder of any unsurrendered share of Company Common Stock to be converted into shares of Parent Common Stock pursuant to Section 3.1(a)(i) until such holder shall surrender such share in accordance with this Section 3.2. After the surrender in accordance with this Section 3.2 of a share of Company Common Stock to be converted into the right to receive shares of Parent Common Stock pursuant to Section 3.1(a)(i), the holder thereof shall be entitled to receive (in addition to the Transaction Consideration and the Fractional Share Cash Amount payable to such holder pursuant to this ARTICLE III) any such dividends or other distributions, without any interest thereon, which theretofore had become payable with respect to the Parent Common Stock issuable in respect of such share of Company Common Stock.

(f) No Further Ownership Rights in Company Common Stock. The shares of Parent Common Stock delivered and cash paid in accordance with the terms of this ARTICLE III upon conversion of any shares of Company Common Stock, once so delivered and paid, shall be deemed to have been delivered and paid in full satisfaction of all rights pertaining to such shares of Company Common Stock (subject to any rights of Dissenting Stockholders). From and after the Effective Time, subject to Parent’s and Purchaser’s compliance with their respective obligations hereunder, (i) all holders of Certificates and Book-Entry Shares shall cease to have any rights as stockholders of the Company other than the right to receive the Transaction Consideration into which the shares represented by such Certificates or Book-Entry Shares have been converted pursuant to this Agreement upon the surrender of such Certificate or Book-Entry Share in accordance with Section 3.2(d) (together with the Fractional Share Cash Amount and any dividends or other distributions to which such Certificates or Book-Entry Shares become entitled in accordance with Section 3.2(e)), without interest, and (ii) the stock transfer books of the Company shall be closed with respect to all shares of Company Common Stock outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time. From and after the Effective Time, the stock transfer books of the Company shall be closed, and there shall be no further registration of transfers on the stock transfer books of the Surviving Company of shares of Company Common Stock that were outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time. If, at any time after the Effective Time, any Certificates or Book-Entry Shares formerly representing shares of Company Common Stock are presented to the Surviving Company, Parent or the Exchange Agent for any reason, such Certificates or Book-Entry Shares shall be cancelled and exchanged as provided in this ARTICLE III, subject to applicable Law in the case of Dissenting Shares.

(g) Sale of Excess Shares. As promptly as practicable following the Effective Time, the Exchange Agent shall determine the excess of (A) the number of whole shares of Parent Common Stock issued and delivered representing the Transaction Consideration over (B) the aggregate number of whole shares of Parent Common Stock to be distributed to former holders of Company Common Stock in the Offer or pursuant to Section 3.2 (determined before taking into account any shares of Parent Common Stock withheld under Section 3.2) (such excess, the “Parent Excess Shares”). Following the Effective Time, the Exchange Agent shall, on behalf of former shareholders of the Company, sell the Parent Excess Shares at then prevailing prices on Nasdaq, all in the manner provided in this Section 3.2(g). The sale of the Parent Excess Shares by the Exchange Agent shall be executed on Nasdaq through one or more member firms of Nasdaq and shall be executed in round lots to the extent practicable. The Exchange Agent shall use reasonable best efforts to complete the sale of the Parent Excess Shares as promptly following the Effective Time as is practicable, consistent with obtaining the best execution of such sales in light of prevailing market conditions. Until the net proceeds of such sale or sales have been distributed to the holders of Certificates and Book-Entry Shares formerly representing Company Common Stock, the Exchange Agent shall hold such proceeds in the Exchange Fund.

(h) Investment of Exchange Fund. The Exchange Agent shall invest any cash included in the Exchange Fund as directed by Parent; provided that such investments shall be in obligations of or guaranteed by the United States of America, in commercial paper obligations rated A-1 or P-1 or better by Moody’s Investors Service, Inc. or Standard & Poor’s Financial Services LLC, respectively, in certificates of deposit, bank repurchase agreements or banker’s acceptances of commercial banks with capital exceeding $1 billion, or in money market funds having a rating in the highest investment category granted by a recognized credit rating agency at the time of investment. No such investment or loss thereon shall affect the amounts payable to holders of Certificates or Book-Entry Shares pursuant to this ARTICLE III, and following any losses from any such investment, or to the extent the cash portion of the Exchange Fund otherwise diminishes for any reason below the level required for the Exchange Agent to make cash payments pursuant to Section 3.1, Parent shall promptly provide additional funds to the Exchange Agent for the benefit of the holders of shares of Company Common Stock at the Effective Time in the amount of such losses or other shortfall, which additional funds will be deemed to be part of the Exchange Fund. Any interest and other income resulting from such investment shall become a part of the Exchange Fund, and any cash amounts in excess of the amounts payable under Section 3.1, shall be promptly returned to the Surviving Company.

(i) Termination of Exchange Fund. Any portion of the Exchange Fund (including any interest or other amounts received with respect thereto) that remains unclaimed by, or otherwise undistributed to, the holders of Certificates and Book-Entry Shares for 180 days after the Effective Time shall be delivered to Parent, upon demand, and any holder of Certificates or Book-Entry Shares who has not theretofore complied with this ARTICLE III shall thereafter look only to Parent or the Surviving Company (subject to abandoned property, escheat or other similar Laws), as general creditors thereof, for satisfaction of its claim for Transaction Consideration and any dividends and distributions which such holder has the right to receive pursuant to this ARTICLE III without any interest thereon.

(j) No Liability. None of Parent, the Company or Purchaser or the Exchange Agent shall be liable to any person in respect of any portion of the Exchange Fund or the Transaction Consideration delivered to a public official pursuant to any applicable abandoned property, escheat or similar Law. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, any portion of the Transaction Consideration or the cash to be paid in accordance with this ARTICLE III that remains undistributed to the holders of Certificates and Book-Entry Shares as of the second (2nd) anniversary of the Effective Time (or immediately prior to such earlier date on which the Transaction Consideration or such cash would otherwise escheat to or become the property of any Governmental Entity), shall, to the extent permitted by applicable Law, become the property of the Surviving Company, free and clear of all claims or interest of any person previously entitled thereto.

(k) Withholding Rights. Each of the Company, Parent, Purchaser, the Surviving Company, the Exchange Agent and any other applicable withholding agent, shall be entitled to deduct and withhold, or cause the Exchange Agent to deduct and withhold, from, and with respect to, the Transaction Consideration and any other amounts otherwise payable pursuant to this Agreement and any other agreement or arrangements entered into in connection with the Offer or the Merger, such amounts as may be required to be deducted or withheld with respect to the foregoing under any applicable Tax Law. Any amounts so deducted or withheld shall be treated for all purposes of this Agreement (and any other agreement or arrangements entered into in connection with the Offer or the Merger) as having been paid to the person in respect of which such deduction or withholding was made. Any compensatory payments contemplated to be made hereunder shall be made through the payroll procedures of the applicable person.

(l) Lost Certificates. Subject to Section 3.2(i), if any Certificate shall have been lost, stolen or destroyed, upon the making of an affidavit of that fact by the person claiming such Certificate to be lost, stolen or destroyed and, if required by Parent or the Exchange Agent, the posting by such person of a bond in customary amount as Parent or the Exchange Agent may reasonably require as indemnity against any claim that may be made against it or the Surviving Company with respect to such Certificate, the Exchange Agent (or, if subsequent to the termination of the Exchange Fund and subject to Section 3.2(h), Parent) shall deliver, in exchange for such lost, stolen or destroyed Certificate, the Transaction Consideration and any dividends and distributions deliverable in respect thereof pursuant to this Agreement had such lost, stolen or destroyed Certificate been surrendered.

Section 3.3. Company Options, Company RSUS and ESPP.

(a) Treatment of Vested In-the-Money Company Options. Each Company Option that is outstanding and unexercised as of immediately prior to the Effective Time and has a per-share exercise price in excess of the sum of the Cash Consideration plus the product of the Stock Consideration multiplied by the closing price of the Parent Common Stock on Nasdaq on the last trading day immediately prior to the Effective Time, to the extent vested in accordance with its terms as of the Effective Time (each, a "Vested In-the-Money Company Option") shall be cancelled as of the Effective Time and thereafter shall only entitle the holder of such Company Option to receive (without interest) an amount in cash and a number of shares of Parent Common Stock (the "Option Consideration") equal to the product of the (i) Transaction Consideration (with the Stock Consideration value based on the closing price of the Parent Common Stock on Nasdaq on the last trading day immediately before the Effective Time), multiplied by (ii) that number of whole and partial (computed to the nearest four decimal places) shares of Company Common Stock equal to the excess of (A) the total number of shares of Company Common Stock then subject to such Vested In-the-Money Company Option over (B) the number of whole and partial (computed to the nearest four decimal places) shares of Company Common Stock that, when multiplied by the closing price of the Company Common Stock on Nasdaq on the last trading day immediately prior to the Effective Time, is equal to the aggregate exercise price of such Vested In-the-Money Company Option.

(b) Treatment of Unvested and Out-of-the-Money Company Options. Each Company Option other than a Vested In-the-Money Company Option that is outstanding and unexercised as of immediately prior to the Effective Time shall be cancelled as of immediately prior to the Effective Time and converted into, as of the Effective Time, and thereafter evidence an award of stock options exercisable for Parent Common Stock (after such conversion, "Rollover Options") with respect to that number of shares of Parent Common Stock equal to (i) the number of whole shares of Company Common Stock underlying the Company Option from which it was converted immediately prior to the Effective Time, multiplied by (ii) a fraction (computed to the nearest four decimal places) the numerator of which is the fair market value of one share of Company Common Stock and the denominator of which is the fair market value of one share of Parent Common Stock (with the fair market value of Company Common Stock and Parent Common Stock determined based on their respective closing prices on Nasdaq on the last trading day immediately prior to the Effective Time). Each Rollover Option shall have an exercise price per share of Parent Common Stock (rounded up to the nearest whole cent) equal to (1)(A) the per share exercise price for the corresponding Company Option, divided by (B) the fair market value of one share of Company Common Stock, which quotient shall be multiplied by (2) the fair market value of one share of Parent Common Stock (with the fair market value of Company Common Stock and Parent Common Stock determined based on their respective closing prices on Nasdaq on the last trading day immediately prior to the Effective Time), and shall be subject to the same vesting terms and conditions as had been applied to the corresponding Company Option immediately prior to the Effective Time. The foregoing will be subject to such modifications, if any, as are required to cause the conversion contemplated by this Section 3.3(b) to be made in a manner consistent with exemption from Section 409A of the Code and, to the extent applicable, Section 424 of the Code, or as are otherwise reasonably determined by Parent to be necessary or desirable.

(c) Treatment of Vested Company RSUs and MSUs. Each Company RSU and Company MSU that is outstanding as of the Effective Time, to the extent vested in accordance with its terms as of the Effective Time (each, a “Vested Company RSU”) shall, by virtue of the occurrence of the Effective Time and without any action on the part of any holder thereof, be settled in that number of shares of Company Common Stock underlying the Vested Company RSU as of the Effective Time and thereafter shall entitle the holder of such Vested Company RSU to receive (without interest) an amount in cash and a number of shares of Parent Common Stock equal to the Transaction Consideration (with the Stock Consideration valued based on the closing price of the Parent Common Stock on Nasdaq on the last trading day immediately before the Effective Time), in respect of each share of Company Common Stock that was subject to such holder’s Vested Company RSUs (the “RSU Consideration”).

(d) Treatment of Unvested Company RSUs. Each Company RSU and Company MSU that is outstanding as of the Effective Time and is not a Vested Company RSU (each, an “Unvested Company RSU”), shall be cancelled as of immediately prior to the Effective Time and converted into, as of the Effective Time, and thereafter evidence (i) a restricted stock unit award with respect to the number of shares of Parent Common Stock that is equal to the product of (A) the number of shares of Company Common Stock subject to such Unvested Company RSU as of the Effective Time (for the avoidance of doubt, for Company MSUs, only that number of shares that become eligible to vest or be accelerated after the Effective Time under the applicable award agreement or the Company’s Executive Severance Benefit Plan based on actual or deemed performance, as applicable), multiplied by (B) a fraction the numerator of which is the fair market value of one share of Company Common Stock and the denominator of which is the fair market value of one share of Parent Common Stock (with the fair market value of Company Common Stock and Parent Common Stock determined based on their respective closing prices on Nasdaq on the last trading day immediately prior to the Effective Time) (after such conversion, “Rollover RSUs”). Each Rollover RSU shall be subject to the same vesting terms and conditions as had been applied to the corresponding Company RSU or Company MSU immediately prior to the Effective Time, except for such terms rendered inoperative by reason of the Transactions (including, to the extent such Company MSU vests in accordance with its terms as of immediately prior to the Effective Time or is deemed to vest under the Company’s Executive Severance Benefit Plan, as applicable, the elimination of all Company Common Stock price vesting criteria that applied to the Company MSUs prior to the Effective Time) subject to such adjustments as are reasonably determined by Parent to be necessary or desirable to give effect to such conversion and the Transactions. For the avoidance of doubt, each Company MSU (or portion thereof) shall terminate without consideration immediately prior to the Effective Time to the extent that the applicable performance criteria have not been satisfied (or deemed satisfied under the Company’s Executive Severance Benefit Plan) as of the Effective Time.

(e) Settlement. All Option Consideration and RSU Consideration shall be issued or paid as soon as reasonably practicable, and no later than seven (7) Business Days, after the Closing Date, subject to compliance with Section 409A of the Code to the extent applicable. All Option Consideration and RSU Consideration shall be paid in cash and Parent Common Stock in the same proportion as is payable to shareholders generally in connection with the Transactions (subject to compliance with Section 409A of the Code); provided, that Parent may, in its sole discretion, pay the Option Consideration and/or RSU Consideration wholly in cash or in cash in excess of the amount determined in accordance with this Section 3.3(e). All Option Consideration and RSU Consideration shall be payable less Tax withholdings to be applied against the cash portion of the Option Consideration and/or RSU Consideration, as applicable. Parent shall register the shares of Parent Common Stock issuable pursuant to Parent Options and Rollover RSUs as promptly as practicable, and no later than ten (10) Business Days, after the Closing Date. Parent shall maintain the effectiveness of such registration statement for so long as any such Parent Options or Rollover RSUs remain outstanding and shall reserve a sufficient number of shares of Parent Common Stock for issuance upon exercise or settlement thereof. In lieu of any fractional share of Parent Common Stock that otherwise would be issuable pursuant to Section 3.3(a) or Section 3.3(c), each individual will be paid an amount in cash (without interest) equal to such fractional part of a share of Parent Common Stock, determined based on the closing price of a share of Parent Common Stock on Nasdaq on the last trading day immediately prior to the Effective Time, rounded to the nearest one-hundredth of a cent. As of the Effective Time, each Company Option, Company RSU and Company MSU shall cease to exist and shall no longer be outstanding, and each holder of a Company Option, Company RSU or Company MSU shall cease to have any rights with respect thereto, other than the entitlements provided for in the applicable provisions of Section 3.3(a) through Section 3.3(e).

(f) Treatment of the ESPP. Prior to the earlier of (i) the Effective Time and (ii) the commencement of the next regularly scheduled offering period under the ESPP, the Company shall take all actions necessary or required under the ESPP and applicable Law to (A) ensure that, except for the six (6)-month offering period under the ESPP that commenced on August 1, 2016, no offering period or purchase period shall be authorized or commenced on or after the date of this Agreement, (B) ensure that no new participant may begin to participate in the ESPP, (C) provide that the applicable purchase price for shares of Company Common Stock (as a percentage of the fair market value of Company Common Stock) shall not be decreased below the levels set forth in the ESPP as of the date hereof, (D) if the Closing shall occur prior to the end of the offering period in existence under the ESPP on the date of this Agreement, cause the rights of participants in the ESPP with respect to any such offering period (and purchase period thereunder) then underway under the ESPP to be determined by treating the last Business Day prior to the Effective Time as the last day of such offering period and purchase period and by making such other pro-rata adjustments as may be necessary to reflect the shortened offering period and purchase period but otherwise treating such shortened offering period and purchase period as a fully effective and completed offering period and purchase period for all purposes under the ESPP, with any shares of Company Common Stock purchased under the ESPP cancelled at the Effective Time and converted into the right to receive the Transaction Consideration pursuant to Section 3.1 and (E) cause the funds, if any, that remain in any participants' account after any such purchase to be promptly returned to the participant. The Company shall terminate the ESPP and all rights thereunder in their entirety effective as of the Effective Time, contingent upon the occurrence of the Effective Time. Prior to the Effective Time, the Company shall take all actions (including obtaining any necessary determinations and/or resolutions of the Company Board of Directors or an applicable committee thereof and providing notice as required by the ESPP) that are necessary to give effect to the transactions contemplated by this Section 3.3(d).

(g) Termination of Company Stock Plans. Prior to the Acceptance Time, the Company shall take all actions (including obtaining any necessary determinations and/or resolutions of the Company Board of Directors or an appropriate committee thereof and providing notice as required by the Company Stock Plans that may be necessary or desirable to effectuate the provisions of this Section 3.3 and terminate all rights under any Company Equity Plan or under any provision of any other plan, program or arrangement providing for the issuance or grant of any other interest in respect of the capital stock of the Company, including all Company Options and Company RSUs and Company MSUs and to terminate the Company Equity Plans, in each case, effective as of the Effective Time. The Company shall provide Parent with a reasonable opportunity to review and comment upon any resolutions, notices or other documents necessary to effectuate the provisions of this Section 3.3 and shall consider any comments in good faith.

Section 6.2. Access.

(a) For purposes of furthering the Transactions, each Party shall upon reasonable advance notice afford the other and its employees, accountants, consultants, internal and external legal counsel, financial advisors, tax advisors, and agents and other representatives reasonable access during normal business hours, throughout the period prior to the Effective Time, to its and its Subsidiaries' personnel, properties, contracts, books and records and, during such period, each Party shall, and shall cause its Subsidiaries to, without limitation to the preceding obligations, make available to the other Party all other information concerning its business, properties and personnel as such other Party may reasonably request. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no Party shall be required to provide access to or make available to any person any document or information that, in the reasonable judgment of the disclosing Party, would be detrimental to its business operations, would result in the disclosure of any trade secrets of third parties or violate any of its obligations with respect to confidentiality or is subject to any attorney-client or work-product privilege.

(b) No investigation by any Party or its representatives shall affect or be deemed to modify or waive the representations and warranties of any other Party set forth in this Agreement.

(c) The Parties hereto hereby agree that all information provided to them or their respective officers, directors, employees or representatives in connection with this Agreement and the consummation of the Transactions shall be governed in accordance with the confidentiality agreement, dated as of July 26, 2016 (the "Confidentiality Agreement"), between the Company and Parent.

Section 6.3. No Solicitation.

(a) The Company shall and shall cause each of its Subsidiaries and its and their respective officers, directors and employees and shall instruct and cause their respective agents, financial advisors, investment bankers, attorneys and accountants (such officers, directors, employees, agents, financial advisors, investment bankers, attorneys and accountants, collectively, "Representatives"): (i) to immediately cease and cause to be terminated any discussions or negotiations with any persons (other than Parent) that are ongoing with respect to a Company Takeover Proposal and (ii) not to, directly or indirectly through intermediaries, (A) solicit, initiate, knowingly encourage (including by way of furnishing non-public information relating to the Company or any of its subsidiaries), or knowingly facilitate any inquiries regarding, or the making or submission of any proposal or offer that constitutes, or could reasonably be expected to lead to, a Company Takeover Proposal, (B) engage in, continue or otherwise participate in any discussions or negotiations regarding, or furnish to any other person any information in connection with or for the purpose of knowingly encouraging or facilitating, a Company Takeover Proposal (other than, solely in response to an unsolicited inquiry, to refer the inquiring person to this Section 6.3 and to limit its conversation or other communication exclusively to such referral, or to otherwise comply with its obligations pursuant to this Section 6.3), (C) engage in any negotiations or discussions with, or provide any information or data to, any person (other than Parent or any of its Affiliates or representatives) relating to any Company Takeover Proposal, (D) approve, endorse or recommend a Company Takeover Proposal or any letter of intent, memorandum of understanding or other Contract contemplating a Company Takeover Proposal, or (E) resolve to do any of the foregoing.

(b) The Company shall, and shall cause its Subsidiaries to, promptly request any person that has executed a confidentiality or non-disclosure agreement within the twelve (12) months immediately preceding the date of this Agreement in connection with any actual or potential Company Takeover Proposal that remains in effect as of the date of this Agreement to return or destroy all confidential information in the possession of such person or its Representatives. The Company shall, within twenty-four (24) hours of the date hereof, terminate access by any third party to any data room (virtual or actual) containing any of the Company's confidential information. The Company shall not release any third party from, or waive, amend or modify any provision of, or grant permission under or fail to enforce, any standstill provision in any agreement to which the Company is a party; provided that, notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Agreement, if the Company Board of Directors determines in good faith, after consultation with its outside legal counsel that the failure to take such action would be inconsistent with the directors' fiduciary duties under applicable Law, the Company may release any third party from, or waive, amend or modify any provision of, or grant any permission under, or fail to enforce, any such standstill provision.

(c) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Agreement, if at any time after the date of this Agreement and prior to the Acceptance Time, the Company or any of its Representatives receives a bona fide, unsolicited written Company Takeover Proposal from any person that did not result from the Company's breach of Section 6.3 and if the Company Board of Directors determines in good faith, after consultation with its independent financial advisor and outside legal counsel, that such Company Takeover Proposal constitutes or is reasonably likely to lead to a Company Superior Proposal and that the failure to take such action would, or would reasonably be expected to, be inconsistent with the directors' fiduciary duties under applicable Law, then the Company and its Representatives may, (i) furnish information (including non-public information) with respect to the Company and its Subsidiaries to the person who has made such Company Takeover Proposal if the Company receives from such person an executed confidentiality agreement containing the terms that, taken as a whole, are not less restrictive to the other party than those contained collectively in the Confidentiality Agreement, it being understood and agreed that such confidentiality agreement need not contain a standstill provision or otherwise prohibit the making or amendment of a Company Takeover Proposal (such confidentiality agreement, an "Acceptable Confidentiality Agreement"); provided that the Company shall concurrently with the delivery to such person make available to Parent any non-public information concerning the Company or any of its Subsidiaries that is provided or made available to such person or its Representatives unless such non-public information has been previously provided to Parent and (ii) engage in or otherwise participate in discussions or negotiations with the person making such Company Takeover Proposal and its Representatives regarding such Company Takeover Proposal.

(d) The Company shall within twenty-four (24) hours after receipt (and in any event prior to furnishing non-public information and/or commencing discussions or negotiations as provided in Section 6.3(c)) notify Parent in writing in the event that the Company or any of its Representatives receives a Company Takeover Proposal, including the identity of the person making the Company Takeover Proposal and the material terms and conditions thereof. The Company shall keep Parent reasonably informed, on a prompt basis (and, in any event within twenty-four (24) hours of any such development), as to the status of discussions or negotiations relating to such Company Takeover Proposal, including with respect to any updates or developments regarding the material terms and conditions of such Company Takeover Proposal. The Company agrees that it and its Subsidiaries will not enter into any agreement with any person subsequent to the date of this Agreement which prohibits the Company from providing any information to Parent in accordance with, or otherwise complying with, this Section 6.3.

(e) The Company Board of Directors shall not (i) (A) fail to include the Company Recommendation in the Schedule 14D-9 or the Offer Prospectus when disseminated to the Company's stockholders, (B) change, qualify, withhold, withdraw or modify (or authorize or publicly propose to change, qualify, withhold, withdraw or modify), in any such case in a manner adverse to Parent, the Company Recommendation, (C) publicly make any recommendation in connection with a tender offer, exchange offer or merger (other than the Offer or the Mergers) other than a recommendation against such merger or a temporary “stop, look and listen” communication by the Company’s Board of Directors of the type contemplated by Rule 14d-9(f) under the Exchange Act (it being understood that the Company Board of Directors may take no position with respect to a Company Takeover Proposal that is a tender offer or exchange offer until the close of business on the tenth (10th) Business Day after the commencement of such tender offer or exchange offer pursuant to Rule 14d-2 under the Exchange Act, without such action being considered a Company Adverse Recommendation Change), or (D) adopt, approve or recommend, or publicly propose to adopt, approve or recommend to stockholders of the Company a Company Takeover Proposal (any action described in this clause (i) being referred to as a “Company Adverse Recommendation Change”), or (ii) authorize, cause or permit the Company or any of its Subsidiaries to enter into any letter of intent, memorandum of understanding, agreement (including an acquisition agreement, merger agreement, joint venture agreement or other agreement) or agreement in principle with respect to any Company Takeover Proposal (other than an Acceptable Confidentiality Agreement) (a “Company Acquisition Agreement”).

(f) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Agreement, prior to the Acceptance Time, but not after, the Company Board of Directors (i) may make a Company Adverse Recommendation Change other than in response to a Company Takeover Proposal if, prior to taking such action, the Company Board of Directors has determined in good faith, after consultation with its independent financial adviser and outside legal counsel, that such action is required to comply with the directors’ fiduciary duties under applicable Law and (ii) may make a Company Adverse Recommendation Change and/or authorize, cause or permit the Company or any of its Subsidiaries to enter into a Company Acquisition Agreement, in either such case in response to a bona fide, unsolicited Company Takeover Proposal that did not result from a breach of Section 6.3, if prior to taking such action, the Company Board of Directors has determined in good faith, after consultation with its independent financial adviser and outside legal counsel, that (i) such Company Takeover Proposal constitutes a Company Superior Proposal and (ii) such action would, or would reasonably be expected to be, required to comply with the directors’ fiduciary duties under applicable Law; provided, however, that, prior to taking such action, (A) the Company has given Parent at least four (4) Business Days’ prior written notice of its intention to take such action, including the terms and conditions of, and the identity of the person making, any such Company Superior Proposal and has contemporaneously provided to Parent a copy of the Company Superior Proposal or any proposed Company Acquisition Agreements (or, in each case, if not provided in writing to the Company, a written summary of the material terms thereof), (B) the Company has negotiated, and has caused its Representatives to negotiate, in good faith with Parent during such four (4) Business Day period, to the extent Parent wishes to negotiate, to make such revisions to the terms of this Agreement as would permit the Company Board of Directors not to effect a Company Adverse Recommendation Change in connection with a Company Superior Proposal or take any action pursuant to Section 8.1, and (C) following the end of the four (4) Business Days’ notice period, the Company Board of Directors shall have determined, after consultation with its independent financial adviser and outside legal counsel, and giving due consideration to the revisions to the terms of this Agreement to which Parent has irrevocably committed in writing, that the Company Superior Proposal would nevertheless continue to constitute a Company Superior Proposal and that such action is required to comply with the directors’ fiduciary duties under applicable Law (it being previously understood and agreed that any change to the financial or other material terms of a proposal that was previously the subject of a notice hereunder shall require a new notice to Parent as provided above), but with respect to any such subsequent notices references herein to a “four (4) Business Day notice period” shall be deemed references to a “two (2) Business Day notice period”.

(g) Nothing contained in this Section 6.3 shall prohibit the Company or the Company Board of Directors from complying with its disclosure obligations under United States federal or state Law with regard to a Company Takeover Proposal, including taking and disclosing to the stockholders of the Company (i) a position contemplated by Rule 14e-2(a) or Rule 14d-9 promulgated under the Exchange Act or (ii) making any “stop, look and listen” communication to the stockholders of the Company pursuant to Rule 14d-9(f) under the Exchange Act if the Company Board of Directors determines in good faith, after consultation with outside legal counsel, that the failure to do so would be inconsistent with the directors’ fiduciary duties under applicable Law or obligations of the Company or the Company Board of Directors under applicable federal securities Law.

Section 6.4. Employee Matters.

(a) Effective as of the Effective Time and until December 31, 2017, Parent shall provide, or shall cause the Surviving Company to provide, to employees of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries who are employed as of immediately prior to the Effective Time and who continue to be employed by Parent or the Surviving Company or any of their respective Subsidiaries following the Effective Time (the “Company Employees”), (1) base salaries or wage rates with respect to each Company Employee that are no less than provided to such Company Employee immediately prior to the Effective Time, (2) employee benefits (other than equity-based compensation) and annual cash bonus opportunities that are substantially comparable in the aggregate to (x) employee benefits and annual cash bonus opportunities provided to the Company Employees immediately prior to the Effective Time or (y) at Parent’s election, to similarly situated employees of Parent and its Subsidiaries (other than the Company and its Subsidiaries) and (3) severance benefits that are no less favorable than the severance benefits provided to such Company Employee immediately prior to the Effective Time as set forth on Section 6.4(a)(1) of the Company Disclosure Schedule; it being understood that the Company Employees may commence participation in Parent’s compensation and benefit plans on different dates following the Effective Time with respect to different compensation and benefit plans, in accordance with the terms of the applicable plans. From and after the Effective Time, Parent shall, or shall cause the Surviving Company to, continue to honor the milestone or other bonus plans and agreements listed on Section 6.4(a)(2) of the Company Disclosure Schedule in accordance with the terms thereof.

(b) Following the Effective Time, Parent shall, or shall cause the Surviving Company to, cause any employee benefit plans sponsored or maintained by Parent or the Surviving Company or any of their Subsidiaries in the United States in which the Company Employees are eligible to participate following the Closing Date, other than any equity-based or qualified or non-qualified defined benefit or deferred compensation plans (collectively, the “Post-Closing Plans”) to recognize the service of each Company Employee with the Company and its Subsidiaries and their respective predecessors prior to the Effective Time for purposes of eligibility to participate and vesting under such Post-Closing Plans, in each case, to the same extent such service was recognized immediately prior to the Effective Time under a comparable Company Benefit Plan in which such Company Employee was eligible to participate immediately prior to the Effective Time; provided that such recognition of service shall not operate to duplicate any benefits of a Company Employee with respect to the same period of service. Under each Post-Closing Plan that provides medical, dental, pharmaceutical or vision insurance benefits, for the plan year in which such Company Employee is first eligible to participate, Parent shall use reasonable best efforts to (A) cause any pre-existing condition limitations or eligibility waiting periods under such plan to be waived with respect to each Company Employee to the extent such limitation would have been waived or satisfied under the Company Benefit Plan in which such Company Employee participated or was eligible to participate in immediately prior to the Effective Time, and (B) credit each Company Employee for an amount equal to any eligible expenses incurred by such Company Employee in the plan year that includes the Effective Time for purposes of any applicable deductible, coinsurance and annual out-of-pocket expense requirements under any such Post-Closing Plan to the extent such expenses would have been credited under the terms of the applicable Company Benefit Plans.

(c) Unless requested by Parent not later than ten (10) days prior to the Closing Date, the Company shall take (or cause to be taken) all actions necessary or appropriate to terminate, effective no later than the day prior to the Closing Date, any Company Benefit Plan that contains a cash or deferred arrangement intended to qualify under Section 401(k) of the Code (a “Company 401(k) Plan”). The Company shall provide to Parent prior to the Closing Date written evidence of the adoption by the Company Board of Directors of resolutions authorizing the termination of such Company 401(k) Plan (the form and substance of which resolutions shall be subject to the prior review and approval of Parent, which approval shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed). In the event of such 401(k) plan termination, Parent shall take all actions necessary to allow Company employees who meet the age and service eligibility requirements under the 401(k) plan maintained by Parent or its affiliates (the "Parent 401(k) Plan") to enroll as soon as reasonably practicable following the Closing (and in no event later than sixty (60) days following the Effective Time) under the Parent 401(k) Plan and to make rollover contributions of "eligible rollover distributions" (within the meaning of Section 401(a)(31) of the Code), in the form of cash only. The Company shall, and shall cause its subsidiaries to, cooperate with Parent in good faith (including by promptly furnishing such information as is requested by Parent) in fulfilling the obligations of Parent under this Section 6.4(c).

(d) Nothing in this Agreement shall confer upon any Company Employee or other service provider any right to continue in the employ or service of Parent, the Surviving Company or any Affiliate of Parent, or shall interfere with or restrict in any way the rights of Parent, the Surviving Company or any of their Affiliates, which rights are hereby expressly reserved, to discharge or terminate the services of any Company Employee or other service provider at any time for any reason whatsoever, with or without cause. In no event shall the terms of this Agreement be deemed to (i) establish, amend, or modify any Company Benefit Plan, Post-Closing Plan or any "employee benefit plan" as defined in Section 3(3) of ERISA, or any other benefit plan, program, agreement or arrangement maintained or sponsored by Parent, the Surviving Company, the Company or any of their Subsidiaries (including, after the Closing Date, the Company and its Subsidiaries) or Affiliates; or (ii) alter or limit the ability of Parent, the Surviving Company or any of their Subsidiaries (including, after the Closing Date, the Company and its Subsidiaries) or Affiliates to amend, modify or terminate any Company Benefit Plan, Post-Closing Plan or any other compensation or benefit or employment plan, program, agreement or arrangement after the Closing Date. Notwithstanding any provision in this Agreement to the contrary, nothing in this Section 6.4 shall create any third party beneficiary rights in any Company Employee or current or former service provider of the Company or its Affiliates (or any beneficiaries or dependents thereof).

Section 6.5. Regulatory Approvals; Efforts.

(a) Prior to the Closing, Parent, Purchaser and the Company shall use their respective reasonable best efforts to consummate the Offer and the other Transactions, including (i) the preparation and filing of all forms, registrations, applications and notices required to be filed under applicable Law to consummate the Offer and the Mergers (including the Registration Statement, the Offer documents, the Schedule 14D-9, and the Offer Prospectus), (ii) the satisfaction of the conditions to consummating the Offer and the Mergers, (iii) taking all reasonable actions necessary to obtain (and cooperating with each other in obtaining) any consent, authorization, Order or approval of, or any exemption by, any Governmental Entity (which actions shall include furnishing all information and documentary material required under the HSR Act) required to be obtained or made by Parent, Purchaser, the Company or any of their respective Subsidiaries in connection with the Offer or the Mergers or the taking of any action contemplated by this Agreement, provided, however, for the avoidance of doubt, that Parent shall make commercially reasonable efforts to enter into any agreements or commitments including proposing, negotiating, committing to and effecting, by consent decree, hold separate orders, or otherwise, the sale, divestiture or disposition of such of its assets, properties or businesses or of the assets, properties or businesses to be acquired by it pursuant hereto, to the extent that such agreement, commitment, sale, divestiture or disposition would not individually or together with other agreements, commitments, sales, divestitures or dispositions involve assets owned by either Parent or the Company or any of their respective Subsidiaries, that generated revenue in excess of $1,000,000 during the past twelve (12) months ended September 30, 2016, and (iv) the execution and delivery of any reasonable additional instruments necessary to consummate the Offer and the Mergers and to fully carry out the purposes of this Agreement. Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, Parent and the Company each agree to file a Notification and Report Form pursuant to the HSR Act within ten (10) Business Days of the date of the Agreement and to make filings required by applicable foreign Antitrust Laws with respect to the Offer and the Mergers as soon as practicable after the date of the Agreement (and Parent may "pull and refile" any such form or filing, if in its reasonable good faith judgment in consultation with and considering in good faith the views of counsel for the Company, such step is consistent with expeditiously obtaining a required approval). Additionally, each of Parent, Purchaser and the Company shall use reasonable best efforts to fulfill all conditions precedent to the Offer and the Mergers and shall not take any action after the date of this Agreement that would reasonably be expected to materially delay the obtaining of, or result in not obtaining, any permission, approval or consent from any such Governmental Entity necessary to be obtained to consummate the Offer and the Mergers, except any actions taken in relation to the rights of the Company under Section 6.3. Parent and the Company may agree to postpone any filings required under this Section 6.5(a) based on input from counsel.

(b) Parent and the Company shall each keep the other apprised of the status of matters relating to the completion of the Offer and work cooperatively in connection with obtaining all required consents, authorizations, Orders or approvals of, or any exemptions by, any Governmental Entity undertaken pursuant to the provisions of this Section 6.5. In that regard, prior to the Closing, each Party shall promptly consult with the other Parties to this Agreement with respect to and provide any reasonable information and assistance as the other Parties may reasonably request with respect to (and, in the case of correspondence, provide the other Parties (or their counsel) copies of) all material notices, submissions, or filings made by such Party with any Governmental Entity regarding any Antitrust Laws or any other information supplied by such Party to, or correspondence with, a Governmental Entity regarding any Antitrust Laws and in connection with this Agreement and the Offer and the Mergers. Each Party to this Agreement shall promptly inform the other Parties to this Agreement, and if in writing, furnish the other Parties with copies of (or, in the case of oral communications, advise the other Parties orally of) any material communication from or to any Governmental Entity relating to any Antitrust Laws and regarding the Offer and the Mergers, and afford the other Parties a reasonable opportunity to review and discuss in advance, and consider in good faith the views of the other Parties in connection with, any proposed communication with any such Governmental Entity relating to any Antitrust Laws. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Parties agree that Parent will, in consultation with the Company, devise the strategy for all filings, notifications, submissions and communications in connection with any filing, notice, petition, statement, registration, submission of information, application or similar filing with a Governmental Entity relating to any Antitrust Laws and subject to this Section 6.5. If any Party to this Agreement or any Representative of such Parties receives a request for additional information or documentary material from any Governmental Entity with respect to the Offer and the Mergers, then such Party will use reasonable best efforts to make, or cause to be made, as promptly as practicable and after reasonable consultation with the other Parties to this Agreement, an appropriate response to such request. To the extent permitted by Law, each Party shall furnish the other Parties with copies of all material correspondence, filings and communications (and memoranda setting forth the substance thereof) between it and any such Governmental Entity with respect to this Agreement and the Offer and the Mergers, and furnish the other Parties with such reasonable information and assistance as the other Parties may reasonably request in connection with its preparation of necessary filings or submissions of information to any such Governmental Entity; provided, however, that Parent and the Company may, as each deems advisable and necessary, reasonably designate any competitively sensitive material provided to the other under this Section 6.5 as "Antitrust Counsel Only Material." Such materials and the information contained therein shall be given only to the outside antitrust counsel of the recipient and will not be disclosed by such outside counsel to employees, officers or directors of the recipient unless express permission is obtained in advance from the source of the materials (Parent or the Company, as the case may be) or its legal counsel. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Section 6.5, materials relating to any Antitrust Laws provided pursuant to this Section 6.5 may be redacted (i) to remove references concerning the valuation of the Company and the Offer and the Mergers or other confidential information, (ii) as necessary to comply with contractual arrangements, and (iii) as necessary to address reasonable privilege concerns.

(c) The Company and Parent will each request early termination of the waiting period with respect to the Offer under the HSR Act. The Company and Parent shall use reasonable best efforts to file, as promptly as practicable, but in any event no later than ten (10) Business Days after the date of this Agreement, all notifications required under the HSR Act. In the event that the Parties receive a request for information or documentary material pursuant to the HSR Act (a "Second Request"), the Parties will use their respective reasonable best efforts to respond to such Second Request as promptly as practicable or as otherwise agreed by the Company and Parent, and counsel for both Parties will closely cooperate during the entirety of any such Second Request review process.

Section 6.6. Takeover Statutes. If any Takeover Law is or may become applicable to the Offer or the Mergers or any of the other transactions contemplated by this Agreement, the Parties and each of their respective Board of Directors shall grant such approvals and take such actions within such Party's control as are permitted and necessary so that such transactions may be consummated as promptly as practicable on the terms contemplated by this Agreement and otherwise act to eliminate or minimize the effects of such statute or regulation on such transactions.

Section 6.7. Public Announcements. Unless a Company Adverse Recommendation Change has occurred, the initial press release concerning the Offer shall be a joint press release and, thereafter, so long as this Agreement is in effect, the Company will not disseminate any press release or other announcement concerning the Offer or this Agreement or the Transactions, except as may be required by Law, without the prior consent of Parent and Purchaser, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed. Notwithstanding the foregoing, without prior consent of the other parties, each party (a) may communicate information that is not confidential information of any other party with financial analysts, investors and media representatives in a manner consistent with its past practice in compliance with applicable Law or by the rules and regulations of Nasdaq, and (b) may disseminate the information included in a press release or other document previously approved for external distribution by the other parties. Each Party agrees to promptly (and in any event within two (2) Business Days) make available to the other Parties copies of any written communications made without prior consultation with the other Parties. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, (i) no Party will be required to consult with the other Party in connection with any such press release or announcement if the Company Board of Directors has effected any Company Adverse Recommendation Change or shall have resolved to do so and (ii) the requirements of this Section 6.7 shall not apply to any disclosure by the Company or Parent of any information concerning this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby in connection with a determination by the Company in accordance with Section 6.3 that an Company Takeover Proposal constitutes, or may constitute, a Company Superior Proposal or any dispute between the parties regarding this Agreement, the Offer or the Mergers or the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

Section 6.8. Indemnification and Insurance.

(a) Parent and Purchaser agree that all rights to exculpation and indemnification (and all rights to advancement of expenses relating thereto) for acts or omissions occurring at or prior to the Effective Time, whether asserted or claimed prior to, at or after the Effective Time (including any matters arising in connection with the Transactions), now existing in favor of the Indemnitees as provided in the Company Organizational Documents or in any Contract between such Indemnitee and the Company listed on Section 6.8 of the Company Disclosure Schedule (in each case as in effect on the date of this Agreement) shall survive the Mergers and shall continue in full force and effect. From and after the Effective Time, the Surviving Company shall (and Parent shall cause the Surviving Company to) indemnify, defend and hold harmless, and advance expenses to, Indemnitees with respect to (x) all acts or omissions by them in their capacities as such at any time at or prior to the Effective Time or (y) any costs or expenses (including attorneys' fees), judgments, fines, losses, claims, damages, liabilities and amounts paid in settlement in connection with any claim, action, suit, proceeding or investigation, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative, to the extent such claim, action, suit, proceeding or investigation arises out of or pertains to the Offer, the Mergers, this Agreement and any transactions contemplated hereby, in either case, in each of (x) and (y) to the extent provided in the Company Organizational Documents or in any Contract between such Indemnitee and the Company listed on Section 6.8 of the Company Disclosure Schedule (in each case as in effect on the date of this Agreement), and Parent shall guarantee the payment of such amounts to the maximum extent permitted by applicable Law. For a period of six (6) years after the Effective Time, Parent shall cause the certificate of incorporation, bylaws or other organizational documents of the Surviving Company to contain provisions with respect to indemnification, advancement of expenses and limitation of director, officer and employee liability that are no less favorable to the Indemnitees than those set forth in the Company Organizational Documents and the Contracts listed on Section 6.8 of the Company Disclosure Schedule as of the date of this Agreement, which provisions thereafter shall not be amended, repealed or otherwise modified in any manner that would adversely affect the rights thereunder of any Indemnitees.

(b) From and after the Effective Time, Parent shall obtain (either directly or through one of its Subsidiaries) and fully pay the premium for a six-year “tail” prepaid policy on terms and conditions no less advantageous to the Indemnitees than the existing directors’ and officers’ insurance policies and the Company’s existing fiduciary liability insurance policies (“D&O Insurance”) with respect to any claim related to any period of time at or prior to the Effective Time; provided, however, that neither the Surviving Company nor Parent shall be required to pay for such “tail” prepaid policy more than two hundred fifty percent (250%) of the annual premium currently paid by the Company for its D&O Insurance or, if substantially equivalent or greater insurance coverage is unavailable, the best available coverage; provided, however, that Parent and the Surviving Company shall not be required to pay an annual premium for the D&O Insurance in excess of two hundred fifty percent (250%) of the annual premium currently paid by the Company for such insurance; provided, further, that if the annual premiums of such insurance coverage exceed such amount, Parent shall be obligated to obtain a policy with the greatest coverage available, with respect to matters occurring prior to the Effective Time, for a cost not exceeding such amount. In the alternative, the Company may purchase fully-prepaid, and the Surviving Company shall maintain, for a period of at least six (6) years from and after the Effective Time, D&O Insurance in place as of the date of this Agreement with the Company’s current insurance carrier or a reputable alternative insurance carrier; provided, however, that the Company shall not be permitted to pay for such “tail” prepaid policy in excess of two hundred fifty percent (250%) of the annual premium currently paid by the Company for such insurance.

(c) The Indemnitees to whom this Section 6.8 applies shall be express third-party beneficiaries of this Section 6.8. The provisions of this Section 6.8 shall survive the Effective Time.

(d) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, this Section 6.8 shall survive the consummation of the Mergers indefinitely and shall be binding, jointly and severally, on all successors and assigns of Parent, the Surviving Company and its subsidiaries, and shall be enforceable by the Indemnitees. In the event that Parent or the Surviving Company or any of its successors or assigns consolidates with or merges into any other Person and shall not be the continuing or surviving corporation or entity of such consolidation or merger or transfers or conveys all or a majority of its properties and assets to any Person, then, and in each such case, Parent shall ensure that proper provision shall be made so that the successors and assigns of Parent or the Surviving Company, as applicable, shall succeed to the obligations set forth in this Section 6.8.

Section 6.9. Control of Operations. The Parties understand and agree that (a) nothing contained in this Agreement shall give Parent or the Company, directly or indirectly, the right to control or direct the other Party’s operations (or the operations of the other Party’s Subsidiaries) prior to the Effective Time and (b) prior to the Effective Time, each of the Company and Parent shall exercise, consistent with the terms and conditions of this Agreement, complete control and supervision over its operations.

Section 6.10. Section 16 Matters. Prior to the Expiration Date, Parent and the Company shall take all such steps as may be required to cause any dispositions of Company Common Stock (including derivative securities with respect to Company Common Stock) or acquisitions of shares of Parent Common Stock (including derivative securities with respect to Parent Common Stock) resulting from the Transactions by each individual who is subject to the reporting requirements of Section 16(a) of the Exchange Act with respect to the Company or will become subject to such reporting requirements with respect to Parent, to be exempt under Rule 16b-3 promulgated under the Exchange Act.

Section 6.11. Transaction Litigation. The Company shall, as promptly as practicable under the circumstances, after it has notice of any of the following notify the Parent of actions, suits, claims, governmental investigations or proceedings instituted or threatened against the Company or any of its directors, officers or affiliates, including by any stockholder of the Company (by any stockholder and relating to this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby, "Stockholder Litigation"), before any court or Governmental Entity, relating to or involving or otherwise affecting the Company, any of its affiliates, or any of its subsidiaries which, if pending on the date of this Agreement, would have been required to have been disclosed pursuant to this Agreement or relating to this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby, or seeking damages or discovery in connection with such transactions. Subject to entry into a customary joint defense agreement, Parent shall have the right to participate in the defense of any such actions, suits, claims, investigations or proceedings, the Company shall consult with Parent regarding the defense of any such actions, suits, claims, investigations or proceedings, and the Company may not settle or compromise any Stockholder Litigation without the prior written consent of Parent, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld, conditioned, delayed or denied.

Section 6.12. Nasdaq Matters; SEC Matters.

(a) Parent shall file a notification of listing of additional shares (or such other form as may be required) with Nasdaq with respect to the shares of Parent Common Stock to be issued in connection with the Offer and the First Merger and such other shares of Parent Common Stock to be reserved for issuance in connection with the Offer and the First Merger, and shall use reasonable best efforts to cause the shares of Parent Common Stock to be issued in connection with the Offer and the First Merger and such other shares of Parent Common Stock to be reserved for issuance in connection with the Offer and the First Merger to be approved for listing on Nasdaq, subject to official notice of issuance, prior to the Acceptance Time.

(b) The Company shall cooperate with Parent and use reasonable best efforts to take, or cause to be taken, all actions reasonably necessary, proper or advisable on its part under applicable Laws and rules and policies of Nasdaq to enable the delisting of the Company Common Stock from Nasdaq and the termination of its registration under the Exchange Act, in each case, as promptly as practicable after the Effective Time (such period between the Closing Date and the date of which the Company Common Stock is delisted, the "Delisting Period"), and deregistration of the Company Common Stock under the Exchange Act as promptly as practicable after such delisting. The Company will not cause the Company Common Stock to be delisted from Nasdaq prior to the Effective Time. If the Surviving Company is reasonably likely to be required to file any reports pursuant to the Exchange Act during the Delisting Period, the Company will deliver to Parent at least five (5) business days prior to the Closing a substantially final draft of any such reports reasonably likely to be required to be filed during the Delisting Period.

(c) The Company shall file prior to the Effective Time all reports, schedules, forms, statements and other documents required to be filed or furnished by it with the SEC prior to such time for the consummation of the Transactions.

Section 6.13. Additional Agreements. In case at any time after the Effective Time any further action is necessary to carry out the purposes of this Agreement or to vest the Surviving Company with full title to all properties, assets, rights, approvals, immunities and franchises of any of the Parties to the Mergers, the officers of the Surviving Company shall be authorized, in the name and on behalf of the Company, to execute and deliver such deeds, bills of sale, assignment or assurances and take all such other action as may be necessary in connection therewith.

Section 6.14. Advice of Changes. The Company and Parent shall each promptly advise the other Party of (i) any notice or other communication from any person alleging that the consent of such person is or may be required in connection with the Transactions or (ii) upon receiving any communication from any Governmental Entity or third party whose consent or approval is required for consummation of the Transactions that causes such Party to believe that there is a reasonable likelihood that any such consent or approval will not be obtained or that the receipt of any such consent or approval will be materially delayed.

Section 6.15. Resignations. Prior to the Effective Time, the Company shall cause any director and any officer of the Company or each subsidiary of the Company identified in writing by Parent at least five (5) Business Days prior to the anticipated Effective Time to execute and deliver a letter effectuating his or her resignation as a director or officer (but not as an employee) of such entity effective as of the Effective Time. At the request of Parent, the Company will use reasonable best efforts to cooperate with Parent to effect the replacement of any such directors and officers selected by Parent at the Effective Time.

Section 6.16. Third Party Consents. The Company shall use reasonable best efforts, and shall cause its Subsidiaries to use reasonable best efforts, to obtain waivers and consents from any and all third parties with respect to each Contract listed on Section 4.19(b) of the Company Disclosure Schedule; provided, that, in connection with obtaining such waivers and consents, the Company shall not agree to any change to such Contracts that would be materially adverse to the interest of the Company, its Subsidiaries or, after the Closing, Parent, without the prior written consent of Parent, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, delayed or denied.

Section 6.17. Certain Tax Matters. Each of the Parties shall use its reasonable best efforts to cause the Offer and the Mergers, taken together, to qualify as a “reorganization” within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code, including by executing and delivering customary tax representation letters to the Company’s and/or Parent’s counsel, as applicable, in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to such counsel, in connection with (i) any tax opinion or description of the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the Offer and the Mergers contained or set forth in the Registration Statement and (ii) the tax opinions referenced in clauses (E)(5)(i) and (E)(5)(ii) of Annex A. Company and Parent shall cause their respective counsels to use reasonable best efforts to issue the tax opinions referenced in clauses (E)(5)(i) and (E)(5)(ii) of Annex A and any opinions related to the tax consequences of the Offer and Mergers for purposes of the Registration Statement. None of the Parties shall (and each of the Parties shall cause their respective Subsidiaries not to) (a) take any action that could reasonably be expected to cause the Offer and the Mergers, taken together, to fail to qualify as a “reorganization” within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code, or to cause their respective counsel to be unable to deliver the tax opinions provided for in the preceding sentence, or (b) fail to take any action that could reasonably be expected to be necessary to cause the Offer and the Mergers, taken together, to qualify as a “reorganization” within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code, or to cause their respective counsel to be able to deliver the tax opinions provided for in the preceding sentence.

Section 6.18. Agreements Concerning Parent and Purchaser.

(a) Parent shall cause Purchaser to perform its respective obligations under this Agreement and to consummate the Transactions upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this Agreement.

(b) During the period from the date of this Agreement through the Effective Time, Purchaser shall not engage in any activity of any nature except for activities related to or in furtherance of the Offer and the Mergers.

ARTICLE VII

CONDITIONS TO THE MERGERS

Section 7.1. Conditions to Each Party’s Obligation to Effect the Mergers. The respective obligations of each Party to effect the Mergers shall be subject to the fulfillment (or waiver, to the extent permissible under applicable Law) on or prior to the Closing Date of the following conditions:

(a) The consummation of the Offer (as consummation is defined in Section 251(h) of the DGCL).

(b) No order, injunction, decree or ruling (whether temporary, preliminary or permanent) enacted, promulgated, issued or entered after the date of this Agreement by any court or other tribunal of competent jurisdiction shall be in effect and no Law shall have been adopted or be effective, in each case that restrains, enjoins, prevents, prohibits or makes illegal the consummation of the Mergers.

ARTICLE VIII

TERMINATION

Section 8.1. Termination or Abandonment. Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, this Agreement may be terminated and the Offer and the Mergers may be abandoned at any time prior to the Acceptance Time:

(a) by the mutual written consent of the Company and Parent;

(b) by either the Company or Parent, if the Acceptance Time shall not have occurred on or prior to 11:59 p.m. Eastern time on May 31, 2017, (the “End Date”); provided, however that the right to terminate this Agreement under this Section 8.1(b) shall not be available to any Party whose action or failure to fulfill any obligation under this Agreement proximately caused any of the Offer Conditions to fail to be satisfied, and such action or failure to act constitutes a material breach of this Agreement and; provided further, that no termination may be effected as of the End Date during a thirty (30)-day cure period to which a party is entitled by reason of Section 8.1(d) or (f) below (and, in such event, the term “End Date” shall be deemed to refer instead to 11:59 p.m. Eastern time on the last day of such cure period);

(c) by either the Company or Parent, if an order by a Governmental Entity of competent jurisdiction shall have been issued permanently restraining, enjoining or otherwise prohibiting the consummation of the Offer and such order shall have become final and nonappealable; provided, however, that the right to terminate this Agreement under this Section 8.1(c) shall not be available to a Party if such order (or such order becoming final and nonappealable) was due to the material breach by such Party of any covenant of such Party set forth in this Agreement, or such Party’s failure to fulfill a condition that the Party is obligated to satisfy under this Agreement;

(d) by the Company (provided that the Company is not then in breach of any representation, warranty, or covenant in this Agreement such that any condition set forth in paragraph (E)(2) or (E)(3) of Annex A would not be satisfied) if: (i) Parent or Purchaser shall have failed to perform in any material respect its covenants and obligations required to be performed by it under this Agreement or (ii) assuming that the date of such determination is the Closing Date, (A) any of the representations and warranties of Parent and Purchaser contained in Section 5.1 (Organization) or Section 5.3 (Corporate Authority Relative to this Agreement; No Violation) shall fail to be true and correct in all material respects as of the date of this Agreement and as of the Closing Date as if made as of such date, or (B) any of the other representations and warranties of Parent and Purchaser contained in ARTICLE IV of this Agreement shall fail to be true and correct (without giving effect to any exception or qualification contained therein relating to materiality or a Parent Material Adverse Effect) as of the date of this Agreement and as of the Closing Date, as if made as of such date (except for those representations and warranties which address matters only as of an earlier date which shall have been true and correct as of such earlier date), except in the case of this clause (B), where the failure of such other representations and warranties to be true and correct, individually or in the aggregate, has not had, or would not be reasonably expected to have, a Parent Material Adverse Effect; and all relevant breaches, failures to perform or inaccuracies referred to in clauses (i) or (ii) of this Section 8.1(d) are not curable or are not cured within thirty (30) days following written notice from the Company to Parent describing each such breach or failure in reasonable detail (it being understood that the Company may not terminate this Agreement pursuant to this Section 8.1(d) if it shall have materially breached this Agreement or if such breach, failure to perform or inaccuracy by Parent is cured within such thirty (30)-day period);

(e) by the Company, prior to the Acceptance Time, to enter into a Company Acquisition Agreement with respect to a Company Superior Proposal provided that (i) the Company has complied with its obligations contained in Section 6.3 and (ii) immediately prior to or concurrently with (and as a condition to) the termination of this Agreement, the Company pays to Parent the Termination Fee in the manner provided in Section 8.2;

(f) by Parent (provided that Parent is not then in material breach of any representation, warranty, covenant or other agreement contained herein and such breach results in the failure of any of the Offer Conditions to be satisfied and the Acceptance Time shall not have occurred), (i) if any of the Company's representations or warranties shall not be true and correct or if the Company shall have breached or failed to perform any of its agreements or obligations under this Agreement, in each case only if such condition or failure would result in a failure of a condition set forth in (E)(2) or (E)(3) of Annex A, and (ii) all relevant breaches, failures to perform or inaccuracies referred to in clause (i) of this Section 8.1(f) are not curable or are not cured within thirty (30) days following written notice from Parent to the Company describing each such breach or failure in reasonable detail (it being understood that Parent may not terminate this Agreement pursuant to this Section 8.1(f) if it shall have materially breached this Agreement or if such breach, failure to perform or inaccuracy by the Company is cured within such thirty (30)-day period); and

(g) by Parent if, prior to the Acceptance Time, (i) a Company Adverse Recommendation Change shall have occurred or (ii) the Company shall have violated or breached its obligations under Section 6.3.

Section 8.2. Effect of Termination.

(a) In the event of termination of this Agreement pursuant to Section 8.1, this Agreement shall terminate and become void and of no effect (except that the Confidentiality Agreement and the provisions of this Section 8.2 and ARTICLE IX, shall survive any termination), and there shall be no other Liability on the part of the Company, on the one hand, or Parent or Purchaser, on the other hand, to the other except as provided in the Confidentiality Agreement, this Section 8.2 and ARTICLE IX, each of which shall remain in full force and effect and survive any termination of this Agreement. Nothing contained in this Section 8.2 shall relieve Parent, Purchaser or the Company from liability for fraud or a Willful and Material Breach of this Agreement.

(b) (i) If Parent shall have terminated this Agreement pursuant to Section 8.1(g)(i), the Company shall pay or cause to be paid to Parent within two (2) business days of such termination a termination fee of $30,000,000 (the "Termination Fee"); (ii) if the Company terminates this Agreement pursuant to Section 8.1(e), it shall, concurrently with and as a condition to such termination, pay or cause to be paid the Termination Fee to Parent in immediately available funds; and (iii) if (A) this Agreement is terminated pursuant to Section 8.1(b), Section 8.1(f) or Section 8.1(g)(ii), (B) after the date of this Agreement and prior to the time of termination, a Company Takeover Proposal shall have been publicly announced or otherwise communicated to the Company Board of Directors, as applicable, and (C) within twelve (12) months after the date on which this Agreement shall have been so terminated, the Company enters into a definitive agreement with respect to a Company Takeover Proposal or a Company Takeover Proposal is consummated (for purposes of this Section 8.2(b), all references in the definition of Company Takeover Proposal to "fifteen percent (15%) or more" shall be deemed references to "more than fifty percent (50%)"), the Company shall pay or cause to be paid to Parent the Termination Fee upon the earlier of the execution of such definitive agreement or consummation of such Company Takeover Proposal.

(c) All amounts due hereunder shall be payable by wire transfer in immediately available funds to such account as Parent may designate in writing to the Company. If the Company fails to promptly make any payment required under this Section 8.2 and Parent commences a suit to collect such payment, the Company shall indemnify Parent for its reasonable fees and expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees and expenses) incurred in connection with such suit and shall pay interest on the amount of the payment at the prime rate in the Wall Street Journal in effect on the date the payment was payable pursuant to this Section 8.2. In no event shall the Company be required to pay the Termination Fee on more than one occasion.

ARTICLE IX

MISCELLANEOUS

Section 9.1. No Survival. This ARTICLE IX and the agreements of the Company, Parent and the Purchasers contained in ARTICLE III and Section 6.4 (Employee Matters) and Section 6.8 (Indemnification and Insurance) shall survive the consummation of the Mergers and the other Transactions contemplated by this Agreement. Except as set forth in Section 8.2 or this Section 9.1, none of the representations, warranties, covenants and agreements in this Agreement or in any instrument delivered pursuant to this Agreement shall survive the Mergers, except for covenants and agreements which contemplate performance or compliance after the Effective Time or otherwise expressly by their terms survive the Effective Time.

Section 9.2. Expenses. Except as set forth in Section 8.2, whether or not the Offer and the Mergers are consummated, all costs and expenses incurred in connection with the Offer, the Mergers, this Agreement and the other Transactions shall be paid by the Party incurring or required to incur such expenses.

Section 9.3. Counterparts; Effectiveness. This Agreement may be executed in two or more counterparts, each of which shall be an original, with the same effect as if the signatures thereto and hereto were upon the same instrument, and shall become effective when one or more counterparts have been signed by each of the Parties and delivered (by electronic delivery or otherwise) to the other Parties. Signatures to this Agreement transmitted by electronic mail in “portable document format” (“.pdf”) form or by any other electronic means intended to preserve the original graphic and pictorial appearance of a document, will have the same effect as physical delivery of the paper document bearing the original signature.

Section 9.4. Governing Law. This Agreement, and all claims or causes of action (whether at Law, in contract or in tort or otherwise) that may be based upon, arise out of or relate to this Agreement or the negotiation, execution or performance hereof, shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware, without giving effect to any choice or conflict of law provision or rule (whether of the State of Delaware or any other jurisdiction) that would cause the application of the laws of any jurisdiction other than the State of Delaware.

Section 9.5. Jurisdiction; Specific Enforcement. The Parties agree that irreparable damage would occur in the event that any of the provisions of this Agreement were not performed (and, more specifically, that irreparable damage would likewise occur if any of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement were not consummated and the Company’s stockholders did not receive the aggregate consideration payable to them in accordance with the terms and subject to the conditions of this Agreement), or were threatened to be not performed, in accordance with their specific terms or were otherwise breached. It is accordingly agreed that, in addition to any other remedy that may be available to it, including monetary damages, each of the Parties shall be entitled to an injunction or injunctions to prevent breaches of this Agreement and to enforce specifically the terms and provisions of this Agreement (including the obligation of the Parties to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the obligation of Parent and Purchaser to pay, and the Company’s stockholders’ right to receive, the aggregate consideration payable to them pursuant to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, in each case in accordance with the terms and subject to the conditions of this Agreement) exclusively in the Delaware Court of Chancery and any state appellate court therefrom within the State of Delaware (or, if the Delaware Court of Chancery declines to accept jurisdiction over a particular matter, any state or federal court within the State of Delaware), in addition to any other rights and remedies to which such Party is entitled at law or in equity, except as may be limited by this Section 9.5. In the event that any action is brought in equity to enforce the provisions of this Agreement, no Party shall allege, and each Party hereby waives the defense or counterclaim, that there is an adequate remedy at law. The Parties further agree that no Party to this Agreement shall be required to obtain, furnish or post any bond or similar instrument in connection with or as a condition to obtaining any remedy referred to in this Section 9.5 and each Party irrevocably waives any objection to the imposition of such relief or any right it may have to require the obtaining, furnishing or posting of any such bond or similar instrument. In addition, each of the Parties hereto irrevocably agrees that any legal suit, action or proceeding with respect to this Agreement and the rights and obligations arising hereunder, or for recognition and enforcement of any judgment in respect of this Agreement and the rights and obligations arising hereunder brought by the other Party hereto or its successors or assigns, shall be brought and determined exclusively in the Delaware Court of Chancery and any state appellate court therefrom within the State of Delaware (or, if the Delaware Court of Chancery declines to accept jurisdiction over a particular matter, any state or federal court within the State of Delaware). Each of the Parties hereto hereby irrevocably submits with regard to any such suit, action or proceeding for itself and in respect of its property, generally and unconditionally, to the personal jurisdiction of the aforesaid courts and agrees that it will not bring any action relating to this Agreement or the Transactions in any court other than the aforesaid courts. Each of the Parties hereto hereby irrevocably waives, and agrees not to assert, by way of motion, as a defense, counterclaim or otherwise, in any suit, action or proceeding with respect to this Agreement, (i) any claim that it is not personally subject to the jurisdiction of the above named courts, (ii) any claim that it or its property is exempt or immune from jurisdiction of any such court or from any legal process commenced in such courts (whether through service of notice, attachment prior to judgment, attachment in aid of execution of judgment, execution of judgment or otherwise) and (iii) to the fullest extent permitted by applicable Law, any claim that (A) the suit, action or proceeding in such court is brought in an inconvenient forum, (B) the venue of such suit, action or proceeding is improper or (C) this Agreement, or the subject matter hereof, may not be enforced in or by such courts. To the fullest extent permitted by applicable Law, each of the Parties hereto hereby consents to the service of process in accordance with Section 9.7; provided, however, that nothing herein shall affect the right of any Party to serve legal process in any other manner permitted by Law.

Section 9.6. WAIVER OF JURY TRIAL. EACH OF THE PARTIES HERETO IRREVOCABLY WAIVES ANY AND ALL RIGHT TO TRIAL BY JURY IN ANY LEGAL PROCEEDING ARISING OUT OF OR RELATING TO THIS AGREEMENT OR THE TRANSACTIONS. EACH PARTY CERTIFIES AND ACKNOWLEDGES THAT (i) NO REPRESENTATIVE, AGENT OR ATTORNEY OF ANY OTHER PARTY HAS REPRESENTED, EXPRESSLY OR OTHERWISE, THAT SUCH OTHER PARTY WOULD NOT, IN THE EVENT OF LITIGATION, SEEK TO ENFORCE THE FOREGOING WAIVER, (ii) EACH PARTY UNDERSTANDS AND HAS CONSIDERED THE IMPLICATIONS OF THIS WAIVER, (iii) EACH PARTY MAKES THIS WAIVER VOLUNTARILY AND (iv) EACH PARTY HAS BEEN INDUCED TO ENTER INTO THIS AGREEMENT BY, AMONG OTHER THINGS, THE MUTUAL WAIVERS AND CERTIFICATIONS IN THIS Section 9.6.

Section 9.7. Notices. NOW, THEREFORE, in contemplation of the foregoing and in consideration of the mutual agreements, covenants, representations and warranties contained herein and intending to be legally bound hereby, the parties hereto agree as follows:

1. Certain Covenants.

1.1 Company Securities Lock-Up.

(a) Subject to Section 1.3, except as contemplated by the Merger Agreement, Stockholder hereby covenants and agrees that between the date hereof and the Termination Date (as defined below), Stockholder will not (a) directly or indirectly, sell, transfer, assign, pledge, hypothecate, tender, encumber or otherwise dispose of or limit its right to vote in any manner any of the Company Securities, or agree to do any of the foregoing, or (b) take any action which would have the effect of preventing or disabling Stockholder from performing its obligations under this Agreement. Any attempt by Stockholder to transfer any or all of the Company Securities or any interest therein in violation of this Section 1.1 shall be null and void, regardless of whether the proposed transferee has any actual or constructive knowledge of the transfer restrictions set forth in this Agreement. In furtherance of the foregoing, the Company and its transfer agent are hereby authorized to decline to make any transfer of Company Securities if such transfer would constitute a violation or breach of this Section 1.1.

1.2 Certain Events. This Agreement and the obligations hereunder will attach to the Company Securities and will be binding upon any person to which legal or beneficial ownership of any or all of the Company Securities passes, whether by operation of Law or otherwise, including without limitation, Stockholder's successors or assigns. This Agreement and the obligations hereunder will also attach to any additional Shares or other Company Securities of the Company issued to or acquired by Stockholder.

1.3 Tender of Company Securities. Stockholder agrees, in exchange for the consideration described in the Merger Agreement, (a) to promptly (and, in any event, not later than ten (10) Business Days) following the commencement of the Offer validly tender (and deliver any certificates evidencing) the Shares owned, or cause such Shares to be validly tendered, as of the date hereof and set forth on Schedule I hereto to Purchaser in the Offer, pursuant to and in accordance with the procedures set forth in the Offer Documents, free and clear of any Liens, and (b) if Stockholder thereafter acquires any additional Shares prior to the Acceptance Time, to promptly (and in any event, not later than two (2) Business Days after Stockholder acquires such additional Shares) validly tender (and deliver any certificates evidencing) such Shares, or cause such Shares to be validly tendered, into the Offer pursuant to and in accordance with the terms of the Offer, free and clear of any Liens. Unless this Agreement has been terminated in accordance with its terms, Stockholder shall not withdraw, and not permit to be withdrawn, any such Shares so tendered unless the Offer is terminated.

1.4 Public Announcement. Stockholder shall consult with Parent before issuing any press releases or otherwise making any public statements with respect to the transactions contemplated herein and shall not issue any such press release or make any such public statement without the approval of Parent, except as may be required by Law, including any filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the “SEC”) pursuant to the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the “Exchange Act”). This Section 1.4 shall terminate and be null and void upon the earlier of (i) the Termination Date and (ii) consummation of the Mergers.

1.5 Disclosure. Stockholder hereby authorizes Parent and Purchaser to publish and disclose in any announcement or disclosure required by the SEC, The Nasdaq Global Select Market or any other national securities exchange and in the Offer Documents (including all documents and schedules filed with the SEC in connection with the foregoing), its identity and ownership of the Company Securities and the nature of its commitments, arrangements and understandings under this Agreement. Parent and Purchaser hereby authorize Stockholder to make such disclosure or filings as may be required by the SEC or The Nasdaq Global Select Market or any other national securities exchange.

1.6 Withdrawal Rights. Stockholder agrees that once the Shares are tendered in the Offer, Stockholder shall promptly notify Parent that such Shares have been tendered. Each of Parent and Purchaser agrees that Stockholder may withdraw the Shares from the Offer at any time following (i) the termination of this Agreement in accordance with its terms, (ii) upon the Offer being terminated in accordance with the terms of the Merger Agreement, or (iii) the termination of the Merger Agreement pursuant to its terms, prior to the consummation of the Offer. Stockholder shall not be required, for purposes of this Agreement, to exercise any unexercised Company equity award held by the Stockholder.

2. Representations and Warranties of Stockholder. Stockholder hereby represents and warrants to Parent and Purchaser, as of the date hereof, that:

2.1 Ownership. Stockholder has good and marketable title to, and is the sole legal and beneficial owner of, the Company Securities set forth on Schedule I hereto, in each case free and clear of all liabilities, claims, liens, options, proxies, charges, participations and encumbrances of any kind or character whatsoever, other than those arising under the securities laws or under the Company’s governance documents or under any registration rights agreement between the Company and Stockholder (collectively, “Liens”). At the time Purchaser purchases the Shares pursuant to the Offer, Stockholder will transfer and convey to Parent or its designee good and marketable title to the Shares included in the Company Securities, free and clear of all Liens created by or arising through Stockholder.

2.2 Authorization. Stockholder has all requisite power and authority to execute and deliver this Agreement and to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby and has sole voting power and sole power of disposition, with respect to the Company Securities with no restrictions on its voting rights or rights of disposition pertaining thereto. Stockholder has duly executed and delivered this Agreement and this Agreement is a legal, valid and binding agreement of Stockholder, enforceable against Stockholder in accordance with its terms, subject to (a) laws of general application relating to bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium, fraudulent conveyance and other laws affecting enforcement of creditors’ rights generally and (b) rules of law governing specific performance, injunctive relief and other equitable remedies. If Stockholder is married and the Company Securities constitute community property, this Agreement has been duly authorized, executed and delivered by Stockholder’s spouse, and this Agreement is a legal, valid and binding agreement of Stockholder’s spouse, enforceable against Stockholder’s spouse in accordance with its terms, subject to (i) laws of general application relating to bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium, fraudulent conveyance and other laws affecting enforcement of creditors’ rights generally and (ii) rules of law governing specific performance, injunctive relief and other equitable remedies.

2.3 No Violation. Neither the execution and delivery of this Agreement nor the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby will (a) require Stockholder to file or register with, or obtain any permit, authorization, consent or approval of, any governmental agency, authority, administrative or regulatory body, court or other tribunal, foreign or domestic, or any other entity other than filings with the SEC pursuant to the Exchange Act, or (b) violate, or cause a breach of or default under, or conflict with any contract, agreement, understanding, or Law binding upon Stockholder, except for such violations, breaches, defaults or conflicts which are not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably likely to have a material adverse effect on Stockholder's ability to satisfy its obligations under this Agreement. No proceedings are pending which, if adversely determined, will have an adverse effect on Stockholder's ability to vote or dispose of any of the Company Securities. The Stockholder has not previously assigned or sold any of the Company Securities set forth on Schedule I hereto to any third party.

2.4 Stockholder Has Adequate Information. Stockholder is a sophisticated seller with respect to the Company Securities and has adequate information concerning the business and financial condition of the Company to make an informed decision regarding the sale of the Company Securities and has independently and without reliance upon either Purchaser or Parent and based on such information as Stockholder has deemed appropriate, made its own analysis and decision to enter into this Agreement. Stockholder acknowledges that neither Purchaser nor Parent has made and neither makes any representation or warranty, whether express or implied, of any kind or character except as expressly set forth in this Agreement. Stockholder acknowledges that the agreements contained herein with respect to the Company Securities by Stockholder are irrevocable (prior to the Termination Date), and that Stockholder shall have no recourse to the Company Securities, Parent or Purchaser, except with respect to breaches of representations, warranties, covenants and agreements expressly set forth in this Agreement.

2.5 No Setoff. There are no legal or equitable defenses or counterclaims that have been asserted by or on behalf of the Company or Stockholder to reduce the amount of the Company Securities or affect the validity or enforceability of the Company Securities.

3. Representations and Warranties of Parent and Purchaser. Parent and Purchaser hereby represent and warrant to Stockholder, as of the date hereof, that:

3.1 Authorization. Parent and Purchaser have all requisite corporate power and authority to execute and deliver this Agreement and to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby. Parent and Purchaser have duly executed and delivered this Agreement and this Agreement is a legal, valid and binding agreement of each of Parent and Purchaser, enforceable against each of Parent and Purchaser in accordance with its terms.

3.2 No Violation. Neither the execution and delivery of this Agreement nor the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby will violate, or cause a breach of or default under, any contract or agreement, any statute or law, or any judgment, decree, order, regulation or rule of any governmental agency, authority, administrative or regulatory body, court or other tribunal, foreign or domestic, or any other entity or any arbitration award binding upon Parent or Purchaser, except for such violations, breaches or defaults which are not reasonably likely to have a material adverse effect on either Parent's or Purchaser's ability to satisfy its obligations under this Agreement.

4. Survival of Representations and Warranties. The respective representations and warranties of Stockholder, Parent and Purchaser contained herein shall not be deemed waived or otherwise affected by any investigation made by the other party hereto. The representations and warranties contained herein shall not survive the Termination Date, subject to Section 6.1.

5. Specific Performance. Stockholder acknowledges that Purchaser and Parent will be irreparably harmed and that there will be no adequate remedy at law for a violation of any of the covenants or agreements of Stockholder which are contained in this Agreement. It is accordingly agreed that, in addition to any other remedies which may be available to Purchaser and Parent upon the breach by Stockholder of such covenants and agreements, Purchaser and Parent shall have the right to obtain preliminary and permanent injunctive relief to restrain any breach or threatened breach of such covenants or agreements or otherwise to obtain specific performance of any of such covenants or agreements, without having to post bond.

6. Miscellaneous.

6.1 Term. This Agreement and all obligations hereunder shall terminate upon the earlier of (a) the day after the Mergers are consummated, (b) the termination of the Merger Agreement pursuant to its terms and, if due in connection therewith, the payment in full of the Termination Fee (as defined in the Merger Agreement), (c) the mutual written consent of (x) Parent and Purchaser, on the one hand and (y) the Stockholder, on the other, or (d) such date and time as any amendment or change to the Merger Agreement or the Offer is effected without Stockholder's consent that decreases the amount, or changes the form or (except with respect to extensions of the Offer in accordance with the terms of the Merger Agreement) timing of consideration payable to all stockholders of the Company pursuant to the terms of the Merger Agreement, or that imposes conditions to the Offer in addition to the original conditions to the Offer set forth in Annex A to the Merger Agreement or modifies such conditions in a manner adverse to the Stockholder (the earliest of (a), (b), (c) or (d), the "Termination Date"). Upon termination of this Agreement, all obligations of the parties under this Agreement will terminate, without any liability or other obligation on the part of any party hereto to any Person in respect hereof or the transactions contemplated hereby, and no party shall have any claim against another (and no person shall have any rights against such party), whether under contract, tort or otherwise, with respect to the subject matter hereof; provided, however, that the termination of this Agreement shall not relieve any party from liability arising from any willful breach prior to such termination.

6.2 Fiduciary Duties. Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary: (a) Stockholder makes no agreement or understanding herein in any capacity other than in Stockholder's capacity as a record holder and beneficial owner of Company Securities, and (b) nothing herein will be construed to limit or affect any action or inaction by Stockholder or any Representative of Stockholder, as applicable, serving on the Company Board of Directors or as an officer or fiduciary of the Company, acting in such person's capacity as a director, officer or fiduciary of the Company.

6.3 Expenses. Each of the parties hereto shall pay its own expenses incurred in connection with this Agreement. Each of the parties hereto warrants and covenants to the others that it will bear all claims for brokerage fees attributable to action taken by it.

6.4 Binding Effect. This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of and be enforceable by the parties hereto and their respective representatives and permitted successors and assigns.

6.5 Entire Agreement. This Agreement contains the entire understanding of the parties and supersedes all prior agreements and understandings between the parties with respect to its subject matter. This Agreement may be amended only by a written instrument duly executed by the parties hereto.

6.6 Headings. The headings contained in this Agreement are for reference purposes only and shall not affect in any way the meaning or interpretation of this Agreement.

6.7 Assignment. Without limitation of Section 1.1, this Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties named herein and their respective successors and permitted assigns. No party may assign either this Agreement or any of its rights, interests, or obligations hereunder without the prior written approval of the other parties; provided, however, that each of Parent and Purchaser may freely assign its rights to another direct or indirect wholly owned subsidiary of Parent or Purchaser without such prior written approval but no such assignment shall relieve Parent or Purchaser of any of its obligations hereunder. Any purported assignment requiring consent without such consent shall be void.

6.8 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be an original, but each of which together shall constitute one and the same Agreement.

Board of Directors
Applied Micro Circuits Corporation
4555 Great America Parkway, Suite 601
Santa Clara, California 95054
Members of the Board:

We understand that Applied Micro Circuits Corporation (the “Company”), MACOM Technology Solutions Holdings, Inc. (the “Parent”), Montana Merger Sub I, Inc., a direct wholly owned subsidiary of the Parent (“Buyer”), and Montana Merger Sub II, LLC, a direct wholly owned subsidiary of the Parent (“Merger Sub Two”), propose to enter into an Agreement and Plan of Merger and Reorganization, substantially in the form of the draft dated November 20, 2016 (the “Merger Agreement”), which provides, among other things, for (i) the commencement by Buyer of an exchange offer (the “Offer”) for all outstanding shares of common stock, par value $0.01 per share, of the Company (the “Company Common Stock”) for $3.25 per share in cash and 0.1089 shares of common stock, par value $0.001 per share, of the Parent (the “Parent Common Stock”), subject to adjustment in certain circumstances, and (ii) the subsequent merger (the “Merger”) of Buyer with and into the Company, with the Company surviving the Merger, immediately followed by the merger of the Company with and into Merger Sub Two, with Merger Sub Two surviving the merger (together with the Merger, the “Mergers”). Pursuant to the Merger, the Company will become a wholly owned subsidiary of the Parent, and each outstanding share of the Company Common Stock, other than shares held in treasury, held by the Parent, Buyer or any other direct or indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of the Parent, or as to which appraisal rights have been perfected, will be converted into the right to receive $3.25 per share in cash (the “Cash Consideration”) and 0.1089 shares of the Parent Common Stock, subject to adjustment in certain circumstances (together with the Cash Consideration, the “Consideration”). The terms and conditions of the Offer and the Mergers are more fully set forth in the Merger Agreement.

You have asked for our opinion as to whether the Consideration to be received by the holders of shares of the Company Common Stock pursuant to the Merger Agreement is fair from a financial point of view to the holders of shares of the Company Common Stock.

For purposes of the opinion set forth herein, we have:

- 1) Reviewed certain publicly available financial statements and other business and financial information of the Company and the Parent, respectively;
- 2) Reviewed certain internal financial statements and other financial and operating data concerning the Company and the Parent, respectively;
- 3) Reviewed certain financial projections prepared by the management of the Company;
- 4) Reviewed information relating to certain strategic, financial and operational benefits anticipated from the Mergers, prepared by the management of the Company;
- 5) Discussed the past and current operations and financial condition and the prospects of the Company, including information relating to certain strategic, financial and operational benefits anticipated from the Mergers, with senior executives of the Company;
- 6) Discussed the past and current operations and financial condition and the prospects of the Parent, including information relating to certain strategic, financial and operational benefits anticipated from the Mergers, with senior executives of Parent;
- 7) Reviewed the reported prices and trading activity for the Company Common Stock and the Parent Common Stock;

Table of Contents

- 8) Compared the financial performance of the Company and the Parent and the prices and trading activity of the Company Common Stock and the Parent Common Stock with that of certain other publicly-traded companies comparable with the Company and Parent, respectively, and their securities;
- 9) Reviewed the financial terms, to the extent publicly available, of certain comparable acquisition transactions;
- 10) Participated in certain discussions and negotiations among representatives of the Company and the Parent and their financial and legal advisors;
- 11) Reviewed the Merger Agreement and certain related documents; and
- 12) Performed such other analyses and reviewed such other information and considered such other factors as we have deemed appropriate.

We have assumed and relied upon, without independent verification, the accuracy and completeness of the information that was publicly available or supplied or otherwise made available to us by the Company and the Parent, and formed a substantial basis for this opinion. With respect to the financial projections, including information relating to certain strategic, financial and operational benefits anticipated from the Mergers, we have assumed that they have been reasonably prepared on bases reflecting the best currently available estimates and judgments of the management of the Company of the future financial performance of the Company and the Parent. At your direction, our analysis relating to the business and financial prospects for the Parent for purposes of this opinion have been made on the basis of Thompson consensus forecasts as of November 18, 2016 (the "Street Forecasts") only. We have been advised by the Company, and have assumed, with the Company's consent, that the Street Forecasts are a reasonable basis upon which to evaluate the business and financial prospects of the Parent. We express no view as to the Street Forecasts or the assumptions on which they were based, including the selection of the analyst forecasts from which the Street Forecasts were derived. In addition, we have assumed that the Offer and the Mergers will be consummated in accordance with the terms set forth in the Merger Agreement without any waiver, amendment or delay of any terms or conditions, that the Offer and the Mergers will be treated as a tax-free reorganization, pursuant to the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and that the definitive Merger Agreement will not differ in any material respect from the draft thereof furnished to us. Morgan Stanley has assumed that in connection with the receipt of all the necessary governmental, regulatory or other approvals and consents required for the proposed Mergers, no delays, limitations, conditions or restrictions will be imposed that would have a material adverse effect on the contemplated benefits expected to be derived in the proposed Mergers. We are not legal, tax, or regulatory advisors. We are financial advisors only and have relied upon, without independent verification, the assessment of the Parent and the Company and their legal, tax, or regulatory advisors with respect to legal, tax, or regulatory matters. We have relied upon, without independent verification, the assessment by the managements of the Company and the Parent of: (i) the strategic, financial and other benefits expected to result from the Mergers; (ii) the timing and risks associated with the integration of the Company and the Parent; (iii) their ability to retain key employees of the Company and the Parent, respectively, and (iv) the validity of, and risks associated with, the Company and the Parent's existing and future technologies, intellectual property, products, services and business models. We express no opinion with respect to the fairness of the amount or nature of the compensation to any of the Company's officers, directors or employees, or any class of such persons, relative to the Consideration to be received by the holders of shares of the Company Common Stock in the transaction. We have not made any independent valuation or appraisal of the assets or liabilities of the Company or the Parent, nor have we been furnished with any such valuations or appraisals. Our opinion is necessarily based on financial, economic, market and other conditions as in effect on, and the information made available to us as of, the date hereof. Events occurring after the date hereof may affect this opinion and the assumptions used in preparing it, and we do not assume any obligation to update, revise or reaffirm this opinion.

We have acted as financial advisor to the Board of Directors of the Company in connection with this transaction and will receive a fee for our services, substantial portions of which are contingent upon the rendering of this financial opinion and the closing of the Mergers. In the two years prior to the date hereof, Morgan Stanley and its affiliates have provided financing services to MACOM and have received fees in connection with such services. In addition, Morgan Stanley or an affiliate thereof currently is a lender to MACOM. Morgan Stanley may also seek to provide financial advisory and financing services to the Parent and the Company and their respective affiliates in the future and would expect to receive fees for the rendering of these services. In addition, Mark Edelstone, one of the senior members of the Morgan Stanley team on this engagement, was a member of the MACOM board of directors starting in March 2013 until his resignation in September 2014.

Please note that Morgan Stanley is a global financial services firm engaged in the securities, investment management and individual wealth management businesses. Our securities business is engaged in securities underwriting, trading and brokerage activities, foreign exchange, commodities and derivatives trading, prime brokerage, as well as providing investment banking, financing and financial advisory services. Morgan Stanley, its affiliates, directors and officers may at any time invest on a principal basis or manage funds that invest, hold long or short positions, finance positions, and may trade or otherwise structure and effect transactions, for their own account or the accounts of its customers, in debt or equity securities or loans of the Parent, the Company, or any other company, or any currency or commodity, that may be involved in this transaction, or any related derivative instrument.

This opinion has been approved by a committee of Morgan Stanley investment banking and other professionals in accordance with our customary practice. This opinion is for the information of the Board of Directors of the Company and may not be used for any other purpose or disclosed without our prior written consent, except that a copy of this opinion may be included in its entirety in any filing the Company is required to make with the Securities and Exchange Commission in connection with this transaction if such inclusion is required by applicable law. In addition, this opinion does not in any manner address the prices at which the Parent Common Stock will trade following consummation of the Mergers or at any time and Morgan Stanley expresses no opinion or recommendation as to how the shareholders of the Company should act or vote in connection with any of the transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement, including, without limitation, as to whether such holders should tender their shares into the Offer. This opinion does not address the relative merits of the transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement as compared to other business or financial strategies that might be available to the Company, nor does it address the underlying business decision of the Company to enter into the Merger Agreement or proceed with any other transaction contemplated by the Merger Agreement.

Based on and subject to the foregoing, we are of the opinion on the date hereof that the Consideration to be received by the holders of shares of the Company Common Stock pursuant to the Merger Agreement is fair from a financial point of view to the holders of shares of the Company Common Stock.

Very truly yours,

Board of Directors
Applied Micro Circuits Corporation

Gentlemen:

We understand that MACOM Technology Solutions Holdings, Inc. (“Parent”), Applied Micro Circuits Corporation (the “Company”), and Montana Merger Sub I, Inc. (“Purchaser”) and Montana Merger Sub II, LLC (“Merger Sub Two”), both wholly owned subsidiaries of Parent, propose to enter into an Agreement and Plan of Merger (the “Merger Agreement”) that provides for Purchaser to commence an exchange offer (the “Offer”) for all of the outstanding shares of common stock, par value $0.01 per share, of the Company (“Company Common Stock”), pursuant to which Purchaser will exchange $3.25 in cash (the “Cash Consideration”) and 0.1089 of a share of common stock, par value $0.001 per share (“Parent Common Stock”), of Parent (the “Stock Consideration”; together with the Cash Consideration, the “Consideration”) for each share of Company Common Stock accepted. We also understand that, pursuant to the Merger Agreement, following consummation of the Offer, Purchaser will merge with and into the Company (the “First Merger”) and each outstanding share of Company Common Stock, other than shares held by the Company in treasury, and shares held by Parent or any direct or indirect wholly owned subsidiary of Parent, and other than Dissenting Shares (as defined in the Merger Agreement), will be converted into the right to receive the Consideration. Immediately following the First Merger, the Company, as the surviving company of the First Merger, shall merge with and into Merger Sub Two, with Merger Sub Two surviving the Merger (the “Second Merger” and, together with the First Merger, the “Mergers”). The terms and conditions of the Offer and the Mergers (collectively, the “Transaction”) will be set forth more fully in the Merger Agreement.

You have asked us to advise you as to the fairness, from a financial point of view, to the holders of Company Common Stock (other than Parent or any of its affiliates and other than holders of Dissenting Shares) of the Consideration to be paid to such holders pursuant to the Merger Agreement.

For purposes of this opinion we have, among other things: (i) reviewed a draft of the Merger Agreement dated November 20, 2016; (ii) reviewed certain publicly available information concerning the Company and Parent, and certain other relevant financial and operating data of the Company and Parent furnished to us by the Company; (iii) reviewed the historical stock prices and trading volumes of the Company Common Stock and Parent Common Stock; (iv) held discussions with members of management of the Company concerning the current operations of and future business prospects for the Company and joint prospects for the combined companies, including the potential cost savings and other synergies that may be achieved by the combined companies; (v) reviewed certain financial forecasts with respect to the Company prepared by the management of the Company and held discussions with members of management of the Company concerning those forecasts;

(vi) reviewed certain research analyst projections with respect to the Company and Parent and held discussions with members of the management of the Company concerning those projections; (vii) compared certain publicly available financial data of companies whose securities are traded in the public markets and that we deemed generally relevant to similar data for the Company and Parent; (viii) reviewed the financial terms of certain business combinations that we deemed generally relevant; and (ix) reviewed such other financial studies and analyses and considered such other matters as we have deemed appropriate.

In connection with our review and in arriving at our opinion, we have assumed and relied on the accuracy and completeness of all of the financial, accounting, legal, tax and other information discussed with or reviewed by us for purposes of this opinion and have neither attempted to verify independently nor assumed responsibility for verifying any of such information. We have assumed the accuracy of the representations and warranties contained in the Merger Agreement and all agreements related thereto. In addition, we have assumed, with your consent, that the Transaction will be consummated upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in the draft Merger Agreement dated November 20, 2016, without waiver, modification or amendment of any material term, condition or agreement thereof and that, in the course of obtaining the necessary regulatory or third party approvals, consents and releases for the Transaction, no delay, limitation, restriction or condition will be imposed that would have an adverse effect on the Company, Parent or the contemplated benefits of the Transaction. With respect to the financial forecasts for the Company provided to us by the management of the Company, we have assumed, with your consent and based upon discussions with management of the Company, that such forecasts have been reasonably prepared on bases reflecting the best currently available estimates and judgments of management of the Company, at the time of preparation, of the future operating and financial performance of the Company and the combined companies. We have relied, without independent verification, upon the estimates of management of the Company of the potential cost savings and other synergies, including the amount and timing thereof, that may be achieved as a result of the proposed Transaction. With respect to the research analyst projections for the Company and Parent, we have assumed, with your consent and based upon discussions with the management of the Company, that such projections represent reasonable estimates of the future financial performance of the Company and Parent. We express no opinion with respect to any of such forecasts (including such cost savings and other synergies), estimates or projections or the assumptions on which they were based.

We have not assumed any responsibility for or made or obtained any independent evaluation, appraisal or physical inspection of the assets or liabilities of the Company, Parent or any of their respective subsidiaries nor have we evaluated the solvency or fair value of the Company, Parent or any of their respective subsidiaries under any state or federal laws relating to bankruptcy, insolvency or similar matters. Further, our opinion is based on economic, monetary and market conditions as they exist and can be evaluated as of the date hereof and we assume no responsibility to update or revise our opinion based upon circumstances and events occurring after the date hereof. Our opinion as expressed herein is limited to the fairness, from a financial point of view, to the holders of Company Common Stock (other than Parent or any of its affiliates and other than holders of Dissenting Shares) of the Consideration to be paid to such holders pursuant to the Merger Agreement and we express no opinion as to the fairness of the Transaction to, or any consideration paid in connection therewith to, the holders of any other class of securities, creditors or other constituencies of the Company, or as to the Company's underlying business decision to engage in the Transaction or the relative merits of the Transaction as compared to other business strategies that might be available to the Company. We were not authorized to and did not solicit any indications of interest from any third party with respect to the purchase of all or any part of the Company or any alternative transaction and we have not been requested to and did not participate in the structuring or negotiation of the terms of the Transaction. In addition, we express no opinion with respect to the amount or nature or any other aspect of any compensation payable to or to be received by any officers, directors or employees of any party to the Transaction, or any class of such persons, relative to the Consideration to be paid to the holders of Company Common Stock pursuant to the Merger Agreement or with respect to the fairness of any such compensation. Our opinion does not constitute a recommendation to any stockholder of the Company as to whether such stockholder should tender shares of Company Common Stock in connection with the Offer or how such stockholder should vote or act on any matter relating to the Transaction.

We are not expressing any opinion as to the value of Parent Common Stock if and when issued pursuant to the Transaction or the prices at which Parent Common Stock or Company Common Stock will actually trade at any time.

We have been engaged by the Company as financial advisor to render this opinion and will receive fees for our services that are not contingent on the consummation of the Offer or the Mergers. In addition, the Company has agreed to indemnify us for certain liabilities arising out of the rendering of this opinion and to reimburse us for certain of our out-of-pocket expenses. PART II – INFORMATION NOT REQUIRED IN PROSPECTUS

Item 20. Indemnification of Directors and Officers.

Section 145 of the DGCL empowers a Delaware corporation to indemnify any person who was or is a party or is threatened to be made a party to any threatened, pending or completed action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative (other than an action by or in the right of such corporation) by reason of the fact that such person is or was a director, officer, employee or agent of such corporation, or is or was serving at the request of such corporation as a director, officer, employee or agent of another corporation or enterprise. A corporation may, in advance of the final disposition of any civil, criminal, administrative or investigative action, suit or proceeding, pay the expenses (including attorneys' fees) incurred by any officer, director, employee or agent in defending such action, provided that the director or officer undertakes to repay such amount if it shall ultimately be determined that he or she is not entitled to be indemnified by the corporation. A corporation may indemnify such person against expenses (including attorneys' fees), judgments, fines and amounts paid in settlement actually and reasonably incurred by such person in connection with such action, suit or proceeding if he acted in good faith and in a manner he or she reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the corporation, and, with respect to any criminal action or proceeding, had no reasonable cause to believe his conduct was unlawful.

A Delaware corporation may indemnify officers and directors in an action by or in the right of the corporation to procure a judgment in its favor under the same conditions, except that no indemnification is permitted without judicial approval if the officer or director is adjudged to be liable to the corporation. Where an officer or director is successful on the merits or otherwise in the defense of any action referred to above, the corporation must indemnify him or her against the expenses (including attorneys' fees) that he or she actually and reasonably incurred in connection therewith. The indemnification provided is not deemed to be exclusive of any other rights to which an officer or director may be entitled under any corporation's bylaws, agreement, vote or otherwise.

In accordance with Section 145 of the DGCL, Article VI of MACOM's fifth amended and restated certificate of incorporation, provides that MACOM will indemnify and advance expenses to, and hold harmless, each person who was or is made or is threatened to be made a party or is otherwise involved in any threatened, pending or completed action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative, by reason of the fact that such person is or was a director or an officer of MACOM or, while a director or an officer of MACOM, is or was serving at the request of MACOM as a director, officer, employee or agent of another corporation or of a partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise, to the fullest extent permitted by law. The right to indemnification continues as to a person who has ceased to be a director or officer of MACOM and shall inure to the benefit of his or her heirs, executors and personal and legal representatives. Notwithstanding the preceding sentences, MACOM is not required to indemnify, or advance expenses to, an indemnitee in connection with a proceeding (or part thereof) initiated by the indemnitee, whether initiated in the indemnitee's capacity as a director or officer or in any other capacity, or in defending any counterclaim, cross-claim, affirmative defense, or like claim of MACOM in such proceeding (or part thereof), unless the initiation of such proceeding (or part thereof) by the indemnitee was authorized or consented to by MACOM's board of directors.

Insofar as the indemnification for liabilities arising under the Securities Act may be permitted to MACOM's directors, officers or controlling persons pursuant to the foregoing provisions, MACOM has been informed that in the opinion of the SEC such indemnification is against public policy as expressed in the Securities Act and is, therefore, unenforceable.

Ladies and Gentlemen:

We have acted as counsel to MACOM Technology Solutions Holdings, Inc., a Delaware corporation ("MACOM"), in connection with the Merger and the Second Merger, together with the Offer, the Transactions, as defined in the Agreement and Plan of Merger and Reorganization (the "Agreement"), dated as of November 21, 2016, by and among MACOM, Applied Micro Circuits Corporation, a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), and Montana Merger Sub I, Inc., a Delaware corporation and direct wholly owned subsidiary of MACOM ("Purchaser") and Montana Merger Sub II, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company and direct wholly owned subsidiary of Parent, and the name of which was changed, following the execution of the Agreement, to MACOM Connectivity Solutions, LLC (together with Purchaser, the "Merger Subs"). Unless otherwise indicated, capitalized terms used but not otherwise defined herein shall have the meanings assigned to them in the Agreement.

In rendering our opinion set forth below, we have examined and relied upon the accuracy and completeness of the facts, information, representations, covenants and agreements contained in originals or copies, certified or otherwise identified to our satisfaction, of the Agreement, Registration Statement No. 333-215224, filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on Form S-4, as amended through the date hereof (the "Registration Statement"), which includes the prospectus/offer of MACOM, and such other documents as we have deemed necessary or appropriate as a basis for the opinion set forth below. In addition, we have relied upon the accuracy and completeness of certain statements, representations, covenants and agreements made by Company, Merger Subs, and MACOM, including factual statements and representations set forth in letters dated the date hereof from officers of Company, Merger Subs, and MACOM (the "Representation Letters"). We have assumed that all statements in such Representation Letters made "to the best of the knowledge of" or "to the knowledge of" any person or entity, or otherwise qualified, are true, correct and complete as if made without such qualification. Our opinion assumes and is expressly conditioned on, among other things, the initial and continuing accuracy and completeness of the facts, information, representations, covenants and agreements set forth in the documents referred to above and the statements, representations, covenants and agreements made by Company, Merger Subs, and MACOM, including those set forth in the Representation Letters as well as the updated Representation letter executed as of the Effective Time.

In our examination, we have assumed the genuineness of all signatures, the legal capacity of natural persons, the authenticity of all documents submitted to us as originals, the conformity to original documents of all documents submitted to us as certified or photostatic copies, and the authenticity of the originals of such documents. We also have assumed that the Transactions will be consummated in accordance with the Agreement and as described in the Registration Statement, and that none of the terms or conditions contained therein will have been waived or modified in any respect prior to the Second Effective Time. We have not, however, undertaken any independent investigation of any factual matter set forth in any of the foregoing.

In rendering our opinion, we have considered applicable provisions of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”), the Treasury regulations promulgated thereunder (the “Regulations”), pertinent judicial decisions, administrative interpretations, and such other authorities as we have considered relevant, in each case, in effect on the date hereof. It should be noted that the Code, the Regulations, such judicial decisions, such administrative interpretations, and such other authorities are subject to change at any time and, in some circumstances, with retroactive effect. A change in any of the authorities upon which our opinion is based, or any variation or difference in any fact from those set forth or assumed herein or in the Registration Statement, the Agreement or the Representation Letters, could affect our conclusions herein. Moreover, there can be no assurance that our opinion will be accepted by the Internal Revenue Service or, if challenged, by a court.

Based solely on the information, and subject to the assumptions, qualifications and limitations, stated herein and in the Registration Statement, the statements under the caption “Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences” in the Registration Statement constitute our opinion as to the material United States federal income tax consequences of the Transactions.

No opinion is expressed as to any matter not specifically addressed above, including the tax consequences of any of the transactions under any other federal, state, local, or foreign tax law or the tax consequences of any other transaction contemplated or entered into by Company, Merger Subs, and MACOM. We do not undertake to advise you as to any changes in federal income tax law after the date hereof that may affect our opinion.

Re: Registration Statement on Form S-4

Ladies and Gentlemen:

We have acted as counsel to Applied Micro Circuits Corporation, a Delaware corporation (the “Company”), in connection with the preparation and execution of the Agreement and Plan of Merger and Reorganization (the “Agreement”), dated as of November 21, 2016, by and among MACOM Technology Solutions Holdings, Inc., a Delaware corporation (“Parent”), Montana Merger Sub I, Inc., a Delaware corporation (“Purchaser”) all of the outstanding shares of which are held by Parent, Montana Merger Sub II, LLC (subsequently renamed MACOM Connectivity Solutions, LLC), a Delaware limited liability company (“Merger Sub Two”) all of the outstanding membership interests of which are held by Parent, and the Company.

Pursuant to the Agreement, (i) Purchaser will acquire from existing Company stockholders outstanding shares of the Company’s common stock pursuant to an exchange offer (the “Offer”), (ii) Purchaser will thereafter merge (the “First Merger”) with and into the Company, with the Company as the surviving corporation, and (iii) immediately following the effectiveness of the First Merger, the Company will merge (the “Second Merger,” and together with the Offer and the First Merger, the “Transaction”) with and into Merger Sub Two, with Merger Sub Two as the surviving entity.

Parent has filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission a Registration Statement on Form S-4 (the “Registration Statement”) in connection with the registration under the Securities Act of 1933 (the “Act”) of shares of Parent’s common stock to be issued incident to the Transaction.

For purposes of rendering this opinion we have examined and are relying upon (without any independent investigation or review) the truth, correctness and completeness at all relevant times of the statements, covenants, representations and warranties contained in the Agreement, letters dated January 17, 2017 delivered to us by the Company and by Parent, Purchaser and Merger Sub Two containing their respective tax related representations (the “Tax Representation Letters”), the Registration Statement (as amended or supplemented through the date hereof) and such other instruments and documents as we have deemed necessary.

Further, for purposes of rendering this opinion we have made the following assumptions (without any independent investigation or review):

(a) Original documents submitted to us (including signatures) are authentic, documents submitted to us as copies conform to the original documents and all such documents either have been or will be by the effectiveness of the First Merger duly and validly executed and delivered where such execution and delivery are prerequisites to effectiveness;

(b) The Transaction will be consummated in the manner described in the Registration Statement and in accordance with the provisions of the Agreement;

(c) All representations, warranties and statements made or agreed to by the Company, Parent, Purchaser and Merger Sub Two by their respective managements, officers and directors in connection with the Transaction, including but not limited to those set forth in the Agreement, the Tax Representation Letters (including updated Tax Representation letters executed as of the effective time of the First Merger) and the Registration Statement, are true, correct and complete at all relevant times;

(d) All conditions, covenants and agreements contained in the Agreement and in the Tax Representation Letters will be performed without waiver or breach of any material provision; and

(e) Any representation, warranty or statement (i) relating to the absence of any plan, intention, understanding or agreement signifies that there is, in fact, no such plan, intention, understanding or agreement, or (ii) made "to the best knowledge" or similarly qualified is correct without such qualification.

If any of the above-described assumptions is incorrect for any reason or if the Transaction is consummated in a different manner from that described in the Agreement and the Registration Statement, our opinion expressed below may be adversely affected.

Based solely on the information, and subject to the assumptions, qualifications and limitations, stated herein and in the Registration Statement, the statements under the caption "Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences" in the Registration Statement constitute our opinion as to the material United States federal income tax consequences of the Transaction.

Except as set forth above, we express no other opinion. This opinion is expressed as of the date hereof, and we disclaim any undertaking to advise you of subsequent changes relating to matters considered herein or of any subsequent changes in applicable law.

We hereby consent to the filing of this opinion as Exhibit 8.2 to the Registration Statement and to the use of our name in the Registration Statement. In giving this consent, we do not thereby admit that we are within the category of persons whose consent is required under Section 7 of the Act or the rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission promulgated thereunder.

Very truly yours,
